WYOMING COUNTY COURTS.

Cases Heard at Regular October Term in Tunkhannock.

Tunkhannock, Oct. 8.-The regular October term of the quarter sessions of Wyoming county convened here this afternoon, President Judge E. M. Dunham and Associates Vaughn and Bardwell presiding. Immediately upon the opening of court the grand jury received the charge of the court and were sent out, with O. M. Parks, of Meshoppen borough, as foreman. The first case sent before the grand jury was the homicide case in which James Terry, of Falls township, is the defendant. The case of Commonwealth vs. George Terwilliger was first called in the sessions. The charge was defrauding a hotel keeper. Defendant pleads guilty and is sentenced by the court to pay the costs of prosecution and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for the space of twenty-four hours.

In the case of Commonwealth vs. Byron Sutton, charge larceny, the jury was sworn and prosecutor not appearing, a verdict of not guilty was taken. Commonwealth vs. Jesse Secor, fornication and bastardy, nol pros was entered with leave of court.

Commonwealth vs. C. A. Bobb, assault and battery, nol pros entered with leave of court. Hon. H. D. Tiffany, of Nicholson bor ough, candidate on the Republican ticket for representative, was drawn as a juryman at this term of court and asked to be excused from serving. Upon the situation being explained to the court he was excused.

The homicide case in which James Terry is the defendant went before the grand jury this afternoon, and will be ready for trial some time tomorrow. This case will in all probability occupy the greater part of the week and necessitate the continuing of some of the other sessions' cases until the Jan-

G. S. Burrows, the regular court stenographer, is absent from his position week, and the place is being filled by B. M. Farles, of Northumberland.

The Tunkhannock delegation who have been in Harrisburg for the past few days, called there by the contest in the matter of the nomination for state senator in this district have returned home, the case having been heard before Judges Simonton and Welss on Friday and Saturday. The judges intimated that the certificate of B. W. Lewis, the candidate from this county, swould be thrown out, and the question as to the validity of the certificate of R. S. Edmiston, of Bradford, was held under advisement.

Down before 'Squire Kutz this morning was heard the case of Commonwealth vs. Charles Miller, who was arrested at the instance of George Sutton, charged with stealing his pocketbook. There were several witnesses present when the case was called for trial, but the prosecutor did not put in an appearance, and in his absence the commonwealth was unable to prove the loss of a pocketbook and the prisoner was discharged.

Wilkes-Barre, is in town this week as organized a Democratic club to carry a witness in the matter wealth vs. Harding.

PRAIRIE CHICKEN WAGER

John Hanton Eats a Chicken Each Day for Thirty Days. Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press.

Chicago, Oct. 8 .- Tom Hanton, president of Tattersall's Athletic club, now holds the record in prairie chicken eatng. Thirty birds, one each day for thirty days, was the feat he accomplished, an undertaking which no one else who has attempted it has been able to do. A month ago Mr. Hanton was eating in company with Thomas Nawn, the comedian; Abe Jacobs, of the Olympia theater and "Smiley" Corbett in Charley King's restaurant on Fifth avenue. They ordered prairie hicken. Hanton remarked during the neal that he could eat prairie chicken for every meal.

'You can't eat a prairie chicken a day for thirty days," Nawn said. A wager was made, Nawn and Jacobs placing $400 in the hands of the restaurant keeper against $400 of Hanton's money that he could not accomolish the feat. The understanding was that Hanton was to eat the bird between 6 and 8 o'clock in the evening. was to order any sort of drink he desired and the losing side was to pay the restaurant bill. At 6 o'clock last evening Hanton called at King's restaurant and gave the order for his thirtieth prairie chicken. Just as the dish was brought before him an orchestra in the street, which had been hired for the purpose, began playing 'All I Want is My Chicken." They followed with "Whose Got the Key to the Hen Coop! Hanton ate his chicken, but declares that he would not eat another for $1,000.

TYPHOID FEVER

Dr. Allen Said There Is an Unusually Large Number of Cases and something Should Be Done to Ascertain the Origin.

The number of cases of typhold fever in Scranton and the vicinity is reaching higher proportions, and while during the fall of every year the city is affected by the disease, still this years typhoid is more prevalent than usual. During September, nineteen cases were reported to the board of health, and ten deaths, which figures are high in comparison with former statistics.

All of the city hospitals have a number of typhoid patients and practicing physicians throughout the city daily meet with cases of the ravaging Illness. Already this month, several cases have been reported to the board of health, and a number of deaths have occurred.

The disease is very prevalent in Peckvilel at present, where twenty cases are reported. Typhiod fever is always caused by either defective drainage or contaminated water, which favors the growth of the typhoid germs, and Health Officer Allen yesterday told a Tribune man that unless there is a marked decrease in the number of cases reported, he would submit a proposition to the board of health, providing for a bacteriological examination of the water supply.

