WORK WILL SOON RESUME AT MILLS

Orders Recently Received by the Lackawanna Iron and Steel Company Will Set the Wheels in Motion.

As a result of several large contracts for steel rails recently made by the Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio, Thesapeake and Ohio and Norfolk and Western Railroad companies work will soon be resumed at the mills of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company, which have been for some time idle. The company is one of several concerns among which these contracts were divided, and, while the exact number of tons of rails which will be allotted the local company is not as yet known, still it will be a very large one. General Manager Henry Wehrum, in speaking to a Tribune man yesterday about the order, said: "While aware that these railroad companies have made contracts with the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company, still I do not know the extent of the order, as I have not yet received any specific orders or notifications regarding the deal, and, in fact, know nothing definite about it. "Neither can I state the exact date when the mills will be re-opened, but I should judge that work will probably be started within two or three weeks. The contracts which were made by the railroad companies were as follows: The Pennsylvania railroad, 150, 000 tons, at $26 per ton; the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, 40,000 tons; the Chesapeake and Ohio, 25,000 tons, and the Norfolk and Western railroad, 25,-000 tons. The steel companies among which the contracts are divided are the Lackawanna Steel company, of Scranton; the Federal Steel company of Chicago; the Carnegle company the Pennsylvania Steel company, the bria Steel company, of Johnstown. Manager Wehrum did not seem particularly impressed by the magnitude of these orders when divided among the companies, and in speaking of the ease with which the company can handle the contract said: "Why, the

National Steel company and the Cam-

South works alone can turn out 450,000 tons in a year.' The orders are given, moreover, per specification, and will not be undertaken in a mass, but separate directions and separate work must be done as each consignment comes in, owing to the various different technicalities in the construction of them. In speaking about the work at present going on at Buffalo, where the gigantic new plant is being built, Manager Wehrum said: "Work is progressing very satisfactorily. The plant when completed will be one of enormous size, a great deal larger, of course, than the works here at Scranton. Work has been going on during nearly the last three months, and, therefore, while there are no great visible evidences as yet of what has been done, still things are beginning to now take some shape. "The office building, the construction of which is in charge of Conrad Schroeder, of this city, is being rapidly reared."

Drop a Nickel!

Its easy-so common, too; perhaps we're in the Nickel Age. "Only a 'nickel," and many a young man is building the steepest sort of toboggan slide, using only "nickels" for nails.

Its a nickel or two for a shine. A nickel or two for a smoke or a chew. A nickel or two for a tune or a song. A nickel or two just for luck. Two or three nickels or more for a lunch. A nickel or two for a drink; perhaps several more "the crowd." A nickel or two to ring up the target. A nickel or two at billiards or pool. A nickel an "acre" for the Sunday paper. Several nickels or more at the theater door. Where will it all end? Not in a snug bank account—sure; and the days of a nickel-dropper's usefulness to society are numbered. Young man! Take a timely hint

JAMES GRIER IS ON TRIAL

He Is Charged with Having Solicited Money for His Vote as a Gity Goungilman.

STORY TOLD BY HARRIS

He Said That He Gave Money to Grier on Three Different Occasions. The First Time He Laid $50 on a Table in a Room Where He Had Been Conversing with Grier and Walked Out-Afterwards He Gave Him $40 in His Room in the Hotel Rudolph and Later at the Same Place Gave Him $1,400.

Such is the public interest in the cases against the councilmen being prosecuted by the Men's union that the main court room was crowded all of yesterday. In the morning, after court opened, the case of the commonwealth against James J. Grier was called and is being tried before Judge H. M. Edwards. Grier is the member of the common council from the Third ward and was formerly chairman of that body. He is charged with soliciting and accepting bribes for his vote in counci. in connection with the passage of the l'cense tax ordinance. which was before council last spring. He is defended by Attorneys Joseph O'Brien, John F. Scragg, George S. Horn and M. A. McGinley, and the case is being prosecuted by District Attorney Jones and Attorney J. H. Torrey, E. C. Newcomb and F. E. Beers, private counsel for the Men's

