

THE MODERN HARDWARE STORE
Carving Sets.....
You will be interested in the line we have here. No other Scranton store has such a complete line. Handles of Bone, Celluloid, Stag and Ivory, with Sterling Silver trimmings and ferrules. Every blade warranted. A Carving Set makes an appropriate wedding present. Prices $1.00 to $17.50.
Foote & Shear Co.
119 N. Washington Ave

L. R. D. & M.
Illustration of a woman sitting at a table with a lamp.

Can We Wait on You
If there is anything in the shoe market you will find it here. All styles, all shapes, all widths to fit and suit any lady who appreciates good shoes. See our windows.
LEWIS, RUDDY, DAVIES & MURPHY
330 Lackawanna Avenue.

Lackawanna "THE" Laundry.
268 Penn Avenue. A. B. WARNAN.

THE WEATHER YESTERDAY.
Local data for Oct. 16, 1900.
Highest temperature..... 71 degrees
Humidity..... 72 per cent.
8 a. m. 100 per cent.
3 p. m. 72 per cent.

PERSONAL.
F. E. Higbie, of Jersey City, superintendent of the Central Railroad of New Jersey car service, called on railroad officials in this city yesterday.
W. B. Zahler, president, and J. M. Horton, treasurer of the Bolt and Nut works, are in New York, attending a meeting of the Bolt Association at the Waldorf.

FOUNDLING HOME DONATIONS.
The annual donation days of St. Joseph's Foundling Home are Wednesday and Thursday of this week. It is important that all the friends of the institution remember this occasion, as the treasury of the Home is very low by reason of the constant drain upon its resources through the work of humanity it is engaged in.
There is hope that there will be a generous response, such as will put the treasury into splendid shape for the winter's needs, and also that the well-wishers will not forget that donations of vegetables, fruits, meats, groceries, and other supplies are always acceptable and always needed.

SCRANTON BUSINESS COLLEGE.
Demand Always Greater Than the Supply.
Professors Buck & Whitmore this week received the following letter from Dayton, O., Manufacturing company. "This company has a capital stock of five million dollars. Gentlemen: The demand for good stenographers and office people, in our establishment, has always been greater than the supply. We have openings now for two or three good male stenographers who have had experience, and it occurred to us that a large number of stenographers and other office men who have graduated from your school from time to time and are now holding positions might desire to better themselves. If you can put us in communication with some of your old graduates who have had two or three years experience we would be under obligations to you."

A Test of Taste.
The parlor may reflect artistic judgment in furniture and draperies, but if there is lack of care in pictures and framing, an effect like the absence of salt from your food will result. The endless variety of frames manufactured and shown by the Griffin Art Co., 209 Wyoming avenue, is a strong safeguard against error.

MORE HONORS FOR ROBERTS.
By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press.
London, Oct. 16.—Lord Roberts was today granted honorary colonel of the new regiment of Irish guards.

MEETING AT CHRIST CHURCH
SESSION OF SCRANTON ARCH-DEACONRY LAST NIGHT.
Three Addresses on "The Christian's Threefold Vow" Delivered by Rev. E. J. Haughton, Rev. J. M. Johnston and Rev. J. E. Ware Who Spoke on "Renunciation," "Faith" and "Obedience"—Sessions Will Be Continued All Day Today and This Evening.

The regular tri-yearly session of the Archdeaconry of Scranton of the Episcopal diocese of Central Pennsylvania began last night in Christ church, on North Washington avenue, and will be continued all day today. The service last night was presided over by Archdeacon D. W. Cox, D. D., of Alden, and consisted of three addresses on "The Christian's Threefold Vow," by three well-known clergymen. Each took a different topic, under the one general head.

ADDRESS ON FAITH.
He was followed by Rev. J. M. Johnston, rector of St. James' church, Pittston, who spoke on "Faith." He said, in part: "Every man, no matter who he is, has some faith. There is no individual so much of an infidel that he has no faith. It devolves upon every person baptized in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit to accept and believe all that a Christian ought to know.

"Faith is not a matter which may be accepted or rejected as the whim seizes it. It is an obligation. In this present age men's minds are much disturbed about things religious. There is a deal of ecclesiastical turmoil. Men are desiring something new in religion. They forget that God's faith is unchangeable and not susceptible to amendment. "The Christian faith carries first a belief in God and then a belief in Jesus Christ, the Son of God, who came to redeem us and bring us back to God. It carries also a belief in the Holy Spirit of God. Some people say sometimes that they do not believe these things because they don't understand them.

