Interesting Pointers on the Manipulation of the Fragrant Weed.

"Because cigarettes are said to contain an admixture of certain drugs, which are believed to be deleterious to health," said a Washington dealer in tobacco, "many benevolent ladies and well-intending gentlemen, the latter, in all probability, having never cut open, much less smoked, a cigar in their lives, think that the small roll of leaf so dear to the hearts and purses of other men is loaded with all sorts of inflammable and dangerous materials. "As a matter of actual fact, cigars are, as a rule, made of pure, good tobacco, free from any 'doctoring' processes or manipulation which add to the already sufficient poisonous qualities of the active principle of tobacconicotine. There is enough of the nar-"The so-called 'doctoring' is largely a matter of popular fiction. The real eaf of the tobacco is too cheap to attempt to palm off a smoking substitute The poorer grades of the weed are rank enough with adulteration. The cigars put on the market nowadays are vast ly superior to those smoked by men ome years ago, and especially is this true of the domestic leaf, which, by improved cultivation and quality of the seed, and advanced methods of curing. packing and handling, has undergone a change in keeping with the times. Beyond a slight sprinkling of innocuous flavoring extract, to enhance the aroma, as perfume on a handkerchief, cigars of today are 'straight goods. They are worse than some women buying dry goods-some men; not all. These men are great bores, as other men of observing bent of mind must notice, when the first kind are explaining to us what they think they know about tobacco when made in the form of a cigar. "In smoking tobaccos there is a great deal of mixture of different kinds of leaf, but it is tobacco leaf all right. The finest grade of smoking leaf comes from Henry county, N. C., and I include plug chewing tobacco in this grade. It is a beautiful golden green color, of exquisite flavor, so fine that it is almost exclusively used as a 'mixer to give grade, flavor and appearance to inferior qualities. There is something in the soil of that county which produces this leaf, for it is found nowhere else in the United States, and it brings the highest price. Smokers will recognize these tiny golden flecks among the darker grains in their boxes of high-grade smoking tobacco. manufacturers of plug tobacco gild, as it were, the outer surfaces with this golden green leaf, and it is very attractive to the eye of chewers. The in-terior of the plug will be composed of other and darker grades.

"It is in the making of plug tobacco that the 'doctoring' processes come in more than in any other form of tobacco. Plug tobacco is made 'sweet' by adding a proper proportion of molasses in the preparation of the plug, according to the grade. Some plus grades are very sweet and strong. A special grade is made for the United States navy, and it is very strong Most chewers prefer the sweet plug but some will chew only the kinds. I have heard it said that it chewers could go through a plug tobac co factory they would be less inclined to indulge in their habit. A bakery is often a dirty place and so is a candy factory. Places where things are 'made' are usually more or less filthy and plug tobacco factories are no exception to the rule. Restaurant kitchens will turn the strongest stomach while the kitchen in a man's own house is a place to be avoided just before and after meal time.

RUSSIAN SAILOR ARRESTED. Suspected of Robbing a Dead Body of $10,000 Worth of Jewelry. By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Pittsburg, Oct. 3 .- Charles R. Sammels, a Russian sailor, suspected of robbing the dead body of Miss Jane Corrigan, of Cleveland, of $10,000 worth of jewelry, was arrested here today and will be taken back to Cleveland for trial. Several months ago Miss Corrigan was drowned in Lake Erie by the wrecking of her father's yacht. When the wreck was raised and the body recovered the jewelry was missing. Sammels, who found the body, was suspected, but he disappeared. Today he was discovered in this city. In his pocket was found a pair of gold cuff buttons marked "J. C.," the initials of the dead girl.

man as Thackeray has described them. The play is her adventures, her labors, if you like, her voyage of discovery into life and her conquests and defeats and griefs and pleasures therein. The popular idea of Becky Sharp is that of a woman who combines lack of heart with presence of mind, a creature of endless life, vitality and uncommon disingenuousness and most extraor-dinary indifferences to all things, all men and all women, except Becky Sharp.

The playwright has described Becky in action as she pushes, manouevers, works and succeeds, as she triumphs and obtains her wishes and finally as she falls and drags down those about her. The cast of the play includes Guy Bates Post, as Rawdon Crawley; Cecil Kingstone, as Marquis of Steyne; James Allen, as Sirr Pitt, Annie Alliston, as Miss Crawley; Josephine Foy, as Amelia Sed-ley; Rose Anthon, as Miss Pinkerton; Miss May Donahue, as Mrs. Major O'Dowd, besides numerous other members, and the production is com plete in every detail.
