The pretty little Methodist church at Luzerno was filled yesterday with the most attractive audience that had ever gathered therein, for it was largely made up of young women in summery frocks and bright ribbons. The attendance during all the sessions was very large. Rev. F. D. Cornell pre-

The president's address was given by Rev. W. A. Wagner, of Luzerne, and was a pleasing effort. It was followed by a symposium on the "Departcellent paper on home missionary work in connection with this subject. W. A. Lecher, of Nanticoke, spoke on the 'Value of Personal Experience," giving in this perhaps the most interesting address of the day. Rev. F. W. Young concluded with a fine paper entitled, "How Can the League Help

A discussion succeeded these papers. after which came an interesting symposium on the "Department of Mercy and Help," Miss Laura M. White, of ferring to plans for Sunday school and League meetings. Miss Jennie Hoffman read a paper "Into the Highways and Hedges," in which she spoke chiefly of the "shut-in" work.

Rev. C. H. Reynolds conducted the devotional exercises of the afternoon. W. A. Sanford, of Waverly, gave a most excellent paper on the "Importance of Good Literature," and a symposlum on the "Department of Social Work" followed. This was in some respects the most valuable of the day with regard to practical hints.

In the attitude of Epworthians toward amusements, Miss Krickbaum, of Wilkes-Barre, spoke decidedly in favor of following the church rules and declared that the young people are in their own views of the matter.

Miss Mary Compton gave an inter-Lea D. Ruggles, of Dorranceton, read the sentiment expressed was that socials should be employed to attract the unsayed, rather than to make money for the League.

THE QUESTION BOX.

Miss Ella Murdock, of Wilkes-Barre, gave a charming recitation, "Bobby Shafto," and Dr. Griffin conducted the Question Box. It is evident that the young people of the Wyoming district, at least, are deeply anxious to e settled in their minds about "Article 248," in the Discipline, referring to amusements, for questions showered on the presiding elder were bristling with personal projudice or anxicty on the subject. They wanted to know what he thought about an Epworth League leader who would go to the theater for purposes of investigation: what he thought of one who actually dances: what should be done with a member who insisted on giving card parties, etc., etc., etc.

The doctor used a great deal of tact in the replies, suggesting that they send the recalcitrant leader to him; or that the member ponder the church rules. At the conclusion he made brief remarks, in which he earnestly pleaded with his listeners to endeafor to raise the standard of their spirituality to such a degree that there need be no questioning on the subject of such foolish things. He urged the leagues to make a stronger effort to help in the twentieth century movement, and spoke paricularly of two objects, the educaional fund, when if they aided in endowing Wyoming seminary they could their own churches to receive the benefit of scholarships. Rev. Frank James conducted the devotional exercises, the choir sang, and Miss Murdock gave a recitation. The address of the evening was by

Rev. Dr. A. W. Hayes, of Binghamton, N. Y., and it was unique and re-markable for its brilliance and practical application. Dr. Hayes was formerly a pastor in New England. His familiarity with the Cape Cod coast, where he lived, gave him opportunities for the study of the life saving service. This knowledge he applied to the work of the church in his address. Dr. Hayes has just returned from Europe, where he spent some time in omparing the foreign methods of life saving and signal service with our own. There these devices are under the control of societies, instead of the government, and he considers our's su-

PROJECT TO BUILD ANOTHER TURNPIKE

Is to Parallel the Abington Road and a Portion of It Will Have to Be Built by the City.

Another attempt is about to be made o lay out a road from this city to Chinchilla free and independent of the Abington turnpike. The man behind the movement this time is Select Councilman John E. Roche, who succeeded in having select council adopt a resolution on Thursday night providing for the appointment of a committee to consider the feasibility of such a plan. Mr. Roche said yesterday that the ownship was willing to construct a road running from Chinchilla to the city at a point near No. 22 school at its own expense providing it received assurances that the city would continue the road within the city limits. The length of the road which the township authoribeing demoralized by too much laxity ties thus agree to build is about one and a half miles.

The plan proposed by Mr. Roche is esting paper, which afforded many to have the city construct a road about on new entertainments. Miss half a mile long running from the city line to North Keyser avenue which a paper on "Social to Save," in which street in turn connects with West Market street. The cost of this strip of road is estimated by engineers to be $4,000, but this is considered a very liberal estimate.

