THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF VISITORS

Shows That Wyoming Seminary Takes High Rank Among Educational Institutions.

Below is given the report of the Board of Visitors with reference to Wyoming Seminary, which shows its excellent condition. Wyoming Semiexcellent condition. nary is the institution in which The Tribune offers a $1,000 scholarship as a reward in the contest now in progress. The report of the Board of Visitors follows:

That Wyoming seminary offers superior advantages to those seeking an education is plainly evident to even the casual visitor. Its purpose is to provide a school in which the moral should keep pace with the intellectual levelopment of the student. From our observation we believe this is being realized.

The trustees act upon the principle that the teachers are pre-eminently the important factors in a successful school, and no one could visit this seminary without being impressed with the strength of the faculty. Several of the instruc-tors have been retained for many years, and their efficiency and faithfulness are the natural outcome of such a policy.

The work of Professor R. B. Howland, on whom devolves considerable of the responsibility of managing the institution, cannot be too highly praised. Professor Howland is the veteran mathestician of the school and an ideal Christian gentleman.

The interest and proficiency of the students in the Latin and Greek classes clearly mark Professor Gilotte as a teacher both enthusiastic and thorough. His efficiency not only appears in his own recitation room, but is emphasized by reports from different colleges of the high stand-ing of students prepared under his instruction. Professor J. W. Stevens, the instructor in English, has discerned the weakness of the methods employed in teaching this important subject in many institutions, and recognizing the need of skillful writers of English, has introduced methods that must be productive of great good

Miss C. L. Chubbuck, the preceptress, is a cultured Christian woman. The class in English literature, under her instruction, is a very enthusiastic one. The common English branches are under the supervision of Professor E. L. Welfe, who is a very practical teacher. The rendition of the solos-vocal, plane and violin, in connection with the recital and contest in cratory was a revelation to the visitors. It is generally understood that no such work is possible in schools that do not give all their time to music and art. The excellence of the work of this department is due to the combined efforts of the following instructors: Professor H. V. Stadler, of the piano, Miss Saidee Kaiser, of the vocal music, and Professor Theodore Hem-berger, of the violin departments.

Its business department, under Professor W L. Dean, is well attended, and the activity and interest exhibited were splendid evidences of the standing of this department. Miss A. B. Russell, who has charge of the classes in elementary algebra, is doing excellent The laboratory, in charge of Professor C. O. Thurston, is equal to that found in many of the best colleges. The electrical appliances are nu-merous; the museum of natural history is well upplied with specimens of local and national The French and German department, under the able instruction of Miss C. L. Blackman, has attained the highest degree of efficiency.

The Art department, under Miss Helen Jackson, is favored with a large attendance. Miss Jack-son has had the advantage of several years in the best studies of Europe.

The department of elecution, under Miss E. E. Parker, continues its high-grade work. No better chapel could be desired, The gymnasium is one of the best devoted t chool purposes in the United States. The phy-

cal development of the boys and girls has the The complete equipment of all the departments

THE HIGH SCHOOL FRESHMEN. Entering Class Will Number Two Hundred and Thirty.

Ambitious grammar-grade students who seek admission to the High school, are daily being examined by Superintendent Howell, and from present indications, when school opens next week, there will be about two hundred and thirty members of the Freshman class of Scranton's leading educational institution.

This class is not as large as the one which entered last year, which numbered about three hundred, as the entrance examinations were much more rigid this year. Last term it was necessary to make the entrance examinations rather wide in order to relieve the overcrowded grammar schools.

This year, however, abundant acommodations are made in the lower grades, and there is no need for letting down the bars. The High school has a capacity of thousand, and Superintendent Howell aims at keeping the four classes down to an average of two hundred and fifty students. To do this the entrance examinations are necessarily made more severe and the grade of school work accordingly raised.

CLAIM THAT PERRY WAS A PASSENGER

DAMAGES DEMANDED FOR THE DEATH OF A BRAKEMAN.

He Had Finished His Work and Was Riding to His Home On an Employes' Quarterly Pass When a Collision Occurred and Injured Him Fatally-Martin Dolphin Sues Dunmore Borough for $10,000 Damages for the Death of His Child-Other Court Matters.

Two $10,000 damage suits were instituted yesterday in Prothonotary John Copeland's office, by Attorneys E. C. Newcomb and Clarence Balentine. The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company is defendant in one, and the borough of Dunmore in the ry, a Lackawanna brakeman, who was killed in a rear-end collision between freight trains near Nay Aug tunnel, September 11, 1899. His wife, Dora Perry, is the plaintiff. It is alleged that the deceased was a passenger at the time of the accident. He had completed his run, it is claimed, and was riding on the capoose, to his home in Nay Aug, on an mploye's quarterly pass. By proving this, it is expected by the plaintiff, to evade the bar of the fellow employes' liability act.

