CITY NOTES

FANCIES TO MEET.—Those interested in the breeding of fancy poultry will meet tonight in E. C. Ricker's, 249 Adams avenue, to form an association. CONCERT AT THE PARK.—The Lawrence band gave a delightful open air concert at Nag Park Saturday afternoon, which was enjoyed by several thousand people. PUTTING IN STOKERS.—The automatic stokers for the boilers in the Scranton Railway company's power house are being put in. The work was completed on Saturday. PAY DAYS.—The Delaware and Hudson company paid the passenger trainmen and station agents on Saturday, and the Lackawanna station agents received their July earnings. APPEAL ALLOWED.—The appeal of James L. Robinson, the park carousel operator, from the summary conviction of Mayor Reid, was allowed by Judge Edwards on Saturday. John Bence furnished bail for Robinson in the sum of $200. ALLEGED LIQUOR SELLERS.—Detective Will Clifford Saturday arrested George Stille, E. W. Wilson and Louis Weisberger, of Olyphant, and Thomas Lottin and Thomas Clark, of Jessup, on charges of selling liquor without a license. They entered bail. FITZSIMMONS FUNERAL.—The funeral of the late John Fitzsimmons will take place this morning at 10 o'clock from St. Peter's cathedral at 5:30 o'clock. The remains will be taken to Wyoming for interment, leaving on the 10 o'clock train. CLAY PIPE CLUB OFFER.—The employees of the Clay Pipe Co. will take a picnic this morning at Lake Ariel. The train will leave the Erie and Wyoming depot at 8:30 a. m. and returning. Have the lake at 6:30 o'clock. HIS LEG FRACTURED.—Edward Greene, of Nicholson, was received yesterday afternoon at the Lackawanna hospital, with a broken leg. While he was driving at Foster, Friday, Mr. Greene's horse suddenly took fright, and dashing away, got beyond his control. He was hurled from the wagon and suffered a fracture of the leg.

BEAT HIS WIFE.—Alderman Kason, Saturday, fined Charles Bunk $5, his wife accusing him of beating her.

CUT HER HEAD.—Miss Julia Conroy, of Lackawanna avenue, attempted to get out of a street car while it was in motion last night. She fell to the pavement, and cutting her head was taken to the Lackawanna hospital. Her injuries are not serious.

WEEK'S CLEARINGS.—The Traders' National bank reports clearings for the Scranton Clearing House association for the week ending Aug. 11, 1900, as follows: Monday, $150,000.81; Tuesday, $147,721.01; Wednesday, $153,304.17; Thursday, $153,754.16; Friday, $149,148.06; Saturday, $149,674.34. Total, $913,904.55. The clearing for the corresponding week last year were $907,977.81.

ELEVATOR TOOK A DROP.—The safety rope of the elevator in the Meigs building slipped from the pulley, shortly after noon on Saturday, and the carriage dropped several floors before the safety appliances cut it to work. The ten passengers were thoroughly frightened, but none were injured. All were rescued with the aid of a ladder about two feet below the landing of the second floor.

THAT HORSEWHIPPING CASE.—Lattie Westcott, who Friday night was whipped by Harry Allen, or Thomas, as he is now known, and Miss J. D. Thomas, with whom he was riding, was Saturday, held in $300 bail by Alderman Kason, and will be tried at the usual hour in default of bail. Miss Westcott was committed to the county jail, but later found a bondsman and was released from custody.

DEATH OF GLENN.—Daniel E. Glenn, of Meridian street, the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, died at the Meigs hospital early Saturday morning. Death of his legs were cut off, his eyes were blind, and he had been in the hospital for several weeks. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment in Catholic cemetery.

TROUBLES IN A BUNCH.

Blocked Crossing and Two Disabled Cars Cause Bothers.

