CITY NOTES.

MEETING TODAY.—The Central Woman's Christian Temperance union will resume their meetings this afternoon at 2 o'clock in church hall.

PRAYER MEETINGS.—There will be a prayer meeting every day this week at the Young Women's Christian association at 4 o. p. m. Mrs. L. M. Gates will lead today.

PAY-DAYS.—The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company paid yesterday at the Avenue and Bliss collection and the Delaware and Hudson company paid at the Conyngham at Wilkes-Barre and the White Oak at Archbald.

HORSE RAN AWAY.—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cummings and their child were slightly injured Sunday afternoon by the running away of a horse attached to the carriage in which they were riding. The accident occurred on Mulberry street.

A SERIOUS CRIME.—Oleh Miloski, of Priebeburg, was arraigned before Alderman Miller last night, accused of a serious crime by Volsta Wiloskey, a 14-year-old girl. He was held in $500 bail and in default was committed to the county jail.

COMING WEDDING.—The wedding of Alexander Bryden, of Hones, N. Y., and Miss Davies, of North Scranton, will be solemnized at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow evening at the Protestant Presbyterian church. It will be an elaborate society event.

NEW DEERICK RAISED.—A 10-foot swing device to take the place of the one that recently fell was successfully raised at the old mine and the work of constructing the monument will now be proceeded with.

EDITH FOUND ARRESTED.—Edith Pond was arraigned before Mayor Moir in police court yesterday morning and held for a further hearing. She is believed to be the woman who stabbed William Ryan of Court street, Saturday, September 8. The Pond woman denies the charge and will be given another hearing today.

MORTALITY REPORT.—The report of the secretary of the board of health for the week ending September 8, showed forty-four deaths, two of which were from typhoid fever, one from measles and one from diphtheria. Twelve cases of contagious diseases were reported, four of scarlet fever, six of typhoid fever, one of membranous croup and one of diphtheria.

INSPECTION NEXT MONTH.—The inspection of the local fire department will be held about the middle of October, by Chief Ziehmman, and will take the place of the firemen's parade. The feature of the day will be the exhibition to be given by the life saving corps of the William Connell House company of South Scranton. The members of this organization, led by Captain Shively, will scale one of the large buildings on Washington avenue, using their ladders, and will give a demonstration of how they do their work.

WELLES REFUSED TO DRINK.—A man who gave his name as George Gerrity and claimed to be a constable, was arrested last night at the avenue and Bliss collection and the Delaware and Hudson company paid at the Conyngham at Wilkes-Barre and the White Oak at Archbald.

DI TALLA ENTERED BAIL.
He is the Man Who Shot Adolph Friedmonsky.

Nicholas Di Talla, of Old Forge, was arrested late Sunday night by County Detective Leshon, and was yesterday held in $1,000 bail on the charge of feloniously wounding Adolph Friedmonsky, of Bartlettown. It seems that it was Di Talla who was assaulted by a crowd of striking miners, who first infuriated him by calling him "scab," and then Joe Scavo, as at first supposed.

Scavo was popularly believed to be the man who did the shooting, and Friedmonsky himself, when asked by a Tribune man, Sunday, who it was that shot him, promptly replied, "Joe Scavo." Detective Leshon made a diligent search Sunday night, and at last found Di Talla, very much battered and bruised from the blows he had received at the hands of the striking miners and policemen who beat him after Constable Henry had reported him for being in the company of the felonious wounding. Joseph Rogers and Vincenzo Vinciaro became his bondsmen.

GRAND JURY'S WORK IS NOW UNDER WAY

STRONG AND THOUGHTFUL CHARGE OF JUDGE EDWARDS.
Impressed upon the Jurors the Dignity of Their Offices and the Importance of the Task to Which They Are Set—Urges Careful, Thorough and Fearless Consideration of Every Case and Particularly the Liquor and Bribery Cases. Other Matters in Court.

The importance of the work committed to the grand jury which began its sessions yesterday was stressed by the unusually lengthy, thoughtful and earnest address to which it was called to listen from Judge Edwards before entering upon its duties.

He impressed upon the jurors the high honor of being called to such important work, the responsibilities which attach to the position, and the necessity of the most conscientious, fearless and unbiased performance of their duties. Then taking up the matter of liquor law violators, he said it is a notorious fact that the county of Lackawanna from one end to the other has been disgraced by these violations.

