A RELIGIOUS CONVENTION.

The sixth annual convention of the Christian and Missionary Alliance to Meet Here.

Christian and Missionary alliance of Northeastern Pennsylvania will be held in this city August 26 to September 2, inclusive, with a preliminary service on Saturday evening, August 25, at 9 o'clock. The convention will be held in a tent on Jefferson avenue, between Delaware street and Electric avenue. The object of this gathering, as set forth in the circular announcement, is o wait on God, and study His word. The themes will be the teachings of the fourfold gospel: Christ Our Savior, Sanctifier, Healer and Coming Lord: the Evangelization of the World and Its Relation to the Second Coming of Christ. The alliance being undenominational, all believers in Christ may be assured of a cordial welcome to this feast and season of refreshing. Special evangelistic services will be held to which the unsaved are most earnestly invited.

Special features of the convention will be the young people's meetings, daily 7 to 8 p. m., and the children's meetings, 1 to 2 p. m., the latter under the supervision of Mr. J. Hudson Bal-

The daily order of services will be as follows: Morning watch, 6 to 7 a. m.; Bible study, 8.30 to 10.30 a. m.; short addresses, 10.30 a. m. to 12 m.; testimony and devotional services, 2 to 3 p. m.; addresses, 3 to 5 p. m.; young people's meeting and song service, 7 to 8 . m.; short addresses and evangelistic ervices, 8 to 9 p. m.

Among the workers expected are: Rev. Henry Wilson, D. D., New York; Rev. and Mrs. F. H. Senft, Philadelphia; Alexander P. McGough, Philadelphia; Rev. James Leishman, Binghamton, N. Y.; Rev. John E. Jaderquist, Syracuse, N. Y.; Mr. J. Hudson Ballard, Elmira, N. Y.; Miss M. M. Hastie, Avoca, Pa.; Rev. W. D. Lord, Gelatt,

It is hoped that the mission fields will be represented by Rev. D. W. Le Lachner, of China, field superintendent of the alliance work, or if not, by ome of those who have returned from other lands.

Rev. W. T. McArthur, of 1730 Jeffer son avenue, is the chairman of the ommittee of arrangements.

YOUNG GIRL RESCUED.

Mrs. Duggan Saves Wayward Lass from Very Bad Companions.

Through the prompt action of a Lackawanna avenue hotelkeeper in notifying Mrs. Duggan, agent for the Associated Charities, a young girl, whose name is withheld, was Thursday night taken into charge by Mrs. Duggan, and rescued from the company of a central city mendicant.

The girl is only sixteen years of age, and Thursady night entered the hotel with her companion, who is a cripple. The couple asked for beer, but were refused it by the bartender. The proprietor of the place then called up Mrs. Duggan by 'phone, and she arrived on the scene a few moments later, and took the girl in charge.

The cripple objected forcibly to being separated from his companion, vowing that she was his cousin. He was unable to tell Mrs. Duggan the girl's name, however, and on her hinting that unless he ceased his remonstrances the aid of the police would be asked, he proceeded to make himself scarce about the premises. Mrs. Duggan took the girl to her testator advises, but does not direct, office in the city hall, and after a good that as soon after his deceased as may deal of persuasion managed to learn be convenient, the personal property her identity. The parents were then shall be divided as provided for in the notified and removed their wayward will among his wife and three children. They are persons of excellent stand-ing, and were exceedingly grateful for the service done them.

AN ENTERPRISING HOUSE.

"What is home without a plano?" is just as appropriate a saying as "What is home without a mother?" In fact, today no home is complete without a piano, and this statement is more literally exact where there are children in the family. No girl's education can in any sense be complete without the accomplishment of being able to play a piano. It is a very necessary adjunct of a girl's education. There are various grades of pianos, as there are different grades of other commodities. A cheap piano is not cheap at any price, and intending purchasers should feel favored when directed to a good, reliable firm, whom it is gratifying to recommend. It is our privilege to refer to the enterprising music firm of George W. Finn, at 128 Wyoming avenue.

