CROSSLEY TRIED FOR A GRAVE OFFENSE

ON THE STAND HE MADE A DENIAL OF THE CHARGES.

Jeffrey Powers and Thomas Ford, Jr., Convicted of Keeping a Speakeasy—Several Pleas of Guilty Entered—Liquor Men Charged with Selling on Sunday Escaped by Paying the Costs—West Side Boys on Trial for Breaking Into a Foundry. Other Cases Heard.

H. J. Crossley, a middle aged man, was tried before Judge R. W. Archbald yesterday, charged with having attempted to criminally assault Minnie Marsh, a 9-year-old girl. Crossley is a veteran of the Civil war and was for years a commercial traveler and is widely known through this part of the state. His daughter, a beautiful young woman, sat in the court room all day and listened to the awful evidence adduced against her father. She was stylishly attired and her face was partially concealed by a light black veil. Notwithstanding the terrible nature of the charge against her father she still clings to him.

Crossley at the time of the alleged offense, July 1 last, lived in half of a double house on Gibson street between Washington and Adams avenues. Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Marsh and their children occupied the other half of the house. Eva Marsh testified that on July 1 Crossley attempted to assault her at the Erie and Wyoming Valley station, and that on several occasions he exposed his person, took undue liberties with her and spoke in a vile manner.

Minnie Hine, another little girl, corroborated everything Eva Marsh said except with reference to the attempt to assault. Crossley had not attempted anything of that kind with her, but otherwise she had the same experiences with him. Bessie Marsh, age 8 years, also gave some testimony about Crossley's improper actions toward her and her sister. The girls said that Crossley always gave them money when he was familiar and told them not to say anything to their parents about it.

HE DENIED CHARGES.

Crossley went on the stand in his own behalf. He has been in jail since early in July awaiting trial. He denied positively all of the charges made by the little girls and hinted, rather than stated, that the prosecution was due to enmity of Mrs. Marsh towards him. He knew things about her he said. On cross-examination he denied that his wife charged him with the offense for which he is now on trial in the presence of the chief of police and threatened to shoot him. He also denied that he had, in the presence of the chief on the night of his arrest, said he would beg Mr. Marsh's pardon and leave the city the next day if the case against him was not prosecuted.

In his charge to the jury Judge Archbald said that the evidence would hardly warrant a conviction on the first count of the indictment, that is, an attempt to commit rape. The second count charges assault. The case went to the jury at 4.45 p. m.

Charles Graham, Richard Allen and Francis Winwood, members of the famous "Yellow Kid" gang from Hennessy alley, West Side, were returned guilty yesterday morning for burglarizing the stores of Florey & Brooks and the D. I. Phillips' estate, and stealing from Tobey's Penn avenue store. David Davis, another member of the gang, was acquitted of the charge. Harry Hill pleaded guilty. Judge Archbald will sentence the youths Saturday, and they will in all probability be sent to the reformatory at Huntington.

BOTH CONVICTED.

Jeffrey Powers and Thomas Ford, jr., two young men from the West Side, charged with selling liquor without a license and selling on Sunday, were arraigned before Judge Archbald. Powers and Ford are charged with being the proprietors of a speakeasy on Scranton street, near Kelly's block. The place these young men are charged with being the proprietors of was one of the worst in the city.

The defense tried to prove that Powers is not connected in any way with the ownership of the place, that Ford is the sole proprietor. In fact, when Ford, who is a one-legged man, testified, he denied Powers' connection and stated that he was the sole proprietor, that he has a lease for the place. Alderman John P. Kelly, who is the owner of the buildings, produced in testimony the separate leases of Powers and Ford.

County Detective Thomas Leyshon, George Reese, Vincent Carlucci, Jos. Serti, Angello Fertello, Arthur Keene and Tim Jones testified that they had purchased beer of Ford.

Attorney M. F. Conry, in stating his case for the jury, said the defense would prove that Ford was the sole proprietor, that he had a lease for the building, and that Powers, who keeps a barber shop in the front of the place, was in no way connected with the speakeasy. Ford was the first witness for the defense. He admitted being the proprietor, said he sold liquor on Sunday and without a license.

