FORMAL OPENING OF DALLAS FAIR

VISITORS NOT DETERRED BY GLOOMY SKIES.

Largest Crowd for the Opening Day of Any Fair Yet Held-Fakirs Flocked to the Grounds in Great Numbers-Poultry Exhibit Easily Outclasses All the Others-Ezra A. Wins the First Race in Straight Heats, and Lucy Heyer Takes Second Event-Today's Card.

Dallas, Oct. 3.-In spite of the gloomy skies and the raw, chilly atmosphere there was a good attendance at the fair grounds here today, it being the formal opening day of the exhibition given by the Dallas Fair association. Secretary Norton said it was the largest crowd for the opening day of any fair yet held, and if this ratio is maintained for the next two days it guarantees a successful meeting.

The trolley cars running between here and Wilkes-Barre were well filled all the morning and in the early afternoon. When the passengers on them alighted in front of Raub's hotel they found hacks of all kinds and all sizes awaiting to convey them up the steep hills to the grounds, nearly a mile

There were a large number of Scrantonians visible about the grounds, most of them more interested in the trotting events than in the fair exhibits, al-though these latter deserve more than a cursory mention.

No lack of music can be complained of, for there is constantly heard either the excellent melody dispensed by the Citizens' band, of Plymouth, under the brilliant leadership of Conductor Morrell, or the strains of a negro combination in one of the tents given over to vaudeville. When both of these are slient, and more often when they are not, the machine-like, laborious tunes turned out by the merry-go-round back of the grand-stand strike heavily on the already overburdened air.

The Citizens' band is one of the best in this section of the state. It has twenty men on the grounds and their music is of a high-class order. They occupied the grand-stand and enlivthe tedious waiting between Fakirs Galore.

There are more outside attractions here today than yesterday. The fakirs who have been following all the county fairs in this part of the state have flocked hither in great numbers, and their hoarse cries as they extol the merits of their particular wares or games lend an added excitement to the stir and bustle that prevails.

Among the exhibits entered for premlums the poultry department easily outclasses all the others. It is full and running over with fine specimens of Lucy Heyer, b. m., Elwood Smith, chicks, fowls, geese, ducks and feathered animals of all kinds. The pigeons are numbered by hundreds and there is an endless variety. One cage that attracts attention shelters more than forty pure white pigeons. Another cage holds a large collection of white Wyandotte chicks. There is a pet porcupine in this department, as well as a duck with white, green, blue and purple plumage and a distorted bill that gives it the appearance of a hare-

In the main exhibition building the sides are utilized by merchants, and there is enough variety in the wares displayed to stock a good-sized town. There are groceries and drugs, stoves and sewing machines, and L. B. Powell, of Scranton, has a first-class display of pianos and organs and sheet music The manufacturers of agricultural machinery have been liberal and have sent a large number of their products Everything in this line from cream separators to threshing machines lle scattered about and farm wagons buggies and other wheeled articles are numerous, some for sale and others after premiums.

Cattle and sheep and swine have been driven in in good numbers and the quarters allotted to them are frequented by bronzed bearded men and buxom women, who estimate their commercial value critically and talk learnedly about fodder and silos and other mysterious things.

Ladies Outdo the Men.

The ladies of Luzerne county have gone ahead of the men in doing their part to make the exhibits attractive, and the centre of the main building is completely taken up with samples of their ingenuity in needlework, preserving and cooking.

About 2.30 o'clock the first event on the track was called, the 2.22 trot and pace for a purse of $150. The track is enclosed by a high wire fence, with gates to prevent the spectators from ssing it, and this arrangement is an At the time the first race was called there were about 1,000 sersons on the grounds and about a third of that number were in the grand-stand.

The officials of the racing were: Starter, William Moore, Wilkes-Barre; James Townsend, Wilkes-Barrere Sterling R. Catlin, Wilkes-Barre; Clerk of course, J. H. Anderson. The description and summary of the two races follow:

First Race.