This concern is the local representative for the celebrated Stieff Piano; an instrument noted for its remarkable rich, singing tone quality, delicacy of action, style of finish and unequaled durability. These instruments have been before the public for more than half a century and have undergone the most exacting tests, yet never have they developend a point of weakness. While the Stieffs are considered ultra conservative in their business methods, they never sacrifice quality of material or workmanship to cheapness of price, and their liberal policy in the treatment of their employes, accounts to a great extent for their uninterrupted advancement through all thee years of progress.

A fine assortment of these magnificent instruments, in the various art designs and woods, have just been re-ceived at Finn's, and we doubt that a better stock to make a selection from can be found anywhere. Customers will make no mistake by dealing with this house, as their responsibility is undoubted and second to none in Scranton. This firm carries other makes to suit all conditions, and a visit cannot fail to interest anyone looking for a plane. In addition they also carry a special line of music and small instruments, violins, banjos, guitars, mandolins and musical mer-

DIVISION OF THE J. R. DAVIS ESTATE

WILL OF THE LATE COAL OPER-ATOR IS PROBATED.

Wife Is to Have Free Use of the Homestead as Long as It Remains Unsold, and If It Is Sold She Is to Have the Proceeds-The Remainder of the Estate Is Divided Among the Wife and Three Children-Carey Will Contest.

The will of the late John R. Davis, of North Washington avenue, probated yesterday by Register Koch. and letters granted to the widow, as executrix.

The will is given below in full In the name of God. Amen!

I, John R. Davis, of the city of Scranton, county of Lackawanna and state of Pennsylvania, being of sound mind, memory and understanding, do make and publish this, my last will and testament, hereby revoking all former wills by me at any time heretofore made.

And first I direct that all my just debts and fu-neral expenses be first paid out of my estate as soon after my decease as conveniently can be ltem-I direct that my dearly belover wife. Augusta Davis, shall have and receive towards family support for one year after my decease, the legally allotted time for settling estates, the sum of fifty dollars per month from the income of my estate, for which she shall not be required to account as executrix.

Item-Whereas, the lots on Washington avenue, in the city of Scranton, on which is erected the homestead building, were purchased in the name of my wife, Augusta Davis, and pon which I afterwards made expensive and costly improvements, wherefore it is my wish and will that my said wife shall have and receive in lieu of a Spruce street property hereto-fore deeded to her and afterwards sold for my nefit, the free and full use, income and benefit of said homestead property, for and during her life time; but If at any time it shall be the mited will and wish of my said wife and of all f my children to sell the same that then my aid wife shall have and receive absolutely onehalf of the price received for the same, and that the other half thereof be divided equally be-tween my three children, to have and to hold inder my said wife and children, their heirs and assigns forever.

Item-All the rest and residue of my property and estate, real, personal and mixed, I give, devise and bequeath to my wife, Augusta Davis, nd to my three children, share and share alike, have and to hold unto them and their helrs nd assigns forever.

Provided that if any part or portion of the proceeds of any part or portion of my wife's share of my estate as aforesaid shall be umused, unexpended and remain at the time of her death, the same shall go to my three children, share and share alike, to them and their heirs and assigns forever. And it is my will and wish that this provision shall apply to the whole of homestead property and the proceeds thereof as aforesaid.

Item-The aforesaid devises and bequests to my fe, Augusta Davis, shall be in licu of any wer in my estate. And I do hereby nominate, constitute and apint my wife. Augusta Davis, the executrix of is my last will and testament. In witness whereof, I, John R. Davis, the tesator, have to this my will, written on one heet of paper, set my hand and seal this eighth lay of August, A. D., one thousand eight hunred and eighty-seven.

Signed, sealed and delivered by the above amed testator, as for his last will and testament in the presence of us who at his request ave subscribed our names as witnesses thereto n the presence of the said testator and of each John B. Davis.

W. H. Gearhart, M. R. Walter. By a codicil dated June 27, 1892, the testator advises that each heir retain his or her share as an investment. By another codicil dated April 3, 1897, he testator directs that in case the Washington avenue property shall be old the whole of the proceeds be given o his wife, but that if any portion of such proceeds remain unused at the ime of her death, said portion shall be equally divided among his three children.

C. B. Gardner and W. K. Gearhart are the witnesses to the codicils.

Opposes His Father's Will.

