Cause of Business Failures.

Life's path is beset with terrors. The nerves must be like iron to resist its many shocks.

An eminent physician estimates that many of the failures of business men are directly traceable to a debilitated physique. They overwork brain and body and when danger comes-meeting no firm opponent-it hurls them into the deep abyss of utter failure.

This is a scientific fact. Don't blame your luck or fate or fortune. Realize that the fault lies within yourself, and then and think the matter out. Weak nerves spring from impure blood. Impure blood comes from a weak stomach. Weak. ness in the stomach means catarrh of the lining of the stomach. just as weakness in the kidneys or liver or lungs means catarrh of the lining of these organs. Cure the catarrh, and health

BRACE UP

The medicine to do this is Pe-ru-na. Your brain will brighten, your weakness will disappear-the horizon of life will appear brilliantly hopeful-you'll find yourself made of the stuff which produces successful men. It is strictly a food for the entire body. It makes manly men and beautiful women. It builds up the weak places and fortifies the system against

DEATHS.

Mrs. Patrick Grattan, an esteemed resident of this city, died at 9:45 last night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Peter Devaney, on North Brookyn street. The cause of Mrs. Grattan's death was old age, she being in her seventy-seventh year. Deceased was born in Archbald, then Blakely. For a number of years she was a resident of Dunmore, afterward removing to a farm in Clifford township near Crystal lake. For the past three years she has resided here She was the mother of a large family nine of whom still live as follows: Mrs. T. W. McAndrew, of New York city; Mrs. Fred Richards, of Scranton: Mrs Edward O'Malley, Mrs. F. J. May, Hallstead; Mrs. Peter Devaney, of this city: Messrs, Henry Grattan, of Scrapton: John and Frank Grattan, of Hallstead; and George Grattan, of this city. The funeral will be held on Friday morning, leaving the house at 9. A solemn requiem mass will be celebrated in St. Rose's church, the remains will be taken to Dunmore and interred in the Catholic cemetery at that place.

FUNERAL OF P. J. COLLINS.

Obsequies over the remains of P. J. Collins were held yesterday morning at St. Rose church. Among the beautiful floral pieces was one from fellow boarders at Hotel Harrison, one from the young ladies of the Colling tailoring establishment and one from his brother and sister. Rev. J. J. Griffin officiated at the requiem mass. The bearers rode in carriages from the church to the cemetery. There was no sermon preached at the services in the church but Miss May Moffit sang very sweetly, "Ave Maria." The pallbearers were J. E. Brown, John Lynch, Michael McCann, T. V. Powderly, J. W. Kilpatrick, Peter Flannelly and B. A. Kelly. The flower bearers were P. L. Neary, Patrick McDonald, Michael Hart and J. B. Gilhool.

MUNICIPAL WATER.

Little general interest is being manifested in municipal water. The voters will decide on November shoul whether they shall be bonded for the establishment of a city water plant or not, Several holders of large property interests have recently visited the Ransom tract to satisfy themselves as to the possibility of the project. The drought has brought about conditions which cause some doubt as to the suffleiency of the supply, but the citizens' committee is in touch with them and it is expected that next week its/members will address the voters on the

CAPITAL AND LABOR ARE DISCUSSED

Interesting Session at the Methodist Conference in Harrisburg-Prominent Speakers Take Part.

Harrisburg, Oct. 24.-Harrisburg Methodists are more devout than those in Scranton. Not that they are any better, but they seem less worldly. 'Article 248" in the discipline doesn't worry them. Apparently, they do not want to dance and go to theaters and play cards. They don't seem to be disturbed as to whether this clause will be eliminated or not from the church rules. They kneel when the minister prays, and in general seem to have more of the old-fashioned Methodism than many of the members of this denomination in Eastern Pennsylvania. Yesterday it was announced from the pulpit that "Disciplines" of the Methodist church were on sale at the platform, and there seemed to be many buyers. Methodists in the vicinity of Scranton do literature to be found in the church rules known as "The Discipline." Church and Reform.

The topic for yesterday morning was "The Church and Reform," and according to expectation it brought forward much warmth of discussion. There was evident a strong desire to forever settle the questions involving conflicts between capital and labor; to classify different sorts of villany in politics and to fix the blame of all the troubles now existing in the world, but a somewhat unanimous execration of political bossism, trusts, saloons, bribery and a few other things was

Rev. S. M. Vernon, D. D., of Phila delphia, gave a strong paper on "Po litical and Social Purity," and Rev. Dr. Wallace McMullen, of Philadelphia, followed on "The Proper Attltude of Methodism Towards the Industrial Questions of the Day," summing up of which, as far as labor and capital were concerned, was that coal operators are guilty of "essential meanness" in the present crisis He painted a pretty picture of the way things ought to be. Rev. Dr. Austin Griffin, presiding elder of the Wyoming district, gave one of the best papers of the convention. touching upon a similar subject. He believed that the church could give such inspiration to the members that the poor man would neither "consent to be poor," nor remain in the grasp of evil circumstances, but rising above them, break the bonds of tyranny and by the uplifting of all class-s make the troubled, care-stricken world, a paradise of God.

Dr. Swallow Speaks.

Dr. Silas Swallow, who has been : sombre, if silent, atendant at the ses sions, was then recognized and gave a stirring address. He declared that he was well satisfied that had labor the same opportunities as capital, that t can be just as arbitrary in its demands on capital as capital on labor. The position ocupied by the great carrying companies, he said, in their alliance with political bosses, is forcing the smaller operators out of the field. The carrying companies fix the price of labor, the finish of the product and on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. In- the selling price. They are the greatest of monopolies. Seven railroads control the meat, coal and grain markets.