In his judgment the fault lay more with the jury than with the men. The constables might be able to enforce the law in agricultural districts, but in counties like Lackawanna, Luzerne, Schuylkill, Allegheny and Philadelphia, they fall absolutely. Leaving aside the question of the constables doing their duty, the system is inadequate, he said.

After commending the purpose of the individuals who have banded themselves together to secure the enforcement of the liquor laws in this county, and urging the jurors to do their share in the work, the judge passed to the councilman bribery cases and expressed the hope that every whisper of corruption in our councils and in school boards will be forever hushed, and that we will enter upon our existence as a second class city with a clean bill of health.

He asked the jurors to carefully and thoroughly investigate these cases and to do their duty fearlessly and dispassionately, without ill will, favor or affection, without knowing the persons involved and without any regard for the personality of the defendant or his possible connection with some other member of the grand jury.

Speaking of the matter of "detective evidence," the judge said there was no just reason for undue prejudice against this class of evidence. In some cases it is the only means of securing conviction outside of a confession. Unless evidence of this kind is permitted and given its full value, crime would run rampant, he said.

The charge was attentively listened to by a large audience, including many of the city's most prominent men, among them the leading spirits of the Men's union and Municipal league and a number of clergymen.

Mark L. Smith was appointed foreman. He wanted to be excused, but Judge Edwards insisted on him serving. The only juror excused was Select Councilman Edward James, Jr.

It is not likely that the jury will be in session more than two weeks. Just before adjournment last night they took up one of the councilman's bribery cases. Detective J. S. Harris, the pseudo, trolley company lobbyist, who claims to have entrapped the accused councilman, was the only witness examined. He was before the jury for half an hour and will be called again today. E. A. Whitney and A. B. Anderson are two other witnesses in the case.

Grading of Wyoming Avenue.
The report of Charles P. Matthews, Samuel Hines and W. J. Torrey, viewers of the damages and expenses of grading Wyoming avenue, between Pine and Ash streets, was conditionally confirmed by court yesterday.

They find that neither M. F. Gilroy, Catherine Ruane nor any other property holder is entitled to damages, and divide the $1,538 estimated expenses as follows: Susan Dale estate, $5; Scranton Supply company, $41.34; B. E. Leonard, $47.98; Swift & Co., $35.04; Lackawanna Iron and Coal company, $178.91; J. Moresweather, $37.77; D. K. Oakley, $24.47; W. G. and M. L. Jones, $62.04; E. W. Jones, $65.72; Ann Long, $31.56; M. F. Gilroy, $80.15; W. A. Coleman, $80.83; T. Burke, $15.14; James Cowan, $15.82; Margaret Weir, $4.72; R. Dolan, $57.25; Martin Kearney, $88.53; Foster & Collins, $144.48; Scranton School district, $61.66; Ann and Catherine McGuire, $27.44; Thomas Moore, $27.44; George P. McCarthy, $37.71; N. A. Hulbert, $41.47; City of Scranton, $27.44; Catherine Ruane, $28.15; P. Dolan, $51.19; M. Kelly, $52.46; Anthony Walsh, $21.28; Benjamin W. Davis, $81.48.

The viewers presented bills of $50 each, with an additional $15 claim by Mr. Torrey or serving notices. The bills were approved by Judge Archbald and ordered paid by the city of Scranton.

Dismissed Bluecoats Bring Suit.
As foreshadowed in The Tribune, suits were yesterday instituted by Police Lieutenant M. P. Spellman and patrolman I. H. Jones, to recover salary for the time they have been waiting around for Mayor Moir to observe the behest of select council to put them back to work. They will pursue the same course as ex-Patrolman Saul, who recovered judgment for the time intervening between the day the mayor dismissed him and the day select council concurred in the dismissal, a period of nearly two months, all of which time Mr. Saul did nothing more than report each day for duty and then go to the ball game.

Willard, Warren & Knapp are Lieutenants Spellman's attorneys. Patrolman Jones is represented by Welles & Torrey.