Traffic on the Duray trolley line was impeded by a series of accidents last night. Lights were burned out on one car at Taylor, and the air cracked on the next one following it became locked, and before the pair of cripples could be gotten in, a train of coal cars on the Keyser Valley switch at Oak street ran away and became stalled on the crossing at Main avenue. The lightning had burned out the phones, or in some other way disrupted the Taylor lines, and to get word to Scranton it was necessary to man a car back to the city from a high side of the blocked crossing. Master Mechanic Thomas Mullen and a wreck gang went to the relief of the disabled trolley cars, while an engine from the Lackawanna yard was hastened down the Bloom to clear the crossing. The trouble began about 4 o'clock, when the car was burned out, and was not over with till after 9 o'clock.

The runaway train did no damage further than contributing to the delay of the trolley traffic. The cars about 100 cars in the train, all loaded, and waiting to be taken out of the switch by way of the Keyser Valley branch. Mischievous boys, it is supposed, unloosed most of the brakes, and the cars backed down against the train to make a coupling with a view of taking out a part of the train, the cars were started down the grade and could not be stopped till after one end of the train had crossed the bridge. The one engine was not able to pull them back, and they had to be left standing till the second engine arrived from Scranton. In the meantime, passengers were transferred around the block.

BOARD OF CONTROL TO MEET.

Contracts for This Year's Supplies to Be Awarded.

The regular meeting of the board of control takes place tonight, and the most important feature will probably be the awarding of contracts for the ensuing school year, as the supplies committee will make its report. Another thing which may come up is the question of filling the one vacancy now existing in the High school faculty, due to the resignation of Miss Marie Gregg, and the subsequent promotion to her place of Professor William Schimpff. It is likely, however, that this matter will go over until the next meeting.

With the exception of this one new addition to the preceptors at the High school, it is unlikely that there will be any new faces this year among the corps of teachers now in charge of Scranton's premier educational institution. The incoming class this year numbers about one hundred and ninety, and is generally regarded as smaller than the other freshman classes of late. A large class went out of the school in June, and as a result the number of students this fall will be practically about the same as last year.

The new Latin in the Grammar A grade this year were noticeable for their rigor, and that fact accounts for the fact that this year's freshman class is smaller in size than that of the preceding years.

SHE TOOK PARIS GREEN.

Mrs. Nevins, of Carbondale, Died Yesterday Afternoon.

A woman named Mrs. Nevins, residing on Dundaff street, Carbondale, took a dose of Paris green at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning and lingered in agony until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when she died. The cause of her illness is in mystery and may not be unraveled until Deputy Coroner Paine investigates the circumstances this morning. From one source it was learned late last night that one of the woman's three sons had been drinking heavily during the past week and threatened to leave home. This worried Mrs. Nevins and in a fit of despondency it is supposed she took the poison. The occupants of the house were not aware of the woman's death until late in the day, but as soon as the discovery was made a physician was summoned and administered emetics, but without success. Mrs. Nevins recovered consciousness just before she died and informed one of her sons that she had taken the poison. The coroner was notified and he has an autopsy today. The deceased was a widow and had been a resident of Carbondale a number of years.

That He Did.

"Look at these manuscripts of mine that have been returned," growled the author. "That editor doesn't know a good thing when he sees it." "But he probably knows a bad thing," suggested his friend, very quietly.—Pan.

SERMON BY THE REV. F. P. DOTY

DELIVERED IN THE CEDAR AVENUE M. E. CHURCH.

He Said the Lord's Side Is the Side of Right as Opposed to Wrong. God Takes a Deep Interest in the Moral Status of Affairs in All the Universe.—Speaker Dealt with Question of Sabbath Desecration, Which He Said Is Alarmingly Prevalent.

In the Cedar Avenue Methodist Episcopal church yesterday morning a thoughtful discourse was delivered by Rev. F. P. Doty, the pastor. He took for his text the words, "Who is on the Lord's side, let him come unto me," Ex. xxxiii. 26. The speaker said: "The events recorded in the contest give vital interest to those words of Moses. God had summoned him to a conference upon Mt. Sinai. This conference was prolonged through a period of forty days. The people at length concluded that Moses, their leader, was dead, and proceeded to adopt measures which would result in making paganism the religion of the land. Their life in Egypt very naturally predetermined them in favor of the religion of that country. Aaron, their priest, and Miriam, his sister, who held control of governmental affairs during the absence of that great leader, was induced to provide an image for use in their idolatrous worship. "It was during the remembrance of the first feast in honor of the golden calf, which Aaron had set up, when dancing and licentiousness had reached their height, and the people were in a camp in company with his faithful servant Joshua.

