3,000 Yards at Half

Too late? Perhaps they are for this season's use. But it will be the part of wisdom to share in this offering and hold for future use. There's never a radical change in patterns, you know, and next season's will differ but little from these. Certainly, they'll be no prettier. There are just 3,000 yards in this lot that we are willing to part with at half their usual prices-divided into three groups.