Powers, in his testimony, said he had nothing to do with the speakeasy, that he was not one of the proprietors, and that he did not share in the profits. The jury convicted both men.

PLEAS OF GUILTY.

Anton Stein admitted having broken into a Delaware and Hudson freight car, and was fined $1, costs and given six months in the county jail.

In the case against Salvatore Pendola and Givalano Pendola, wherein Charles Aronson was prosecutor, a verdict of not guilty was returned yesterday and the costs divided.

Mary Carey, of West Scranton, pleaded guilty to selling liquor without a license and on Sunday, and sentence was suspended for the reason that Mrs. Carey has five children dependent upon her. It was one of the Men's union cases.

Wolf and Louis Rosenburg, of Penn avenue, and Jenkin Harris, of Centre street, prosecuted by the Men's union for selling on Sunday, had nol pros. entered in their cases upon payment of the costs. They have agreed not to sell again on Sunday, and if they do an effort will be made to revoke their licenses.

Before Judge Love.

Bernard Mackey was acquitted of striking Patrick Dean with a stone on the afternoon of July 4 last. The parties live near Peckville, where, with a large number of friends and neighbors, they were celebrating the day. Stones, clubs, etc., were sometimes used and the prosecutor testified that one of these stones was thrown at him by the defendant, that it struck him, and on that account he had the defendant arrested. The costs were divided between the prosecutor and defendant.

Thomas Nolan was tried for assault and battery preferred against him by Mrs. Maggie O'Boyle. The trouble occurred over on Meridian street on May 8, and was occasioned by a dispute over the ownership of a lounge, which the prosecutrix asserted she had left in Mrs. Nolan's house when moving therefrom. According to the prosecutrix the defendant pushed her, pulled her hair, knocked her down and bit her finger severely. The defendant stated that he was out of town on May 8, and did not return until the 29th of that month. He did say, however, that he had trouble with the prosecutrix in the early part of June; that he refused to allow her to take the lounge, whereupon she struck him, but he did not retaliate. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty, but divided the costs.

VERDICT NOT GUILTY.

A malicious mischief case against Francis Hagen, Mark Duffy, Martin Golden and Thomas Conner was next called. The defendants live at Carbondale and according to the prosecution, on the night of July 2, while out on a fishing trip, used the lumber from an ice house in possession of the prosecutor for the purpose of building a fire. It was claimed that the ice house was practically destroyed.

The defendants asserted that the building was simply a worthless old shed. At the conclusion of the commonwealth's case, Senator McDonald, representing the defense, moved to have the case taken from consideration of the jury on the ground that the evidence did not disclose the offense charged in the indictment, and further that the only charge that was made out, if any, was that of larceny, as provided by act of assembly. The court decided to hear the whole story and submitted the case to the jury, which returned a verdict of not guilty, but directed that the costs be divided between the defendants and the prosecutor.

Four young boys, Robert Hand, Bert Williams, Garfield Williams and John Jones, were then tried on the charge of statutory burglary for stealing a quantity of lead, brass and copper from Hughes Bros.' foundry, on Main avenue, in June last. Attorneys Herbert L. Taylor and Frank M. Lynch were counsel for the defendants.

Sydney R. Hughes, one of the firm of Hughes Bros., testified to his discovery of the loss of the articles and to the evidence of an entry into the foundry having been made through the roof. He also said that he found the goods afterwards at Porter Bros.' junk shop on Ninth street, where, as he said, the boys admitted they had sold them. Officer Block, Chief Robling and Alderman Howe testified to admission made by defendants, Robert Hand and one of the Williams boys at the hearing at Alderman Howe's office as to their connection with the offense. That the Hand boy admitted going into the building through the roof, getting the goods, with the assistance of the Jones boy, and afterwards in company with all the other boys taking it in a bag to Porter Bros.' place at 10 o'clock at night.