In a moment his eye took in the scene before him. The awful consequences of this sin against Jehovah he knew must fall upon the guilty participants in this rebellion against God. With commendable promptness he descended the altar and denounces the golden calf in the presence of the worshippers. Little does he care for popularity among a people who could so easily forsake their God. He is not afraid to stand at his side and rebuke in the presence of his people. He is not afraid to stand in the presence of the golden calf, which Aaron had set up, when dancing and licentiousness had reached their height, and the people were in a camp in company with his faithful servant Joshua.

TRINITY DISSOLVED.

By a chemical process the ruins of their precious golden calf are dissolved and mixed with water, and the idolaters are compelled to drink of it. Then raising his voice as he stood at the gate of the sanctuary, he said: "Who is on the Lord's side? Let him come unto me."

The Lord's side, which he did not engage in the worship of the idol, and took their stand at his side, and rebuked in the presence of the golden calf, which Aaron had set up, when dancing and licentiousness had reached their height, and the people were in a camp in company with his faithful servant Joshua.

Let us pause a moment and inquire what is meant by the Lord's side. Briefly stated, the Lord's side is the side of right, as opposed to wrong. God takes a deep interest in the moral status of affairs in all the universe. He draws the line at the right hand of the wrong, and he would have us share every action in the Decease. He prohibited every form of idolatry, when he commanded, "Thou shalt not make unto thee a graven image, or any likeness of anything that is in the heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the heaven: thou shalt not bow down thyself to them."

God rebukes to rescue man from a life of sin in this world, and to draw his soul down to hell, in the future world. He rebukes to rescue man from a life of sin in this world, and to draw his soul down to hell, in the future world. He rebukes to rescue man from a life of sin in this world, and to draw his soul down to hell, in the future world.

AT PENN AVENUE CHURCH.

Two Sermons Yesterday by Rev. H. B. Rankin, of Easton.

Rev. Henry B. Rankin, pastor of the First Baptist church, of Easton, and one of the ablest young clergymen of the state, preached two eloquent sermons yesterday in the Penn Avenue Baptist church. He is a graduate of Bucknell university, and was until a short time ago the pastor of the Cross Street Baptist church in Philadelphia. In the morning he found his text in Isaiah: "They that shall wait upon the Lord shall not be ashamed." He urged the necessity of waiting expectantly upon the Lord in the hour of adversity.

RELIGIOUS NEWS NOTES.

Rev. Henry Tackley, D. D., of Bloomsburg, N. Y., occupied the pulpit of the Elm Park church at both services yesterday. Rev. James A. Smith, of Philadelphia, preached yesterday at the Union Baptist church on the subject of "Grace and Knowledge." Rev. James Stuart Dickson, of Philadelphia, preached at the First Presbyterian church yesterday. The congregation of the second church united in the services.

Mrs. Morris' Letter to EVERY WIFE AND MOTHER.

LETTER TO MRS. FINNHAM NO. 14,303

"I have taken eight bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with gratifying results. I had been married four years and had two children. I was all run down, had falling of womb with all its distressing symptoms. I had doctoring with a good physician, but I derived very little good from his treatment. After taking a few bottles of your medicine, I was able to do my work and nurse my seven-months-old baby. I recommend your medicine to every wife and mother. Had I time, I could write much more in its praise. I bid you God's speed in your good work."—MRS. L. A. MORRIS, WELLS, PUTNAM CO., PA.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—When I commenced the use of your remedies I was very bad off. Every two weeks I was troubled with flowing spells which made me very weak. I had two of the best doctors, but they did not seem to help me. "They said my trouble was caused from weakness and was nothing to worry about. I felt tired all the time; had no ambition. I was growing worse; had all the time until I began the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now able to help about the house, and am much improved in health."—MRS. A. WALKER, CALICOON DEPOT, N. Y.

