TAXING TROLLEY COMPANY. What Select Councilman Chittenden

Thinks About the Plan. Select Councilman Chittenden is especially sanguine about the results of the conference which is to be beld in a few days between the license comtallies of select council and the offi-als of the Scranton Railway comny, relative to the plan of taxing the gross receipts of the company five per cent. In place of all other taxes, and apropriating half of the money so realized for park improvement purposes.

He stated yesterday to a Tribune man that he had every reason to believe that the company would be perfeetly willing to agree to such a proposition if it was set before them squarely and fairly.

"There is no question," said he, "but that this company should be taxed more than it is at present, and a great deal more. Except the Gas and Water company, I consider the street railway company the best franchise in town. It secured our streets free of charge, and it should be made to pay a fair share of taxes into the city coffers.

"The objection has been raised that we can't tax the company more than what the aggregate of a tax of $100 on each car would amount to. I dispute this. We are allowed to tax both poles and wire by the act of assembly in addition to a tax of $100 on cars. We at present tax the poles a meager pittance of fifty cents each, but we do not tax the wire. I think that the total of a combined tax on cars, poles and wire would be very near what a tax of five per cent, of the gross receipts would amount to. "The fact that one-half of the money thus derived would be used for park purposes will, more than anything else. in my opinion, encourage the company officials to accept the proposition. They know that the more we improve our parks, the more the people will go to them, and necessarily the larger will be their receipts."

THE VIADUCT ORDINANCE.

Councilman Chittenden's Theory Regarding Damages.

The viaduct ordinance was referred to the streets and bridges committee select council at last Thursday night's meeting of that body, but was not reported at the special meeting held on Tuesday night. This nettled some of the West Scranton councilmen and as the committee will not on the measure tonight a strong effort will be made to take it out of their hands. The reason that the committee did not report on the ordinance on Tuesday night and will not report on it tonight is because the chairman. Charles E. Chittenden, is making an effort to secure some sort of an estimate of the damages to be incurred. in order that when council votes on the measure the members "may know what they's voting on," as he says.

Mr. Chittenden has a theory which he is going to endeavor to prove. The theory is that it would be far cheaper for the city to buy up the property on both sides of the street, from Seventh to Ninth streets, instead of paying damages for it. He believes that the municipality could then raze the buildings and sell the property at a figure sufficiently high to make the difference between it and the original cost far less than the damages which will have to be paid.

He is going about proving this by secuing from the property owners estimate of their damages and of what they would sell their property

Congressman Littlefield Has Been

Secured to Make Addresses. T. F. Penman, chairman of the can county committee, yesterday brust, jr., Colonel and Mrs, E. H. Ripceived assurances from the Republican national congressional committee that Congressman Charles E. Littlefield, of Maine, would be sent to this city for two or three days at the end of the month for the purpose of delivering several addresses. Chairman Penman has not as yet decided where or when the meetings which Congressman Littlefield is to address will be held. He also announces that it is extremely probable that ex-Senator M. S. Quay and Governor Willlam A. Stone, who are now campaigning through the state, will speak in this city some time during the month. A meeting will be held on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Babylon hall, Old Forge. This will be addressed by Major Everett Warren and Lewis B. Carter. Another meeting is to be held in Old Forge on the evening of October 19, when Mayor James Moir and Hon. John R. Farr will deliver ad-'dresses in Fallon's hall.

A meeting has been arranged for Carbondale on the evening of October 17. It will be held in the opera house, but the list of speakers has not yet been decided upon. The dates for the meetings to be held in the central city, North Scranton, South Scranton and Dunmore have not yet been fixed.

CLEVER SWINDLER ARRESTED. T. H. Greer Had Many Schemes Up His Sleeve.

T. H. Green, or Greer, an elderly man with gray hair and moustache, of rather distinguished bearing, and wearing clothes which were formerly wellfitting, was arraigned before Alderman Millar yesterday at the instance of Chief of Police Robling, who charged him with being an impostor. The chief alleges that since Greer's arrival in the city, three weeks ago, he has been trying to secure money for a worthless deed for property in the west. Another one of his dodges was standing outside of churches Sundays and begging people for money for a poor widow.

Another of his schemes was the for mation of a servant girls' league. He visited houses via the back door and represented himself to the domestics as being the organizer of a cooks and maids' protective league. He would then request $1 as an initiation fee. Alderman Millar gave Greer until 12 o'clock to leave the city. He left.

WEDDING IN OLD TRIPP HOMESTEAD

MARRIAGE OF MISS SIMPSON AND H. E. FOLKENSON.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Simpson United in Marriage Last Night to a Well Known Baltimore Merchant-Ceremony Was Performed by Rev. George L. Alrich. Bride Was Attired in a Magnificent Gown of White Duchesse Satin. The Guests Who Were Present.

