PERSONAL.

G. Michaluk has returned from New York.
Rev. Miles J. McManis, of the Cathedral, will preach at St. Paul's church in Hazleton tonight.

Edward D. Logan, of the New York Herald, is the guest of his brother, W. H. Logan, of Dun's Mercantile agency.

Miss Myrtle Simmons, of Hazleton, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. B. W. Wagner, and expects to spend the winter with her.

W. G. McMillan, Grant Edgar and W. H. Morgan, of this city, were registered at the Hotel Albert, in New York, last week.

CAKE WALKERS GALORE.

Music Hall the Scene of Amusing Contests Last Night.

The Eighth Ward club held a cake walk in Music hall last night which was won by William Fisher and Miss Mabel Miller, of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Williams of Binghamton, gave a clever exhibition of this fascinating game.

Fisher afterwards challenged Williams to walk at the "Warm Babes" Reception in Music hall tomorrow evening, and the offer was accepted. A purse of $100 will go to the winner. Master John Gilson and Miss Louise Bailey, of Williamsport, the champion juvenile walkers, will give an exhibition.

ARE HOME FROM SWEDEN.

Miss Kraemer and Miss Claghorn Have Returned to the City.

Miss Elin Kraemer, superintendent of the Lackawanna hospital, and her assistant, Miss Claghorn, arrived in the city last night, after having spent the summer at the home of the former's parents in Sweden.

A dinner was served them at the hospital upon their arrival by the physicians and nurses.

DEATH OF J. J. TAYLOR.

Well Known Directory Man Expires Suddenly from Heart Disease.

Joseph James Taylor, manager of the Taylor Directory company and one of the most prominent Masons in the city, died suddenly last night of heart disease.

He was on his way to the mass meeting in the armory about 8.30 o'clock, and while passing along Adams avenue, near Linden street, he was seen to stagger and place his hand to his side. A woman, who was standing at her gate nearby, asked him if he was ill, and he replied that he felt very weak and would like to lie down. She bade him go to her house and rest, and she would go for a doctor. Before the doctor could be brought he expired.

The remains were taken to Price's undertaking establishment and prepared for burial. Coroner Roberts made an investigation and decided no inquest was necessary. Later the remains were taken to the family home at 811 Prescott avenue.

Mr. Taylor was thirty-two years of age. He was born in Baltimore, and was a ship painter by trade. He gave up his trade to enter the directory business and six years ago, shortly after his marriage, he came to this city and issued a directory of Scranton. He continued in this work yearly, and also compiled and published a directory of Carbonate, Bloomsburg, Danville and Lackawanna county. When not engaged in directory work he acted as a collector on The Tribune.

He was eminent commander of Coeur de Lion commandery, Knights Templars, a member of the Mystic Shrine, and prominent in Peter Williamson lodge, Free and Accepted Masons.

The deceased, though a resident of Scranton but a comparatively short time, had an extensive acquaintance through his business connections and of each acquaintance he made a friend by his affability and sterling, honest character. His home life was an extremely happy one, and a great grief indeed is brought by his untimely death to his wife and mother, his only surviving relatives. Second only to their sorrow is that which his fellow-employees are made to feel.

DID THEY KIDNAP MILLER?

Philadelphia Politicians After the Rising Orator from Virginia.

Much disappointment was felt when it became known last evening that Hugh Gordon Miller, who had been expected to follow Congressman Littlefield at the Armory, could not come. A dispatch from State Chairman Reader to Major T. P. Penman, who has charge of the local spell-binding campaign, explained that Mr. Miller was not feeling well. Reader asked for one day's respite in Miller's behalf, and it is, therefore, expected that Mr. Miller will be here to deliver his assignments. There is a suspicion, however, that his illness yesterday covered a design on the part of some of the Philadelphia candidates to secure Mr. Miller's services for one evening in their own behalf. He is in great demand these days and has to refuse engagements by the score.

Mr. Miller spoke in New Brunswick, N. J., on Friday night last. A published version says: "The biggest ovation ever accorded to a man in this city was given to Hugh Gordon Miller, the young orator from Virginia who has been making a reputation for himself as a spell-binder during this campaign. Mr. Miller came here to speak at a rally of the Young Men's Republican club. He is only 25 years old, and many of the spectators stared in surprise when they saw what a strapping he was. The young man's eloquence, however, kept his audience on their feet, and once, after a particularly effective burst, they rushed forward and swarmed over the platform cheering. At the close of the meeting, the members of the Young Men's club carried the speaker from the hall on their shoulders. The crowd followed his carriage to the hotel and would not be satisfied until he had addressed them again."