The prosecutor is E. B. Sturges, who occupied a seat at the commonwealth's table yesterday. During the after-noon Colonel H. M. Boies, who is the prosecutor in cases against other councilmen, came in and took a seat alongside of Mr. Sturges. Among the interested spectators who occupied seats within the bar enclosure were Rev. Dr. C. E. Robinson and Rev. Dr. James McLeod, of the Second and First Presbyterian churches. Scattered through the audience was a good sprinkling of business men and others prominent in the various walks work of selecting a jury was begun at 9.30 and the commonwealth suggested that it be done in the same thing." manner that juries are selected in felonles, which gave them the entire panel to draw from. This was ob-jected to by the attorneys for the dofendant, but Attorney Newcomb presented an opinion of the Superior court of a few days ago, which permits juries in cases such as the one at the bar, to be selected in that way and the work was proceeded with. It was 12.30 when the necessary twelve men were secured. They are:

JOSEPH BACHMAN, farmer, Gouldsbor EARL CARPENTER, buckster, North Abington THOMAS HOLMES, clerk, Simpson E. C. HANSON, laborer, La Plume. JAMES HARRIS, miner, Scrapton.

ALBERT JOHNSON, plumber, Waverly, F. S. KELLOGG, painter, Scranton, REV. WILLIAM E. MORGAN, Scranton CHAUNCEY NOACK, farmer, Madison, JACOB STANTON, farmer, West Abington. C. C. WILLIAMS, farmer, West Abington.

District Attorney Jones asked, on ac count of the wide importance of the case and the great publicity given to it, that the jury be kept together dur-ing the trial. Judge Edwards made an order that this be done.

When court resumed its sitting, shortly before 2 o'clock, Mr. Newcomb opened the case for the commonwealth to the jury. He said that for a long time it had been a matter of great scandal in the city that it was necessary to pay money to councilmen to secure the passage of desired legisla-tion or to defeat unfavorable legislation. So great became the scandal that finally a number of high-minded citizens banded themselves together with the intention of ridding the city of this

LICENSE TAX ORDINANCE. Mr. Newcomb went on to say that in March of this year a license tax ordinance was introduced in council which, mong other things, levied a tax of three per cent. on the gross receipts of the Scranton Railway company the first year, this amount to be raised gradually until it reached five per cent. of the gross receipts. It was not the intention that this ordinance should pass, Mr. Newcomb said. It was what was known as a "strike," and through members of the council it leaked out that the company would have to do something if it wanted to prevent the passage of this ordinance. This organization of citizens then applied to a well-known detective agency to send competent men here to investigate the rumor that this ordinance was a "strike."

"They came and did investigate," Mr. Newcomb said, "and I think you will agree with me that this was the only way in which a crime of this kind could be brought home to those who were guilty. These detectives came here and became acquainted with various members of council. Among others was the defendant, James J. Grier, who said he was the man who handled the money in common council for promoting and defeating legislation, and he assured the detectives that he could have the amount of the tax on the Scranton Rallway company reduced from three, four and five per cent. to one per cent., if proper arrangements were made with him and his coleagues. Several meetings were held. and at these Mr. Grier demanded and received certain sums of money for nimself and others.

"When you hear the testimony deteiled on the stand I think you will say it was time that these good citizens banded together; that this was a foul blot on the city, and that you will man is guilty."

HEARING TESTIMONY. W. A. Lynott, the clerk of the common council, was the first witness called and produced the record of council showing the election of James J. Grier to the common council in 1893 and his taking a seat in that body. Evan Morris, assistant city clerk, testified that the ordinance produced by the commonwealth was the one known as the license tax ordinance,

THEY OUGHT NOT BE REAPPOINTED

That Is Councilman Vaughan's Opinion About Ward Assessors Who Make Poor Assessments.

Councilman D. W. Vaughan, who has started the investigation of this year's city assessment, said yesterday that he would endeavor to have steps taken to prevent the city assessors from reappointing any ward assessors who have made mistakes in making the assessment for 1900.

"I understand," said he, "that it has been discovered by the board of revision and appeal that many clerical blunders have been made this year by the ward assessors, and that in one instance one of them has refused to attend the meetings of the board of revision, though compelled to by law. Such men should not be re-appointed to make the triennial assessment.

"If they are appointed again, I for one, will do all I can to block any appropriation providing for salary for them in next year's appropriation ordinance. I don't believe that there should be ward assessors appointed, only every three years, when the triennial assessment is made, and that in the intervening two years the city assessors themselves should do the work of assessing. Then if there's anyone to be held responsible they will

"It's a well known fact that the ward assessor has come to be a great power in his ward, a sort of little king. How could this be if he just went right ahead and did his whole duty without showing favor to anyone. The investigation will have the effect of making them more careful in the future, and that will be a good