Under a canopy of smilax and ferns in the drawing room of the old Tripp homestead, on North Main avenue, Miss Mae Louise Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Simpson, last evening plighted her troth to Harry Edgar Folkenson, of Baltimore, Md. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. George L. Airich, paster of Grace Reformed church, and took place promptly at 7.30 o'clock. The drawing room had been beautified with flowers and potted plants arranged by the deft hands of the florists and presented a delightful apeparance. The spacious lawn outside was strung with myriads of Chinese lanterns hung on strings festooned from tree to tree. The bride entered the room on the arm of her father and took her stand by the groom, who was awaiting her under the canopy. She made a mar-velously beautiful picture, as she stood there attired in a beautiful gown of white Duchesse satin, trimmed with Colonial point d'esprit lace. She wore a pearl wreath in her light, wavy hair, and carried a boquet of white bridal roses. On her bodice was pinned a clover leaf of pearls, the gift of the groom.

BRIDE'S ATTENDANTS. The bride was attended by Miss Jessie Ripple, as a bridesmaid, and by Miss Jay Doster and Miss Edith Simpson as maids of honor. All three are cousins of the bride. The Misses Ripple and Doster wore dainty gowns of white Persian, trimmed with Valenciennes lace. Miss Simpson wore a white chiffon gown ornamented with pearls. The flower girl, little Miss Armbrust, wore a dress of white chiffon and carried a basket of pink roses. The groom was attended by J. Robert Simpson, brother of the bride.

The ushers were Milton O'Connell, Benjamin Maxey and Charles Crothamel. At the end of the ceremony, the young couple stood under the canopy and received the congratulaof the numerous assembled A delicious wedding supper guests was then served and partaken of by

SHORTAGE FOUND IN EAGAN'S ACCOUNTS

It Has Been Made Good by Him-The Amount Is Between Two and Three Thousand Dollars.

T. J. Eagan, money order clerk at the postoffice for several years past, was arrested Wednesday by Deputy United States Marshal Clark Lowry at the instance of Postoffice Inspector Gorman, on the charge of embezzlement. He was taken before United States Commissioner Taylor and held in $5,000 bail for his appearance in court.

Inspector Gorman was engaged in making an examination of Eagan's acounts the beginning of last week for the purpose of discovering a small shortage, when he discovered a series of embezzlements extending over a period of three years.

He immediately caused Eagan's armost energetic young business men in rest. The latter admitted his guilt, that city. The couple left at mid- and voluntarily came to Inspector Gornight for Niagara Falls, where they man's assistance, and ever since his arrest has been closeted with him every day for the purpose of discovering the exact amount of the embezzle ment. This was ascertained yesterday and was immediately made good by Mr.

The exact amount could not be Folkenson, Miss Nellie Folkenson, R. learned, but it is known to be between C. Folkenson and Mrs. Richards, of $2,000 and $3,000. Efforts will be made to have the case set aside by th court, considering that full restitution has been made, and on account of Mr. Eagan's previous excellent reputa-

EVERHART HAS LEFT TOWN. Is Thought to Have Gone to League Island to Enlist.

Edwin E. Everhart has left the city. His relatives admit this and it is now known that he quit Scranton on Tuesday morning. His exact whereabout are unknown, and neither his father nor any of those intimately connected with him wiff throw any light on the matter. It is, however, supposed from hints dropped, that he is now at League Island, near Philadelphia, and has joined the marines. He did not enlist at the local station, but there is an enlisting branch at Allentown, and he may have enlisted in the service there. The crime of which Everhart is accused would not stand in the way of his eligibility. While the requirements are strict, nevertheless they adhere to the old principle of believing a man innocent until he is proven guilty, and inasmuch as nothing has yet been The marriage of Miss Jennie Alex- actually proven against the young man, in the recruiting officer's eyes, bald took place yesterday in Trinity he is regarded as almost, if not quite, blameless.

QUALIFYING ROUNDS FOR TWO LEADING PRIZES.

Large Number of Players Entered. Scores That Were Made by the Men. Thirty-Six Holes Were Played. Way the Men Are Paired off for Today's Playing for the Country Club and Consolation Cups-Links Were Not in the Best Condition.

The open golf tournament at the Scranton Country club began under most auspicious circumstances yesterday morning. During the day the qualifying rounds for the Country club and consolation cups were played. Several pairs started off very early on the first qualifying round, and the thirty-six holes were completed by the majority of players long before nightfall. .The putting greens were too fast, because of the dryness, and consequently the scores fell below the iverage. Scarcely a member of the local club made his usual showing. and many of the visitors also failed