His course was straightforward. Not only did he proclaim the law, but he enforced discipline. He was not a man who would be astray had low degree measures been adopted. Policy may be devised where morals are not involved. Christ paid tribute to the government of Caesar, but there was one expediency rather than of right and wrong. He drove those who bought and sold in the temple out of the temple, and overturned the tables of the money-changers, without regard to whether it pleased the Jews or not.

This conduct of Moses as ruler of Israel afforded a lesson to the people of this city to follow in dealing with certain matters, which are crying loudly for attention at his hands.

Men are in the midst of an exciting campaign. Men are choosing sides politically; taking a stand with the party they endorse. They choose to lead the way by the side they choose. The man who takes the right side in the work of saving lost souls enters the energy of the Holy Spirit of God. The most important work in this world is to get even calling to the un saved, inspiring them to "look unto Him" and "be saved." Though he be in sin, if the sinner, like the Psalmist, says, "God be true, though it should make every man my enemy, forgiveness, love and home awaiting him."

Remember, hasten to forsake your sin and come over on the Lord's side. Prompt, decisive action will insure the forgiveness you need and the salvation of your immortal soul. Do not delay in this matter. The people of God are calling to you to aid in the rescue of those who have been led astray. This old earth is closing. The spirit of the new century is sweeping over the world, and the people of God are calling to you to aid in the rescue of those who have been led astray. This old earth is closing. The spirit of the new century is sweeping over the world, and the people of God are calling to you to aid in the rescue of those who have been led astray.

Mr. Boshard's time has expired, and he is not yet settled, whether or not he will re-enter the service. His experience as an electrician will enable him to command a salary of from $1,800 to $2,600 a year after re-entrance and serving another year. His fields in Avoca and Scranton have given him a generous welcome home.

Among last week's visitors to this city was Walter Jenkins, a former Scrantonian, now chief of the newly created department of elevator inspection in Philadelphia. Mr. Jenkins will be remembered by the older mechanics who worked with him at the lathe in one of the other of Scranton's machine shops a quarter of a century ago, but few of any of them could recognize in New York the well-groomed Philadelphia city official the young man of the blue jumpers and overalls with whom they were wont to spend six days a week when he was working in the city.

Mr. Jenkins' position is one of the most important within the gift of Director English and has attached to it a goodly salary. It has under him a corps of expert mechanics, whom he despatches to supervise the construction of new elevators and make periodical inspections of those already in Philadelphia. Mr. Jenkins is a young man of the blue jumpers and overalls with whom they were wont to spend six days a week when he was working in the city.

Hon. Garrick M. Harding, of Wilkes-Barre, former judge of the Luzerne county courts, by way of celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of his admission to the bar, Judge Harding has been for years one of the sturdy, impressive figures in the public life of this part of the state. Occasionally he has been called to the county court and has a large number of friends among the members of the Lackawanna bar.

Judge Harding was born in Luzerne county in 1830, graduated from Dickinson law school in 1857, and was admitted to the bar August 5, 1859. In 1858 he was chosen district attorney and in 1879 was appointed president judge by Governor Geary to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Hon. John N. Conyngham. In the fall of the same year he was named by the Republicans for the same position and was elected. In 1879, after ten years of service on the bench, he resigned. During his career as an attorney he was a partner for a time with his predecessor, Hon. Henry H. Fuller, and also with Hon. H. W. Palmer from 1866 to 1870.

Judge Harding has two sons and a daughter. His only son, Harry M. Harding and Mrs. William W. Curtin, of Philadelphia, whose husband is the only son of the late ex-Governor Andrew G. Curtin. Judge Harding's wife died in 1887. Although he has been fifty years of age, he is still strong and vigorous, and looks as if he had many years yet before him. Though he does not pursue his profession with the same ardor he did in the earlier days of his career, he enjoys a keen legal battle as much as ever.

