By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press.

Seattle, Sept. 25 .- The steamship Roanoke brings news of a most disastrous storm at Nome, which raged with unusual violence for almost two days up to the evening of September all three armed with repeating rifles ber of barges and lighters were driven ashore and wrecked. All along the beach for miles, both could along the beach for miles, both east and west of Nome, the wind and water have had been taken by the natives. created havoc with tents and mining machinery.

A number of lives are believed to have been lost. Andrew A. Ryan, of Los Angeles, was drawned. Several captains and scamen on small tugs are missing, and it is believed they tempt the trip. are lost.

Fully 500 persons are homeless, while the loss to property and supplies is estimated at more than half a million dollars, Every alley leading to the beach is filled with debris. Many Front street buildings abutting on the beach, have been damaged. Numerous small buildings were swept away, Buildings, tents, household effects, merchandise and other goods and chattels along the water front were wrecked by the wind.

The heaviest individual losers are probably the Alaska Commercial com-pany and Wild Goose Mining and Trading company, A serious loss is the disappearance of more than two thousand tons of coal.

Captain French, in command of the troops, has thrown open the govern-ment reservation to those rendered homeless by the storm and will extend such other assistance as is possible. The tug Islam sank during the storm with her crew of three. The haunch America, while trying to aid the big barge Skookum, went down with Captain Madison, her commander, and the engineer. Three or four men working along the water front, in an effort to save something from the wreckage, are said to have been swept out to sea, but their names are not known.

From Benny river comes a report of the wreck of the schooner Prosper and the drowning of Captain Geiser, together with one of his seamen.

Wrecks at Nome.

At Nome the Alaska Commercial company's barge York, heavily laden with winter provisions, went ashore. An hour later the barge Skookum dragged her anchors and was wrecked on the beach, The North Atlantic Transportation company lost the tus Bob, valued at $2,000. The steam baunch Strae sank at anchor and the Belvidere is a wreck at the mouth of Snake river. The little schooner Zenith, which attempted to put to sea, was blown about two miles up the beach. Having her passengers aboard, the Roanoke sailed on the evening of Scut. The storm had abated somewhat but after getting to sea it increased. The Roanoke was completely at the mercy of the gale. On the third day the storm subsided and the vessel succeeded in reaching port uninjured.
