PECKVILLE. The miners of the New York and Scranton Coal company at this place will not resume operations this morning owing, it is said, to the failure of the company officials in posting the required notice granting the two and one-half per cent. Saturday afternoon, previous to the labor parade, the local union of the United Mine Workers appointed a committee to wait on General Manager W. H. Storrs, relative to the required notice, and were, it is reported, received and treated very courtcously by Mr. Storrs, who informed them that while their company had not posted the additional two and one-half per cent, notice, they expected and were willing to carry out the intention of their first notice which granted a ten per cent, increase to all their employes, and were they to post the notice which the miners demanded they would be granting a twelve and a half per cent., or two and onehalf per cent, in excess of the general demand. The committee reported the information received to the officers of the local union. And they proceeded to call a special meeting for Sunday merning and invited representatives from all the company's collieries between Scranton and Richmonlale to attend. The result of the meeting was a unanimous resolution not to resume work Monday morning, unless the demand was conceded to, and that a mass meeting be held in Peckville in the Mott Haven base ball grounds, Monday afternoon, Oct. 25, at 4 o'clock, at which time the matter will be publiely discussed by members of the national executive board, one or more of whom has promised to be present. Probably Mr. Dileher. The Peckville local extend a general invitation to the public, the operators or a representative of their body to attend. The meeting will undoubtedly be attended by a large number from out of town. wherever the New York and Scranton

THE COST OF CRIME.

In This Country It Is Reckoned at $600,000,000 a Year.

From the Rochester Post-Express. The cost of crime in the United States, as estimated by Eugene Smith of New York city in a paper before the prison congress in Cleveland, is even more startling than the country's fire waste. Before giving his est! mate, he exposed the error of the supposition that the cost of crime was to be found in the cost of the prisons, the police and the criminal courts, problem was much more complicated than this and involved an analysis of the cost of government very difficult to It could be shown, for example, that a considerable percentage of the expenses of the legislative and executive branches of the government could be attributed to crime. same was true of the judicial branch. To crime also could be charged a considerable percentage of the cost of the military expenses of the state and of the immense sums devoted to public and private charity. It is Mr. Smith's opinion that 50 per cent, at least of the contributions to charity might be cred-

Ited to crime Analyzing the cost of crime in varous cities, he found that the expenses of the department of correction, the district attorney's office, the police, the courts of general and special sessions the city magistrates' courts, the special commissioner of jurors and the sher ff' office of New York amount to $20,-000,000 a year, or over 22 per cent. o the annual tax levy of $90,000,000. This gives a crime of $6 per capita. In San Francisco, the crime tax is $5 per capita, and in other cities from $3 to $3.50 per capita. As to the cost of crime throughout the United States
Mr. Smith estimated it to be $200, ner Adams and Mulberry. Telephone 9540. Mr. Smith estimated it to be $200,-000,000 a year, $105,000,000 of which is city taxation, $45,000,000 town and county taxation, and $50,000,000 state and Federal taxation. To this sum Mr. Smith added the loss to the country of the income of the 250,000 people that live by crime. Estimating the income of each criminal at $1,600, which we think much too high, he arrived at a total of $400,000,000. If to this sum, we add the taxation traced to crime we have a grand total of $600,000,000.

EVANS OF MONTEVIDEO

He Came from Minersville, Pa., and Has Made Millions in Uruguay. Douglas White, in Ainslee's.

Over on South America's eastern coast, at Uruguay's pretty capital, dwells an American who is better known to the officers of all navies than any single individual in the world. This is Mr. W. D. Evans, of Montevideo.

For more than forty years Mr at Montevideo's port, having from a small beginning built up a business in ship chandlery until he was practically without competition in the harbor, It was from Minersville, Penn., that this present-day millionaire set out for the lands beyond the equator. His advent in the harbor of Montevideo was as mate aboard a sailing ship. He saw a chance to make money, and left his billet to start a business on shore. After having made an excellent start, his venture was wrecked by the manipulations of his partner.

This meant another beginning and practically a harder struggle than the first, but Mr. Evans had not started out to submit to failure. He was looking for success and meant to find it.

On his second race for fortune his most valuable possession was a boat with which he personally served his charm. I most cheerfully recommend wares to the various ships. The stock which he carried in this same gists. Matthew Bros., wholesale and craft ofttimes represented his entire capital, and in the rough harbor of Montevideo any hour might render him again penniless. He had many narrow escapes. Finally he had made a sufficient amount of money to enable him to send to Baltimore, Md., for a craft which would stand all weathers. With the new boat came added prosperity, until finally it required a steam tug and several lighters to handle his enor-

Prosperity in business made outside investments possible. These were handled with so much foresight that as Montevideo expanded the Evans properties increased in value until today they are worth millions. Mr. Evans has retired from active business. He is succeeded by his former clerk, Manuel Bottini, an American citizen of fereign parentage.

HIS AMERICANISM. Mr. Evans has specially endeared imself to the officers of every navy which has had ships upon the South Atlantic station. These war ships have always been his especial charge, and no fighting craft ever entered the haroor at Montevideo that was not met by an Evans boat carrying ice, fruits, fresh provisions and all those things which are impossible accompaniments of a long cruise. To naval officers Mr. Evans has been a banker, and many an officer's wife has blessed this man from North America when she arrived at Montevideo and found her husband's ship not yet in port. 'If you arrive at Montevideo and do not find me there go to Evans. He will take care of you and see that you want for nothing,' were the traveling instructions ssued to officers' wives when they started to join their husbands on the station. Even now there is no change save the substitution of Bottini for Evans in the instructions, for the sys-