After the commonwealth had rested its case counsel for defense stated that as to Robert Hand the plea of not guilty was withdrawn and defendant plead guilty. The case then proceeded as to the other defendants who denied having taken the goods from the foundry. They stated that they went with Robert Hand and assisted him in taking it to Porter Bros., but that they did not know that it was stolen. The case will go to the jury this morning.

Before Judge Gordon.

In the superior court room yesterday morning, when court reopened, the trial of the case of Mrs. Catherine Bessmitz, charged with assault and battery by Mrs. Elizabeth Beach, was resumed. The defendant and prosecutor are neighbors on Garfield avenue and they had trouble over a line fence. Mrs. Beach alleges that she was hit over the back and shoulders with a board in the hands of Mrs. Bessmitz and the latter alleges that Mrs. Beach tried to hit her with an ax. The jury said not guilty and divided the costs.

Frank M. Katerba was convicted of the charge of stealing a horse and carriage, owned by Alfred Harvey. Mr. Harvey left the horse tied in front of a business place in this city while he transacted some business. When he came out the horse and carriage was gone. Katerba did not offer to make a defense and was convicted and sentenced to six months in the county jail.

A verdict of not guilty was taken in the case of James Jordan and M. E. Jordan, charged with forgery by Harry McConnell.

John Brown, John Lawless and John Morrisey were tried before Judge Gordon for larceny and receiving. It was alleged that they stole 140 pounds of copper from the Bellevue mine, which they tried to sell to junk dealers on June 25 last. The commonwealth could not prove the stealing and the case went to the jury as to the receiving. In their defense the young men said they found the copper in a bag on the pile of props at the Bellevue mine. Late in the afternoon the jury retired to deliberate. The defendants were acquitted.

Charles Frazer, of Throop, was tried on a charge of malicious mischief preferred by Joseph Flesher, a hotel keeper of the same place. It was alleged that Frazer came into the house one night last summer and was somewhat intoxicated. When put out he threw a stone smashing a mirror 5x12 feet, which was on the wall behind the bar. The defendant denied the charge. A verdict has not yet been returned.

Andro Parish was on trial at the adjourning hour before Judge Gordon, charged with putting a large stone on the track in front of an approaching trolley car. Parish rode to his home in Vandling on the car and had a quarrel with the conductor because he said he was carried too far. He waited until the car was making its return trip and then it is alleged, out of revenge, placed the large stone on the track.

INDUSTRIAL JOTTINGS.

The change of signal posts and signals at the Lehigh and Bloomsburg junction, due to the change of running of right instead of left hand track on the Bloomsburg division, is now completed and trains will be governed by these signals in the same manner as they were when on opposite tracks.

Second class and irregular trains will discontinue registering at east end of Scranton yard and will register in register book at west end of Scranton yard, instead

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Oct. 11.—The stock market fell into a condition approaching stagnation during the latter hours of trading. The undertone was heavy, the dribbling of selling orders finding no support whatever. The trading between the board room members made up the whole market and owing to the relative dullness of the general market, the movement in People's Gas was made conspicuous. The pressure against this stock was continued early in the day but the bears, who have sold the stock continuously for some time past, became disquieted later in the day over the extent of their commitments and a vague suspicion that the gas war in Chicago was not as unrelenting as made to appear on the surface. The published report that the Ogden company was buying its additional equipment from sources dominated by interests friendly to the People's Gas company was the cause. From 83⅝ as the low point the stock forged steadily upwards to 85¾, with symptoms of increasing urgency in the buying demand from the short interest. The close was at the highest with a net gain of 3¼. Nothing could more strikingly demonstrate the inertness of the general market than its utter failure to respond to this rather sensational movement. The dullness at the close was unrelieved and the day's net changes were mixed and entirely insignificant. The money market showed a rather reactionary tendency, 3½ per cent., representing the maximum rate, compared with 4 per cent. yesterday. Late in the day the rate ran down to 1¾ per cent., but as this came after the principal demand had been satisfied, it was not considered as a fair index of the ruling rate. Total sales, 180,100 shares. Business in bonds was very small and price changes irregular. Total sales, par value, $805,000. United States new 4s declined ¼ per cent. on the last call.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,