Constables' Returns.
No particularly pointed questions were addressed to the constables when they presented their periodical returns. Judge Edwards' silence was, however, eloquent of the fact that here is the result of the discoveries of illegal liquor selling made by all the constables: Fell township, Theodore Yonasky;

COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES.
In the case of S. Hinesford against Carl Malnowski, the rule to interplead was made absolute.

Walter Liddell Hill was admitted to practice at the Lackawanna bar on motion of Attorney Andrew N. Walker.

In the case of A. D. Dean against W. W. Winton and others, the appointment of a master and examiner was vacated.

Court approved Constable Richard Barons' appointment of Jacob Kilm as his deputy in the First ward of Dickson City.

Thomas Price made application for the hotel license for the St. James hotel in Archbald, which Martin J. Fryall failed to take out.

Constable John Thern's claim against Cornelius Smith for costs and witness fees, was referred for adjudication to Attorney Thomas P. Duffy.

In the motion of the rule to open the final confirmation of the report of viewers of the new road in Carbonate town, court ordered a re-argument.

In the case of B. M. Winton against the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company, the rule to draw money out of court was discharged.

Judge Edwards extended till September 17, 1900, the time for filing the application for the annexation of adjacent lots and other tracts of land to the borough of Taylor.

The hearing on the injunction was continued in the case of the New York, Ontario and Western Railroad company against the Carbonate Coal company, and by agreement a rule was granted.

Court made an order directing that at the next general election the voters of the First ward of Taylor shall vote on the question of changing the polling place from its present location, to the corner of Oak and First streets.

In a lengthy opinion Judge Edwards sustained the exceptions on the part of the trustees to the report of the auditor appointed to distribute the share of W. H. Winton, deceased, in the estate of Catherine Winton, deceased. The court finds that the share of W. H. Winton, of the funds in the hands of the executors must be distributed to the trustees named in the will, excepting, of course, the portion belonging to the children of A. H. Winton.

MULNERO'S WOUNDS HAVE PROVED FATAL.
He Died at the Scranton Private Hospital Last Evening—Leoni, His Assailant, Is Still at Large.

Tony Mulnero, of Jones street, died yesterday afternoon at the Scranton Private hospital, the wounds inflicted Sunday by Antonio Leoni, of Bull's Head, who has not yet been arrested.

When taken to the hospital and examined, it was seen that no hopes could be entertained of his recovery, and his friends were told to look forward to the worst. All Sunday night he suffered great pain, and all yesterday morning and afternoon was in agony. About 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon he died. Coroner Roberts was notified, and will perform an autopsy on the remains today.

Leoni is still at liberty. Chief Robbing and Detective Moir were working on the case yesterday, and careful searches were made of all the possible places in which Mulnero's slayer might have taken refuge. Various opinions are entertained as to his whereabouts. Some claim that he is in hiding in West Scranton, and others say that he has left the city.

Since more of the facts connected with the case have come to light a good deal of sympathy has been aroused for Leoni. It is a fact that after he and Mulnero quarreled the latter drew a stiletto and followed him with it, until he was at last driven into drawing his revolver. Leoni is said to possess a savage temper, and one man, who knows him well, yesterday said: "Leoni is a good sort of fellow, until his temper is stirred up. Then he loses all control of himself and is fairly unaccountable for his actions."

BOARD IS LIKELY TO RECONSIDER

CONTRACTOR ON PURCHASE OF McNALLY LOTS.
Sends a Communication to the School Board, Setting Forth That His Investigations Convince Him That the Board Proposed to Pay too Much for the Property, and He Could Not Bring Himself to Approve of the Deal—Referred Back to Committee—Those Window Shades.

As a result of City Controller Howells' investigation of the deal for the McNally lots in the Sixth ward, the school board will likely reconsider its action. The following communication was read at last night's meeting:

To the Honorable the Board of School Control: Gentlemen: I return herewith voucher of P. J. McNally for first payment on sums intended for site of No. 29 school.

In view of the communication of this transaction came protests from taxpayers so urgent, and emphatic that I determined to make a personal investigation.