"Men are today bothering themselves about the meaning of certain texts in the Holy Scriptures, and just think of it, some churches are actually founded upon a particular interpretation of particular texts. "I do not think it right that any church should be founded upon a book, even though that book be the word of God, rather than upon Jesus Christ as the corner-stone. I do not think it right that any person should accept a basis of salvation merely a human interpretation of God's word. So very few people these days have time, or take time, to read the Bible that they must have a sure and certain faith given them with authority.

THEY ARE DRIFTING.
"I'm afraid that many of the evangelical Protestant churches are drifting towards Unitarianism, because they do not have a faith given with authority. Evangelical Protestantism surely believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and you shall be saved." It is not right that it should ignore God, the father, and the visitation of the Holy Ghost. "This matter of faith is settled for us by the church. If we do as the church demands we shall be permitted to live within her fold and in dying we shall obtain everlasting life." The last speaker of the evening was Rev. J. P. Ware, of Honesdale, who spoke on "Obedience." He said in part:

"We ask ourselves plainly why Jesus came into the world, each one of us might give a different answer. There is, however, but one answer that satisfies the human soul, and that is that He came to save us, not by and by, but now. The reason why Jesus Christ is not the one we may escape something in the future but because the highest type of ideal life is the life of Jesus Christ. "We should seek to live the same life on the human side that Christ did. In order to attain in some measure to that life there are certain rules which must be observed, just as there are certain rules and regulations in every department of life which must be obeyed.

"We must obey the laws set down. Christ has given us two commandments which combine all that the Christian needs. First, 'Love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul and with all thy mind,' and secondly, 'Love thy neighbor as thyself.' "We must remember that obedience is loyalty; if we are loyal to Jesus Christ we will obey him, naturally. Christ came to save us here, and now and to save us into a life like his own."
CLERGYMEN PRESENT.
The clergymen present at last night's meeting were: Rev. Robert Bell, of Scranton; Rev. D. W. Cox, D. D., of Alden; Rev. Charles E. Pessenden, of Jersey; Rev. J. H. Griffith, of Plymouth; Rev. H. G. Vincent, of Athens; Rev. E. J. Haughton, of Dunmore; Rev. E. P. Harrington, of West Pittston; Rev. J. M. Johnston, of Pittston; Rev. J. P. Ware and Rev. E. A. Gernant, of Honesdale; Rev. F. S. Ballentine, Rev. M. E. Nash and Rev. E. J. McHenry, of West Scranton. Many others will be in attendance today.

DIED.
MORAN.—In Scranton, Pa., Oct. 16, 1900, Mrs. Mary Moran, of Putnam street, at 3 o'clock a. m. She is survived by one son, Thomas, one daughter, Mary. Funeral Friday morning at 9 o'clock. Interment in Cathedral cemetery.

SPOKE ABOUT FIJI ISLANDS.
Interesting Address of Mrs. Emma Shaw Coleleugh.
Probably one of the most interesting lectures ever heard in this city was given last night by Mrs. Emma Shaw Coleleugh, in the parlors of Colonel and Mrs. H. M. Boies. She spoke on the Fiji Islands, a subject of which even the most learned person present must confess to a certain degree of ignorance.

Mrs. Coleleugh is a charming woman whose extensive travels have been taken to some purpose. When she was at Alope, in Samoa, she learned it was but three days' sail to the Fiji Islands and determined to not miss such an opportunity. Vita Levu, or "Big Fiji," is an island containing 4,112 square miles. Vanua Levu and Kaniava are the others of greatest size.

Mrs. Coleleugh described the government, communistic in form, and then spoke of the fact that not only all the natives read and write, but native teachers are maintained in the schools in every village. The population numbers 121,000, but 2,000 of which is white. The Fijians are the meeting ground between the white and black races.

The male dress consists of the loin skirt, depending in a fringe toward the knees, the upper part of the body being uncovered. They are slow to adopt European dress and trousers are the last garment to be acquired. The women array themselves in a pinfold like a short Mother Hubbard wrapper, but outside the villages, wreaths of flowers and necklaces supply all needs as far as clothing is concerned.

A dinner given by a princess to twelve white ladies was described in a most fascinating way. Being a ladies' dinner, no kava was served, and the bill of fare was excellent, placed on freshly-gathered banana leaves on mats of richly ornamented pattern. It was something from which Europeans and American hostesses could learn points of value.

