

BEVERIDGE VS. BRYAN

The Indiana Senator's Sensible View of the Trust Problem.

TRUSTS ARE GOOD OR BAD

What Common Sense Requires Is That the Good Ones Should Be Protected While the Bad Ones Are Restrained and Punished—The Economic Basis of Trusts a Natural Outgrowth of Modern Conditions—Not Blatant Denunciation but Intelligent Stenmanship Demanded.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Columbus, Neb., Sept. 28.—Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, was the principal speaker at a monster Republican rally held here today. His theme was "Trusts."

A Trust Operated by Every Farmer. Let me give the farmers a period illustration of a trust that every farmer in this country operates himself. That trust is the self-binding harrower.

Practical Remedy for Trust Evils. There is only one possible way of regulating trusts. That way is by the passage of the republic controlling corporation. This is the country now. We have outrageous state rights.

A Trust No One Will See Destroyed. By Mr. Bryan in favor of destroying the department stores? To have a woman in the United States who will refuse to trade with the department stores? Not, why not? Because before the department store came she had to buy one thing in one little shop and another thing in another little shop, and all of poorer quality and higher price.

OPERATORS CAN'T DISSENT

Senator Mark Hanna Succeeds in Convincing the Heads of the Coal World in New York That Great Good Will Come of an Immediate Settlement of the Strike, and the Local Operators Are Left No Alternative but to Acquiesce as Gracefully as They Can—Belief That Mediation Will Be Successful.

Local operators all profess to be unacquainted with the details of the movement to effect a settlement of the strike, but each one approached, yesterday, admitted that he knew there was something doing and that it likely would be successful in bringing about an amicable and speedy adjustment.

Miners' Position. The main move is to ascertain what the miners are willing to do towards bringing about an adjustment. This matter is likely to be taken up today, if indeed it was not discussed in a preliminary way yesterday.

Mr. Rose's Statement. Mr. Rose said he did not know the whole story of the movement, but from what he did know he was inclined to believe that it would be effective in settling the strike.