Martin Dolphin is plaintiff in the suit against Dunmore borough. He asks damages for the death of his 19-months-old boy, Leo.

April 28, 1900, the father and child were out for a stroll on Webster avenue, and near the corner of Brook street the child, who was running along slightly in advance of his father, fell over a three-foot step-off and sustained injuries which resulted in death.

The borough, it is alleged, was negligent in permitting the existence of such a dangerous sidewalk.

Poplar Street Crossing Again.

The case of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad company against the city over the Poplar street crossing, was argued before Judge Archbaid in chambers yesterday morning. The company brings a bill in equity to prevent the city from interfering with their putting up a fence at the extension of Poplar street, extending down to the Lackawanna river.

City Solicitor Vosburg appeared for the city; ex-Judge H. A. Knapp represented the Scranton Bolt and Nut works, the plant of which is located at the disputed point, and the Delaware and Hudson company was represented by ex-Judge W. H. Jessup. Solicitor Vosburg argued that the street was dedicated to the city by the Lackawanna Iron and Coal company, in 1865, and the city accepted the dedication by representing the street on the city maps and by constructing a sewer along Poplar street, which ran under the Delaware and Hudson tracks, down to the Lackawanna river. Judge Jessup, in speaking for the company, claimed that though the street was dedicated to the city, the dedication was lost by the street not that twenty-one years was the fixed limit, and cited several cases of an analagous nature. Judge Knapp, for the Bolt and Nut works, claimed that the concern's plant would be rendered practically useless, if the railroad company was allowed to erect its fence and block the road, as Poplar street is the only access to the works. He declared that over $300,000 was expended on the plant, and all this would have to be wasted if the company is allowed to proceed. Judge Archbald will give his opinion later. Mayor Moir yesterday scouted the idea of the city losing possession of the street by not opening it sooner, and declared that the city's right, in a case of this nature, never lapses.

Snyder Allowed a New Trial.

On the strength of a technical error in the trial proceedings, Judge H. K. Weand, of the Thirty-eight judicial district, yesterday granted a new trial in the case of the commonwealth against F. H. Snyder, charged by Mrs. J. S. Smith, of Waverly, with embezzlement. Snyder was agent for Mrs. Smith in the sale of some building lots in Moosic. He failed to account for $50 that he had collected and was arrested for embezzlement. He set up a counter claim for commissions owing and compensation for extra work, such as laying out a road through the plot and the like, but the presentation of letters in which he acknowledged the shortage, convinced the jury that he had misappropriated the funds in question and was found guilty. This was in February, 1899. His attorney, R. H. Holgate, moved for an arrest of judgment and applied for a new trial, alleging various errors, among them that the entry of the plea of the defendant was irregular. It was this that moved the judge to grant a new trial. The opinion in which the motion is sustained follows: The record in this case shows that a jury was sworn before plea entered; that after the jury was impanelled and aworn, the defendant stood mute, and that the court then directed the plea not guilty to be entered for him. The indictment shows on its face defendant plead not guilty," which is inconsistent with the entry by the court. As there was no painder by the district attorney that endorsement would appear to be incorrect. Without expressing any opinion as to the merits of the case, or criticising the correctness of the record, we think the safer plan is to grant a new trial. "And now, September 4, 1900, the motion for a new trial is sustained and a new trial granted. "By the court.

City Controller Howell Will Make His Report to the Board of Control at Its Next Meeting.

City Controller Howell, Controller's Clerk C. A. Hartley and Appraisers G. F. Reynolds and George Cooper, Tuesday viewed the two lots on Fourth street, which the board of control decided to buy from P. McNally, at the meeting, Monday night, Aug. 14. The result of the inspection will be evealed in the report which Controller Howell will send in to the board, at the meeting Monday. As will be remembered, on the recommendation of the building committee the board decided to purchase the two lots from being opened for twenty-one years, Mr. McNally, and to erect upon them a and it therefore is not at present a new school building to take the place public street. Judge Jessup claimed of No. 29 school. The old building and Detective Leyshon and the work will $4,300 would be given to Mr. McNally in payment. Since this was passed several complaints were received by the controller, from taxpayers protesting against the purchase, and claiming that the terms were too high. Tuesday the inspection was made, and this afternoon two more appraisers will visit the spot, after which the report will be prepared. Yesterday morning Controller Howell received two more complaints, the writers of both letters stating that the price to be paid for the lots was exorbitant, Controller's Clerk Hartley, said yester-

"I certainly was surprised at the ondition of the present school building. It is really in splendid trim, and ooks to be worth anywhere from $2,000 to $2,500. The lot that it is on is 75 feet by 150 feet, and the McNally lot s 101 feet by 150 feet. The building s finely located, much better in fact than a school erected on the other site would be, as the McNally lots are at the foot of the hill, with all the sewerage running down that way."