The will of the late John Carey, of laylor, was offered for probate yesterday by Attorney James E. Watkins, but the granting of letters was topped by a caveat filed by the decedant's eldest son, Frank Carey, of 1310 Luzerne street, represented by Attorney R. H. Holgate. The opposing son is bequeathed $300 and released from the debts he may be owing his father, and his brother, Fred, is given $500. All the rest of the property is left to the two daughters, Elise Carey and Mrs. Effic Gordon, and these latter are appointed executrixes.

The grounds for opposing the will are not set forth by the contestant. The will is dated Aug. 7, 1900, and is itnessed by Horace J. Daniels and J. E. Watkins.

Was Very Much Accused. Joseph Kulcavage, of Fell township, was released on $800 ball furnished beore Judge Edwards yesterday by Alex Kulcavage was committed two weeks igo by 'Squire Nicholas Glynn on the following charges: Assault and battery, June 16; breaking jail, July 7; ssault and battery, Aug. 6; carrying concealed weapons, Aug. 6; resisting arrest, Aug. 6 and assault and battery on a public officer, Aug. 6.

Says She Is Cruel to Him.

Peter Patten, of Carbondale, through Attorney C. H. Harber, yesterday aplied for divorce from his alleged cruel wife, Jennie Apper Patten. They were married Sept. 7, 1873, and ived together until Aug. 1, 1900. The ibeliant declares that his wife abused him shamefully, cut him in the face with a knife and threatened to poison

Burkhard Moser Heirs to Bring Suit to Recover Coal Lands.

The attorney for the heirs of Burk hard Moser, some of whom live in this city, has announced that after a three years' search he has succeeded in se-curing a brief of title to the rich coal fields in Schuylkill county, valued at many million dollars, which the three hundred and twenty-five heirs have been seeking to obtain possession of for many years back.

The heirs, who have formed them selves into an association known as the Burkhard Moser Heirs' association will bring suits in the Pottsville courts this coming winter for a title to the lands. The facts in this peculiar case are well known in this city.

Moser died in 1828, unmarried, and the property, which comprises some 416 acres of the most valuable coal land in the state, passed in the course of time into other hands. The Lehigh Coal and Navigation company have had possession since 1868 and it is said refused an offer of $7,000,000 a few years ago for one of the mines located on the land.

COAL OPERATORS' AUGUST LETTER

Criticizes the Coal Carrying Com panies for Lack of Foresight. Lackawanna Commended.

The following is the text of the August letter of the Industrial Coal Operators' asssociation: "The month has shown no change in the anthracite situation. Besides the usual mid-summer dullness and disinclination to labor during the heated term, the individual operators and each of the anthracite transporting interests are waiting for the decision of the appellate court regarding the Delaware Valley and Kingston railroad. Until this is announced, no definite steps one way or another may be expected. In the meantime, however, the Erie and Wyoming Valley railroad is actively at work enlarging its terminals and making other necessary preparations to handle the increased tonnage which it will eventually receive.

"The anthracite transporting companies do not appear to be able to realize the part they are playing in the history of this industry. If had the gift of introspection; if they could use that esoteric power which is now exercised on details of their competitors' tonnage, and place themselves twenty or even ten years hence and look back over what has been done, they might be able to see the unutterable puerility which has characterized their conduct for several years past. To say that they have not and do not realize the gravity of the situation or that their futile efforts to better it were not based upon some plan which they understood, would be to imply feeble minds. But that they did not carry out such plans proves conclusively either their mental inability to grasp the true importance of the situation, or that, feeling intrenched behind comfortable salaries, they had not the desire to add further labors of thought and action to their present duties. "To the outsider it is incredible that the large financial interests behind these railroads should have permitted them to be conducted in such a manner. Not long since, a change was made in the management of one interest. From that time not only has it shown better earnings, but has completely reversed the procedure of other anthracite transporters by assuring shippers on its line of fair treatment and actually cultivating and encouraging local industries of all kinds. It has left the rut. The management following the precedent of every well managed railroad, is developing new business and not, as heretofore been the case, and as holds with the majority of the other anthracite lines, hiding itself behind the bulwark of earnings from anthracite sufficient to pay losses incurred in other branches. "The opportunity has been before the transporters and they have failed to see it. Now, new conditions have arisen as a result of their neglect. A new factor, an independent transporter, is about to enter their field. Their control of prices and output will be lost and those who have rested in musty security will find that the anthracite traffic earnings upon which they have depended, will fail them. Methods which they used will suddenly prove obsolete and impossible and with the decline in earnings will come the demand from security holders, at last impressed, for new methods, new management, new blood. "At present the transporters are resting in fancied security. They imagine that they are too firmly seated to be moved. But it is the same security as that which brings peace to the mind of the ostrich when its head is hidden in the sand and its great, unsightly body stands high in the air,

