Abington Turnpike Company Presents Its Claim to the City.

The Abington Turnpike company has just filed its claims with the street commissioner for work done on the Abington turnpike during the months of June and July.

The June claim is for $90.10, and the July claim for $386.48, making a total of $476.58. In each the services of nmon Councilman H. E. Paine, president of the company, as foreman are charged at $3, or for the total of 23 days, $69. It is safe to assume that when this particular item is scrutin-ized by the auditing committee some one will quote Section 13, Article IV, of the act of May 23, 1899, which provides that "councilmen must not be interested directly or indirectly in city ontracts, nor furnish material or labor therefor.

It will be remembered that the work of repairing the turnpike was done by both the Turnpike company and the city. The city's part was done under the supervision of Street Commissioner Thomas, and his pay rolls for the work have already passed the auditing committee and are being held up by Controller Howell until such time the ordinance appropriating $1,000 for the repair of the turnpike passes councils. It is now pending in select

The street commissioner's pay rolls are for the months of July and August, and their total amount is $998.77, or just $1.22 less than the amount to be appropriated by the city. As the payment of these will practically exhaust the appropriation, the claims of the Turnpike company will have to wait

A COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE PAINE

MEMBERS OF COMMON COUNCIL IN EARNEST.

The Resolution Providing for Its Appointment Introduced by Mr. Grier Who Said a Few Things but Failed to Stir Up the Gentleman from the Ninth-Action on the Viaduct Ordinance Postponed for a Week - New Business - Business Transacted in Select.

That the members of common counil are in earnest in their intention of taking steps tending toward the removal of H. E. Paine, of the Ninth ward, was manifested last night, when the following resolution was adopted unanimously:

Whereas, It is currently reported that H. E. Paine, member of common council from the Ninth ward, made utterances at a meeting of the board of trade held in their rooms on Mon day, Sept. 17, reflecting upon the honesty and integrity of the members of the common council of the city of Scranton, now, therefore, he it Resolved. That a special committee of five members be appointed by the chairman of com-mon council to investigate the truth or falsity of said utterances and report their findings to this body with such reco may deem meet and proper.

The resolution was introduced by Mr. Grier, who moved its adoption, the motion being vigorously seconded by Mr. Paine himself. Just as the chair was putting it, Mr. Grier couldn't resist the opportunity to stir things up and arising to his feet he said in his most bloodthirsty manner, ever and anon throwing a glance of defiance at

Mr. Paine: "As a member of this council I think it only right, proper and just that this man Pa-that is Mr. Paine-should make an explanation of this thing. He'd ought to have the manhood to get up and deny that he made these remarks if he didn't, and if he can't deny them he'd ought to resign."

PAINE WAS CALM.

During Mr. Grier's oration Mr. Paine sat perfectly still, and at first glance perfectly calm, but a close observer could see that he was making a supreme effort to control himself Everybody expected a reply from him, but he said not a word. The resolution adopted, Chairman Griffiths appointed the following inestigating committee: James J. Grier, M. V. Morris, John Nagell, P. F. Calpin and E. J. Coleman. Everybody smiled when this committee was announced as those acquainted with municipal matters know that its report will not be altogether favorable to Mr. Paine.

During the course of the meeting Mr. Paine turned to a Tribune man sitting next him, and said: "I have the constitutional right to say anything I choose outside of this council chamber, and I'm going to fight for my rights." A member of the committee, upon hearing that Mr. Paine had said this, smiled a broad smile and remarked: "Let him wait, he'll get all that's a comin' to him."

The viaduct ordinance didn't pass either second or third reading, though there was a great deal of talk abou it and though a big delegation of West Siders were on hand to lend their moral support to its passage.

NAGELI'S AMENDMENT.

When the measure was called up on econd reading Mr. Nagell introduced an amendment. This amendment pro vided for the killing of section 8, which provides for the appointment of viewers to assess the damages to be caused by the erection of the viaduct immediately after the work of construction has actually begun, and the substitution of an entirely new section, directing the mayor, city solicitor and city engineer to effect an agreement, if possible, with the interested property owners as to the amount of damages before the work of construction begins, and arranging for a means of ingress and access for any property owner whose present means may be cut off.

The amendment further provided for the appointment of viewers to assess all damages which could not be thus agreed upont Mr. Keller explained that he favored the adoption of the resolution because it was the only way to prevent the property owners from going to law. He said that if such an property owners would undoubtedly apply to court for an injunction restraining the city from proceeding with the work of construction.

