UNION LABEL

CITY NOTES

MEETING TONIGHT.—There will be a meeting tonight of the Union League club in the rooms of the Central Republican club.

BENEFIT CONCERT.—The benefit concert for the Young Women's Christian association, Oct. 4, 5, 6, to be the most musical event of the season.

AT RESCUE MISSION.—One of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western engineers, Frank Ryan, will conduct the Rescue mission service tonight.

ACCUSED OF PURITY.—Alderman Morrison, of Carbonade, yesterday committed to the county jail, Carrie Miller, who is accused of purjury.

NOT THEIR WAGON.—Clarke Bros. state that it was not their wagon that was wrecked at the Saturday night night.

ANNUAL MEETING.—The annual district meeting of the Women's Foreign Mission society will be held in the Methodist church at Avoca this morning at 10 o'clock.

MARRIED IN WILKES-BARRE.—Terrence Bailey, of Pittston, and Miss Laura Newmyer, daughter of Jasper Newmyer, of this city, were married at Wilkes-Barre on Saturday.

JACKET FOUND.—A ladies' small jacket was found on 32nd avenue last night by Patrolman Kenney. The owner, an unidentified woman, is being identified by it at the center street police station.

COMPLIMENTARY CONCERT.—A complimentary concert will be given by P. Mulholland, tonight at the Hotel Centre, from 8 until 11 p. m., to the visiting engineers. Bauer's full orchestra will play.

MEET THIS AFTERNOON.—The Central Women's Christian Temperance union will meet this afternoon at 2 o'clock in Grosvenor's hall. Annual meeting with reports and election of delegates to county convention. Subject, "This Autumn Summer."

SACRED CONCERT.—A sacred concert will be given by the choir of St. Thomas' cathedral on Sunday night, Oct. 14, at St. Thomas' College hall, under the direction of Mr. Schilling. The accompaniment will be furnished by Bauer's orchestra.

RELATIVES NOT KNOWN.—Sabina Rooney, aged 81 years, died yesterday at Hillside Home, where she had been an inmate since 1888. She formerly lived in West Scranton, but as far as the authorities knew, she had no relatives in this part.

ROW ON EMMETT STREET.—Patrolmen Watkins and Schmidt and Mounted Officer Bloch yesterday responded to a call sent to police headquarters, regarding a row on Emmett street. One man, who was acting in a very pugnaconic manner, was arrested.

JOHNSON FUNERAL.—The funeral of Anthony Johnson, who was fatally injured Saturday night, will take place at 10 o'clock tomorrow at St. Patrick's church, this morning at 10 o'clock. A high mass of requiem will be read at St. Paul's church. Interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery.

CHICKEN THEIVES ROUTED.—While walking his beat on Cassano avenue last night, Patrolman Potter saw two men standing at Gilson street who were acting in a manner which he took to be suspicious. On his proceeding towards them the two took to their heels, leaving behind them a bag. Potter opened it and found two chickens, which he took to the central station.

LACKAWANNA BEVELER.—The man found in the Lackawanna river, Sunday night, under the torio and Western railroad bridge in North Scranton, gave his name yesterday as Joseph McGarry. The Lackawanna hospital surgeons say that he was injured by a fall from a bridge, and that he will be able to leave the institution today. McGarry fell through a hole in the bridge, while in an intoxicated condition.

CATHOLIC HISTORICAL SOCIETY.—It will be with sincere pleasure that the members and friends of the Catholic Historical society and the Newman Magazine club will learn of the continuance of this valuable society. The institution was founded about three years ago by the late Rev. D. J. MacGouldrick, who took a keen personal interest in its success. The members for the winter will open tomorrow evening, Rev. J. J. Loughlin, moderator of the society, wishes to meet all members on that evening. No more appropriate memorial to its founder could be established in this city than the flourishing continuance of this excellent society.

BEAT THE HEAD.—The averages of the American League show two of the Blue at the top of their respective lists. Ace Stewart leads the second baseman with an average of .250. He has played in forty-eight games, made 241 put-outs, 125 assists and only forty-eight errors. He stands at the foot of the list. Loughlin is really the leader of the third basemen. Tamsett, the young Cleveland player, who has played in only twenty-four games, is the only man ahead of the head of the list. He has played in 125 games, made 211 put-outs, 222 assists and forty-four errors. He has an average of .312. This is an excellent showing for him, considering that he takes more chances than any other man in the league, no ball being too hard or too difficult for him.—Kansas City Journal.

