

WEST SCRANTON

SONG SERVICES IN WELSH CHURCHES

GYMANFU GANU WAS A SIGNAL SUCCESS.

Both sessions were attended by large assemblages and much interest was manifested in the singing—Rally Day and Home Gathering at Washburn Street Presbyterian Church—Police Court Cases. Horse Fall in a Trench—General News Notes and Personals.

The congregational singing at both sessions of the Welsh musical festival yesterday was adjudged by competent critics to be the best ever heard in West Scranton. The morning session was held in the South Main Avenue Welsh Calvinistic Methodist church, and was under the leadership of J. Henry Jones, Rev. Hugh Davies, pastor of the church, presided, and spoke briefly in Welsh of the importance of such events to the church work in general. The attendance was exceedingly gratifying and the interest shown in the singing was worthy of special mention.

The singing festival, or "Gymanfu Ganu," as it is known in Welsh, is a feature of the Welsh Congregational church, and it might properly be defined as a rehearsal of the congregational hymns, which are always a feature of every service in the church. The festival is held several times each year for the purpose of imparting the proper significance and impressing the importance of singing in the church work. One must attend a gymnanfu in order to get the full benefit of its influence.

The evening session was attended by such a large gathering that the Bellevue Calvinistic Methodist church was totally inadequate to accommodate the throng. Professor Daniel Protheroe, the well known leader and musician, arrived in the city late in the afternoon and conducted the singing at the evening service. His skillful leadership was an inspiration to the congregation, and all the selections were rendered with much feeling and expression.

You May Spend All the Money

You please on handsome furniture, costly paintings, stately and other magnificent ideas, but if you take away softening influences and charming graces of appropriate draperies, the effect of all your collection of costly beauty would be so diminished as to become wearisome to the eye and a positive bore to the refined or sensitive mind.

Beautiful Draperies Are Not Expensive

This week we are making a practical demonstration of this fact, and the practical home maker, housekeeper, or cozy room or corner furnisher may learn much in a few minutes spent in our Drapery Department these days that all the reading and home study of a month could not impart. The truth is, we are enthusiastic on the subject of

Popular Priced Draperies

And upholsterings and offer opportunities to buyers of taste such as are not to be had elsewhere. All the new fabrics, tone effects and colorings are seen at their best in our extensive collection, and our long and successful study of how to make homes beautiful at a surprisingly low cost may be of value to you.

Of Course, We Include Lace Curtains

Door Panels, Sash Curtains, etc. Some are made in the Scranton factory, others come from abroad, inexpensive Nottinghams and Irish Points are much sought after and the new art effects are lovely. Then there are the dainty Muslin and Swiss Curtains with ruffles or plain; elegant Brussels and Irish Point goods; Oriental European and American hangings, etc., none of which will frighten you by their cost. Suppose you drop in and see them this week.

panists for both sessions were Miss Annie Davis and Tallie Davis.

Special Rally Day Services.

Rally day was fittingly observed at the Washburn Street Presbyterian church yesterday by the members of the Bible school, and the usual attendance was increased by representatives of other churches. The interior of the edifice was beautified by palms and potted plants and other decorations. The service was also a "home gathering" affair, in which a large number of former members participated.

Horse Fell in a Trench.

A valuable horse belonging to Contractor David Nichols fell in a trench on North Bromley avenue last Friday evening, and was so badly injured that in all probability the animal will have to be shot.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES.

Samuel Hughes, of South Hyde Park avenue, a carpenter employed by Washburn, Williams & Co., fell from a building on Saturday and was severely injured about the head, arms and shoulders.

First Baptist Church.

At both the morning and evening services of the First Baptist church yesterday, the pastor, Rev. S. F. Matthews, gave a clear and concise review of the Sunday school lessons for the past quarter. The congregations were large.

Police Court Cases.

Frank Argus, jr., of Carbondale, was a guest at the Jackson street police station on Sunday. The capable but indiscreet cobbler was found intoxicated and asleep on Scranton street early in the morning. It default of a $3 fine, Alderman Moses ordered the next ten days visiting Warden Simpson.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

Mr. and Mrs. Renssler Luce and son, of North Main avenue, have returned home from a visit with friends in Brooklyn, Susquehanna county.

