FRANK SPENCER IS DENOUNCED

REPUBLICAN CLUB ASKS HIM TO PROVE HIS SINCERITY.

Resolutions Adopted at a Meeting Last Evening Calling Upon the Independent Candidate for Congress to Stand by His Party—Arrangements for Next Week's Demonstration and Mass Meeting. Mother and Daughters Injured. Funeral of Mrs. Flannely—Other Notes and Personals.

The West Side Central Republican club met last evening and passed upon several matters of interest in the present campaign. The invitation of the Union League to participate in the parade and mass meeting next Monday evening in the central city was accepted, and all members are requested to be at the rooms before 7 o'clock to join in the parade. Announcement was also made of the mass meeting to be held in St. David's hall next Tuesday evening, when Hon. Hugh Gordon Miller and other speakers will deliver addresses.

The following resolutions were submitted by the committee on resolutions and were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, Frank M. Spencer, having issued an address to the Republican voters of the county, explanatory of his position in the present campaign, in which he declares his belief in Republican principles and also in a strict alliance thereto; and

Whereas, The times and conditions are fraught with too grave dangers to the prosperity, progress and honor of our nation to now waver in allegiance to those party principles, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the West Side Central Republican club deems it a duty which belongs to a Republican organization to call upon Mr. Spencer to prove his sincerity by withdrawing his name as a candidate for congress from this district, or, failing to do so, stand convicted of hypocrisy and political apostasy, and we do therefore caution all voters against throwing their support or influence in favor of his candidacy and urge upon them the necessity for strict allegiance to party principles and candidates.

A committee of three was named to draft a circular appealing to the voters to support the nominees of the Republican party. The secretary was instructed to invite all the clubs in the city to join with them in the parade and mass meeting to be held on this side next Tuesday evening.

Arrangements will be made to receive the election returns at the club rooms on the night of Nov. 6, and a

The popularity of this department never was as great as today. That's fact No. 1.

Gentlemen are not apt to go out of their way to do their buying, unless there is a very good reason for so doing, and we know that they come from all sections of the city and county, to fill their furnishing needs from us. That's fact No. 2.

Gentlemen are not, as a rule, much given to chasing up bargain sales and the like, but if they can get their wants filled at a substantial saving in cost, they are generally very willing to do so. That's fact No. 3.

Gentlemen sacrifice nothing in style or quality when they buy their furnishings from us, and the difference between our stock and that of the best men's furnisiers in the trade, is that we ask less money for the same goods than they do, and take good care that sizes, qualities and finishings are always as represented. That's fact No. 4.

committee was appointed to provide refreshments for the occasion. The executive committee also met and appointed the same marshals, aides and ushers for next Tuesday evening's demonstration was officiated in the recent parade and mass meeting. Stenner's band and the May Aug Drum corps will furnish the music and the parade will pass over the same line of march. Residents along the line of march are requested to decorate.

Family Sorely Afflicted.

Mrs. James Hughes and two daughters, residing at 918 Scranton street, are the victims of an unusual accident which happened on Thursday at their home. The mother was descending a flight of steps when they gave way beneath her and she was precipitated to the basement floor, injuring her side and bruising her face.

Her daughter, Annie, who was upstairs at the time, heard the noise, and rushing down, fell headlong into the cellar way, fracturing her leg and sustaining a deep gash on her head. Annie, a younger daughter, also fell into the opening, with a lighted lamp in her hand, and the lamp exploded, causing a slight blaze. She was also slightly injured. Dr. Carroll was called and attended to the injured women.

Funeral of Mrs. Flannely.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Kate Flannely was conducted yesterday morning at a requiem mass at St. Patrick's church. The services were largely attended.

SOUTH SCRANTON NOTES.

Readings from "Besides the Bonnie Brier Bush" Given, Last Night by Rev. W. G. Simpson.

Readings from the "Bonnie Brier Bush," the third entertainment under the auspices of the Brotherhood of St. Paul of the Cedar Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, was given last night by Rev. W. G. Simpson, pastor of the Asbury Methodist church.