The Columbia Bicycle Wins the Grand Prix at Paris.

The Columbia Bicycle has been awarded the Grand Prix in competition with all other American bicycles at the Paris exhibition. The Grand Prix, as its name signifies, the grand prize—the highest possible award. Recognition of the merits of certain other American wheels took the form of gold, silver, and bronze medals, and "honorable mention," but there was only one Grand Prix, and the Columbia won it.

The manufacturers of Columbia Bicycles took the American industry at its birth and have led it through each step of progress. Master minds in mechanics have given their ripest thought to perfecting the Columbia, to harmonizing and improving its parts, to embodying in it every feature of excellence. Year after year it has represented the most advanced construction.

The models shown at Paris are a result of what has been done to keep the Columbia at the front for twenty-three years, covering the most remarkable period of mechanical progress the world has ever known. The Columbia Bicycle has been in many industrial exhibitions and it has never failed to win first place wherever and whenever awards have been made according to a fixed standard of excellence.

First in the American field, the Columbia remains foremost. The local agents for the Columbia are Conrad Brothers, 243 Wyoming avenue.

NO QUORUM WAS PRESENT.

Common Council Again Failed to Meet Last Night.

Common council again failed to meet last night. When Clerk Lynott called the meeting to order at 8 o'clock there were only seven members present, and adjournment was made till Thursday night.

About two minutes after adjournment was made, enough members to make up a quorum put in an appearance, but they were too late. It was the old trouble of not enough members being present to pass the Dyer and Saul resolution over the mayor's veto. The seven members present at first realized this and they hustled the calling of the meeting and adjournment before the others showed up.

MANY MEN DID NOT WORK

REASONS THAT KEPT SOME COLLIERIES IDLE.

At the Places Controlled by the N. Y. O. & W. Company the Notice of the Advance Was Not Posted Until Yesterday Afternoon—Work at These Places Will Be Resumed This Morning—Troubles That Kept Other Collieries Shut Down Will Be Adjusted.

All of the companies allied with the Ontario and Western railroad followed the lead of the other operators yesterday, and now there is not a colliery in the Lackawanna region on which there is not a notice conforming to the demands of the miners.

The notices posted on the Ontario and Western mines follow the form of the appended:

Office of the Scranton Coal Company.
NOTICE.

In explanation of the ten per cent. advance to be paid to the mine owners at the Pine Brook colliery from this date until April 1, 1901.

WHY HE SHOULD BE RE-ELECTED.

W. Scott Collins, superintendent of the architectural department of the International Correspondence Schools, and one of the leading Scotch-Americans of the city, had the following to say last night when asked why he favored the re-election of President McKinley:

"The interests of capital and labor can best be advanced by re-electing William McKinley to the presidency. He is a typical American and stands for all that is worthy of emulation in a citizen."

"The firm and decisive manner in which he handled the Spanish-American war despite the actions of the croakers has shown him to be a strong and safe man and while we are in the toils of the Philippine trouble it would be manifestly unsafe to change horses in the middle of the stream."

"His sturdy manhood is acknowledged in Europe as well as in the Americas and his honesty of purpose has never been questioned by any citizen who has the welfare of this country at heart. To change the administration at this time would without doubt bring disaster to this now prosperous land of ours."

"The hands of Mr. McKinley can be only supported by returning a Republican congressman who will be in hearty accord with his policy. In order to do this it is necessary for every staunch Republican to vote the straight Republican ticket thus avoiding party dissensions and saving what might otherwise mean defeat."

and thereafter until further notice, powder will be sold to contract miners at $1.50 per keg, and an advance of two and one-half cents per keg will be added to the price of the mine car in each case.

All other mine employees will be paid a flat advance of 10 per cent. on the rates of wages paid heretofore.

The Ontario and Western mines are the Pine Brook and Capouse, operated by the Scranton Coal company; the Ontario, Blue Ridge and West Ridge, operated by the New York and Scranton Coal company; the Richmond No. 3 and Richmond No. 4, operated by the Elk Hill Coal and Iron company, and the Mt. Pleasant, which is to be operated by the Scranton Coal company.

WILL OPEN TODAY.

None of these places worked yesterday, but all will, it is expected, open up today. The company had made the ten per cent. offer, but neglected to join in the agreement stipulating that the advance was to be made up by decreasing the price of powder to $1.50 per keg and adding 2½ cents to the price per car. The management claimed this would mean an advance of from twelve to fifteen per cent. and declined to make any such terms. The men were steadfast in their determination to have the company specify how the advance was to be made, and when they did not return to work yesterday, the company concluded to fall into line with the other companies and permit a general resumption.