GREEN RIDGE.

Edward McArdle, of Providence, R. I., spent the Sabbath with his uncle, J. M. Howell, of Green Ridge street.

Other News Notes.

The foot ball eleven of the Dunmore High school played an interesting game on the No. 5 grounds Saturday afternoon with the Jolly Eleven, of Scranton. The contest was a tie at the close of the game.

WHAT DO THE CHILDREN DRINK?

Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink called GRAIN-O? It is delicious and nourishing and takes the place of coffee. The more Grain-O you give the children the more health and vitality they will have.

DON'T LEAVE THE CITY

Plenty of Proof Right Here in Scranton.

Claim is one thing, proof another. Columbus claimed the world was round. Did people believe it? Not until he proved it. Unproven claims have made the people skeptics. Every claim made for the "Little Conqueror" is proven. Proven in Scranton by local experience.

Mr. Isaac Smith, of 1160 S. D. Place, Hyde Park, employed by the S. L. & W. at the Archbold mines as a miner, says: "I had a dull pain in the small of my back. If it turned about quickly a stitch-like pain would cross me across my loins. In looking over the paper I had my attention called to Doan's Kidney Pills, and I read a statement of a person living in Scranton who was troubled just as I was. I got a box of them at Matthews Bros. drug store, and they proved to be just what I needed. Before I had taken the whole box the pain left me and I have been free from it ever since."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

Rally Day.

Yesterday was Rally day in the Hickory Street German Presbyterian church, and the services on this occasion were well attended. Services were conducted in the German language in the morning at 9 o'clock, and in English at 2:10 p. m.

Close of the Mission.

The two weeks' mission, conducted by the Redeemist Fathers of New York city in St. John's church, Fitzgerald street, came to a close last evening with a monster meeting of men, which crowded the edifice, eager to hear the last words and attend the last services.

DUNMORE DOINGS.

Condition of Jos. Labella, Who Was Assaulted by Rosca Lometha, Is Very Critical—Other Notes.

The condition of Joseph Labella, the Italian who was so ferociously assaulted by Rosca Lometha, a fellow Italian, on Duck street, Friday night, remains very critical, the man's wounds being of a most serious nature. There are several large cuts in Labella's body, one behind the ear, which may result in a fatal illness. Keys, Sacco, O'Hara and Boland, who were dispatched by Chief of Police Healy soon after the occurrence of the attempted murder, could find nothing, after a thorough search, of Lometha or his whereabouts. There does not seem to be the faintest clue on which the officers can work.

MISS LENA KESSLER ENTER-TAINED FRIENDS.

Pleasant Gathering at Her Home on Saturday Evening—Rally Day at the Hickory Street German Presbyterian Church—Close of the Two Weeks' Mission at St. John's Church—Manner in Which John Connell Was Injured—Christening at German Presbyterian Church.

Miss Lena Kessler, of 628 Locust street, very pleasantly entertained a large number of her friends Saturday evening at her home. The evening was very pleasantly spent, and good cheer was abundant. Dancing, music, vocal and instrumental, and the usual party diversions found eager participants. Flashlights in grotesque attitudes and otherwise were taken. Refreshments were served later.

which had been for a whole summer's day a valley of the shadow of death, a Kafr was crouching over a concertina, from which came lazy, dirgelike music. The railway engine, the doves and the rapt Kafr were the sole moving objects in this garden of peace, and in the blue distance was the ridge of Grobler's Kloof, no longer belching fire and shell, but standing out delicately against the tender sky.

No brave deed had ever a gentler setting.

The scene of this heroic act was a level stretch of green veld lying between the river and a brown road which led with many desultory turns to Hangwani. To the left were the village and gardens of Colenso, and to the right the grove of mimosa trees, in which the Boer force was hidden. Beyond the river rose the enemy's intrenchments and the grim ridge of Grobler's Kloof.