SPOKE AT CARBONDALE.
The Drummer Evangelist Had a Busy Day There.
"The Drummer Evangelist," Rev. W. H. Williams, conducted three Anti-Saloon League meetings in Carbonade on Sunday. In the morning he spoke in the First Congregational church; at night in the Presbyterian church. Mr. Williams has secured a good list of names for a League for Carbonade. He and his wife will return to Carbonade Monday, October 8, and speak again in the Presbyterian church at 7:30 p. m., at which time he says he will have at least five hundred names for the League. As the ministers will in the meantime do what they can to add to the list of members.
Mr. Williams speaks in Mill City tonight in the Methodist Episcopal church, and will return Thursday and speak in the Union church in Little England at 7:30 p. m.; subject, "The Last Romp with the Tiger."

DI GILOMAE DIED FROM HIS WOUNDS
Injuries Inflicted by Saveria Pannone Sunday Night Proved Fatal—Pannone Still at Liberty.

Bartley Di Gilomae, of Bunker Hill, Dunmore, died at 9:59 o'clock last night at the Lackawanna hospital, of the stab wounds inflicted Sunday evening by Saveria Pannone, who is still at liberty.

Di Gilomae's injuries were seen to be of an exceedingly serious nature as soon as he was brought into the hospital. Four wounds were inflicted, and in each of them Pannone's knife had penetrated the flesh deeply. Di Gilomae's internal organs were terribly lacerated and, and the unfortunate man suffered greatly all yesterday.

The house surgeons remarked during the afternoon that the man's conditions were very critical and that no hopes could be entertained of recovery. Pannone's whereabouts still remain a mystery, and no clue has as yet been found as to where Di Gilomae's slayer has sought refuge.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.
[Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied, for publication, by the writer's name. The Tribune does not assume responsibility for opinions here expressed.]

Attorney Beers Replies to the Grand Jurors.
Editor of the Tribune.
Sir: I solicit the favor of enough of your valuable space in which to express myself on the matter of the "venues" of the late grand jury, which, under the circumstances, I consider a commendable proceeding.

In the premises, I desire to state that I bear the honor of being a member of the bar and an officer of the court of the county of Lackawanna, and, as an amiable to the court at all times for my speech and conduct. If my action has been such as to deserve reprimand, it was the duty of the grand jury to bring such action to the notice of the court for its consideration. Their failure to do so proves conclusively to my mind that they dared not. Any statements I have made, I stand prepared to substantiate them for the court, by competent evidence, and, as a matter of fact, I did substantiate the statements by legal proof before that august body, the grand jury, and I still insist that those statements are true and entirely warranted, notwithstanding the assertion of the jury to the contrary. As an individual and a representative of the Municipal League and the Men's union, I desire to extend my appreciation and thanks to them for the report they did do. For in the main, they "have wrought a good work."

Nevertheless, the grand jury ignored every single case brought before it by the people I have the honor of representing, while in an opinion from the board's attorney, stating that as the board had not authorized the contract, the district could not be held liable for the bill. This report was also received and filed.

The following recommendations of the "teachers' committee" were adopted without objection:

That Miss Catherine Hastings be permanently appointed to No. 8 annex.

That Miss Anna L. Barrett, teacher in primary grade No. 5, be credited with primary work for one year in primary A grade, in adjustment of salary.

The other recommendations of this committee, however, were discussed for over half an hour. The first to receive notice of objection was the requirement of all high school pupils to register with the secretary of the board. This was finally voted down and it was decided to allow the pupils to register with the principals of the various schools for the four days preceding the opening of the night schools, and at the night schools themselves two nights before their opening.

NIGHT SCHOOL TEACHERS.
The second recommendation was that only those night school teachers should be appointed who possessed the same qualifications as day school teachers. This was vigorously discussed and was finally amended to read "until the supply of such teachers is exhausted, when only those who shall be high school graduates shall be engaged."

The last recommendation, and the one that was fought until it was finally voted down, was one recommending that all boys under twenty-one years of age now out on strike be admitted upon application to the public school located in the district in which they live.

The general sentiment was that instead of crowding the day schools to accommodate these transient pupils, the night schools should be opened at once and that they be allowed to attend them. It was pointed out that letting them attend the day schools would require the hiring of a large number of extra teachers and the renting of additional annexes.

The board finally decided to open the night schools next Monday night and to leave the engaging of teachers to the various controllers, their action to be afterwards approved by the board.

The following report of the building committees were adopted without discussion:

The building committee recommended that the salary of the janitor at No. 2 be fixed at $60 per month, and that he be paid $13 additional for cleaning, having already been paid $45.

We recommended the appointment of Frank Campbell as janitor at No. 5, at a salary of $60 a month, is due from Sept. 15.

That Rudolph Buehler, janitor at No. 28, be paid at the rate of $65 a month from Sept. 1, and that he be paid for cleaning the school at the rate of $10 per month for taking care of both buildings.

