

MARY TAMMAR SAID GUILTY

CHARGED WITH ABANDONING HER CHILD.

She Was Sentenced to Pay a Fine of $1 and Spend Five Days in the County Jail—Antonio Peterilino Tried for an Offense That John D. Palmer Was Heretofore Convicted of—Thomas Durning Sent to the County Jail for Two Years—Disposition of Other Cases.

Mrs. Mary Tamm, an Arabian woman who resided on the West Side of this city, pleaded guilty to a charge of abandoning her infant child in an out building near her home. The child afterwards died while with the mother in the county jail. Mrs. Tamm has been in jail since her arrest two months ago. She was sentenced to pay a fine of $1, costs and spend five days in the county jail.

Samuel Muscov pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny and receiving preferred by Detective H. Solomon and sentence was suspended until Saturday.

A verdict of not guilty was taken in the case of Henry Dierks and Reese Davis charged with malicious mischief and the costs were placed on the prosecutor, Mary Palmer.

Charles Baker pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny and receiving preferred by Stephen Dyer and sentence was suspended.

John J. Shea did not appear to prosecute Michael Kavanagh and Arthur Howell for larceny and receiving and a verdict of not guilty was taken.

Harry Oblinger did not appear to answer to a charge of keeping a gambling house and his bail was forfeited and a capias issued. The same action was taken in the case of Joseph Kotovog charged with committing an assault on Constable Henry Pierce of the First ward of Carbondale.

Before Judge McClure.

William A. Dean, the fireman of the Girard Construction Co., tried Tuesday afternoon on a charge of assault and battery on the person of Freeman Lord, was acquitted and the costs divided. The verdict was returned at the opening of court this morning.

Mabel Miller, a young colored girl, was also acquitted, the larceny of a quantity of clothing belonging to her aunt, Rachel Johnson. The alleged taking was said to have occurred one day during the summer just after both parties had been employed at a hotel at Lake Winola and when they were about to return to the city. The defendant stated that the clothing in her possession at the time consisted of a pair of old shoes and an old wrapper loaned to her by the prosecutrix.

Antonio Peterilino was tried for an alleged murder attack upon Edward Kelly of Capouze avenue, Pine Brook, on March 19. The commonwealth sought to prove that on that date the defendant became enraged at some boys who were snow-balling each other, and without any warning attacked Kelly with a knife, wounding him and cutting his clothing. The defendant stated that as he and his wife were walking along the avenue they were set upon by Kelly and others who pelted them with snow balls.

Fearing for his wife, who was then in a delicate condition, he expostulated with the boys, when Kelly attacked him and struck at him. He then threw Kelly against the fence to prevent the latter from striking him, and did not use a knife or do anything further than defend himself and wife.

John D. Palmer was convicted, at a former session, of this charge, but upon an alleged confession made by Peterilino, a rule for a new trial was granted in that case. The jury was out at adjourning hour.

Arthur Probst, a boy of eleven years of age, was tried for pointing the arms and shooting at L. D. Watson, prosecutor. The prosecutrix is the son-in-law of John Stout, whose land adjoining that of the defendant's father near Lake Scranton. A dispute of long standing has existed between the families over the dividing line between the properties, and on May 31 last, the prosecution against the defendant with a gun in his hand approached the prosecutrix, who was working near the line fence, ordered him away and afterwards shot at him.

In view of the tender age of defendant court directed a verdict of not guilty, no evidence having been offered to show that he was of a particularly bad disposition.

Before Judge Weand.

The jury returned a verdict of not guilty yesterday, in the case of Mary Ann Burns, of Winton borough, charged with being a common scold, and directed that the costs be equally divided between the prosecutrix, Kate Rolfe, and the defendant. The case was tried Tuesday.