Rev. Simpson passed twenty years of his life among the scenes and people described in Ian MacLaren's book, and is therefore especially well fitted to interpret the varied, beautiful and humorous passages of this quaint story of Scottish life. In opening his entertainment he briefly explained the scenes and dialect used in the story.

"This book," said he, "is a remarkably accurate description of the land in which I was born and in which I spent twenty years of my life; the glen in which I roamed as a boy is similar to the one described by Dr. Watson. Things in the Highlands never change. The people are devout worshippers and reverence the church and everything connected with it. They reverence, above all, the word of God, and to the Scotch people things of nature, eldritch and death are extremely solemn."

His first two readings, "The Cuning Speech" and "The Sermon Taster," were given in an excellent manner, the expression of the face, the movement of the hands and the rendition of the delightful Scotch burr brought strikingly to notice the more curious phases of character of the quaint people of Drumtochty.

He then read the pathetically beautiful chapter telling of "The Doctor's Last Journey," describing the death of old Doctor MacLure, who for forty years fought death for other people, but who would not fight his own.

The readings were simple, yet powerful, and those who did not avail themselves of the opportunity to hear Dr. Simpson have much to regret. The lecture course will close Tuesday evening, November 13, with a grand concert by a banjo club, assisted by local talent.

Y. W. C. A. Notes.

Prior to the gospel meeting of the Loyalty club of the Young Women's Christian association last evening, which was led by Miss Kate Opper, the newly elected officers were installed by Miss Van Nort, the secretary.

The 3:45 o'clock Sunday afternoon gospel meeting will be led by Miss Florence Robertson, of Dunmore. Special music will be a feature, and all women are girls are earnestly requested to be present.

The educational classes, which have now been in operation for one week, have already a membership of thirty-five. Those desiring to join the classes can register on Monday evening at the rooms. The schedule is as follows: Monday afternoon, Chautauqua circle; Monday evening, grammar and arithmetic; Tuesday evening, plain sewing and dress-making; Thursday evening, literature and penmanship; and Friday evening, Loyalty club sessions.

TOLD IN BRIEF.

Charles Webber, of Cedar avenue, while engaged in wheeling stone for a cellar wall on Tuesday was injured in a peculiar manner. He was wheeling a heavy stone along the edge of the cellar at his home when the wheelbarrow became over-balanced and overturned, throwing him and stone to the cellar below. His head and body were badly lacerated, and he received a general shaking up.

Miss Rowlands, assistant secretary of the South Side Young Women's Christian association is in Reading attending the state convention of the Young Women's Christian association.

Fred Stockel, of 415 Prospect avenue, had his left leg painfully bruised yesterday morning at the Cliff works. Dr. Walsh is attending his injuries.

Peter Webber, of West Elm street, an attaché of the Badenbach's barber shop, on Cedar avenue, is suffering from a severe lumbago.

The Junger Maennerchor held a well attended meeting last evening in Germania hall.

Miss Christian Gschwindt, of Pittston avenue, returned from a visit to her parents in Stroudsburg.

DUNMORE.

A large number of delegates from Salem, Monroeville, Struthers, Abington, Ariel, Thross and other towns assembled in the Methodist Episcopal church yesterday afternoon to attend the first annual convention of the Home-land district of the Epworth league society. Dunmore was selected as the convention meeting place of the southern sub-district, representing the town above, last year, and efforts were made by the local Epworth league to have an interesting time. They succeeded admirably.

Rev. A. J. Van Cleft and Mrs. E. A. Quinby were the principal speakers at the afternoon session. The former giving a spirited talk on "The Unity and Value of Subliminal Work," and the latter speaking on "Demands of the Church Upon Our Young People." Rev. J. M. Coleman gave the closing address, speaking on the subject, "Our Personal Life."

Culture of Health

There never was a period when so much attention was given to the culture of health as today, and not without good cause. We must prepare to fight against the prevalent scourge of insidious attacks upon the kidneys. The pressure of life is increasing. The prevalence of kidney disease is increasing, weakening constitutions and impairing digestion.

The United Mine Workers of the local branch will hold a meeting this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at their usual meeting place.

A little 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Barry, of Mill street, was taken to the Lackawanna hospital on Thursday suffering with diphtheria. This is the fourth member of the Barry family who is lying ill with this dreaded disease.

