CLOSE TO A CATASTROPHE. Fire Burned Briskly About a Barrel of Gasoline. A disastrous fire and in all probability a serious explosion were averted last night by the prompt action of Bauer's band was giving a concert at the Coyne house and at 8 o'clock Leader Bauer sent a small boy to get some gasoline for one of the lamps at William P. Connell & Son's store at 118 Penn navenue. The store was closed, but the boy found Mr. Connell and obtained from him the key. He went through the store and down underneath the sidewalk where the gasoline is kept. In lighting a match he accidentally set fire to some wood near the gasoline barrel, which had been soaked with the liquid. It blazed up quickly and the boy be oming alarmed, made no effort to put it out, but dashed upstairs.

When he got to the front door he did one of those peculiar things that people laboring under great exciteient sometimes do.

He had locked the door, leaving the key in the lock, when he went down stairs, but instead of turning the key and opening the door, he picked up a iece of hardware and broke the glass front, through which he climbed.

He ran into Patrolman Karius and told him what had happened, and the officer promptly turned in an alarm of fire from box 15, at the corner of Penn and Lackawannua avenues. The Phoenix Chemical company was the first on the scene and when they arrived things looked risky.

The cellar door was broken open and the flames could be seen licking he sides and tops of the big gasoline barrel. The firemen were undaunted, however, and several of them ran lown the stairs with a line of hose, ricking the danger of a big explosion, for had the barrel fairly caught fire t would undoubtedly have exploded with frightful force,

The flames did catch a little of the stuff escaping from the bunghole, and t blazed up threateningly, but the tream from the chemical hose soon had it extinguished. The damage done was very slight.

Had there been an explosion there yould have undoubtedly been many injured by flying debris, as the street was so fammed with people out to near the band that the police were unable to establish proper fire lines.

THREE MORE ARRESTS.

Summary Convictions Continue in Tippling House Cases-Mayor Moir Aggressive.

Mrs. Maria Burke, of 1700 Elizabeth treet, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Mounted Officer Joseph Bloch, n a warrant issued by Mayor Moir, charging her with being the proprietress of a tippling house. She was arraigned before his honor at 3 o'clock, and pleaded guilty to the charge, There were extenuating circumstances in the case, and Mayor Moir was lenient with the defendant. The fine imposed was only $25. Mrs. Burke will also pay the costs in the case. John Evans, of Jackson street, was arrested Monday night, and arraigned efore Alderman Millar, charged with elling liquor without a license. He paid a $50 fine. John Rocholefski, of South Washington avenue, was arrested yesterday morning and arraigned before Alderman Kasson, charged by William Mila speakeasy. Millar swore that on many occasions, to his knowledge, beer and whiskey were sold by Rocholefski, although he was not in the possession of a license.

Rocholefski proved at the hearing to be one of the first men who was arrested in Mayor Moir's war on the speakeasies. His honor had fined him $50, and he then applied for a license, which he will soon receive, he expects.

Alderman Kasson discharged the Ignatz Polandoski, whose place of business is on South Washington avenue, near Maple street, was arrested yesterday on a warrant issued by Mayor Moir, charging him with being the proprietor of a tippling house. When arraigned before Alderman Millar he asked for a hearing. His case will be heard at 7 o'clock Friday evening. He entered $300 ball for his appearance to answer to the charge. A warrant was yesterday issued by Alderman Millar for the arrest of Hoban Bros., the North Scranton bottlers, who are charged by the Anthracite Protective Bottlers' association longing to other dealers. Officer Greenberger served the warrant, and the defendants promised to appear at the hearing which was to be held last night. They did not make an appear ance, however, and will therefore be re-arrested this morning.

LISTLESSNESS WAS REALLY PATHETIC

EXCEEDINGLY TAME CONVEN-TION OF DEMOCRATS.

Martin D. Flaherty Nominated for Representative Over P. W. Gallagher and Louis Gschwindt, Without Much Effort Being Displayed on the Part of Any of Them-Convention Was Nearly an Hour Late, Owing to the Failure of the Delegates to Get Around.

In one of the most listless Democratic conventions ever held here or hereabouts, Martin D. Flaherty was yesterday made the nominee of the Second district Democrats for the office of representative. Attorney P. the South Side, were his opponents. but their opposition was not of an aggressive character. Mr. Flaherty reelved eighteen votes; Mr. Gallagher, our, and Mr. Gschwindt, two.

The convention was held in the arbitration room of the court house. I vas called for 3 o'clock, but it was fifty minutes later before there were enough delegates around to warrant proceeding with the work. District Chairman M. W. Walton went out of own at noon and left the duties of his ffice to be performed by Secretary Frank McGrath. The latter came in rom a conference in the corridor with andidate Flaherty, bearing a list of the committees, the resolutions and a schedule of the order of business, and proceeded to get the convention under vay by reading the call and announcing that under the rules the secretary vas empowered to organize the convention in the absence of the chairman. He further announced that he had waited patiently yesterday for the delegates to come around and be enrolled, as the rules require, but as none of them put in an appearance the encollment would have to be attended to before the convention business was taken up. Frank Doyle and Peter Ormsby were ppointed temporary secretaries, and after they had borrowed some paper and pencils from the reporters, the enollment was proceeded with Credentials were presented by the

The contests in the Eighth and Twentieth wards were disposed of by Mt. Gilgallon retiring in favor of Mr. May, in the first case, and by the credentials committee deciding in favor of Mr. McCrea and against Mr. Gallagher, in the second instance.