Thomas Durning was placed on trial in No. 3 charged with a felonious attempt upon the life of Stephen Hughes. Both parties are from North Scranton. The commonwealth attempted to prove that the defendant pulled a revolver and pointed it at the prosecutrix with felonious intent. The defendant contended that he had no revolver, that the implement he held in his hand was a pick-axe, with which he struck a glass the prosecutrix held in his hand, with which he intended to strike the defendant. M. J. Walsh represented the defendant, and C. H. Soper, the commonwealth. The jury found Durning guilty and Judge Weand sentenced him to pay a fine of $100, costs and spend two years in the county jail. About four years ago Durning was released from the Eastern penitentiary, where he spent twelve years for the murder of Peter Martin, of South Seventh street. Since his release from the penitentiary he has been frequently in quarter sessions court.

Garrett Howey was charged with having broken the doors and windows of the residence of Yettah White, the prosecutrix. The evidence was not sufficient to connect the defendant with the crime, and he was returned not guilty.

Bruno Scavo, of Simpson, was tried for stealing a stove, a watch and other small articles alleged to have been the property of Michael May, the prosecutrix. The commonwealth could not connect the defendant with the theft of the articles and he was found not guilty. He was defended by Attorney F. E. Boyle.

The Scranton Railway company, through Stephen Dyer, its agent, was

TELL ABOUT IT.

A Scranton Witness Is Pleased to Do It for the Benefit of Others.

When you know a good thing, tell it. It will not lessen its goodness. But will do good to others. There's more misery just like it. There are lots of lame backs in Scranton.

It's a busy place and backs are used. There's urinary trouble to a large extent. Colds affect the kidneys.

The kidneys are the cause, not the cure.

Keep them in shape and life is life. Doan's Kidney Pills do perfect work. Are for kidneys only. Scranton people testify to their merit.

Holding a case of it. Mrs. E. Williams, of 127 North Sumner avenue, Hyde Park, says: "I had severe pain in the small of my back extending upward and around my waist. At night it was impossible to sleep very long in one position and at times the pain made me so nervous I lay awake for hours turning from one side to the other trying to find a comfortable position. There was also a kidney weakness that was very annoying and distressing at times. I was in such misery that I was unable to do my work about the house, and in fact I was completely used up. I resorted to the services of a doctor and he did me some good, but I was far from being a well woman. A lady friend recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to me so I got them at Matthews Bros' drug store. The first box did me so much good that I continued the treatment and took six boxes of the pills. I received more relief from this remedy in a short time than from all other remedies I had taken."

the prosecutor in a case against Edward Geary, who is indicted for the larceny of copper bond wire, the property of the company. C. P. O'Malley represented the company, and George D. Taylor, the defendant. The wire was alleged to have been stolen from the company's street car barn on the Providence road. The evidence had been closed at the adjourning hour and the case will be argued to the jury this morning.

Wants a New Trial.

Reasons why the verdict should be set aside and a new trial granted were filed yesterday by Attorney C. Balentine in the case of Michael Cunningham, who was tried last week for committing an aggravated assault and battery on John Astock. It is alleged that the indictment on which Cunningham was tried was not signed by the foreman of the grand jury; that there was not sufficient proof of the loss of the original indictment and that the court erred in rejecting the verdict in No. 1, when the defendant and his counsel were waiting in No. 2 for the verdict to be returned; the case having been tried there before Judge Love. No opportunity was given the defendant to poll the jury. It is also alleged that it is not the verdict of the jury for the reason that it was the intention to convict the defendant of simple assault and battery.

MARKED BILLS ARE OFFERED

this first occasion with Grier, Mr. Coleman was present practically all the time. Mr. Grier said he would not talk save in the presence of Mr. Coleman. He told Grier that he was prepared to give him money. Coleman having explained in advance who witness was and what he wanted. Harris said he told Grier that $200 a man was his limit and Grier said that was rather small. The witness then went over the list he had made of the names of M. Clarke, the president of the Scranton Railway company and Frank Silliman, Jr., the manager of that company.

COYNE WENT WITH HIM.