Mr. Pattison's Remarks.

Ex-Governor Pattison advanced to th front of the auditorium and made brief speech, which held the closest attention of the vast audience. He said 'it is in men, not the law, that we must look for relief from these conditions. FIRST THREE DAYS, -"A Lucky Coon,"
LAST THREE DAYS, -America's Greates Vandeville Stars.

Schiller Stock Company at Academy The Schiller Stock company continues to draw large audiences and please immensely the pat-rons of the Academy of Music. The performrous of the Academy of Music. The performances given up to date have certainly been a great improvement on the average repertoire company's productions, and much credit is due Mr. Schiller and his company for their untiring efforts to give the Scranton theater-goera full value for their money and more too, as few companies playing first class theaters at high companies playing first class theaters at high controls. prices give a better evening entertainment of a better performance than was seen at the Academy last evening. "The Soldier of the Empire" was the play produced and although it has been played here before this season, one has been played here before this season, one would scarcely recognize it as the same play, as the Schiller production was presented in an elaborate manner by a capable company, so it was impossible to be anything but a first was impossible to be anything but a first class production.

The acting company was excellent. Miss Ellen Fontainbleau was seen to advantage in the difficult role of Louise DeVere. Her costumes were exquisite and numerous and her acting certainly showed her ability, which never for a moment could have been doubted by the most skeptical critic. Eugene Frazier was very acceptable as Guilbert De Montville. Harold Kennedy, the comedian of the company, has Kennedy, the comedian of the company, habeen here before and never fails to please. J Ismar Noa, as Major Durant, was all that could possibly be desired. He also has appeared in this city before with other companies and although yet a young man has been seen in son very difficult parts portraying them in a man-ner that would do justice to many of the so-called "old timers."

The specialties presented during the action the performance are on par with any shown the average vaudeville theater throughou the country. The aerobatic dancing of Chappelle Sisters is wonderful, while whistling of Louis Garnat is superb. Mr. Gran at's rendering of Will F. Burke's greatest success of 'The Girl I Should Have Married Long Ago" proved a great feature of the performance. Last and least, that is least in size, but not as a drawing card, is "Little John," the smallest person on the stage today, doing a cake walk that would do justice to a person three times his size and age. Little John has the distinction throughout the country of being the rider of the smallest safety bicycle ever built. This afternoon "We 'Uns of Tennessee' will be repeated, and tonight "Monte Cristo" will be the offering.

"The Girl from Maxim's."

The immensely successful farce, "The Girl from Maxim's," comes to the Lyceum tonight, This Parisian farce ran for over three months at the new Criterion thester, New York, and its necess was such that it could have remained at that theater for the entire seaowing to arrangements previously made appearance of another attraction it had to be and its success was a most decided one.

A large company is necessary and they must ill be clever people. The scenic production from the Criterion theater, New York, will be

Bennett and Moulton Company. The Bennett & Moulton company will begin pext Monday, Since Bennett & Moulton visited the city last season they have added many new features to their big company. None of the scenery, properties or electric effects carried last season will be used. Owing to the vast amount of scener and electrical effects to be mounted and staged, there will be no matinee on Monday, but comtencing Tuesday there will be a matinee daily

Matines prices, 10 cents; reserved seats, 20 cents. Evening prices, 10, 20 and 30 cents. The Bronze Melba, Madame Flower, will appear at each performance. A special feature of the Bennett & Moulton company, which will be of interest to the lady patrons of the Acad emy, is that the bargain performance usually given on Monday evening will be changed to Tuesday evening. Any lady can procure the Tuesday evening. best reserved scat for the performance Tuesday evening if tickets are secured before 5 p. m. Tuesday afternoon, for 15 cents,

Morrison's "Faust."

In these days of plays of all kinds, with it is an unusual and genuine pleasure to witness a stage presentation constructed upon the lines of refinement and decorum without any cause to pinken the check of innocence or make the susceptible lip quiver. To witness a play, whose aim is to perpetuate the truths which inspire high humanity and afford genuine pleasure to the toils of life, basking in the alluring embrace of intellectuality and culture, is much more satisfactory than to behold the innuend which inundates the stage with risque suggest iveness, as is so often presented to enlightened ety drama. A genuine gent of clean literature therefore Lewis Morrison's "Faust" and as such it has for years succeeded in stamping its name upon the age as the adaptation of vast intelligence and after baying been presented in all parts of the world during the last seventeen years, it is still on the road and announced as one of the intellectual treats at the Lyceum next Monday

At the Gaiety Today.

The performance comists of nine strong acts calculated to please the most critical admirer of this class of shows and each number on the programme received deserved applause. The Teneaus in an eccentric musical sketch were followed by Carrington and Holland in fifteen minutes of comic opera and Lucie Lane who won for herself any number of almirers. Eddie (ifford according some analysis Eddle Gifford performed some amusing and difficult feats on the bicycle and proved himself the equal of any performer of the kind who has appeared in Binghamton before. Resa Naynon and her collection of trained birds held the interest of the spectators who were not slow to show their appreciation of the slow to show their appreciation of the mar-velous exhibition. MacDonald and Martell, New York Casino favorites, put on one of the most pleasing acts, and floyt and Neft, the "laugh loosenets," came in for their share of the ap-plause.
