

WEST SCRANTON

MASS MEETING AND TORCHLIGHT PARADE

ARRANGEMENTS FOR OPENING REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN.

West Side Club Will Participate in the Demonstration Next, Thursday Evening—Robert Morris Lodge Re-Open Their Rooms with a Social and Smoker—Temperance Societies Arranging for Quarterly Convention—McNallys Committed to Jail. Other Events of Local Interest.

A spirited meeting of the West Side Republican club was held last evening, at which many members, who have been absentees for months, put in an appearance. The approaching campaign is the stimulus for renewed interest in the club, and the details of the mass meeting and parade to be held next Thursday evening was the principal topic discussed.

Robert Morris Lodge Social. The renovated quarters of the Robert Morris lodge were reopened last evening, after the painters and decorators had finished beautifying the rooms, and the members celebrated the event with a social session and smoker.

Preparing for the Convention. The joint committee of the St. Leo's, St. Paul's and Father Mathew societies met in St. Leo's rooms last evening to make arrangements for the quarterly convention to be held in St. David's hall on Sunday, Oct. 14.

Fashionable Gloves

—FOR—

Fashionable Women

You will find a window full of gloves in the store front today that will serve as an object lesson in new styles and correct fashions. It will also serve to dissipate the old idea that there is not much difference in gloves from year to year.

The New 1-Button Walking Glove

Will be shown in an endless variety of shades and makes, while the two-clasp styles, which are still in demand, will also be well represented. The same remarks apply to Dress Kid Gloves, while in gloves for evening wear there is no stock that can compare with ours, within a wide radius of Scranton.

But You'll Gain a Better Idea

Of the nice points in glove fashions by a visit to the department where a sort of show day reception will be in progress all day, and visitors who only come to look made heartily welcome.

BIG SEWER CAVE-IN ON LOCUST STREET.

Occurred Wednesday Night and Will Delay Work of Construction—Funeral of Mrs. Catherine Hein Yesterday—A Novel Coal Picking Contest Won by James Barrett—Work on the New Cedar Avenue Pave to Be Commenced Today—Other Brief News Notes and Personals.

On Wednesday evening, about 11:30 o'clock, a cave-in of the sewer trench, which is being dug on Locust street, below Cedar avenue, occurred, completely filling the ditch for a distance of twenty-three feet, snapping asunder the four-inch gas main and breaking the six-inch water main, causing the water to completely fill the trench and allowing a great deal of gas to escape.

The gas main was not repaired until about 6 o'clock last evening, thus allowing the gas to escape during Wednesday night and all day yesterday. The odor of the gas was carried as far up Pryor and Third streets as they are. The cave-in was the result of an underground spring in an extremely sandy soil. The work on the sewer will be delayed several days in order to strengthen the sides before excavating any further.

The funeral of Mrs. Catherine Hein, of Molke avenue, took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her late residence and was largely attended. The services were in charge of Rev. P. T. Ballhorn, of St. Paul's church, Prospect avenue, who spoke touching the deceased's good life. Interment was made in Minooka.

The pall-bearers were J. F. Menchler, August Krause, John T. Goodrich and S. T. Kuhn. M. Hessinger conducted the funeral.

Coal Picking Contest.
A novel and interesting contest was held off yesterday morning on Carr's patch, where James Beck, Joseph Ruane, Martin McHale and James Barrett, all young men of South Scranton, undertook to outdo each other in a coal-picking contest. This contest was not limited to a twelve-foot ring. Each contestant was allowed to roam over the patch in search of the now precious stones.

At the end of the allotted time, and after careful measuring and a good deal of weighing, James Barrett was awarded first prize, he having picked twenty bags. First prize was a watch, donated by Joseph Ruane, who, in an appropriate speech, turned it over to the winner. James Daly was referee.

Work on the new vitrified pave, which is going to be laid on Cedar avenue, from Willow street to Burgess' corner, will be begun today by the Scranton Vitrified Brick and Tile Manufacturing company, who have been awarded the contract.

After this section has been paved, Cedar avenue will present a paved front from the Cedar avenue bridge to Birch street, a distance of four blocks, one block of which is asphalt and the other ten cobblestones.

Residents along Pitston avenue have been engaged during the last few weeks in laying new sidewalks and also making the necessary gutter repairs. A fine new walk has been laid from Locust street to Brock street on the residential side. On the cemetery side of the street arrangements have also been made by the trustees of the German Presbyterian church for a new sidewalk.

The members of the Andrew Dancing class are making preparations for their first annual masquerade ball, to be given Friday evening, Oct. 19, in Germania hall, on Cedar avenue. A prize will be given to the lady and gentleman appearing in the most original and novel costume.

Arrangements are being made by the Lachawanna German Benevolent society for their fifth anniversary, to be held on Tuesday evening, Oct. 23, in Athletic hall, Alder street.

The Scranton Saengerunde is making arrangements for a choral entertainment to be held Oct. 21 in Athletic hall.

The committee in charge of the coming edition of the Scranton Athletic club, Oct. 31, in Athletic hall, has completed all arrangements and an exhibition will be given, after which there will be a reception and dance.

Camp No. 439, Patriotic Order Sons of America Drum corps will hold an entertainment and ball Oct. 25 in Athletic hall.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Cedar Avenue Methodist church decided at a meeting Wednesday to hold a turkey dinner in the parlors of the church on Thanksgiving day.

The Loyalty club of the South Scranton Women's Christian association will hold an important business meeting tonight. The matter of vital importance to the club will be discussed and every member is requested to be present.
