

NORTHEASTERN PENNSYLVANIA

SUSQUEHANNA COUNTY COURTS

Cases Heard at Montrose This Week.

The Valentine Affair. Special to the Scranton Tribune. Montrose, Aug. 17.—Court is still in session and the outlook is that the jury will not be discharged before tomorrow afternoon.

COMMONWEALTH CASES.

In the case of the commonwealth versus Thomas Patten and Arthur Patten, charged with assault and battery, in which Ira Tinklepaugh was the prosecutor, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty and placed the costs on the prosecutor.

The next case was one between the same parties, only in changed places, Tinklepaugh being made the defendant and Arthur Patten the prosecutor. The jury found Tinklepaugh guilty of assault and battery.

Commonwealth versus John Valentine, charged with felonious rape, Peter DeWitt, prosecutor. The defendant was alleged to have criminally assaulted a little 8-year-old daughter of the prosecutor. The evidence for the commonwealth was not at all convincing and it was flatly contradicted by several witnesses for the defense.

The parties hail from Jackson and many representative citizens of that place testified as to the good character of the defendant. The case went to the jury yesterday and the jury promptly returned a verdict acquitting Valentine.

Commonwealth versus George Potter, charged with assault, with intent to ravish. Jury found defendant not guilty, but divided the costs equally between prosecutor and defendant.

BEFORE JUDGE DUNHAM. The suit of A. J. Avery versus D. V. Gardner, a claim for wages, was a certified case tried before Judge Dunham, of the Wyoming-Sullivan district, yesterday. The plaintiff is a cigarmaker, now employed in Scranton, but formerly a workman in Gardner's cigar factory in this place. The jury went out last night and brought in a sealed verdict for judgment for the plaintiff in the sum of $135.54.

Judge Dunham handed down two decisions as follows: In the case of N. O. Major versus the First National bank of Susquehanna, motion for judgment for the defendant was granted. The motion was based on sufficient affidavit of defense. Rule discharged.

In the case of Silas Hartley versus G. W. Weidman, rule on plaintiff to show cause why he should not pay costs. Rule made absolute and plaintiff is directed to pay costs in this case.

The meeting adjourned to meet again next year at the same place. Date will be announced later.

TRIBUNE'S EDUCATIONAL CONTEST

A Number of Changes in the Standing Today.

HOW THE LEADERS STAND

Charles Rodriguez, 428 Webster avenue.

Oliver Callahan, 415 Vine street.

David V. Birtley, 103 West Market street.

Eugene Boland, 235 Walnut street.

David C. Spencer, Bloomsburg.

Arthur Kemmerer, Factoryville.

Harry Reese, 331 Evans court.

Miss Grace Simrell, Carbondale.

Sidney W. Hayes, 922 Olive street.

Miss Fannie E. Williams, Peckville.

Edward Murray, 516 Hamm court.

John P. Smith, 2532 Boulevard avenue.

Richard Roberts, 1303 Hampton street.

There were a goodly number of points scored in The Tribune's Educational Contest yesterday. Miss Fannie E. Williams, of Peckville, made her debut in the list of leaders, but instead of lingering at the bottom of the list, as most new competitors have done, she at once advanced to tenth place, being tied with Edward Murray, who also fortunately increased his standing, going beyond John P. Smith, Miss Grace Simrell, of Carbondale, is another young lady who advanced, going from tenth to eighth place, displacing both Sidney W. Hayes and John P. Smith. The first seven contestants remain unchanged, though there will probably be a shake-up in a few days, as some of the leaders are working harder than others and the results will show soon.

Although the contest is quite well advanced now, there is still an excellent opportunity for new competitors, and the results shown by those who have entered recently prove abundantly that there is room for many more and work for all who care to advance their own interests.

BRAVERY OF THE AMERICANS RECOGNIZED

[Concluded from Page 1].

Congratulate Lieutenant Colonel Cudde and the officers and men under his command.

I have the honor to be, sir, your obedient servant.

(Signed) A. R. F. Forward, Adjutant General.

Colonel Meade gives a list of the casualties, and details the circumstances of the death of Colonel Lecom and Captain Davis. He also states that the allies are about to choose a president for the government of Tien-Tsin. He was informed that the general Forward that he expected to move on Pekin in about a fortnight.

PROCLAMATION AT TIEN-TSIN.

The proclamation to the inhabitants of Tien-Tsin, telling them that the bombardment was only in reply to the attacks by rebels, also is included in the report.

The proclamation mentioned by Colonel Meade is as follows:

To the Inhabitants of the City of Tien-Tsin: In bombarding the city of Tien-Tsin, the allied forces only replied to the attack made by the rebels on the foreign settlements. As you are your own authorities forgetting their duties, have deserted their posts, the allied forces consider it their duty to establish in the city temporary administration, which will have for its object the maintenance of order and the welfare of the city. The administration will protect every one wishing to deal in a friendly manner with foreigners but will punish without mercy every one who causes trouble.

For the bad people tremble! but the good people should feel reassured and quietly return to their homes and begin their usual work. This peace will be restored to you as soon as possible.

Tien-Tsin, the 18th July, 1900.

(Approved by) Alliance: Don Udesalu, captain de navire, Argentine Republic; J. Tadral, lieutenant de vaisseau, Argentine Republic; Colonel Meade, American marines; France: De Palaco, colonel, Grande Bretagne; G. Onozal, lieutenant de vaisseau, Argentine Republic; G. Onozal, lieutenant de vaisseau, Argentine Republic; G. Onozal, lieutenant de vaisseau, Argentine Republic; G. Onozal, lieutenant de vaisseau, Argentine Republic.

Major Waller enclosed a number of reports from his company commanders, giving in detail the work done by the organizations. These reports all speak highly of the conduct of officers and men. Captain Fuller, who commanded company F, commends the conduct of a company of English blue jackets under command of a lieutenant from the Orlando, who rendered invaluable assistance in carrying the Ninth's wounded to the rear on the retreat and in forming the rear guard.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACES.

Glen Falls, N. Y., Aug. 17.—The last day of the grand circuit meet here was characterized by perfect racing weather. Nell Gwynne who had two heats to her credit, from yesterday in the postponed trial, captured the first heat today handily winning the race. Midget Jack was second. Time, 2:19.4, 2:19.4, 2:19.4.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Aug. 17.—If any expectation had been entertained that the rescue of the foreign minister in China would be the cause of a speculative Wall street reception of the news was disappointed. In fact the speculation was more sluggish than last week. The week and the tendency until the last hour reactionary. There was a conflict of the market forces. There was a general sagging of prices, but no case did the fall reach a point in the railroad stocks, the group being affected by reports of trade conflicts and expected cuts in production. The important and expected cuts in production in Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Consolidated Gas. Both stocks after momentary declines started upward and ended with local gains. An official announcement that the much heralded Brooklyn Rapid Transit amalgamation would be given out late today attached interest to the movement in the stock.

To define news account for the weakness in the railroad stocks the opinion prevailed that profit taking was primarily the cause. London's purchases of 50,000 shares of the Erie, which were made on August 8 and 9, 1900, were reported as an increase in the earnings for the second week of August. A $200,000 purchase of shares were about 35,000 shares in all, the inquiry from London being stimulated by further declines in money and stock prices. The bond market showed a tendency today which is most pronounced in issue known as semi-convertible. Total sales, par value, $2,700,000. Futures were declined 1/4 and old 1/4 cent, in the bid