A. J. Colborn, Jr., and John M. Harris have received invitations from Senator Scott, chairman of the committee on speakers of the Republican national executive committee, to go to Maine and help on the hustings. Mr. Harris has accepted and will give the committee three weeks of his time. Mr. Colborn, on account of previous engagements, had to send his declination. Senator Scott was insistent, however, that Mr. Colborn should be present for the purpose of corresponding with the committee. Mr. Colborn should go to Maine for a week, or, if possible, two weeks,

BRIEF MENTION OF MEN OF THE HOUR

A. J. DUFFY APPOINTED MANAGER OF LYCEUM.

John Boshard Gave His Relatives in Avoca a Surprise.—Has Been in the United States Navy Five Years. Was in the Battle of Manila.—Walter Jenkins, Formerly of Scranton, Honored in Philadelphia.—Scrantonians Asked to Speak in Maine During the Campaign.

A. J. Duffy has been promoted to the position of manager of the Lyceum by the lessees, Burgunder & Reis, and will enter upon the duties of his new position on August 15. The Lyceum will be open for the season on August 23, with Dan L. Hart's "Parish Priest." Mr. Duffy has been connected with the Lyceum for several seasons in the capacity of treasurer and is a warm favorite with the patrons of the house. He is genial, courteous and obliging and always anxious to show every attention to the patrons of the theatre. Mr. Duffy has had some distinguished predecessors in the management of the Lyceum, but it can be said for him that none of them started in with a greater share of the public's good will or a more intimate knowledge of theatrical business.

Since the opening of the season, Mr. Duffy has been manager of the Pines hotel at Lake Ariel. He severed his connection with that hotel yesterday and returned to this city last evening to have a vacation. He is starting the theatrical season. The guests at the hotel were loathe to see him depart and as an earnest of that fact presented him with a handsome purse, which he was induced to accept as an expression of the kindly feelings of the guests of the Pines.

After five years absence, and grown from youthfulness to manhood, John Boshard, of Avoca, returned to his home on Saturday, practically unknown and unrecogized. He enlisted in the United States navy at New York five years ago, when but 16 years of age, as a naval apprentice, and after nine months' service at the New York, Rhode Island training station, started out on a training cruise to the West Indies, about the Essex.

Three years ago he was transferred to the gunboat Helena, and has since remained with that crew, working as an electrician. Soon days before the Helena force, Boshard went on a roving commission to Europe, Athens, and the Asiatic stations. He also spent much time at China and the Philippines, and was in the engagement in Manila harbor.

The Helena left Manila on May 1 of this year, and the captain extended the crew the privilege of visiting the Paris exposition, but Boshard wanted to come home to see his relatives. Upon his arrival in New York he immediately set out for Avoca and surprised his relatives by quietly dropping in on them.

Mr. Boshard's time has expired, and he is not yet settled, whether or not he will re-enter the service. His experience as an electrician will enable him to command a salary of from $1,800 to $2,600 a year after re-entrance and serving another year. ARE OPPOSED TO ANARCHISTS

MEETING OF LACKAWANNA AND LUZERNE ITALIANS.

Held Last Evening in Music Hall to Commemorate the Death of King Humbert.—Addresses Made by Congressman William Connell, Judge H. M. Edwards, Mayor James Moir and Others.—Resolutions Were Adopted Decrying Anarchy and Asking Congress to Prevent Its Spread.

The Italian citizens of Lackawanna and Luzerne counties, but of this city in especial, gathered last night in Music hall and commemorated the death of King Humbert I with a special memorial services. Addresses were made by prominent members of the Italian colony and Americans and resolutions were adopted denouncing anarchy and petitioning this government to take steps to crush it. The hall was elaborately decorated for the occasion by Decorator Fuhrman and presented a most beautiful appearance. The front of the balcony was draped in white and black, while festoons of the same colored bunting hung from the ceiling. On either side of the stage were draped the United States and Italian flags and underneath the latter was a splendid portrait of the dead king attired in his full military uniform.

