CITY NOTES

PENSION GRANTED.—George Burke, of Scranton, has been granted a pension of $8 a month.

WELCOME DANCING CLASS.—The Welcome Dancing class will conduct an opening social on Thursday night in Shover's hall.

AN ORDERLY CITY.—Monday was a quiet day for the police and as not an arrest was made, there was no police court yesterday morning.

THE STILLWELL MATCHES.—The third match of the series for the Stillwell trophy was shot on the Hickson range, Saturday, Sept. 1, at 2 p. m.

ANNUAL PICNIC.—The annual picnic of St. Catherine's church, of Moscow, will be held at Moscow grove tomorrow. A special train will leave this city at 10:15 a. m.

LAKE ARIEL IMPROVEMENTS.—There will be several improvements at Lake Ariel next season. There will be a bathing beach at the resort and a boat club will also be probably organized.

ODD FELLOWS' CLAM BAKE.—The Odd Fellows from Cantonville to Scranton will conduct a clam bake at Lake Poyonelle today. The Ontario and Western will in consequence give special rates from this city.

COMMON COUNCIL MEETING.—A special meeting of common council has been called for tomorrow night for the purpose of awarding the contract for the sewer line issue of $15,000 in conjunction with select committee.

DON'T SUPPORT HIS WIFE.—John Wondolow, of Moscow, was committed to the county jail, last night, by Justice of the Peace Thompson, on the charges of assault and battery and non-support, preferred by his wife.

SKIVINGTON RECOVERING.—H. W. Skivington, who was one of the most seriously injured victims of the dynamite explosion at Lackawanna avenue, is making good progress at the Lackawanna hospital, and is now rapidly recovering from a serious hemorrhage.

FUNERAL OF DR. BARRETT.—The funeral of the late Dr. John Barrett, of Binghamton, who was found drowned in the dynamite explosion at Lackawanna avenue, will be held in this city on Thursday and interment will be made in this city. The deceased was a brother of Mrs. Mary O'Brien and Miss Bridget Barrett, of this city.

CLERKS' MEETING.—The Scranton Clerks' association, No. 211, will hold an adjourned meeting at Industrial hall, 408 Spruce street, tonight to make final arrangements to celebrate Labor Day. The charter will remain open until Labor Day. All clerks intending to join this organization will please hand in their names at the hall tonight. All members are requested to be present.

BROKE WINDOWS.—Patrolman Foley yesterday morning arrested two breakers men for breaking things. One of them broke a window in the lunch wagon at the corner of Penn and Lackawanna streets. The other man broke a window at the corner of Franklin and Linden. A deposit was left at the center street station for the appearance in police court this morning of Anthony Carr, the man who broke the window in the lunch wagon.