When this plan was under consideration some few years ago the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company ecceded in blacklisting it on account of the grade crossing where it was proposed to have the road cross its The plan now is to have the road ascend a slight hill several hun-dred feet beyond the point where it was planned to cross the tracks before and have a bridge built over the tracks. This bridge would have to be about sixty feet long and its construction would, of course, entail a great deal of extra expense. Mr. Roche expressed himself as being of the opinion that it was time something was done to relieve the farners entering the city from that part of the county from tolls.

He said that, of course, no steps could e taken this year to build any such road but that money for its construction could be appropriated in next year's general appropriation ordinance.

FINN MADE A CLEAN BREAST

Told All About His Connection with Alleged Bribery Transaction

GAVE MONEY TO BAILEY

Said That C. W. McKinney Gave Him $1,000 in Cash to Give ex-Mayor James G. Bailey if the Latter Signed the Barber Asphalt Ordinance and That He Gave the Money to That Official Part Before and Part After Signing of the Contract. Said Bailey Was First Offered Only $250 but Thought It Too Little. Richard J. Beamish and Councilman T. C. Melvin Also Examined.

At the adjourned councilmanic bribery hearing conducted last night in Alderman Fuller's office, Select Councilman Wade M. Finn answered the questions which he refused to answer last Tuesday night and testified in substance that he had received $1,000 from Carl W. McKinney and that he had turned the same over to ex-Mayor Bailey at the time the Barber asphalt said he couldn't remember having done ontract was pending in councils

The hearing began promptly at 7.30 clock and at that time the alderman's office was so thronged with spectators that there was hardly breathing space Attorneys E. C. Newcomb and James H. Torrey were on hand to represent the prosecution while Attorneys Joseph O'Brien and M. A. McGinley appeared for the defendants.

Mr. Finn was the first witness called and he was promptly taken in hand by Mr. Torrey, who conducted the direct examination. Mr. Finn first testified that he met Carl W. McKinney about a week before the contract was signed.

Upon being asked when and where he saw him he said that he received a telephone call on a Sunday morning either in December, 1898, or January, 1899, calling him down to ex-Mayor Bailey's grocery store on Penn avenue.

OFFER NOT BIG ENOUGH. Mr. Finn testified that when he reached the store he found ex-Mayor Bailey and C. W. McKinney there. He said that McKinney wanted the mayor to sign the ordinance awarding the re-pair contract to the Barber Asphalt company and that he (McKinney) offered Bailey $250 to sign it, but that the latter refused saying that amount was not enough. McKinney wouldn't at that time give any more.

The next time Finn saw McKinney was a few days afterwards when he came to his (Finn's) office in the city hall. He was accompanied this time by a man named Rock, also an employe of the Barber Asphalt company. Finn said that McKinney wanted to give him a check for $1,000 which he was to turn over to Balley when the ordinance was signed. This check was signed by Rock and was drawn on some New York bank. Witness told McKinney at that time that he didn't want anything to do with such a transaction and McKinney and Rock went away. A day or two afterwards, Finn said,

McKinney came back, this time with the currency, the $1,000 being in $20 and $50 bills. "Did he give this money to you?" "Yes, sir," replied Finn, "he gave it to me and told me he'd come in and tell me when to give it to Mayor Bailey.

"Did you ever give this money to Mayor Bailey?" "Yes; I gave it to Mayor Bailey." "When did you give it to him?"

"I gave him either $350 or $450 in : few days and the balance later on. He came to me and said he needed money to buy flour and I gave him the first amount." The witness said the contract was not signed at this time. "Two or three days after this," said he, "I was told by McKinney to turn over the rest of the money to Mayor Bailey and I did so. The contract had then been

WAS AGAINST ORDINANCE. Mr. Finn said he was against the awarding of the contract, as he didn't believe such a price should be paid for repairing the streets. Mr. Torrey tried to bring out that Mayor Bailey had asked for the money, but Mr. Finn repeated what he had said before, namely, that the mayor had simply re marked that $250 was not sufficient.

He said he thought that there was something said about $2,000 being the proper figure. He said that during the ourse of a conversation held after the meeting in the store McKinney told him that he thought he'd have to give more than $250; that he was interested and had to get his commission. This finished the direct examination and the witness was cross-examined by Mr. O'Brien. He was asked if he had told his story to E. B. Sturges, Colonel F. L. Hitchcock, Colonel H. M. Boles or Captain W. A. May. He replied that he had not. He might have told it to some people around city hall, but not to his knowledge to any member of the Men's union. He admitted having told it yesterday to Mr. Torrey, but said he had never told it before yesterday to any of the counsel for the prosecution.

