ROYAL ARCANUM SOCIAL SESSION

HELD IN IVORITE HALL LAST EVENING.

Addresses by Mayor Moir, City Solicitor Vosburg, Attorney Charles Olver and Others—Stick of Giant Powder Exploded and Wrecked a Stove on South Main Avenue. William Price, Sr., Injured—Lieutenant Williams Perplexed—Funerals and Other News Items.

Another of the popular social sessions under the auspices of Lackawanna council, No. 1153, Royal Arcanum, was held in Ivorite hall last evening, which was attended by a larger crowd than on any previous occasion.

The entertainment, speeches and refreshments provided were excellent and thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Mayor Moir acted as chairman, and injected considerable humor into his remarks during the evening.

City Solicitor Vosburg spoke of Scranton as a city of the second class and said that all we now lack is the official document from the governor to proclaim us in the second class. He told of the changes in the municipal government that will necessarily come with the change, and predicted that it will open up a new era for Scranton.

The increased population will add greatly to the interest of the city both at home and abroad, and while the results may be confusing at first, all the men chosen in the change for public office will undoubtedly fulfill the highest duties of citizenship for the public good and welfare.

When Mr. Vosburg had concluded his remarks Mayor Moir took occasion to say some things. He spoke encouragingly of the change soon to be made in the municipal government and advised young men to study government, especially municipal government.

"The city ought, and will, own its own water utilities, as they rightfully belong to the city," he said, "and West Scranton ought to send good men to take a hand in the city government. The president of the water company has the city in his fist and can crush it if he sees fit."

His honor abruptly terminated his remarks just when his hearers expected him to drift into a more lengthy discussion of the water question, and called upon Llewellyn Jones and Clarence Florey to sing a duet. They rendered "Larboard Watch Ahoy" in a pleasing manner.

BRADFORD COUNTY. Special to the Scranton Tribune. Towanda, Oct. 5.—"A dollar show for ten cents" is successfully holding crowded houses at Towanda this week. The company of high-class artists are under the management of the Insurance Medicine company, of Akron, Ohio, and the programme consists of vaudeville acts, excellent singing, dancing, etc. Encores follow after each appearance, and the audience is kept in a continual uproar. The company carry perfectly refined gentlemen and ladies, and wherever visited the place sends a high recommendation ahead. A few of Towanda's horse fanciers are expecting to have a course of local races on their new race track.

No clue has been found of the culprits who visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Horton, in Shesquin township, this week, bold and gagged the aged couple and departed with a large sum of money, a gold watch, gun, etc. They also went off with a horse and wagon, which was afterwards found at Athens. A similar case occurred in this vicinity some months ago.