VALLEY HOUSE IMPROVEMENT
Cafe Will Take the Place of the Lackawanna Drug Store.
Martin Flynn, proprietor of the Lackawanna Valley House, will take possession of the Lackawanna Drug Store, at the corner of Franklin and Lackawanna avenues, September 1. The store will be transformed into a large cafe for the Valley house.
The Lackawanna Drug store was owned by the Lackawanna Drug company, of which Dr. S. E. Feinberg was the agent. The company recently became insolvent, and the stock was purchased by Mr. Flynn.
The latter will build a very handsome bar room, which will be sixty-one feet long by nineteen feet wide. A new front will be erected, a tiled floor will be laid, an artistically painted ceiling will be constructed, and a fine bar and lunch counter put in.
John Remors will have charge of the construction of the cafe, which will be built from the plans made by Architect Isaac Williams. The present bar will be utilized as a reading room for the hotel guests. Everything will be completed by September 20.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR LABOR DAY PARADE
BEING RAPIDLY PERFECTED BY THE COMMITTEE.
It is Expected That Over 10,000 Labor Unionists Will Be in Line. Probable That Miners Will Make a Big Showing—Parade Will Be in Three Divisions and Will Be in Charge of Grand Marshal George Gotherie—Picnic to Be Held in Laurel Hill Park.
Arrangements are being rapidly completed for the big Labor Day parade next Monday morning, which, from present indications promises to be at least as large, if not larger than last year's procession, which was the most successful of its kind ever conducted in this city.
The parade will consist of three divisions, and will be in charge of Grand Marshal George Gotherie, of the Cigar-makers' union. The first division will comprise the Pine street unions of the United Mine Workers in this county. It is expected that the miners will come out in full force to show their strength, and if they do there will probably be between 7,500 and 10,000 in line.
The second division will comprise the various unions affiliated with the Building Trades council, and all the other union workers in the city. There will be upwards of 4,000 men in this division.
The third division will be called the Industrial division and will consist of displays by any and all merchants desiring to take part. This division will be headed by Bauer's band, which has been engaged by A. B. Warman, of the Lackawanna Laundry, who will have all his employees and wagons in line.
Other merchants who have signified their intention of appearing are Lewis, Ruddy, Davies & Murphy, the Grand Union Tea company, Scranton Dairy company and Clarke Brothers.
The first division will form on Mulberry street, between Washington and Penn avenues; the second on Washington avenue, and the third on Washington avenue, between Mulberry and Vine streets.
The line of march will be as follows: Washington avenue to Linden street, to Adams avenue, to Lackawanna avenue, to Eighth street, countermarch to Jefferson avenue, to Pine street, to Quincy avenue, to Laurel Hill park.
At the park a picnic will be conducted, and addresses will be made by several prominent labor leaders, including George Purcell, of Indianapolis, and mine laborers engaged in the production of coal in the anthracite region, admit the full scale of wages and conditions of employment which we believe both moderate and temperate in view of the fact that the necessities of life have increased fully 30 per cent. in the past two years; be it further
Resolved, That while we deprecate the necessity of engaging in a strike to enforce humane conditions of employment except when all other honorable means have been resorted to, we hereby declare our willingness to support and respectfully request the national board to at once convene the national executive board for the purpose of passing upon our application to engage in a strike to take effect not later than ten days from this date providing an amicable settlement is not effected in the meantime. We pledge ourselves to use all honorable and lawful means to bring about a speedy, satisfactory settlement of our difficulties and to this end we call upon all anthracite coal workers to join in our struggle for justice; and we earnestly appeal to the great, just, and merciful people to render us their sympathy and moral support that in justice and oppression, suffering and wrong, may be forever obliterated and that we may enjoy the fruits of peace and contentment which our industry and arduous employment so richly entitles us to. We respectfully solicit the investigation and continued advocacy of our cause by the American people.
Resolved, That the executive committee, representing districts Nos. 1, 7 and 9, be given power to accept of any committee if they see that it will result in arriving at an amicable settlement within the next ten days.
Outsiders May Be Asked to Confer with Operators.
According to the press committee, the power given the district executive committee to appoint any committee they may see fit means that any outsiders—non-union employees, merchants, professional men or ministers—may be asked to confer with the operators for an adjustment of grievances so that every means shall be exhausted before any strike is declared. It is possible that Father Phillips will be asked to speak to the miners of this district. Several business men may also be invited to confer with the operators on behalf of the men.
MEETING OF BOARD OF TRADE.
One Will Be Called to See What Can Be Done.
It can be definitely announced that the Scranton board of trade will hold a special meeting of the board tomorrow night or the beginning of next week for the purpose of taking some action to prevent, if possible, the threatened strike of the anthracite coal operators.
President Lansing, realizing that such a strike would prove exceedingly disastrous to all of the varied business interests of the city, decided yesterday that it would be wise to call such a meeting. He has not yet selected the exact date.
Just what the board will do is, of course, a matter of conjecture as yet, but it was intimated yesterday by one high in the confidence of the leading members of the organization, that a conference between the operators and miners in this part of the anthracite field arranged through the influence of some of the prominent members of the board, was a possibility.
HORSE STUMBLING IN SLUICE.
Constable Mitchell Meets with Mishap in Wayne County.
Constable Ira Mitchell, of the Seventeenth ward, met with a mishap, Sunday, in Wayne county, while driving from the Salem camp meeting. His horse stumbled in a sluice, upset the carriage and threw Mitchell out.
He then detached the animal from the shafts, at which the horse ran wildly down the road and, attempting to jump over a stone wall, received serious injuries.
Mitchell was badly bruised as a result of the catastrophe, and his buggy was considerably damaged.

NEGLIGENCE IS CHARGED
Inquest Conducted by Coroner Roberts in the Case of the Murray Boy, Killed at the Holden.
Coroner Roberts conducted an inquest last night in his office in the case of Patrick Murray, the 13-year-old boy who was killed at the Holden mine last Friday by being run over by a loaded coal car. Two important things were developed at the inquest, which will require the immediate attention of the mine inspector. One was that the dangerous practice of taking boys from the breaker to pull the loaded cars from the chutes is in vogue at the Holden, and the other is that parents are in the habit of falsely certifying to the ages of the boys who are thus employed.
The mine laws require that boys must be 12 years of age before they can be employed in the breaker, and it was shown by the testimony of one of them that he has worked in the mine for four years and is not yet the required age. Nearly all of the boys who were sworn testified to ages below 12 years.
Foreman William B. Owen, who was also sworn, testified that he had in his possession certificates from parents of the boys, certifying their ages within the required limit. It was also brought out in the testimony that the reason the company refrains from using animals instead of human beings to pull the cars is due to the fact that the harness on the mules is too easily broken.
From the gist of the testimony it was gleaned that the Murray boy, together with a number of his companions, had been taken from the breaker to pull the cars. This was done by means of a rope upon which the boys were pulling when the accident occurred. They were fooling and playing to imitate a fire company when Murray fell. The car was being pushed also from behind by several men.
Before the boy had an opportunity to recover from the fall and get out of harm's way, the car ran over his body and crushed out his life.
The witnesses who testified were: William B. Owen, foreman at the mine; John Murray, father of the boy who was killed; John Higgins, John Powell, Thomas Moffat, Thomas Williams, Samuel Harley, Thomas Proctor and Richard Robbins, employees at the colliery.
The coroner contends that the company was negligent in taking the boys from the breaker to perform such work, and the witnesses told substantially the circumstances as described above.
Inspector Frytcher was present and cross-examined the witnesses, and Attorney John R. Wilson appeared in behalf of the company.
The jury, after much deliberation, rendered the following:
We find that the aforesaid Patrick Murray came to his death by being accidentally crushed beneath the wheels of a gondola car. We further express our disapproval of the practice of moving cars by placing boys before them to pull upon a rope, and enjoin the officials of the company for allowing such practice.
(Signed) Coroner Roberts, Thomas J. Powell, J. McDonald, Henry T. Davis, William D. Morris, E. A. Crutcher.

MILL PULLED OFF IN BANKER'S BARN
Four Fire Rounds Between Local Lightweights in a Stable in West Scranton.
Thomas Dowling and Howard Rothmel, two local lightweights who aspire to ascend the pugilistic ladder of fame, fought a real prize fight last night within a stone's throw of the West Scranton police station.
The former is a native of Scranton, a coachman by Franklin Howell, who owns a well-lighted stable in the rear of his home on Scranton street.
In this stable the crowd of sports gathered to the number of about twenty-five, each having paid an admission to the scrap. The fight was to have been ten rounds, Dowling agreeing to stop Rothmel within that limit or forfeit $20, as against $10 posted by Rothmel's friends. The fight ended in the fourth round, when the referee gave his decision in favor of Rothmel, on a foul.
William Jenkins acted as referee, and the fighters were seconded by Louis Franklin and William Gailisier. The bout was a real prize fight, and of prominent young men, whose names would not look well in print in connection with such an affair.
Several other scraps have also been pulled off in Howell's stables, under the auspices of Dowling's club.
JUDGE WAS REALLY SORRY.
Would Like to Have Stretched the Law, but Couldn't.
George H. Beedy, aged twenty-five, of Peckville, and Alma Coleman, aged nineteen, of Blakely, applied for a marriage license to Clerk of the Court Daniels yesterday.
The bride-to-be being under age the application had to be refused. The young couple were in a sorry plight. Miss Coleman is an orphan and without a guardian, and consequently could not secure the required "parents or guardian's" consent. "Have a guardian appointed," suggested Attorney A. W. Berthoff, when the young people appealed to him. Mrs. Brown, with whom Miss Coleman lived, agreed to become guardian and give the consent which Clerk Daniels awaited.
Judge Kelly was appealed to. With regret in every syllable, he told the hopeful young people that he must needs refuse the young lady's application. "We can't appoint guardians in vacation. It is only during a session of court that we are authorized to exercise this power," said the judge, after he had tried vainly to figure out some way of getting around the objection. "A wally sorry," said the judge, "but I guess you will have to wait."
They concluded to wait, and the judge promised to make the application the first order of business when court convenes September 10.

HEARING IN RUSSIAN CASE.
Charges Against Postmaster of Lipsk to Be Investigated.
Alderman Miller will conduct a hearing at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the case of the postmaster at Lipsk, Russia, who is charged with smuggling over 1,000 rubles, $500, sent from this city by Mathieu Lazar to his wife, in Russia.
Every bit of testimony given will be taken down in shorthand by an expert stenographer, transcribed and then sent to the office of the Russian consulate in New York city.