"Did you ever tell any one about ten days ago that you had told all to the league and that he had better do the same thing " asked Mr. O'Brien.

"No, I did not," replied Mr. Finn. Asked if he had urged the mayor to take or refuse the money, he replied that he had not. After Mr. O'Brien had tried unavailingly to get the witness to remember some of the things he had said during the consultation in the store, he asked him the following

DID NOT WARN HIM. When this talk of giving $250 to get the mayor to sign the ordinance was going on you didn't tell him that it was unlawful for him to take the money, did you?"

"No sir. "You didn't do any shivering, did "And you weren't at all surprised, were you?" "No. sir. "You took this $1,000 for the purpose of getting Bailey to sign this ordinance,

"Well, what did you take the money for, and why did you turn it over. For

"No, I merely took it as you or anyone else would have taken it. As a sort of stakeholder."

"Oh. Well, you knew it was for the purpose of bribery, didn't you? You knew the money was to be the inducng cause for the signing of the contract, don't you?"

"I don't know that I did." The witness said that he talked with Mayor Bailey about the signing of the

"In that talk, did you disclose the fact of the $1,000?" asked Mr. O'Brien. "He asked me about it and I told

"Have you ever stated that you re ceived the money not in the city hall, but in Purcell's baths?" "No. sir." "Have you ever stated that you tried o get $2,000 from McKinney instead of $1,000?" "No, sir."

Mr. Finn was excused at this point, and Richard J. Beamish, who was Mayor Bailey's clerk, was called. He was examined by Mr. Newcomb. Mr. Newcomb called his attention to the last day of Mayor Bailey's term, on which date the appropriation ordinance was signed by Mayor Bailey with one item vetoed, namely, the item of $17,500 for the repair of the streets.

COULD NOT REMEMBER.

Mr. Beamish said he remembered seeng Mr. McKinney in the corridor on that day, but couldn't remember having seen him in the mayor's office. Mr. Newcomb asked him if he had gone into the city treasurer's office that morning and had called out the mayor, who was there, telling him that Mc-Kinney wanted him, and if the mayor came out and retired to his private office with McKinney. The witness

He said the mayor had asked him that morning to write a message to councils, vetoing the $17,500 item; that he wrote it and took it up to councils, both branches being in session. "You didn't hear any sum of money spoken of in connection with the signing of this contract, did you?"

"No. sir." "You have no knowledge, direct or indirect, which would lead you to believe that there was any solicitation on the part of Mr. McKinney or on the part of Mayor Bailey, have you?"

"Absolutely none, sir." This finished the examination of Mr. Beamish. Mr. Finn was recalled by Mr. O'Brien. The latter asked Mr. Finn if when he was before the grand jury he had been questioned about the appropriation ordinance, and if he had not told an entirely different story than the one he had just told.

Mr. Newcomb vigorously objected to the asking of these questions for the reason that Mr. O'Brien was trying o contradict the witness and the only way he could do so would be to call some of the grand jurors, all of whom are sworn to secrecy.

Mr. Finn said he knew he didn't have to answer the questions, but that he was perfectly willing to do so. He said he had been asked nothing about the transaction, and had testified to nothing about it before the

MELVIN ON THE STAND

The next witness was one of the iefendants, Select Councilman Thomas C. Melvin, who was examined by Mr. He said tively know that Mr. McKinnney represented the Barber Asphalt company it the time the contract was pending in councils, but that he heard it rumored. He didn't know but what he talked with McKinney about the passage of the ordinance, but wasn't positive.

McKinney might have possibly said that he's like to have the measure pass, but he wouldn't be sure. Mc-Kinney, to the best of his recollection, had said nothing about a certain number of votes being required or of the cost of passing the ordinance. He mer Mr. McKinney at the St. Charles hotel with some of the councilmen but couldn't remember which He finally admitted that Mc-Kinney had met the following councilmen at his place of business: John J. Kearney, Edward James, John J. Shea, M. J. Burns, P. F. McCann, H. T. Fellows and Thomas J. Coyne. He couldn't say that at this meeting the contract had been talked about. He never heard of any money having been paid the councilmen. He met West and Rock, both employes of the Barber Asphalt company. They came to his place of business to see him socially. He never talked with them about legislation. They had met some of the councilmen there but what they talked