The meeting on April 30 was then taken up. He was in the dining room of the Rudolph with E. Coyne when he received a telephone message from Coleman to come to the bakery. Coyne said he would go with him that he wanted to talk the matter over. They were at the bakery for three-quarters of an hour and talked over the matter of getting the ordinance amended. He did not make any tender of money to Grier directly, but $1,400 was mentioned as at the previous meeting. The witness was positive the councilmen did not say they could fix him for what he had said, but they did ask him to be careful for they were jumping on the councilmen, the grand jury was investigating them and councilmen were inclined to be suspicious of everyone.

Harris was cross-examined at length about his room at the Hotel Rudolph, the furniture it contained and where the articles of furniture were located. He said he had the chairs arranged that the only one available to sit on was one facing the door connecting rooms 24 and 25. Grier told him he might as well give him the money for he would have to do so eventually.

WERE BLOOD SUCKERS.

"These councilmen are blood-suckers," said Grier. "They will take your money and not do anything for you. I never give them a cent until a measure is signed by the mayor or passed over his veto." May 2 when he met Grier, Calpin and Coleman at the bakery, Calpin was present during the whole conversation. Toward the end of the talk Grier said he had been under some expense and witness took out $50 and laid it on the table. Grier did not ask for this $50, but he did ask for $1,400. When witness laid the money on the table Grier was the only other person in the room. Calpin and Coleman having gone out a few minutes before. He does not know that Grier took the money for after laying it on the table he walked out.

Witness was asked if he did not send a letter to Grier and said he had no recollection of having done so. A letter was then produced addressed to Grier, which witness admitted was in his handwriting. Mr. O'Brien produced two $20 bills and asked the witness if they were not the two that he gave to Grier in the Hotel Rudolph on May 9. Harris admitted that the bills produced were the ones in question, identifying them by marks they contained.

On May 11 he got $1,400 from Mr. Whitney, who said it was given to him by F. E. Beers. About 6.30 that evening Grier came in and after he had been there about ten or fifteen minutes he was given the $1,400. He did not take the number of these bills as was his custom because some one else had done that. He had not the memorandum of the numbers but knows it exists. Grier put the bills on his knee and counted them over. The witness said he was careful and not lose them and Grier replied that there was no danger, that he had before handled $20,000 of that kind of money.

IN THE AFTERNOON.

At this point court adjourned for the noon recess and when it resumed at 1:30 p. m. the cross-examination of Harris was resumed. He was questioned at length about the meetings he had with Grier subsequent to those he was examined on in the morning. Grier at one of these meetings during a conversation about the new street railway company said it would take at least $500 a man to do anything against that as the other side was spending money freely.

He admitted having been out until 2, 3 and 5 o'clock in the morning with Coleman who he said never seemed to sleep. He admitted drinking a good deal while around with the councilmen, but never became intoxicated. Harris denied very positively that he had ever been intoxicated in the Opera cafe on Spruce street with two women or that he was ejected from that place as a peace officer he denied having been ejected from the company of two women while there. During his meetings with Grier at the Hotel Rudolph and Anderson were the only persons who were in No. 25. No one in No. 25 could see into No. 24. On re-direct examination of Harris he testified that he went to saloons a good deal because they were the places he was most apt to find the councilmen. He went to houses of ill-fame with E. A. Whitney and A. P. Anderson to get evidence against them for paying for protection and to whom the money was paid.

WHITNEY SWORN.

That concluded Harris' testimony and E. A. Whitney was called and sworn. He is 34 years of age and has been a private detective for 12 years. For three years he has been employed by the Scranton Railway Co. of New York and was sent to this city by that agency. On May 1 he saw Grier at the Hotel Rudolph with Harris. Whitney was in No. 25 with Anderson. They had made holes in the panel and through those they could see who was going on in the other room and hear what was said. Grier said the Scranton Railway company would have to do business with him if they wanted the tax reduced. He could have it done for $1,100 down and $1,400 more when the work was completed.