Frank J. Hammes, a Flaherty man, and Patrick Campbell, a Gallagher adherent, were nominated for temporary chairman. Hammes won by a vote of 16 to 6. Mr. Hammes made a speech, on taking the chair, in which he bespoke victory this fall for everything Democratic, from "that matchless leader William Jennings Bryan" down to the bottom of the list.

Frank McGrath nominated Frank Doyle for secretary, and Mr. Doyle was elected. Committees were then named as follows:

Credentials-J. C. Moran, Patrick Boland, Con. Buckley, John Grogan and Peter Bielfeldt. Resolutions-John Decanney, John J. Mc-Tague and Thomas McDenald. Permanent organization-Thomas McDonald,

John Butterman and Dennis R Roche. OVERWORKED RESOLUTIONS

A fifteen minutes recess was then taken to give the committee time to frame reports. When business was resumed the temporary organization was made permanent and the reports of with refilling registered bottles be- the committee on resolutions adopted. The resolutions committee's report consisted of a Tribune clipping containing the resolutions adopted at the First District convention the week previous. They deprecate, deplore, view with alarm, condemn and unantmously oppose a lot of things and endorse Bryan.

The nominations for representative were unaccompanied by speeches and no semblance of interest attached to th e balloting. Patrick Campbell, James Langan, Edward Durkin and Joseph Moore voted for Gallagher. John J. McTague and John Butterman voted for Gschwindt. The others all oted for Flaherty.

The convention adjourned after emowering the chairman and candiate to name the district committee. Mr. Flaherty was Mr. Scheuer's opponent three years ago. He is a compositor on the Times and president of the Central Labor union.

troit on Friday. Joseph Fidiam and John R. Thomas, deleates from the local branch of the National Association of Letter Car-riers, to the annual convention of that oranization, to be held next week in Detroit, will leave this city on Friday afternoon for the "Lake City," accompanied by John H. Phillips, the superintendent of the West Scranton postoffice and the chalman of the national civil service committee. The convention this year promises be even larger than last year's Scranton convention, in to far as the number of delegates attending are concerned, but the parade, waich is to be held on Monday. Is not expected to be such a b' event as was the splendid procession witnessed in this city last year.

One of the principal features of this year's convention will be the election of a successor to President John H. Parsons, who has signified his intention of refusing re-election. The man W. Gallagher and Louis Gschwindt, of who will probably be chosen to succeed him is James E. Keller, of Cleveland, one of the brainlest men in the association.

IDENTITY OF ALICE.

Miss Baird, of Port Jervis, Is the Original of the Photo That Graebner Raved Over.

George H. Graebner, of Prospect ave me, who made an unsuccessful attempt Monday noon to commit suicide by shooting himself through the head, now practically out of danger. Dr. J. W. Busch, senior house surgeon at the Luckawanna hospital, yesterday said: "I think I can now safely say that Mr. Graebner will recover. The wound inflicted is not a serious one, and unless something totally unexpected should happen, he will be able to leave the hospital in about ten Graebner was in a contrite state yes erday, and when seen by his parents and sisters spoke to them in a crestfallen, shamefaced way, which spoke more than his words did of the humiliation he felt. He told his mother that the previous day was almost as a blank to him, and that he could not even recall his motive for attempting so desperate a deed.

There seems little doubt as to the motive, however. The mysterious, sweet "Alice," whose photograph he guarded so jealously Monday, transpires to be Miss Alice Baird, of Port Jervis, whom Graebner met at her ome, a few weeks ago, while visiting n that town.

While in a delirious state, Monday, at the hospital, he raved continuously of "Alice," and recounted his courting and wooing of the mysterious fair one, to the edification of the cordon of white-capped nurses who were solictously guarding the unfortunate waln's cot. From what Graebner said. his love was reciprocated, and it is now thought that it was mad jealousy which caused Monday's tragic scene.

and not unrequited love. Graebner's family entertain a different opinion to the one given above, and believe that the young man's mind was slightly affected by the heat; that he had suffered from a sunstroke, and, in fact, was generally prostrated. While in this condition, they think that in a fit of melancholy he purchased the revolver, and then pro-ceeded to use it. The entire family is HOLDING UP A BILL.

Controller Howell is holding up a chool board bill of very large proportions in his office until he makes an investigation for the purpose of discovering whether it is all right or

At the meeting of the school board, held on August 13, it was decided, not unanimously, be it said, to purchase a lot on Fourth avenue, in the Sixth ward, from P. McNally, the terms to be $4,200 in eash, and the old No school building and lot, Mr. McNally to be allowed to remove three build-ins at present on the lot. Several interested taxpayers waited upon the controller yesterday morning and requested him to hold up the bill for a few days, assuring him that the whole thing was a deal of the very worst kind and that the price to be paid was exorbitant.

These taxpayers had a set of figures with them which they claimed showed that the board was actually paying $9,800 for the lot, which they allege is way above what should be paid. The school board has $3,500 insurance on the old building, and this is a very low estimate, they contend, to place its actual worth at. They valued the lot at $1,000 and the old buildings which Mr. McNally Is given the right to remove at $1,000, so that these amounts added to the cash payment of $4,300 total up $9,800.

The controller immediately decided to investigate and refused to countersign the warrant for $1,000, which is the first cash payment. Mr. Mc-Nally waited upon him yesterday afernoon and stated that the lot, which is 101 by 150 feet in size, is worth all and more than the board has allowed
