Funeral of Cornelius Sullivan-Today's Excursion-Stricken with Ap-

pendicitis-Other Notes.

The funeral of the late Cornelius Sullivan, the young man who met death on the railroad near Lee's crossing at Mayfield Monday night, took place yesterday morning. Services were held in Sacred Heart church where a requiem high mass was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. M. E. Lynott. Interment was made in St. Rose cemetery, Carbondale. The pallbear-ers were: Peter and John Campbell, Thomas Holleran, Michael Nolan and Bartley Coggins. The preparations are now all complete for today's outing at Lake Loof police dore by the united Sunday schools. It is an event the little ones have been impatiently awaiting for some time, street. and they will no doubt have a merry day. The children will not monopo lize the lake, as in most cases the parents have decided to accompany the children, and with both young and old combined the excursion this morning will probably be the largest one from this borough for the year. Miss Minerva McLaughlin, of the Powder Mills, who has been ill for tion in York state.

ering, was seized with a relapse a few days ago and her condition has since been quite serious. Yesterday afternoon Dr. Whelau, of Scranton, held a consultation with Dr. I. S. Graves, and as a result stated Miss McLaughlin is afflicted with appendicitis. It is thought, however, her symptoms are favorable for recovery.

Roland Day, of Cemetery street, who has been spending several months at Easton, returned home yesterday. Mrs. W. H. Hutchings, of Moosic was a visitor here yesterday. Miss Janet Gardner, of Scranton, it visiting Jermyn friends.

Prof. W. L. Rogers and family are moving today to their new home at Green Ridge.

Many people from both boroughs burg cemetery. yesterday enjoyed the farmers' annual picnic at Lake Chapman. It was said to be the largest gathering of people ever seen at the lake. The local liverymen were busy all day taking up and bringing home people, and the last loads did not get back until a late hour.

Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Fessenden are enjoying the sea breezes at Ocean Methodist Episcopal church of Bing-Grove.

The borough has been entertaining an unusually large number of tramps and a few intimate friends. After the past week who make their morning rounds through the borough in search of food and then disappear left on their weiding journey amid until next morning. Some of them are showers of rice and good wishes. #### JESSUP.

A large party of young people gathered at the home of Mr. Anthony Lynott, of School street, on Tuesday evening and were pleasantly entertained. The evening was spent in playing games and other amusements. Refreshments were served at a late hour. MR. BRYAN NOTIFIED was impossible without the aid of the leading commercial nations of the old world, the Popu-lists and Silver Republicans joined with the Dem-

has and Shiver Republicate points who who be the outaits in asserting the right and duty of the American people to shape their financial system for themselves, regardless of the action of other nations. The failure of the Republican parity to secure international bimotallism and its open expousal of the gold standard, still kept the measure meetion in molifies, but no computed oney question in politics, but no econo uestion can compare in importance with a sussion which concerns the principles and structure of government. Systems of taxation can be changed with less difficulty than financial system, and financial systems can be altered with less danger and less disturbance to the country that the vital doctrines upon which free governmen rests.

Republic or Empire?

In the early sixties, when we were engaged in a contest which was to determine whether we should have one republic or two, questions of finance were lost sight of. Silver was at a prenium over greenbacks and bank notes, but the people could not afford to divide over the money restion in the presence of a greater issue. And so today we are engaged in a controversy which will determine whether we are to have a republic in which the government derives its just powers from the governed, or an empire in which brute force is the only recognized power. In a government where the people rule, every wrong can be righted and every evil remedied, but when once the doctrines of self-government is impaired, and might substituted for right, here is no no certainty that any question wi at settled correctly. A colonial policy would so occupy the peop with the consideration of the nation's foreign policy that domestic questions would be neglect-ed. "Who will haut down the flag?" or "Stand must be in good order: state particulars as to make and price. Address, L. M., general de-livery, Soranton, Pa. by the president!" would be the prompt response to every criteism of the administration and corruption and special privilege would thrive under the cover of patriotism. Militarism.

It is not strange that the Populists should on pose militarism and imperialism, for both ar antagonistic to the principles which Populist overspreads the industrial sky. The farmer does not participate in the profits of any trust but he sorely feels the burden of them all. He is deapply to their questions. Looking at question from the standpoint of a speculator, the Popu list recognizes in militarism a constant and in udent upon the seasons for his income. When plants his crop he knows not whether it will creasing burden. The army worm, which oc-casionally destroys a field of wheat, is not nearly knows not whether wind will blow it down so dangerous an enemy to the farmer as a large standing army, which invades every field of in ndustry and exacts toil from every crop. If 100,000 men are withdrawn from the ranks ice of his crop is as uncertain as the quantity. a private monopoly can suspend production of fix the price of raw material as well as the the producers and placed as a hurden upor e backs of those who remain, it must mean figer hours, harder work and greater sacrifier rice of the finished product the farmer, power R., Tribune red when he purchases. Can any farmer hestthose who toil, and the farmer, while h ate to throw the influence of his ballot upon he side of those who desire to protect the pubpays more than his share of the expenses of th army, has no part in army contracts, or in d veloping companies, and his sons are more likely fill the life positions in the army than the sons of those who, by reason of wealth or political prominence, exert influence at Washington. Soon after the Republican leaders began to sug gest the propriety of a colonial policy, the pa set protection from it. The Republican party pers published an interview given out from