Dr. Allen, in discussing the situation with a Tribune man yesterday, said: "While Scranton isn't suffering from Tiffany's Tuesday a programme will what I would call a typhoid epidemic, be rendered consisting of speaking, still there are an unusually large singing and instrumental music. measures should be taken to look after "The disease is not considered contagious, although the idea generally prevails that it is, and while it might e communicated by means of clothing and linen, still it cannot be spread by mere personal contact. In former years it was considered contagious. Therefore it is plain that it must originate from some universal source. "At this season of the year, after a hot and dry summer, the water supplies are low, and contain bacilli which might cause disease. As yet no examination has been made. Scranton is usually very free from typhoid fever, and this renders the present spread of the disease so peculiar." Dr. Allen then passed into a genera discussion of the disease, and remarking, "Here are a few points on the subject," picked up a medical book on the subject, and read as follows: "Typhoid fever is especially prevalent in temperate climates. "Defective drainage and contamin ated water are two particular conditions favoring its development. "Filth and bad ventilation lower the ower of resistance of the person affected. "In fall months it prevails most and is known as the autumnal fever.' At present eight cases of typhold fever are being treated at the Hahnemann hospital. Three patients are at the Lackawanna, one of whom, a small boy by the name of John Boyle, is now John Strange, was brought in only yesterday. Boyle has been receiving treatment during the last two months. Strange is colored and resides at 333 Penn avenue. At the Moses Tayolr who is a member of the State Boar! of Charities; F. L. Fuller, Thomas Shotton, H. E. Paine, F. J. Nickert, Secretary of the Board C. J. Gillespie, Superintendent G. W. Beemer and wife, and Solicitor of the Board John F. Scragg. Superintendent Beemer is treasurer of the association, and both Colonel

Boles and Mr. Fuller have been requested to address the convention on topics relating to the general work ione in alleviating the poor and needy. It is expected that there will be a representation of between three hundred and three hundred and fifty directors of the poor, from all over the state, as the convention this year is particularly important, being the silver jubilee of the association and com-sary. Governor Stone has been requested to be present, as have also several members of the legislature, and members of the State Board of Charities and committee on lunacy. The convention will be called to order at 10 o'clock this morning by Prestdent Louis Tisch, of Wilkes-Barre, and it will be in session today, tomorrow and Thursday. The Scranton delegation intend bringing before the meeting the subject of erecting a suitable establishment in this vicinity for the benefit of feebleminded children. As has already been pointed out in these columns, there are only two institutions of this sort in Pennsylvania, one of which is in the southeastern and the other in the western part of the state, and both of which are so crowded that it is impossible for the local directors to secure admittance for many of the applicants in this district, and for whom as a result no provisions can be made.

The matter was spoken on at the convention in Eric last year by Attorney Scragg. It will now be prosecuted with fresh vigor, and efforts made to bring a bill before the legislature, providing for the building of a proper asylum in Northeastern Pennsylvania.

JR. O. U. A. M. FIGHT TAKES NEW TURN

The Supreme Court Overrules Judge Weiss' Decision and Declares Against the Insurgents.

The following Associated Press despatch announces the victory of the loyalists over the insurgents in the fight between rival factions of the Junior Order United American Mechanics, which conflict had its inception at state convention held here a year

Pittsburg, Oct. 8 .- The so-called insurgents he Junior Order of United American Mechanics were finally beaten in their attempt to have the court set aside the jurisdiction of the state subordinate state councils in the matter of col-The fight startell in the Derry council, Dauphin county, when a bill in equity was filed against the state and national councils to restrain these bodies from assessing taxes upon the subordi-nate lodges. The decision of the lower court was a victory for Derry council, but in an opinion handed down today by the Supreme court the decision of the lower court is reversed and the costs placed upon Derry council.

This is a sweeping victory for the loyalists, it is claimed, and the members of the J. P. Winer council at Seventh avenue and Grant evening turned the affair into a celebration of the victory. The fight for supremacy on the part of the parent body of the order has attracted attention all over the country. In his opinion Justice Brown says:

"In levying the tax it cannot be pretended that this order transcended any corporate power granted; and the public which cannot fairly be said to have any interest in the powers pes-sessed by this family order, most certainly had none as to where they were exercised. It could make no manner of difference to the public whether the tax was levied in Philadelphia or Minnesota. The public were not affected. The order did not deal with them, but only with its members, its own private family. It had no stockholders to be subjected to risk, hard-ship or fraud, and it did not undertake to enter into any contract. Its relations with the members of the complaining council had already been established and presumably existed for years. The levying of the tax was simply providing a revenue for the continued existence of the organization of which these complainants were practically component parts.

"No reason, therefore, exists for the application to the case before us as to a rule of the corporate acts beyond the limits of the state creating the body, and the appellants justly ask us to except them from it. Any other view would compel us to the conclusion that all re-ligious, literary, patriotic or beneficial societies of a national character, scope or origin, which have been incorporated by the courts, by acts of general assembly or since 1874, under the genmeetines, transacting their business adopting rules and laws at places outside of the Judge Weiss decided that the National council session held at Minneapolis was illegal. The State council officers appealed the case to the Supreme court.

The decision is a decided victory for the State council officers and the subordinate councils who were loyal to the National council. The effect of this decision will enable the hesitating councils in Lackawanna county to decide what to do, now that they the law. It is probable they will pay the National council tax and all differences will be adjusted and harmony prevail once more.