LOOKING FOR WALTER WILSON.
Binghamton Y. M. C. A. Wants Him to Take Care of His Brother.
The following communication was yesterday received by Postmaster Ripple from Anton Schatzel, of the Binghamton Young Men's Christian association, making inquiries for a Walter Wilson of this city:
Binghamton, N. Y., Aug. 28, 1910.
Postmaster, Scranton, Pa.
Dear Sir: We have a boy 31 years old without means of support. He has a brother in Scranton but does not know his address (says his mother works for some ballet). Now we will appreciate if you can find this man's (brother's) address, Walter Wilson, that he may inquire of his brother, John Anderson Wilson, living here without means. The man is deserving.
Yours truly,
Anton Schatzel.

HENNESSEY COURT YELLOW KID GANG
LEADER AND TWO OF HIS HENCHMEN ARRESTED.
Bad Lot of Urchins, Charged with Serious Crimes, Arrested by Chief of Police Robbing and Arraigned Before Alderman Miller—Robbed a Jeweler, Broke Into Two Stores, Picked Pockets and Otherwise Comported Themselves Unlawfully—To Be Given a Further Examination This Morning.
"Slaughter" Graham, chief of the renowned Yellow Kid gang of Hennessey court, at the very mention of whose name the stoutest patrolman instinctively grips his club tighter, "Slaughter" Graham and two of his trustiest henchmen, "Hungry Harry" Hill and "Happy Harry" Allen, were arrested yesterday by Chief of Police Robbing and City Detective Moir.
Last night they were arraigned before Alderman Miller, charged with stealing four watches from the showcase of Jeweler Tobey, of Penn avenue, last Saturday night; with attempting to burglarize Florey & Brooks' sporting goods store, Sunday, August 15; with breaking into the Scranton Carpet company's store, on Wyoming avenue, and removing about $25 worth of property the same afternoon, and of several pocket-picking cases.
The three desperate criminals average thirteen summers apiece, and are all residents of West Scranton. There are other members of the gang and they, too, will be arrested.
"Slaughter" Graham, the youthful chief, derives his forcible nickname from the fact that long ago, while yet a child, he followed a neighbor's dog, and worked in an establishment where bovine animals daily lost their lives. Graham's lofty spirit soared above this, however, and he soon left the place.
Young Allen entered hall yesterday afternoon, but the chief and "Hungry" Hill were held in $300 bail, and taken to the central station for further examination this morning.
GIVEN A HEARING.
The doughty chief and his lieutenant were arraigned before Alderman Miller at 7:30 o'clock. The four watches stolen from Tobey's showcase, Saturday night, which were broken open by the terrible "Yellow Kids," were found in the possession of the chief yesterday afternoon, and this fixed the guilt upon the boy burglar.
Chief of Police Robbing also recounted in a manner in which the gang attempted to rob Florey & Brooks. They entered from the rear, climbing up the wall by means of an iron grating, and effecting an entrance by using a broken window. Then, when in the store, they were seized by men from the street car barn, who had watched the performance. Their captors conveyed them to the barn, where they made "Slaughter" and the others go through a course of humble, apologetic actions, after which they set them loose.
While the full extent of his ignominy was being exposed the brigand chief stood erect, his head proudly thrown back—sniveling gently.
"When the premises were searched," Chief Robbing then continued, "an amount of red thread was found on the floor, which one of the boy burglars evidently dropped."
Here "Slaughter" started, in spite of himself, and knitting his brows darkly, said "Ha!"
The chief of police continued: "That same afternoon the Scranton Carpet company's store on Wyoming avenue was entered from the rear, and a large amount of property removed, among which was a quantity of red thread, which tallied with that found in Florey & Brooks' place."
PLAIN "KID" FOR THE NONCE.
Alderman Miller then proceeded to cross-examine "Slaughter" regarding the Tobey burglary. Then a remarkable thing happened. The bold invader of society, the embryo Jesse James, suddenly turned into a little boy, who, tremblingly remarked: "Harry Allen told me the case was open and said I should take the watches."
"I am afraid you are a little liar, my son," Alderman Miller blandly interrupted, "and knitting his brows darkly, said 'Ha!'"
The chief of police continued: "That same afternoon the Scranton Carpet company's store on Wyoming avenue was entered from the rear, and a large amount of property removed, among which was a quantity of red thread, which tallied with that found in Florey & Brooks' place."

WOMAN WOULD SURELY TRY MRS. PINKHAM'S MEDICINE IF THEY ONLY KNEW, SAYS MRS. KING
I have taken it ever since and now have no backache, no pain in my side and my stomach and bowels are perfectly well. I can honestly say that there is nothing like it. If I could only tell every woman how much good your medicine has done me, they would surely try it."
—MARTHA KING, NORTH ATTLEBORO, MASS.
The way women trifle with health shows a degree of indifference that is past understanding. Happiness and usefulness depend on physical health; so does a good disposition. Disease makes women nervous, irritable and snappish. The very effort of ailing women to be good-natured makes them nervous. Write to Mrs. Pinkham, she will help you to health and happiness. It costs nothing to try Mrs. Pinkham's advice. Her address is Lynn, Mass.

Resolutions.
Following are the resolutions adopted by the convention:
Whereas, the operators of the anthracite coal region have entirely ignored our coalfield and, in consequence, the necessities of life have increased fully 30 per cent. in the past two years; be it further
Resolved, That while we deprecate the necessity of engaging in a strike to enforce humane conditions of employment except when all other honorable means have been resorted to, we hereby declare our willingness to support and respectfully request the national board to at once convene the national executive board for the purpose of passing upon our application to engage in a strike to take effect not later than ten days from this date providing an amicable settlement is not effected in the meantime. We pledge ourselves to use all honorable and lawful means to bring about a speedy, satisfactory settlement of our difficulties and to this end we call upon all anthracite coal workers to join in our struggle for justice; and we earnestly appeal to the great, just, and merciful people to render us their sympathy and moral support that in justice and oppression, suffering and wrong, may be forever obliterated and that we may enjoy the fruits of peace and contentment which our industry and arduous employment so richly entitles us to. We respectfully solicit the investigation and continued advocacy of our cause by the American people.
Resolved, That the executive committee, representing districts Nos. 1, 7 and 9, be given power to accept of any committee if they see that it will result in arriving at an amicable settlement within the next ten days.

MILL PULLED OFF IN BANKER'S BARN
Four Fire Rounds Between Local Lightweights in a Stable in West Scranton.
Thomas Dowling and Howard Rothmel, two local lightweights who aspire to ascend the pugilistic ladder of fame, fought a real prize fight last night within a stone's throw of the West Scranton police station.
The former is a native of Scranton, a coachman by Franklin Howell, who owns a well-lighted stable in the rear of his home on Scranton street.
In this stable the crowd of sports gathered to the number of about twenty-five, each having paid an admission to the scrap. The fight was to have been ten rounds, Dowling agreeing to stop Rothmel within that limit or forfeit $20, as against $10 posted by Rothmel's friends. The fight ended in the fourth round, when the referee gave his decision in favor of Rothmel, on a foul.
William Jenkins acted as referee, and the fighters were seconded by Louis Franklin and William Gailisier. The bout was a real prize fight, and of prominent young men, whose names would not look well in print in connection with such an affair.
Several other scraps have also been pulled off in Howell's stables, under the auspices of Dowling's club.

JUDGE WAS REALLY SORRY.
Would Like to Have Stretched the Law, but Couldn't.
George H. Beedy, aged twenty-five, of Peckville, and Alma Coleman, aged nineteen, of Blakely, applied for a marriage license to Clerk of the Court Daniels yesterday.
The bride-to-be being under age the application had to be refused. The young couple were in a sorry plight. Miss Coleman is an orphan and without a guardian, and consequently could not secure the required "parents or guardian's" consent. "Have a guardian appointed," suggested Attorney A. W. Berthoff, when the young people appealed to him. Mrs. Brown, with whom Miss Coleman lived, agreed to become guardian and give the consent which Clerk Daniels awaited.
Judge Kelly was appealed to. With regret in every syllable, he told the hopeful young people that he must needs refuse the young lady's application. "We can't appoint guardians in vacation. It is only during a session of court that we are authorized to exercise this power," said the judge, after he had tried vainly to figure out some way of getting around the objection. "A wally sorry," said the judge, "but I guess you will have to wait."
They concluded to wait, and the judge promised to make the application the first order of business when court convenes September 10.

LOOKING FOR WALTER WILSON.
Binghamton Y. M. C. A. Wants Him to Take Care of His Brother.
The following communication was yesterday received by Postmaster Ripple from Anton Schatzel, of the Binghamton Young Men's Christian association, making inquiries for a Walter Wilson of this city:
Binghamton, N. Y., Aug. 28, 1910.
Postmaster, Scranton, Pa.
Dear Sir: We have a boy 31 years old without means of support. He has a brother in Scranton but does not know his address (says his mother works for some ballet). Now we will appreciate if you can find this man's (brother's) address, Walter Wilson, that he may inquire of his brother, John Anderson Wilson, living here without means. The man is deserving.
Yours truly,
Anton Schatzel.

