A STRONG SERMON TO YOUNG PEOPLE

REV. D. P. JONES AT TABER-NACLE ON "A HAPPY MAN."

Happiness Cannot Be Obtained Only by the Way of Wisdom and Understanding-Union Excursion to Harvey's Lake-Camping Parties at Various Lakes - Constable Jones Assaulted-Death of a Former Resident-Young People in a Mine. Other Notes and Personals.

Rev. D. P. Jones, pastor of the Tabernacle Congregational church, preached a sermon to the young per de of his church last evening on "A Happy Man," in which he gave some good advice, which should be heeded by many young people who were not privileged to hear the discourse. His text was taken from Prov., iii:13, "Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding." During the course of his remarks, Hey, Jones spoke as follows:

The Brok of Proverbs is one of the flowerbods fast lay within the paredise of God's word, the Holy Bible. This beautiful hed of moral and spiritual flowers has a suitable flower for every man that lives upon the face of the earth today. Every provide contains in itself a lesson in a short styling, and in the most striking manner to inspire the minds of men and women,

In the proverh of our text we find a happy man-"Happy is the man that findest wisdom and the man that getteth understanding. It is a great thing to be a happy man in this world.

Yet. I believe that the most of you in this congregation are not strangers to the path that icole to real happiness. While we are in this world we have a little wilderness to go through now and then, yet there are streams and rivers of happiness flowing even through the wilderness of time. We have more to be happy in this world, as it is today, than to be otherwise.

Man has been created by God, the author of His nature, to be happy, and when man fails to be happy he falls to come up to the point of his treation. Happiness cannot be obtained only by the way of wisdom and understanding, that is he teaching of the Bible and we can trust be of man. No book knows the way of happiness better than the Hible, because its author is the only fountain of true happiness. Wisdom and understanding have their part in building up men and women to be happy.

The finding of wielem and the getting of undestanding are things that belong to every human soul as a duty in life. Man has great power to find out what he has a desire to obtain in life. He has delved down into the dark cham-bers of the earth; he has found out the way of the coal, the silver, the gold and all kinds of materials that he needs for his use in life. of materials that he needs for his use in life, and on the other hand he has made his way up into the skys and through the heavens above, and by so doing he has manifested the great power that

o find out the envisteries of God's creation.

Man is just as able to find wisdom and unlerstanding as he is to find out the wonders of God in nature, Wisdom and understanding ate in the gospel of Christ and in the teachings of the word of God, the good Spirit of Christianity which helps man to obey the law of reason and he commandments of the Lord is what Solomen alls wisdom and understanding in the text, and when man comes to this stage in life he has to a great extent the experience of a happy man. The happiness of life does not mean that man is to live without care and labor in this world, die people are smong the most unhappy creamers upon the face of the carrie; the laws of source to the control of the carries that the laws of the carries are to the carries the laws of the carries that the laws of the carries are to consider the carries that the laws of the carries to the laws of the carries that the laws of the carries that th

Widle we are not willing to permit men and women to be is, yet, we are presching care, work and r as elements of happiness in every man's When man cares and labors in the spirit of the gospel of Christ then he has the peace of knowledge, the peace of wisdom and the

A happy man does not mean to be a millionaire or a wealthy man in regard to money and property. Wealth is what we must have among men and women in the scould for the order of things. Wealthy people have existed in all ages of the world, and we must have them is our days as well as in all days of the future. Vet, availth is itself cannot make any man happy.

toward his fellowmen is a happy man. The re-ligion that loves God without loving our fellow-men has no place in the teachings of Christ No matter upon what stage in life man may give out himself in this world, if he has not the wisdom nor the understanding of heart and soul that moves and enables him to perform hi futies in the fear of the Lord and for the advancement of mankind, he is not a happy wan On the other hand, the man that gives himself out to God, through the channels of usefulness hat governs his soul; he that doeth good ath the law of righteousness within, and as andispring of that law happiness flows into his oul and inspires his life, helps him to carry the ourdens of time and to evercome all things hat are hard to endure in this world.

The man that has wisdom and understanding as more life than the man that lives without them; he knows more, he feels more and he realizes more of what lays in the true idea of billions. May not our young people misunderstand the way of a happy life. The opportunities of this age should be the means of making all of ur young people happy and strong to overcome be evil that is in the world. The growth of power and the development of Inquiry failed to ocate any person belonging to the man, and unless the body is claimed this morning it will be interred this afternoon, Deputy Coroner viewed the remains and granted a burial certificate. An inquest was not ecessary. Many persons called at Cusick's norgue yesterday, but were unable to dentify the man. have been given by different people, but John Page seems to be the only name known. This name, it is said, was given by the man himself just before he died. Detective Seldman volunteered the information that the nan was a familiar character around Heart Lake, but his clothing would indicate that he was a tramp. The dead man was about 30 years of ige, five feet eight inches in height, smooth face, sandy complexion, red hair, and weighed about 150 pounds. He bears a striking resemblance to 'Bob" Fitzsimmons, the prize fighter. The city directory does not give the name of any person answering the the pretty lawn surrounding his home name of John Page, except the wellon Brook street, last Saturday even- known Delaware, Lackawanna and