San Francisco by a foreign consul residing a Manila. He declared that the people of the Un ted States owed it to themselves, to other na tions, and to the Filipinon, to hold the Philip pine Islands permanently. At the conclusion of the interview there appeared the very insignifi-cant statement that the gentleman was visiting the United States for the purpose of organizing a company for the development of the Philip pine Islands. A few days later on his way eas he gave out another interview in which he exdained that the company which he intended : rganize would establish banks at Manila, and ther places throughout the islands and build electric light plants, water plants, street car lines, railroads, factories, etc. It seemed that the plans of his syndicate was to do all the de veloping and leave the rest of the American ople nothing to do in the matter except to raish an army sufficient to hold the Filipino in subjection while they were being developed. At the present rate we will spend an upon the army approximately half as much as w upend for education in the United States, and this immense sum is wrung from the taxpayers by systems of taxation which over-burden the or man and under-tax the rich.

In the presence of such an issue as militarism t is impossible that any Populist should heatate it is impo as to his duty.

But even the name of militarism is but a part of the question of imperialism. The policy con-templated by the Republican party nullifies every principle set forth in the Declaration of Inde pendence, strikes a blow at popular governmen and robs the nation of its moral prestige. Al these two propositions. If a general rise in prices ready the more advanced supporters of the occurs because of a permanent increase in the colonial idea point to the economy of x system these two propositions. If a general rise in the colonial idea point to the economy of a system of money, all things adjust themselves to of government which entrusts all power to an executive and does away with the necessity for the new level, and if the volume of money, then be the average of money.

A Family Reunion.

There assembled Wednesday at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Kizer, Kizers, Pa., their sons, daughters, sons and daughters-in-law and grand children to celebrate the sevnty-third anniversary of Mr. J. O. Kizer's birthday. The family is com-posed of the following: Mr. and Mrs. W. Kizer and family, of Varden; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Kizer and family of Towanda; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cobb and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dahlgren-Kizer and family, Kizers; Mrs. M. Arnold and family, Carbondale; Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Shaffer, Wilkes-Barre; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Peck, Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Kennedy, Peckville, and A. F. of Scranton. The day Kizer, very pleasantly spent with fishing and rowing on the labe. A table was spread on the lawn, laden with luxurles, in the conter of which was a large birthday cake, bearing the date "1827-1900." All having had a pleasant day the family adjourned to meet

Feb. 22, 1901. Siberia's Soil.

The soil of the greater portion of the grain region of stussia and Siberia is well known in that country as the "Chernozem" or "black earth." It is a broad belt of prairie, 600 to 700 miles in average width, beginning in Hungary and extending northeastward to the Ural moun-tains, and then eastward into Siberla to un-known boundaries. On the north and the west are the "gray forest lands," and on the south and west are sait and alkaline districts and mande wastes and facility the Causema and the sately wastes, and finally the Caucasus and the Ural mountains. By both chemical and mechan-ical analysis the soil is shown to be remarkably similar to that of our own prairies, also commen Miss Loretta Crosson, of Scranton, and Miss Mary Sheridan, of Pittston, were the guests of Miss Mayme Grier yesterday. The Misses Katie and Alice Bow-man have returned home, after spend-man aver returned home, after spendmatter: (2) by the presence of an unusual pro-portion of phosphoric acid; and (3) by a great amount, comparatively, of lime, potash and other alkalies. Thuse sols are, therefore, alkaline, while many others, especially of forest regions, are noid. It is well known that the substances thus more alumdant in these solis lime to others thus more abundant in these soils than in others resident at this time, but the Populist party up he able to determine whether a Democrat a Republican will be elected. Mr. Chairman, the Populist convention, which your committee represents, thought it better to share with the lemocrats in the honor of securing some of the reforms desired by your party than to bear the edium of remaining neutral in this great crists, or of giving open or secret aid to the Republican party, which opposes all the reforms for which the Populists contend. Those who labor to improve the conditions which surround their fellow-men are apt to be ome impatient; but they must remember that it akes time to work out great reforms. Let me illustrate by calling your attention to the slow growth of public opinion in support of a propo-siton to which there has been practically no open opposition. President Johnson, in 1868, recomended a constitutional amendment providing or the election of United States senators by lirect vote of the people, but his recommendation net with no response. About twelve years later, Seneral Weaver, then a member of congress, tried o secure the passage of a resolution submitting uch an ameniment, but his efforts were futile, n 1892, the resolution recommended by Presilent Johnson and urged by Congressman Weaver inally passed the house of representatives, but it has not reached a vote in the sonate. And now, after eight years more of public discussion the proposition for the first time receives the adorsement of the national committee of one again on Mrs. J. O. Kizer's birthday, of the great parties. If the fusion forces win a victory this fall, we hall see this reform accomplished before the next presidential election, and with its accom-plishment, the people will find it easier to se ure any remedial legislation which they may de But how haiting has been the progress Holland has said: Heaven is not gained by a single bound;

We build the ladder by which we rise, From the lowly earth to the vaulted skies And we mount to its summit round by round

Great Problems Solved Slowly.