That Mrs. Mary O'Donnell be appointed janitor at No. 8 annex, at a salary of $10 a month from Sept. 1, and that she be allowed one month's pay for cleaning the building.

The salary of William Zang, janitor of No. 3, be fixed at $65 a month, and that he be paid at the rate of $10 per month for cleaning the building.

The superintendent Howell sent in a communication announcing that with the consent of the interested school con-

COMMITTEES DID SOME INVESTIGATING
REPORTED FINDINGS TO BOARD OF CONTROL.

Lively Debate Over the Report of the Teachers' Committee with Reference to Night Schools and the Qualifications of the Teachers Who Are to Be Employed—Schools Will Open Next Monday Night—Suggestion to Change District Lines Referred Back to Committee.

Just a month ago last night School Controllers Evans and Gibbons had an exceedingly lively wrangle over some work done around No. 13 school, which Mr. Gibbons charged Mr. Evans with having authorized. Mr. Evans sought vindication two weeks ago and succeeded in having a special committee appointed to investigate the matter. The committee presented the following report at last night's meeting of the school board, which was read and ordered filed:

To the Board of Control, Scranton, Pa.
Gentlemen: The special committee appointed to look into the matter of the work done on the retaining wall at No. 13 school this summer, and to determine whether or not the same had been done in violation of the provisions of the act of March 1st instant, accompanied by other members of your body.

They found that the wall on the northwesterly and northwesterly side had been changed, and that the grade of the ground as it had been originally built, and that on a part of the northwesterly side and on a part of the southwesterly side a new wall had been built.

There is no question in the mind of the committee that the change is an improvement, although not absolutely necessary. The criticism is that no attempt was made to have the work done in accordance with the specifications required until the district was in a better financial condition. The wall was originally built in 1885, or only a few years and could have been kept for a number of years without being touched, thereby saving much of the $12,000, which was expended in making the changes the past summer.

We do not think that the work had been authorized by the board or the building committee. When the latter made their usual yearly visit to see what repairs were necessary, the change in the wall was not observed, and the board of the ward claims he had nothing to do with hitting the contract for these changes although he knew it.

It seems to your committee that where a much money is to be spent, as was expended in this case, the work should not be undertaken without the approval of the board and also the legally authorized officers of the board, and if it does not lead to actual dishonesty, it brings about many irregularities and great extravagances.

John O'Malley,
Louis Schwab.

THE WINDOW SHADES.
Another investigating committee also presented a report. This was the committee appointed to investigate the facts surrounding the letting of a big contract for window shades by the building committee. This committee reported that the contract was let to a contractor for Venetian blinds for three schools had been let by the building committee, the total amount of the contract being $385.

These Venetian blinds cost three times as much as Holland shades, and the contractor, who is offering a ten-year guarantee they would perhaps be cheaper in the end. The committee had received bids from several parties for Venetian blinds and the lowest bid received was only $5.72 less than the price contracted for by the building committee. The contractor, in an opinion from the board's attorney, stating that as the board had not authorized the contract, the district could not be held liable for the bill. This report was also received and filed.

REPORT MADE BY GENERAL SECRETARY
CARPENTERS' UNION HAS GROWN RAPIDLY.

Two Years Ago the National Union Had 428 Local Unions and 31,508 Members—Now It Has 718 Locals with a Membership of 68,463. Finances of the Organization Are in Good Shape—Next Convention Will Be Held at Atlanta, Ga.—Address by an Ex-President.

Secretary-Treasurer P. J. McGuire, of Philadelphia, yesterday presented his annual report to the convention of Carpenters and Joiners. A marvelous increase in the membership of the union was shown and the association's finances revealed to be in splendid condition. Since 1888, when the biennial convention was held in New York, the membership has doubled, owing in a large measure to the activity of the district organizers.

The place for the next convention has been fixed, and Atlanta, Ga., will be the favored city.

The morning session was begun at 8 o'clock and the committee on resolutions rendered part of its report. George Conybear, of Auburn, N. Y., is the chairman of this committee, and the members are John Loring, of Springfield, Ill.; Guy Lathrop, of San Francisco, Cal.; Charles Spayer, of New York. An important suggestion was made, in advising the adoption of a union label to be placed on goods turned out of planing mills, and establishments of a similar nature. The convention passed the resolution, which will now be submitted to a referendum vote of the local unions.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.
Secretary-Treasurer McGuire then presented his report. He opened this by speaking briefly of the splendid condition of the association. He referred to the local labor conditions, and in speaking about the strike, said:
Men and women waste their years in idleness. I tell you, in my factory, shop and mine, while placards read their stately heads and the blackening shadows of labor's hours darken the hillside and east their placid glances the alibis and by-words of our cities, other states have their full measure of wrong and injustice.