The speaker, in closing, referred to the other days, when cold missionary and roasting Christians were the delicacies preferred by the natives, and contrasted their unexplained ferocity and fanaticism of that time with their mildness and deep religious fervor of the present. She declared it to be the most wonderful tribute to missionary effort and sacrifice in the history of all ages.

The second lecture will be given Friday night at the same place, on "In Stevenson's Samoa," and on Saturday Mrs. Coleleugh will give a free lecture to the missionary societies of the city at the First Presbyterian church. Refreshments were served last night and the conservatories were visited by delighted throngs of people.

POPULAR STREET ORDINANCE.
Common Council Took No Action on It Last Night.
Common council met in special session last night to take action on the ordinance providing for the opening of Popular street, but no action was taken. The rules of council prohibit that every ordinance when introduced in either branch shall be referred to a committee.

New Canned Peas.
Finest grades and Medium-grades from 75c per dozen to $3.00 per dozen.
Sugar Corn
8c to 15c per can, $1.00 to $1.50 per dozen.

Finest California Long Asparagus 29c; $3.00 doz.
E. G. Coursen

BIG MEETING AT OLYPHANT
SPEECHES BY CONGRESSMAN BRUMM AND MR. FARR.
Issues of the Campaign Ably Discussed Before an Audience That Crowded the Opera House to the Doors—Rev. F. F. Hammond Presided—Candidates, County Committee and Prominent Republicans of the Borough on the Stage. Both Speeches Touch on the Strike.

Congressman Charles Brumm, of Minersville, and John R. Farr, ex-speaker of the house of representatives, addressed the first up-the-valley Republican mass meeting of the campaign at Olyphant last night. The weather was of the most disagreeable order, but the spacious and pretty opera house was crowded to the doors. The audience was made up of both Republicans and Democrats, but at with all the vigor he could command, or trying to wean a Democrat by plausible arguments, he was always dignified, serious and sincere. "There is nothing so apt to breed anarchy," he said, in addressing himself to the Republican insurgents, as a violation of the great dogma of Republican institutions—majority rule. The man who would rule when he can not rule is the most dangerous citizen the country can have. An honest Democrat, who fights for what he believes is right is deserving of all respect, but nothing except utter contempt should be had for the man who believes in a principle, yet becomes a traitor to it because those who are chosen to lead in its espousal may be personally unfriendly to him. "The Democratic party, Mr. Brumm said, addressing himself particularly to the Democrats in the audience, is the party of calamity. They live and have their being in the hope of calamity in the Republican party. Never do they attempt to build. With them it is always tear down. "The Democratic party has but two ideas of its own: State rights, that old dogma that was shot to death in the '90's, and the belief that you must reduce American labor to the level of the pauper labor of Europe in order to capture the markets of the world. "Tammany Hall was honest once, Mr. Brumm said, in this connection, and that was when it swung out a campaign banner eight years ago, announcing, 'If you want plenty of work and cheap living, vote the Democratic ticket.' The Chinese have plenty of work. They labor sixteen hours a day. They also have cheap living—rice and raisins. What an American laborer wants is less work and a better living. Give us protection and an honest dollar and America will capture the markets of the world.

HAVE THEY FORGOTTEN.
What has become of the tariff and financial questions? Mr. Brumm asked. Eight years ago, the one, and four years ago, the other, was offered to workingmen and farmers as the only way to the relief of their distress. The Democrats forgotten about them or have they lost all interest in the workingman and farmer? "No," no," the Democrats will answer. "We have not forgotten those issues. We still maintain what we did before, but now there is a paramount issue." And this paramount issue, Mr. Brumm declared, is that the welfare of ten million of half-barbarous people ten thousand miles away is paramount to the welfare of our own seventy millions of the greatest people on the face of the earth.

Referring to Mr. Farr's contention that a strike is a Republican institution, Mr. Brumm said: "My friend was right. When there is a Democratic administration there is nothing to strike at. Men only can strike when there is a demand for their labor." On the subject of trusts Mr. Brumm discoursed at length. He said trusts are not the result of legislation, but of invention. Too much power centralized, he admitted, was dangerous, but there need be no fear but that the Republican party will satisfactorily deal with the trust problem as it has with every other problem that has confronted the nation in the last forty years.

