CARBONDALE.

COUNCIL MEETING.

Commoners met last night and passed a big list of bills, including the street pay-roll for August. Resoluwere adopted as follows: That clerk get supplies for councils at once; that engineer crown and ditch Brooklyn street from the Delaware and Hudson crossing at Eighth avenue to Greenfield street; that engineer crown and ditch Columbia avenue from New Cemetery street to city line; that city clerk advertise for bids on North Church street bridge. An ordinance was introduced and ordered printed, appropriating $1,200 for the North Church street bridge. The amount ts to be taken from the moneys remaining in surface sewer and fire alarm ap-

THOUSANDS HEAR CONCERT.

The weather last night was ideal and thousands of persons were attracted to Municipal park by the Mozart band, which rendered in exceptionally fine style from the balcony of Hotel Anthracite the following programme of music:

THEATRICAL.

"Killarney" at the Academy. The largest house of the season greeted pretty little Katharine Rober last night in the open-ing programme of the week of repertoire at the Academy of Music. Her company is an excellent one and the presentation, "Killarrey," was charming, Miss Rober is always winsome and delightful in the various roles she assumes. In none is she more vivacious and interesting than a Kitty Burke in the pretty Irish drama. Louis Leon Hall, the leading man, is rather too good looking, which is not a fatal fault in a mantinee company. George Whitman's com-edien abilities are far shove the average and foldwin Patton stood well up in the runks of those composing the cast last night.

The truy maid, lots Dodge, scored a kit with er pleasing voice and was of course repeatedly ecalled when she same "The Girl I Should Have Others who did most satisfactory work last mond Dailey, Mrs. Woodard and Ives. The pro-

"A Gay Old Time." At the Galety yesterday Cliff W. Grant's Tenlerlion Burlesquers began a week's engagement, presenting "A Gay Old Time," a farce in three scenes, which has not enough of a plot to give the person who tries to follow it a brain fag. In the company will appear that very petite and winsome actress. Miss May Fishe, who has made such a phe-nomenal lift in the metropolis during the past eason; also Amy Ames, Mamie Forbes, James

Lee, Gus Hennessy, etc.

The thread of the plot on which the specialties are based is a Hoyt plot, considerable more intelligible, interesting, elite and coherent than that which characterizes the plot in the average murical comedy and will be produced here with all the characteristics which comprised its run of over 250 mights at Hoyt's theater, New York,

CITY SCHOOLS OPENED.

Greater Number of Pupils Than Were Expected.

Yesterday the city schools threw open their doors, and all day long the corridors resounded with the footsteps of ye merry lads and lassles. All the schools were thronged with students, and it is estimated that beween thirteen and fourteen thousand pupils were in attendance, a remarkably large number for the opening day. All of the buildings were taxed to their utmost capacity, and in several sections of the city so many pupils appeared that numerous annexes may have to be rented.

No. 33 school, on Madison avenue, was particularly well filled, there being an average of over forty-seven students to a room, the maximum capacity of each being forty-eight. At the new school in Patersburg, there was such a rush that it was found necessary to have eleven teachers in charge, instead of ten, as was at first planned. These conditions prevailed all over the city, and today and during the remainder of the week it is expected that the number of students will continue increasing, as the first day never is a fair test of the number of students who will be in attendance during the year.