NEVER KNOWN CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to Fail.
Rev. J. M. Yingling, pastor of the Bedford Street Methodist church at Cumberland, Md., says: "It affords me much pleasure to recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I have used it and know others who have done so. I have never known it to fail. It is a sure cure when taken in time." For sale by all druggists. Matthew Brothers, wholesale and retail agents.

HENNESSEY COURT YELLOW KID GANG
LEADER AND TWO OF HIS HENCHMEN ARRESTED.
Bad Lot of Urchins, Charged with Serious Crimes, Arrested by Chief of Police Robbing and Arraigned Before Alderman Miller—Robbed a Jeweler, Broke Into Two Stores, Picked Pockets and Otherwise Comported Themselves Unlawfully—To Be Given a Further Examination This Morning.
"Slaughter" Graham, chief of the renowned Yellow Kid gang of Hennessey court, at the very mention of whose name the stoutest patrolman instinctively grips his club tighter, "Slaughter" Graham and two of his trustiest henchmen, "Hungry Harry" Hill and "Happy Harry" Allen, were arrested yesterday by Chief of Police Robbing and City Detective Moir.
Last night they were arraigned before Alderman Miller, charged with stealing four watches from the showcase of Jeweler Tobey, of Penn avenue, last Saturday night; with attempting to burglarize Florey & Brooks' sporting goods store, Sunday, August 15; with breaking into the Scranton Carpet company's store, on Wyoming avenue, and removing about $25 worth of property the same afternoon, and of several pocket-picking cases.
The three desperate criminals average thirteen summers apiece, and are all residents of West Scranton. There are other members of the gang and they, too, will be arrested.
"Slaughter" Graham, the youthful chief, derives his forcible nickname from the fact that long ago, while yet a child, he followed a neighbor's dog, and worked in an establishment where bovine animals daily lost their lives. Graham's lofty spirit soared above this, however, and he soon left the place.
Young Allen entered hall yesterday afternoon, but the chief and "Hungry" Hill were held in $300 bail, and taken to the central station for further examination this morning.
GIVEN A HEARING.
The doughty chief and his lieutenant were arraigned before Alderman Miller at 7:30 o'clock. The four watches stolen from Tobey's showcase, Saturday night, which were broken open by the terrible "Yellow Kids," were found in the possession of the chief yesterday afternoon, and this fixed the guilt upon the boy burglar.
Chief of Police Robbing also recounted in a manner in which the gang attempted to rob Florey & Brooks. They entered from the rear, climbing up the wall by means of an iron grating, and effecting an entrance by using a broken window. Then, when in the store, they were seized by men from the street car barn, who had watched the performance. Their captors conveyed them to the barn, where they made "Slaughter" and the others go through a course of humble, apologetic actions, after which they set them loose.
While the full extent of his ignominy was being exposed the brigand chief stood erect, his head proudly thrown back—sniveling gently.
"When the premises were searched," Chief Robbing then continued, "an amount of red thread was found on the floor, which one of the boy burglars evidently dropped."
Here "Slaughter" started, in spite of himself, and knitting his brows darkly, said "Ha!"
The chief of police continued: "That same afternoon the Scranton Carpet company's store on Wyoming avenue was entered from the rear, and a large amount of property removed, among which was a quantity of red thread, which tallied with that found in Florey & Brooks' place."
PLAIN "KID" FOR THE NONCE.
Alderman Miller then proceeded to cross-examine "Slaughter" regarding the Tobey burglary. Then a remarkable thing happened. The bold invader of society, the embryo Jesse James, suddenly turned into a little boy, who, tremblingly remarked: "Harry Allen told me the case was open and said I should take the watches."
"I am afraid you are a little liar, my son," Alderman Miller blandly interrupted, "and knitting his brows darkly, said 'Ha!'"
The chief of police continued: "That same afternoon the Scranton Carpet company's store on Wyoming avenue was entered from the rear, and a large amount of property removed, among which was a quantity of red thread, which tallied with that found in Florey & Brooks' place."

WOMAN WOULD SURELY TRY MRS. PINKHAM'S MEDICINE IF THEY ONLY KNEW, SAYS MRS. KING
I have taken it ever since and now have no backache, no pain in my side and my stomach and bowels are perfectly well. I can honestly say that there is nothing like it. If I could only tell every woman how much good your medicine has done me, they would surely try it."