And so it is with great social and political auvements. Great problems are solved slowly, at struggling humanity marches on, step by ep, content if at each nightfull it can pitch its tent on a little higher ground. I have called attention to the issues which brought the Democrats and Populists together and which justified their co-operation during the last four years. Let me now invite your attention to new questions which would justify co-operation at this time, even though we differed upon all economic questions. It is not our fault that these new questions have been thrust into the arena of politics; it is not our fault that the people have been called upon to consider questions of ever-increasing magnitude. In 1800 the tariff question was the principal subject of dis-cussion, and the Democratic party contended that the masses were carrying a burden of unjust of the constitution. When the Republicans deand unnecessary taxes. In 1802 the tariff question was still the principal issue between the Demo-cratic and Republican parties, although in the xest and south the money question was assum-ng greater and greater proportions, and the Populists were contending that our mometary ystem was more responsible than the tarif laws system was more responsible than the taril laws for the depression in agriculture and the distress existing among the wage-carners. In 1890 the whole question of taxation became of secondary importance because of the increased boldness of those who increased the gold and silver coinage clared at St. Louis that the restoration of hicountry, although desirable, business issue of August 4, comments on the English sys-tem and declares that as a result of this system he rise is arbitrary and only affects a part of he products of labor, those whose products do a fifth of the world's area, containing a fifth of the population, is ruled with an administrati rticipate in the rise suffer because the purknomy which is an administrative marvel, and ising power of their income is decreased. If adds:

"One million two hundred thousand dollars spent in London is the price of administrative order over a colory rule whose total budgets aggregate $1,724.354,596, or 50 per cent, more than our total of the federal state, county and village expenditures for every possible purpose for which faxes are levied. In contrast to the wailts of this system of executive administration the fact is cited that the American congress nent an entire session wrestling with the tariff he taxation, the administration and the personal chts of two little islands. The English execu ve is an imperial executive. The British pariament is an English legislature. To the same system we are coming by the decree of ctreumtances as inevitable as that of fate. If this he imperialism, make the most of it. So far as citizenship is concerned the British empire is one, but beyond the limits of the United Rigdom the our republic. citizen lives under a rule essentially monarchial and not restricted by the constitutional limitations of the parliamentary system." Cannot Hold Colonies.

Thus does imperialism hear its supporters back oward the dark ages. There is no middle ground between the administration policy and the Euro pean policy. If this nation remains true to its principles, its traditions and its history, it can not hold colonies. If it entered upon a colonial career, it must repuliate the dectrine that gov-ernments derive their just powers from the conent of the governed.

When such an issue is raised there can only h so parties-the party, whatever its name may e, which believes in a republic, and the party, diatever its name, which believes in an empire, and the influence of every citizen is consciously or unconsciously, intentionally or unintentioally thrown upon the one side or the other. No Variety in a Republic.

Where the divine right of kings is recognized he monarch can grant different degrees of liberty o different subjects. The people of England can is ruled in one way, the people of Canada in another, the people A Ireland in another, while the scole of India may be governed according to till different forms. But there can be no such atteity in a republic. The doctrine of a republic differs from the doctrine of a monarch as the ctrines there is and ever must be an irrepres- per cent, per capita for the same. sible conflict. Queen Victoria has recognized this necessary ntagonism between the democratic and imperial form of government. In proroguing parliament a ew days ago she said: "Believing that the continued political independence of the republics would be a constant langer to the peace of South Africa, it authorized the annexation of the Orange Free State." A republic is always a menace to a monarch, just as truth is always a menace to error. Selfovernment being the natural government must accessarily create dissatisfaction among the sub-lects of those governments which build upon ome other foundation that the consent of the ment. What the Orange Free State and e Transvaal republics are to South Africa, our epublic is to the world, and once our increasing itrength and the wide Atlantic have protected us rom the inextinguishable bostility which must even exist between these who support a throne and those who recognize the citizen as the sov-

Every step taken toward imperialism by this nation meets with prompt and effusive encour-agement from Europe. Lincoln pointed to the interest which European nations have in the andonment here of the doctrine of equal rights.

"The principles of Jefferson are the definitions and axioms of free society. And yet they are denied and evaded with no small show of success."

One dashingly calls them "glittering generall. iles." Another bluntly calls them "self-evident lies." and another insidiously argues that they apply to superior races. These expressions, dif-fering in form, are identical in object and effect -the supplanting of people of free government and restoring those of classification, caste, legit-imacy.