The teachers of the borough schools will meet this morning at 9 o'clock to enroll for the county institute to be held in the court house, Scranton, next week. The enrollment fee is $1.

The schools closed yesterday afternoon for one week to allow the teachers to attend the sessions. A report comes from New York city that John McFarr, of Dudley street, who underwent a serious operation recently in that city, is in a very serious condition.

Miss Jessie Swartz, of Electric avenue, who has been visiting Miss Nellie Seyhart, of Scott returned home Thursday.

AUSTRALIA IS A GREAT COUNTRY

Address Delivered by Mrs. Emma Shaw Coleclough for the Benefit of Hahnemann Hospital.

Mrs. Emma Shaw Coleclough delivered the last in the series of lectures for the Hahnemann hospital benefit last night at the home of Colonel and Mrs. H. M. Boles. The subject was "In Australia." Mrs. Coleclough gave a clear and comprehensive view of the political and governing relations of that commonwealth. She quoted eminent authorities to substantiate the prediction that Australia's independence will not be long in coming. A fitting conclusion of this was given in Kipling's poem, "The Young Queen."

The early convict history of Tasmania and Botany Bay was graphically recounted. In August, 1839, the last convict ship, "The Eden," was landed, and thus the dark night of Australia's blurred beginning was past.

The word "convict" is not considered in good form in Australia. In fact, it is strictly tabooed by all who desire to live in peace and harmony with their fellow-beings. When it is remembered that many of the convicts were debtors, or political offenders, while others were utterly innocent, the objections to having the subject discussed may be understood.

Her description of a visit to the wonderful caves, rivaling the Mammoth cave of our own country, was peculiarly amusing. Vivid word pictures of Australian vegetation and ornithology and insect life were especially fascinating. The supposed omnipresent kangaroo failed to put in an appearance. The boomerang-armed bushmen still exists, but bears about as close a relation to Australia as the American aborigines hold to New York and Philadelphia.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the lecture, several young ladies assisting.

OBITUARY.

Charles O'Malley, aged 54 years, died at 11 o'clock last night at his home, 246 Penn avenue. Deceased is survived by his wife. He was employed as a blacksmith at the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western shops and was a member of Griffin post, G. A. R. The funeral notice will appear later.

Michael, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James O'Brien, of Elmhurst, died yesterday morning after a brief illness. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Riddle, of 671 Prospect avenue, are called upon to mourn the loss of their young son, Bernard, who passed away yesterday morning. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon. Interment will be made in Dalton.

INDUSTRIAL NOTINGS.

"RAGLAN OVERCOATS"

We want to talk to you seriously about this decidedly new style of overcoat. First of all we want to say that as in the erection of a building, most clothiers never get beyond the foundation (the cloth). They pay no attention to the interior. We have worked hard with every detail of this new fashion—tried them on some stylish dressers we number with our regular customers. We have worked out every detail most scientifically, intelligently and unrelentingly. We now present to you a ready-to-wear "Raglan" Overcoat that is, we believe, far beyond the touch of most custom tailors at our prices.

These results have only been accomplished by the best skilled tailors. Every little touch or conceit that characterizes the "Custom Tailor's Raglan" has been put into these coats, and many of our ideas that have been carried out by skillful men. If you will favor us with a call we shall be pleased to explain what we mean by custom-made "Raglans," ready-to-wear, at prices that we are certain will be a revelation to you, especially if you have been a patron of the custom tailor.

Clerk Says the Amounts Are Charged Against Wrong Accounts

City Clerk Lavelle is holding in his office the August and September pay rolls for the First and Eleventh wards, the ward appropriations for which have already been exhausted. These are the pay rolls which the controller charged to the judgments and incidentals appropriation. His action in so doing causing Councilman Chittenden to introduce the resolution asking for an opinion from the city solicitor as to whether he (the controller) could not be impeached for charging claims against the wrong appropriations.

Mr. Lavelle says that he will refuse to draw warrants on these pay rolls under any consideration as they are charged to the wrong appropriation.

He declared that they must be included in next year's appropriation ordinance as deficiencies and that they cannot be paid this year out of any appropriation unless council so orders.
