Thirty-three cars were required to accomodate the excursionists who went to Delaware Water Gap over the Lackawanna with the Switchmon's union yesterday. The train was run in three sections of eleven cars each and the trip both ways was made without accident or delay.

Those of the excursionists who neglected to take along lunch baskets were put to some inconvenience in securing dinner, as all the hotels were crowded with regular patrons and were not disposed to serve transient guests. Otherwise, the day was one of unqualified pleasure.