COLD WAVE HAS ARRIVED HERE

Rain Storm of Yesterday Afternoon Cooled off the Atmosphere to a Wonderful Degree.

It has come at last! The cold wave has arrived, and now we are once more happy. As was prophesied, by the men who make it a business to keep posted on the exact condition of the atmosphere, a change has at last been effected, and Scrantonians, after suffering a week of blistering, red-hot weather, with an average of 85° for the sublimest heights reached each day by the mercury, can once more breathe easily and walk the streets, with collars on, and look at the thermometer without incurring the danger of a sudden fainting spell.

But Old Sol, in all his glory, died hard. He started the day yesterday with the very respectable temperature of 63 degrees. This isn't all bad, and by and by, as he kept continually improving, he had it up to 88 degrees, and people with wise, know-it-all expressions, who met on the sunny streets, would triumphantly explain, as they accosted each other: "I told you so. These weather men—"

About 5:45 o'clock the clouds which had been gathering all afternoon, and had become dark as pitch, suddenly burst, and for about twenty minutes the rain came down with a force which was appalling. A strong wind was blowing at the same time, and there was an accompaniment of thunder and lightning, which rendered the storm a most noisy and forceful herald of the approaching cooler weather.

The lightning flashes were frequent and most vivid, one bolt of the powerful element striking the smoke-stack on The Tribune engine house. At its conclusion the sun peered out in a goodly way, and the temperature, which had been at the boiling point, fell to about fifty-six degrees. The fall of rain averaged 33-100 of an inch in depth, and the water had a most excellent effect, cooling the parched foliage, as well as troubled humanity.

Saturday the cruel sun-god took advantage of the fact that it was his last day of grace, and kept unfortunate locals perspiring and sizzling all day, the thermometer beginning at 64 degrees and rising to 96, an average of 80 for the day. This warm weather is an exact duplicate of the temperature here exactly four years ago, when at the very same time of the year, for an eight days' spell, the thermometer gave a mark which corresponded with those of last week.

A small real estate office at Tripp Park, owned by Hon. John R. Parr, was struck by lightning about 6 o'clock and totally destroyed. The building was in the building at the time caught under the falling timbers and seriously injured.

All over the hill section of the city the effects of the storm could be perceived, several large trees being blown down. The violence of the atmosphere also played havoc with the telephone wires, and rendered good service impossible.

ANNUAL EXCURSION.

Employees of Sauquoit Silk Mills Spent Saturday at Lake Ariel.

The annual excursion given by Sauquoit Silk company to its employees, attracted over 5,000 persons to Lake Ariel Saturday. It was hugely enjoyed. Over 5,000 of these were the guests of the silk company and were furnished with transportation to and from the lake and with checks for refreshments on the grounds that cost the silk company $450. Bauer's band furnished the music.

At the grounds, William H. Davis, the general manager of the company; Gustav Renard, superintendent of the weaving department, and Edward Conerton, the cashier, attended to the distribution of the refreshment checks and saw that the excursionists had every opportunity for enjoying themselves. Valentine Biles, the owner of silk mills at Providence and Dickinson City, had 250 of his employees at the excursion and saw to it that they were entertained in the same manner as the Sauquoit employees.

LOUDLY APPLAUDED. During the consul's address he was loudly applauded and there were frequent cries of "Abasso l'anarchia," (death to the anarchists). Just as he mentioned the name of the new king the music ceased and the lights of the stage were drawn aside, revealing a picture of the new monarch. Then the audience went wild and cheered and cheered until one would fancy they would never stop.

Consul Tiscar was followed by Pa-trolman Victor Sartor, president of the Vittorio Emanuele society, who paid a high tribute to the memory of the dead king. The next speaker was Judge H. M. Edwards, who first of all urged all the Italians in the county, and especially the young men, to study American institutions and above all things else the English language. He congratulated the Italians upon