What I have done, and I beg to submit herewith a report of two reputable real estate viewers, Messrs. G. F. Reynolds and George Cooper. From the appraisal of the properties involved in the transaction (it must be understood, in my opinion), it will be seen that there is an apparent profit to the seller of $2,200, but not considering this loss at all, the fact that the contractor is to be playing a game in the school children; and, further, by so doing save the present school property itself, is a matter, it would seem to me, that should be carefully considered by you, and that by referring to the voucher that terms of sale are as follows: Purchase price of McNally lots, not including buildings thereon, $4,000.00. Including present school site, value of lot, appraised according to value placed on McNally lots, 3,000.00. Value of building thereon, 1,000.00. Total, $8,000.00.

Loss by the transaction, $4,000.00.

The bid of Mrs. John Corcoran as submitted to your committee I am unable at this writing to find, but I am informed that it was $5,500.00. It is to be noted that the bid was for your honorable body a great saving would be effected, both in money and additional ground. It might, perhaps, be well, to suggest that your honorable body check the property in a body and see for yourselves if the facts set forth in the above are not fully borne out.

Very respectfully,
Howell, City Controller.

Dear Sir: As you requested on the 4th inst., we viewed the McNally lots recently purchased by the board of control in the Sixth ward, together with the school property, and we are of the opinion that $2,100 and the school property is all that the city should pay after allowing Mr. McNally to move the buildings from his lots, and taking, also, into consideration the city's use of the old school building, during the construction of the new one. Permit us to observe that the property adjoining the school premises on the east end of the lot, and containing 2 1/2 acres (200 feet) can be bought for $2,500 (a high figure, too, we think). This sum at the most would be all that the city would be required to pay for additional ground and would give the city a piece of twenty-five feet more frontage for yard room than by taking the McNally lots, save $1,800 and have the old school building to dispose of.

It is our opinion that the city should pay at least to pay the rental of a building for the use of the district until the completion of the new structure.

Very respectfully,
G. F. Reynolds, George Cooper.

NO STRIKE UNTIL THURSDAY AT LEAST
Local Executive Board Gives Out a Statement—Based on a Telegram from President Mitchell.

We have received a telegram from President Mitchell this evening in which he states that he is making every possible effort to obtain a peaceful settlement, and urges that all men remain at work a few days longer. Delimit instructions will be given out not later than tomorrow.

We are confident that the entire region will respond if a call for strike is issued. All the men were ready, and anxious to declare strike yesterday, and a result of definite instructions failing to reach them several collieries are idle today. It is impossible for the coal companies to deal with any besides union men, as all the men with few exceptions have joined the organization and are ready to obey the call if necessary.

While we gave our opinion a few days ago that certainly 90 per cent. would obey the call we are now certain that 100 per cent. will come out in district No. 1. We believe that the same will be true of the other two districts.

T. R. Nichols, President District No. 1.
John T. Dempsey, District Secretary-Treasurer.

The above statement was given out last night from the headquarters of District No. 1, of the United Mine Workers, after a protracted meeting of the executive board, attended by President Nichols, Secretary Dempsey, Henry Collins, of Carbonate; Nicholas Burke, of West Scranton, and John Kearney, of Archbald.

The telegram from President Mitchell was read to the executive board. The local officials did not profess to know what he was doing there.

The strained situation was not improved any by two false reports that gained general circulation and quite as general credence yesterday.

One was to the effect that the men at a number of collieries had decided to act independently of the union and went out on strike. The other was that the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company was withdrawing men from the Peckville mine, and their connection with the Mine Workers' union.

The first named rumor resulted from the fact that the Manville colliery of the Delaware and Hudson company, and the Sterrick Creek and Dolph Collieries at Peckville were shut down because so many men chose to lay idle a day rather than to buy powder and other supplies when it was probable, as they viewed it yesterday morning, that a strike order would be promulgated before the day was over. Men who do not belong to the union and who have declared their unwillingness to strike, did this sort of thing, as well as those who are known pro-strike adherents.

At many other mines there was a change of hands and this same account, but it was not of such proportions as to interfere with operations.

The story about the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company discharging men was the result of it being alleged, of mis-statements on the part of half a dozen employees of the Dodge colliery, who reported for work after having violated the rule against laying off after pay day, and found an order from the superintendent against their being allowed to go in.

They immediately reported to President Nichols that they had been discharged because of their activity in the Mine Workers' union, and thus the report went forth. The facts of the case were given out in the afternoon from the company's office. Then it was said that any men were not discharged for any connection with the union or anything of that sort.