2.22 class, trotting and pacing; purse $150; mile heats, best three in five First heat. The field of three got the word at the third line up and Esra A got going speedily, leaving the other two in quick time. front and Major S second, two lengths behind, in the good time of 35 seconds. Coming under the wire on the first half of their journey. Ezra A led the bunch, ahead of Lord Middleton by two lengths, doing the circle of the track in 1.11½. At the six furlong pole, in 1.48, Ezra A was leading Lord Middleton by a length, and they finished with Lord Middleton only a head behind Ezra, and the Scranton horse many lengths in the year. The mile was made in lengths in the rear. The mile was made in

Third heat—Again Ezra A had the inside po-sition and from his performance in the two previous heats it looked as if he would make this the concluding heat of the race. After getting away in good order the horses had a spirited trip to the quarter pole, arriving there in $3½ seconds, with Ezra A in front, and Lord Middleton a length behind him. The laif-way mark was left behind in 1.11, with Ezra still his length in front of Middleton, and the three-quarters was negotiated in 1.42½. Ezra A yet holding his advantage. Major S was away back. The Tunkhannock horse finished ten lengths in front, while Major S drew up on Lord Middleton and was only two lengths behind coming under the wire. Time of the mile was 2.2514. 2.45 class, troiters and pacers; purse $100-First heat-Nora Mack wen the pole when the positions were allotted, and the other three start-ers lined up in this wise: Union Prince second, Lucy flever third, and Prince Elgin on the out-side. The drivers did not take the The drivers did not take long to get their horses on the track, but it required a number of efforts before Starter Moore was sat-isfied with the line up and said the speeding word. Right after the start the Scranton horse made a bad break, but had recovered before the quarter was reached and was in third place, Lucy Heyer was ahead at the quarter and at the half, but at the six-furleng pole Prince Elgin had gained on her. He could not hold the pace and on the home stretch the Wilkes-Barre mare made a little gain, winning easily by two lengths. Nora Mack was third, about a head in front of Union Prince, who made a game effort to get out of last place. Time by quar-ters was: First, 0.37; second, 1.16\(\frac{1}{2}\); third. 1.53; mile, 2.33. This is the first race in which Lucy Heyer ever started, but the daughter of Wilkes Boy showed good blood. Second heat—The sun came out in full strength, lighting up the picturesque grounds and putting new life into the trotters with its warm rays. The field of four got the word after two ttempts. At the quarter Lucy Heyer led, with A Prince closest up in the time of 37 sec-Union Prince next in 1.16. The three-quarter mark on the fence was breasted in 1.56, with Lucy Heyer a length in front, still chased by Union Prince. Ot the finish Lucy was a half length in the van with Union Prince the same distance ahead of Nora Mack. Prince Elgin was a length behind the West Pittston made. The mile was done in 2.33 1/2.

Third heat-At the twelfth line up Starter Moore let them go and the pace down to the quarter, which was made in 35 seconds, was good and hot. Lucy Heyer got there first, with Union Prince second. Passing the stand first time Lucy led Union Prince by a bare head in 1.14½. At the three-quarters she still led, with Union Prince and Prince Elgin tied for second place. The six furlongs was made in 1.51. Coming down the home stretch Prince Elgin outstepped his rival Prince and finished second, a head before him, with Nora Mack three lengths behind the field. The attention of the judges was directed to the running of Prince Elgin and they decided he was entitled to third place in the heat, thus giving Union Prince the third money in the race. H. S. Gorman, the owner of Elgin, protested hotly, but the decision stood The mile was made in 2.29%. Summary:

Local and District Organizers on the Alert to Keep Men from Working-Strikers Ugly.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Shenandoah, Oct. 3.-The only important development in the strike situation today was the posting of notices by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company at all of its collieries and mining "patches" announcing a net increase of 10 per cent. in wages and a willingness to hear the griev ances of its employes.