Several times during his address Mr. Brumm was interrupted with questions and he seemed to greatly enjoy answering them. On a couple of occasions when smart allecks thought to embarrass the speaker with "How about this or how about that," Mr. Brumm's ready wit turned the tables on the questioners and brought forth ringing cheers.

A boy in the gallery once called out, "Hurrah for Bryan." Mr. Brumm took occasion to remind the boy that that was the half-naked, man-eating, bloodthirsty butchers are doing out in the Philippines. "Why don't you shout hurrah for Bryan and Aguinaldo," Mr. Brumm added.

OPENING OF THE SEASON.
First Cake Walk Given by News Company Literary Club.
The cake walking season was opened last night at Music hall by an exhibition of this branch of the temperance art by the Literary club of the Lackawanna News company. The hall was thronged by a great crowd of interested onlookers, who cheered their favorites as they proceeded through the mystic mazes of the graceful negro dance.

George Rooney, of Wilkes-Barre, was master of ceremonies, and three couples took part in the dance. They were Percy Ray and Emma Rooney, of Wilkes-Barre, Jerome Nadoff and Mabel Miller, of this city, and William Fisher and Annie Vaughan, likewise of this city. Fisher and Ray, with their ladies, were the favorites and were compelled to do an additional walk for the prize. The Judges, A. E. Lewis, James Laugan, Max Neuman and M. Czatkowski, awarded first prize to the Wilkes-Barre couple.

Time
Will explain and prove that we sell cheaper than anybody else, considering the quality. Our Green Valley Rye
Will convince you of this fact.

CASEY BROS. 216 Lackawanna Avenue, Scranton, Pa. PHONE 2162.

For Women, $1.98
That's not much money, but it buys a beautiful shoe in our store. It buys more—the very best shoe possible to obtain for $1.98, a better shoe than can be had in most stores for $3.00.

CONRAD, 305 Lackawanna Ave.
Gentleman, Coachman, Operator, Miner, Rail Road Manager, Trainman, Conductor, Motorman, Teamster, School Boy

Heating Stoves, Ranges, Furnaces, Oil Stoves, Gas Stoves, Steam and Hot Water Heaters.
GUNSTER & FORSYTH, 225-227 PENN AVENUE.

Dare We Expect It?
We would like to have the third and last of the Opening Days of our new china shop a duplicate in the number of visitors and volume of business of its two predecessors. It promises to be.

Men's Underwear. Highest Grades at Popular Prices.
Gruener & Co. 205 Wyoming Avenue

The House Beautiful
Ever realize how important the CARPETS are in the furnishing of your home? This stock is absolutely new, each pattern selected not only for its beauty of design and coloring, but for its wearing qualities as well. It will pay you to investigate DRAPERIES.

Butterfly Ties, 50c
The butterfly ties maintain the lead with the good dressers. They are easy to tie on the high turn down collars, and always hold their shape. Here you get these popular ties in choice designs and neat colors.

P. McCrea & Co. 427 Lackawanna Ave.
RUGS, WINDOW SHADES

W. H. Pierce, 19 Lackawanna Ave. 110, 112, 114 Penn Ave.
C. F. BECKWITH & CO., DEALERS IN Mine and Mill Supplies, Machinery, Etc.

Now is the season of your discontent if you haven't secured your Comforts and Blankets
We assure you we have never had a more complete stock of good staple things in this department than now. Here's a comfort you want you to get under—fancy stitched, fluffy cotton filling, Sateen covering..... 2.75

W. H. Pierce, 19 Lackawanna Ave. 110, 112, 114 Penn Ave.

C. F. BECKWITH & CO., DEALERS IN Mine and Mill Supplies, Machinery, Etc.

Office—Dime Bank Building. WAREHOUSE—Green Ridge

Now is the season of your discontent if you haven't secured your Comforts and Blankets
We assure you we have never had a more complete stock of good staple things in this department than now. Here's a comfort you want you to get under—fancy stitched, fluffy cotton filling, Sateen covering..... 2.75

A strictly "All Wool" blanket that is full size and full wool 3.98

Credit You? Certainly

THE ECONOMY 221-223-225-227 Wyoming Ave

Now is the season of your discontent if you haven't secured your Comforts and Blankets
We assure you we have never had a more complete stock of good staple things in this department than now. Here's a comfort you want you to get under—fancy stitched, fluffy cotton filling, Sateen covering..... 2.75

A strictly "All Wool" blanket that is full size and full wool 3.98

Credit You? Certainly

THE ECONOMY 221-223-225-227 Wyoming Ave