That Work Has Kept Superintendent Howell Busy.

Superintendent Howell is kept busy these days by the opening of the pub-lic schools and the work of fixing the boundary lines for each of the schools has been one particularly weighty problem to solve. Yesterday the lines were satisfactorily established for Nos. 9, 33, 35 and 28 schools, which were greatly in need of adjustment. The crowded condition of No. 33 school in particular rendered changes in the district necessary.

Superintendent Howell yesterday expressed himself much pleased with the way in which the present school year has opened. After various changes and shiftings of pupils have been made, the schools throughout the city will average about forty students to a room. This, in the forty-two schools, will give a total of about fifteen thousand pupils. The exact number has not yet been reckoned, but from an approximate reasoning, this is a fair estimate. It is perhaps the largest attendance ing of school, and the superintendent vesterday stated that one thing in parfact that in no year have so many of the previous year's students returned. by the estimates drawn up last June by the various teachers, showing what the attendances in their classes should be in September. All of these figures are within two or three of the attendance recorded so far. Superintendent Howell also remarked on the splendid condition of the city schools. In addition to there being three new buildings, all the old school houses have been repainted and at the ground got everything ready kalsomined when necessary, and now for the formal opening tomorrow. present a fresh and bright appear the schools and the routine of the regular work is already going on, with a steadiness most commendable.

Are Charged with Having Secured Money from the Borough by Means of False Pay Rolls.

A reform wave has struck Dickson City borough, which is backed by the Delaware and Hudson company. It is alleged that the borough councilmen and the street commissioner connived together and defrauded the borough out of a large sum of money by means of fictitious pay rolls for work alleged to have been done on the streets of the borough.

Henry McGarrity, a property owner of the borough, went before Alderman Fuller, of this city, yesterday, and swore out warrants for the arrest of members of the council; Isaac Dan, secretary of that body, and Jacob Miller, street commissioner.

It is set forth in the information in which the warrants were issued that the accused by means of the aforesaid fictitious pay rolls secured $169 from the borough treasury. The men mentioned in the warrants will be brought before the alderman today.

PLANKING WAS ON FIRE. West Lackawanna Avenue Bridge Ablaze Yesterday.

The planking of the West Lackawanna avenue bridge was set on fire early yesterday morning in some unknown manner, and a hole four feet long by two feet wide was burned in the building on the West Scranton side of the bridge.

THE ATTRACTIONS.

Among the attractions for the visiors to the fair grounds are moving pictures, stereoscopic views of the British-Roer war, a palmist, a mammoth merry-go-round, a photograph gallery, ring throwing, ball throwing and the many usual side show features connected with outdoor festivals. C. G. Stevens, of Lenox, who has the dining hall and refreshment privioges this year, has pleased the directors and diners by the quality, quantiy and daintiness of his catering. About 11 o'clock in the morning it was whispered to the directors that bottles of light brown fluid of a suspicous fizziness were being sold, and as sales of intoxicants are tabooed, a bottle of the mixture was at once

Amid an air of solemn quiet the botle was opened, and judgment passed upon its contents by the treasurer and secretary. Though both declared they vere not acquainted with the taste of beer each seemed satisfied that the foaming beverage under consideration was not that, and permission was granted for its sale. The main exhibition building is a bondale; Harry D., blk. g., W. B. Stone, Edella; three-story structure. The first floor Major S. blk. g., H. S. ## GRAND JURY REPORT

TWO OF THE BRIBERY CASES HAVE BEEN HEARD.

Those in Which Councilman W. V. Griffiths and J. J. Grier Are Accused of Being Corruptly Approached in Connection with the License Tax Ordinance, Were Considered by the Jury Yesterday-Six Liquor Cases Heard-Trespass Suit for $25,000-Other Matters.

The first return of the grand jury is promised for today. Judge Edwards opened court yesterday morning and waited for an hour or so in expectation of a report from the jury or a possible request for instructions, but District Attorney Jones sent word that no return need be expected till today, and Judge Edwards adjourned the court.

There is much speculation about the corridors as to whether or not the fifteen new detectives, brought here Monday, by the Men's union, have been set to shadow members of the grand jury, whom the officers of the union feel they might suspect would be approached by some of the parties, whom the union is prosecuting. The officers of the union decline to discuss the purpose of bringing on these additional detectives. It is a pretty safe guess, however, that some of them are nosing about the vicinity of the grand Among the important cases passed upon yesterday were those in which Councilmen W. V. Griffiths and James J. Grier are charged with accepting bribes in connection with the license tax ordinance, and the liquor cases in which James Moffitt, of Brick avenue; Margaret Burns, of North Main avenue; Mr. and Mrs. John Winters, of Capouse avenue; O'Connor & Walsh, of Lackawanna avenue; Thomas Coyne, of Brick avenue, and J. J. Hartnett, of Capouse avenue, are the defendants.

Hearings were also had in a number of police cases, among them those in which William Simms, Robert Payne and James Law, three West Side boys, are charged with various acts of thievery; the shop-lifting cases against Mrs. Mary Vislosi, and the Raymond court shooting affray in which Anthony Carushis is defendant.