The local and district organizers were on the alert, and in less than five minutes after the company's proposal had been placarded, a warning to the mine workers was circulated. In this town and vicinity Organizer C. S. Pottier distributed circulars printed in the English, Polish and Lithuanian languages, calling on the strikers to pay no attention to the company's offer, but to wait for the decision of the Mine Workers' convention. The impression here tonight is that none of the strikers will attempt to return to work until so ordered by President Mitchell. There are no indications of trouble in the Panther Creek valley. General Gobin has been informed that a big meeting of mine workers will be held at Lansford tomorrow night. A large number of Hazleton strikers are expected to attend. ALL MINERS WILL BE IN DEMAND

When Work Is Resumed Difficulty May Be Experienced in Manning the Mines-Men Scarce.

Wilkes-Barre, Oct. 3 .- Neither the operators nor striking miners expect any change in the Wyoming valley until the United Mine Workers take official action on the ten per cent. increase in wages offered by the big coal companies. The talk about the individual operator objecting to the offer not taken seriously by the trade here. The representatives of the Delaware and Hudson, Lackawanna, Lehigh Valley, and Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre companies say if the strikers consent to go back to work at the terms offered, the individual operators will not stand in the way. In fact, it would do them no good to stand in the way. They would have to pay the miners the same wages as the big companies. ness. This they are not willing to do, as was judged from the actions of have been grumbling a great deal because the big companies do not do work. And if the representatives of the big companies are to be believed, the individual operator is not the oppressed man he would have the public believe he is. He gets his share of the sales, and in many cases his operating expenses are a great deal less than those of the big companies.

The question of manning the mine should work be resumed at an early date, is now becoming serious. Before miners were scarce, and for the want of competent men many "breasts" in worked had to remain idle. Since the strike began hundreds of the best miners have left the country for Wales. The places of these men cannot be Councilman D. W. Jones, of this city, who has just returned from Wales, says since the great coal strike in that country has been settled miners are very scarce. The old hands left for other parts, many going to the war in South Africa and others to Australia. There is a scarcity of labor. All miners are in demand and relatives of Welsh-Americans are writing for them daily to come to the old country. It does not require a second invitation for many. With the promise of good wages and steady work they are leaving on every ship. The leaders of the United Mine Workers in Luzerne county are jubilant over the success of the big demonstration yesterday. The auditing committee met this afternoon and passed upon the expense account of the parade. Each striker was assessed one cent and this was more than ample to pay all expenses. Mayor Nichols has sent a congratulatory message to the officers of the United Mine Workers. He says the crowd of people that gathered in the city yesterday was the largest in its history, yet when he went to hold court this morning there was not a single offender to be tried.

This was the first time this has happened in eighteen months. Charles Mardus, a striker at the Clear Spring Brook colliery, at West Pittston, who was shot last Friday night, died today at the hospital at that place. Mardus and a companion were seen by two watchmen at the colliery as they were trying to break the company's office. As the watchmen approached the men. Watchman Thomas Williams shouted to them to stop, but they continued to run, and Williams fired. The ball struck Mardus in the back and he fell. His companion escaped. Mardus was thought to be dangerously wounded. but he died suddenly this afternoon.

Widow of a Murdered Man in In-By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press

Marion, Ind., Oct. 3 .- Mrs. Elizabeth Stilwell filed suit in the superior court today against Mark and William Nesbitt for $10,000 damages. The Nesbitts shot and killed Francis Stilwell, husband of the plaintiff, in Swayzee, Sept. 5. The Nesbitts are desperadoes and have terrorized the rural towns of the county for several years. They rode into Swayzee on the evening of Sept. 5 and went to Stilwell's saloon, secured two revolvers and started to the jail to release a friend who was confined there. Stilwell followed them to the street and demanded the return of his revolvers, when the Nesbitts shot him. They mounted their horses and rode away. They were pursued by the sheriff and posse. They were captured after a long chase and placed in jail here. They are awaiting trial on the charge of murder. They both own good farms in this county and their father is wealthy.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. London, Oct. 3 .- The results of today's polling in the parliamentary general elections were less striking than those of Tuesday. The Conservative majorities still show increases in numerous contests, but in a less marked degree. On the other hand, the Liberals have gained additional seats. On the whole, the indications are that there will not be much change in the complexion of the new parliament. As matters stand now, out of the 287 candidates returned, the relative strength of parties is as follows: Ministerialists, 212; Liberals, including abor members, 47; Nationalists, 28.