On May 9 he again saw Grier at the Hotel Rudolph in the morning. Grier said he had the councilmen in line and was willing to go ahead as soon as the $1,400 was produced. He also said he was willing to go with Harris to Philadelphia and see President Clarke and convince the latter that his company would have to do business with him (Grier). There was some talk about the franchise another railway company was trying to get and then Harris gave Grier $40 on account. May 11 Grier called again and witness saw Harris give Grier $1,400. He saw Harris count over the money to Grier, who placed it on his knee and also counted it and then placed it in his pocket. He saw Grier at the Academy of Music on May 16, and at the Rudolph on May 19, when Grier said he wanted $500 for three additional councilmen he wanted to keep in line for Harris. Grier told Harris it would take at least $500 a man to block the franchise for the new company. Personally Grier could not do anything because he was handling money for the new company but would introduce him to a man who would handle the money for him.

WHITNEY ON THE RACK.

The cross-examination of Whitney was concluded by Attorney John F. Scragg. After coming here he visited Mr. Sturges and Mr. Beers. The witness described in detail the holes they put in the door between 24 and 25 to enable them to see and hear. While in this city he visited houses of ill-fame three or four times and spent money there which he obtained from Captain Sawyer for expenses. On several occasions he got money from Mr. Beers. Once he got $250 or $300 and on another occasion $1,300. This money he spent in gambling houses and turned it over. He might have obtained money on another occasion but was not sure about that.

The witness denied that he, Harris and Anderson had divided up the $1,400 among themselves and then arranged to give it to Grier. Mr. Scragg examined Whitney at some length as to the amount he spent in gambling houses, houses of ill-fame and saloons in this city. The greater part of the money the witness said was spent in gambling houses but it would not amount to $50 all told.

Whitney admitted that he played poker with Harris in this city at their hotel from late Sunday night of this week until about 6 o'clock Monday morning. He denied that he was pulled in a raid of the Opera cafe on Spruce street while he was here in the spring with several few women, and of having offered $50 if he was not exposed. The money he spent in these places was for the purpose of being out if they were paying for protection. He did similar work for the Lexow investigation in New York.

DETECTIVE ANDERSON.

A. B. Anderson, another member of the Sawyer detective force, was the next witness. He came to this city on Tuesday, April 21, with instructions to report to Harris at the Hotel Rudolph. His testimony with reference to what was seen and heard of the transactions in No. 24 between Harris and Grier was practically the same as that of Whitney. He was cross-examined by Attorney George S. Horn. He was still on the stand when court adjourned for the day.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors prescribed a cure by the use of local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven error to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case that fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. Autumn Dress Goods

When we say (as we do say) that there never was such another showing as this in any Scranton store, we speak with the calm confidence of accurate knowledge. Facts as big as this need no verbal embroidery: No exaggeration could be bigger than many of our simple truths. Largest in quantities, greatest in varieties, supreme in exclusiveness, unrivalled in beauties. A quartette of stout claims.

Add a fifth—we permit no lower price than our lowest price. Whatever we sell is fairly priced, and no price is fair that is higher than others ask for the same qualities. So, when we say fair prices, we say it all.

It was reserved for the style setters of this season to give the most positive distinction to plain weaves. Their mandate is praiseworthy and purely sensible. All women admire and desire the simple elegance of unobtrusive fabrics. We give impulse to the prevailing tendency by offering unusual values in Broadcloths, Venetians, Camel's Hair Serges, Poplins, Whipcords, Prunellas and other weaves. The quotations represent an effort to convey an idea of the true goodness of these materials. However, types have proved incapable of performing the task. Eyesight is our main reliance. Come and see the displays. That's the convincing way.

Chapter II--About Black Dress Goods

Knowing ones predict an increased popularity for black dress fabrics this fall and winter. There seems to be much plausibility in the prophesy, judging from this remarkable collection, enlarging almost daily. Makers have been vying with each other toward that end. Never have they produced designs in black goods so rich, never variety so extensive. Perhaps this is more particularly true of the Venetians, Prunellas and Camel's Hair effects. And there's a vast number of fine silk and wool fabrics here now. Altogether the gathering is an interesting one—worth studying. Visit the Black Dress Goods Department, just as you would any other department in the store—without feeling any obligation to buy. Just a little list, illustrative of range of choice:
