

WEST SCRANTON

AGED MAN WAS BADLY INJURED

JAMES KELLY STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS.

While Walking Along Eynon Street He Fell Unconscious and Sustained Serious Injury—Dewi Sant Lodge Elsteddof on Labor Day—Entertainment in St. David's Church Tomorrow Evening—Approaching Marriages—Funeral of Mrs. Jones—Other Notes.

James Kelly, aged 70 years, who resides with his daughter, Mrs. Llewellyn Davis, on Eynon street, suffered a partial paralytic stroke yesterday afternoon while walking along Eynon street, below Main avenue, and fell on the sidewalk, sustaining a deep gash directly over the left eye.

He was picked up in an unconscious condition and carried into Patrolman David Davis' house nearby, where Dr. George B. Reynolds attended him. A few minutes later one of E. G. Courson's drivers conveyed the injured man directly over the left eye.

At a late hour last night Mr. Kelly was still unconscious and fears were entertained for his recovery, owing to his advanced age. Dr. Reynolds was called again at midnight and stated that his condition was serious.

The injured man is the father of John H. Kelly, the well-known letter carrier, and has been a resident of West Scranton for many years.

Dewi Sant Lodge Elsteddof.

From present indications the elsteddof to be held in Meor's hall on Monday, September 3, Labor Day, under the auspices of the Dewi Sant lodge of Ivorites, will attract many people, not only from this city but also from up and down the valley. The superior qualifications of the adjudicators insure first-class competitions, and the prizes offered are sufficiently large enough to attract the best vocalists in the valley. The chief choral competition, "The Summer," by Gwilym Gwent, for a prize of $100, will have several of the best organized choirs in Northeastern Pennsylvania in the competition, and the competition for church choirs of one congregation of not less than twenty-five in number on Gounod's "Praise Ye the Father," will have several well-known choirs in competition.

Entertainment Tomorrow Evening.

The men's club of St. David's Episcopal church will conduct an entertainment tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the parlors of the church.

When he came to, he was out in the country looking for Honesdale. By the time he found Honesdale it was late in the night and he was alone with a horse and a weedy blackberry bush. During the night it rained, and Mr. Coon's life was made still more miserable.