POOR BOARD

UP IN ARMS

OBJECTS TO SHELTERING POOR OF OTHER DISTRICTS.

Fortunately for Wilkes-Barre, the Climax Comes Just as the Luzerne District Finds Itself Capable of Housing Its Own Unfortunates. Among the Applications for Relief Were Several Which Revealed Conditions of Pathetic Destitution.

The Hillside Home will no longer be made an asylum for all the indigent and helpless individuals in this part of the state. Superintendent Beemer of the Home, reported at yesterday's meeting of the poor board that twentythree paupers who are proud of the fact that they hall from Wilkes-Barre and who have been subsisting on the bounty of the local poor district, have now been sent to Luzerne county.

The people down the valley have just completed making accommodations for their more unfortunate brethren and, eccordingly, the score of Luzernites who have been eating Lackawanna bread have now been transferred to Wilkes-Barre, A man named Walsh, from Pittston, who has also been receiving treatment at the Home, and who was one of the most unruly and refractory patients at the institution, has also been removed, and yesterday the board rebelled at receiving a mar from Hawley.

Superintendent Beemer received a letter from Hawley telling about the case and yesterday stated it to the board. It seems that Joseph H. Bea recently fell off of a load of hay and received injuries which render him slightly demented. His family are now eager to have him received at the home.

EMPHATIC PROTEST.

This communication was the cause of a volcanic outburst from Director Paine, who rose to his feet and em-phatically remarked: "A case like this, to my mind, ought to be referred to the state board, instead of to this body and in case it is refused aid, then it is time to bring it to our notice. All of these out-of-the-city cases ought to be referred to the state board, and not brought before this body. I move that Superintendent Beemer be instructed to reply to the Hawley officials telling them to apply to the state board."

The home committee reported that t held a meeting Wednesday night and looked over the plans for the proposed new store house for the home and ad vised that the building, 25x50 feet and two stories high, be erected, the upper story to be used for hospital purposes Among the applications for relief was that of a Mrs. Burke, of Dunnore, who is left homeless, destitute and sick with an infant child as the result of the patriotism of her husband, who recently visited the recruiting station on Wyoming avenue, enisted under an assumed name and is now a soldier boy. Efforts will be made to have him sign some of his pay over to his wife, and, in the meanwhile the case was referred to the director of the district and attorney of the board, with power to act. Curtis Brooks, a tarmer of Wayne county, petitioned the board to have young boy indentured to him. His request was granted and one of the young boys at the home will be given into his care.

Mrs. Sessender, of Bunker Hill, who New York city after the death of her husband, and who is now in very needs circumstances, asked the board for aid. Considerable debate ensued over the case, some of the members arguing that the shortness of the time she has lived here prevents her from having any right to receive aid. The case will receive further investigation before any definite action is taken.

The small son of Patrick McDonnell, of South Seventh street, was admitted to the Hillside Home. The child is deaf and dumb and for some time received treatment at a Philadelphia oral school. During the month of July the father received two communications from the superintendent of the institution, in which he stated that the boy must be removed. He had an ugly habit of rushing at the other children and scratching at their eyes. He endangered the eyesight of every little one at the school, and also dug his nails into the flesh of their faces in a way that made necessary his imme diate removal.

Mrs. Josie Godak, of First street, whose husband recently deserted her and who is at present in a delicate state, applied for relief. It was decided to send her to the Hillside Home for a period, but she seems to have a dread of the institution and said she was averse to going there. She left the meeting without any conclusion being