FROM TWO CONVENTIONS.

Postoffice Employes Hear from Their Delegates.

The postoffice employes yesterday received letters from the local delegates attending the carriers' convention at Detroit and the clerks' conven tion at Atlantic City. Letter Carrier John R. held from every point of view. C. J. Nehr, the clerks' delegate to Atlantic City, writes that they are being royally entertained and that he has been honored with a place on two of the most important committees, credentials and revision of classification bill.

ANOTHER BIG BATCH OF ARRESTS MADE

BUSY DAY FOR THE SPEAKEASY CRUSADERS.

One Was Before the Mayor and Was Fined Under the City Ordinance. Seven Were Arrested by the Officers of the Men's Union and One Was Taken Into Custody by County Detective Leyshon-Work of Rooting Out the Speakeasies Goes Merrily On.

Yesterday was an exceptionally busy day among the speakensy crusaders, both the municipal fighters of the tippling house, and the warriors of the Men's union. The following arrests were made during the day:

MAYOR'S COURT. T. J. Coyne, 1777 Brick avenue; $75 MEN'S UNION, BEFORE ALDER-

MAN MILLAR. J. J. Coleman, Dunmore: held in $500 Mrs. Mary Carey, Eynon street; held n $500 bail.

Mrs. Catherine Cannon, Christ court; neld in $500 ball. John McAuliffe, Sanderson avenuheld in $500 bail. Albert Buchta, 1201 Lloyd street;

G. M. Oliski, Drinker street; held in $500 ball. John Lisk, Dunmore: held in $500 bail.

held in $500 bail.

The first three of the persons ar rested by the Men's union are accused of selling liquor without a license. Agent Robert Wilson, of the Men's nion acting as prosecutor.

Buchta and Lisk are accused of sell-ing liquor on Sunday, and Oliski was arrested on both charges. McAuliffe is a Sanderson avenue bottler and is accused of allowing men to drink beer from the bottles at his establishment. All of the prisoners waived hearings and entered ball.

COYNE HEARING.

Coyne was given a hearing at 3 'clock vesterday afternoon by Mayor Moir and proved very defiant. Several complaints have been made about his place and Mayor Moir therefore made his fine one of the largest yet imposed, $75 and the costs. On the fine being announced, Coyne's bartender, who was present, did the magnanimous, and with a superb Damon and Pythias air, cried out: "You can't arrest him. It was I who sold the beer!" "Oh, was it?" Mayor Molr answered quickly, "Well we'll have to get out a warrant for you, too."

Coyne then asked that he be allowed to put some witnesses on the stand to testify in his favor, but his honor suavely informed him that it was not customary in summary conviction cases, at which Coyne disgustedly remarked, "This is a nice sort of a and then declared that he would take an appeal. The latest move in the crusade was made known yesterday when it was announced that District Attorney Jones will now follow up the mayor's summary convictions and hold the speakeasy proprietors for the grand jury. Several warrants have already be continued with daily arrests. The fact that most of the speakeasy proprietors arrested and arraigned before Mayor Moir, admit their guilt is, in itself, sufficient evidence to hold them for the grand

DISPLAYING GREAT ENERGY. The Men's union is pursuing the work of rooting out the tippling houses with redoubled energy, Mayor Moir's crusade is daily bearing fruit, and now that the county officials also take a hand, it looks as though the days remaining for the unlicensed saloonkeeper in Lackawanna county are surely numbered. Max Rontiski, of Keyser avenue, was held in $500 bail by Alderman Moses, of West Scranton, yesterday on the charge of selling without a license preferred by County Detective Leyshon. On entering the alderman's office. Rontiski dug his hand into his jeans and, producing a big wad of bills, remarked with a smile, "Me pay fine. "Not in this case," retorted Detective Leyshon, but Rontiski insisted on paying at once, and it took a good deal of persuasion to convince him of the fact that it was not a summary conviction that he was undergoing. BALLOT REFORM ASSOCIATION.