Mr. Calpin called attention to the fact that a resolution had been adopted a week ago directing the mayor, city solicitor and city engineer to Interview the property owners and form an estimate of the damages and until this committee reported, he said, the amendment should not be adopted. man in America. He photographed He moved to postpone action until the next meeting, which is to be held next Thursday night, and after a deal of discussion this motion finally prevailed.

NEW RESOLUTIONS.

The following new resolutions were adopted: By Mr. Roche-Directing the street ommissioner to have a dangerous pole at the corner of Penn avenue and Spruce street removed.

By Mr. Coleman-Granting permis ion to the Young Men's Christian association to change the line of the

A very important amendment was brought before the convention in the matter of raising the local union dues, and also increasing the national per cates Frank Duffy and Eugene Odell, of New York city union, No. 478, prevising that all parties be urged to sented a resolution of sympathy for the striking miners. It was read to make an effort to settle the trouble as oon as possible. The measure was the convention and adopted by a standing vote, every delegate springing to his feet, and the resolution being passed in a most enthusiastic manner. A collection was then taken for benefit of the local mine unions, and a very generous sum was collected. Several of the members had already left the hall when the money was collected, and they will contribute their share this morning

MATTER OF DUES. President Huber called yesterday morning's session to order at 8 o'clock, and work was immediately started on the continued report of the amendments committee. It was suggested that the present local dues, fifty cents It was suggested per month, and the per capita tax of twenty cents be raised, in order to put the Brotherhood treasury into better-filled condition. This amendment aroused considerable comment and the entire morning was spent in discussion and comment. In the afternoon, the convention passed the measure, but before it goes into effect it will be subjected to a referendum vote of the local unions all over the country. Another amendment offered by the ommittee was the following, relating to the payment of a salary to the general president:

Sec. 30 (a). The general secretary shall receive such compensation as shall be determined by the convention, and shall employ his own clerical assistance at reasonable salary, payable from the general fund, and he shall give bond to the general executive board to the am or the faithful performance of his duties. New section:

Sec. 30 (b). (He shall issue to the loca unions, that subscribe for same, our official jour-nal, "The Carpenter," at a subscription price of 25 cents per year, per member). Note: In relation to this latter section and other matters, the following is submitted from 'nion No. 478, of New York city: "August 25th, 1900. To the eleventh genera convention of the U. B. Greeting: We recommend to your honorable body that the necessify - and also that the general predent be a salaried officer, leaving it to the vention to decide what compensation these c cers shall receive. As a means to raise a fund to pay these officers so that this organization may be run on a good sound business basis, we beg leave to suggest that our official journe! "The Carpenter," be sold to the local unions a nominal sum, say 25 cents per year. On mbership of 64,000 this would bring into the general office $16,000 yearly. "At the same time 'The Carpenter' could be plarged, prominent writers be engaged and paid for and our journal would then be something that we could look to with pride as one of the most prominent labor papers of the United States, "We must give up this idea of trying to go something for nothing. The sooner we get down to business the better it will be for all conmed. Respectfully submitted

"Frank Duffy, Recording Secretary." SOME CHANGES.

Sections of the constitution fixing dues and er capita tax are amended as follows 55. The initiation fee of all member hall not be less than five dollars. Beneficia members shall not pay less than 55 cents per month dues, and semi-beneficial members and apprentices not less than 25 cents per month paying dues or assessments, nor shall the same be remitted or cancelled in any manner, Sec. 58. Each local union shall pay to the grand treasurer 25 cents per month for each bene ficial and semi-beneficial member in good standing (not three months in arrears). All money (except 5 cents per capita) received by the grand treasurer shall be used as a fund for the general management of the U. B. and payment of all death and disability benefits prescribed by the constitution, together with all legal demand made upon the U. B. (The 5 cents per capit, per month shall be reserved as a special detense fund for relief of members in legally organized strikes and lock-outs).

The qualifications for membership in a sended section are: Sec. 64 (a). A candidate to be admitted to ceneficial membership in any local union of thi U. R. must not be less than 21 and not over 50 years of age, and must be a journeyman car penter or joiner, stalr-builder, ship-builder, mill wright, planing mill bench hand, cabinet maker or running wood-working machinery. He must be of good moral character and competent to