Two of the only three collieries still tied up by labor troubles are the Forest Mining company's places at Archbald, where the men have been on strike for over seven months. The notices posted by the company, in conformity with the action of the other companies, accord the miners all they were asking, except the curtailment of the size of the mine top. This difficulty is now in process of adjustment and may be removed at a conference which is to be held this morning between General Manager Edward Jones and a committee of the men.

The other tied-up colliery is that of the Green Ridge Coal company. In Johnson's patch. Some local conditions make it unwarrantable from the company's viewpoint to conform strictly to all the demands of the men, but they are such as are thought not to be impossible of acceding to speedily adjustment. The matter is being thrashed out by representatives of the company and the men, and in the course of a few days it is likely the trouble will be settled.

WANT FOREMAN DISMISSED.

The Clark Tunnel company's opening at the "Notch" failed to start up, owing to the refusal of the men to work under one of the foremen who, it appears, was obnoxious to the employees.

played before the strike and made himself more so while the strike was on. Only seventy men are employed at this place.

The Manville colliery, operated on alternate months by the Delaware and Lackawanna and Delaware and Hudson companies, is not to start till November 1. This is the Lackawanna month to operate, but owing to the fact that only two days of the month remain, and that the place could hardly be gotten in shape for mining by that time, the Lackawanna decided to let the two days go by the board.

All the other collieries of the Lackawanna region got under way, though the amount of coal mined was comparatively small, owing to so much repair work being necessary. All of the companies report a full-handed force. This region was affected least of any by the exodus of miners to other fields during the strike. It is estimated that not over 2,000 left here and, as twice this number could be spared, their going caused no inconvenience. Some little friction was experienced at a few of the mines. At the Archbald the drivers refused to supply cars to a miner who had prominently identified himself with the Lackawanna union and did not get into the United Mine Workers. He had to come out without doing any work.

NO DISCRIMINATION.

General Superintendent Loomis, upon learning of the affair, sent word to the foreman that the men should be informed that the company could not be expected to brook this sort of discrimination and would not.

The company had informed the men that it did not propose to discriminate against any employee on account of any connection he might have had with the strike, and it expected the men would not discriminate against any fellow-employee who might not have been a strike adherent.

The driver boys at the Manville were threatening to quit because they were called upon to serve cars to non-union men, but they thought better of it and remained at work.

At the Baltimore tunnel of the Delaware and Hudson company the drivers had turned out on this very account, but the matter was straightened out in the afternoon and the place will likely be under way again this morning.

Jermyn & Co.'s two mines at Old Forge, at which there was a strike for four months previous to the general strike, joined in the general resumption, upon the men receiving assurance from the operators that the local grievances would be satisfactorily adjusted.

MITCHELL IS GRATIFIED.

To a Tribune man, last night, President Mitchell expressed himself as highly gratified at the very general compliance with the conditions under which the miners agreed to return to work, and said he felt confident that before many days every operator in the whole region will have posted the required notices and permit of a complete resumption of work.

Today Mr. Mitchell goes to Archbald to address a meeting of miners, and tomorrow he will attend a similar meeting in Carbonate. He will probably return to Hazleton Saturday.

LOVING CUP FOR MITCHELL

PRESENTATION TOOK PLACE AT THE ELKS' ROOMS.

Former Sheriff Charles Robinson Was the Moving Spirit of the Plan to Honor the President of the United Mine Workers—Besides the Cup He Was Presented with a Handsome Floral Piece—Speeches Made by a Number of Prominent Scrantonians.

About fifty well known business and professional men of the city last night invited in a reception to President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, at the Elks' room on Franklin avenue and presented him with a beautiful floral piece and a silver loving cup.

It was ex-Sheriff Charles Robinson's hospitable spirit which prompted the affair and it was due largely to Mr. Robinson that the reception proved the success it did. It was he who made the presentation speech to President Mitchell of the cup, and his short talk was one of the most enjoyable of an evening replete with interesting and eloquent addresses. President Mitchell, Eyed Diller and John Fahy represented the miners, and Major W. S. Millar was present as a member of the National Guard. Colonel F. J. Fitzsimmons and Attorney Joseph O'Brien may be mentioned among the members of the Lackawanna county bar, who represented the legal fraternity of the city and Dr. P. F. Gunster, as a Scranton physician, appeared for the legitimate practitioners of the county.

Superintendent W. H. Davis, of the Sauquoit Silk mill, was the chairman of the evening. Colonel F. J. Fitzsimmons called the meeting to order and introduced Mr. Davis who opened the session in a neat little speech.

The meeting proper was held in the Elk lodge rooms and at the close of the presentation and speeches a lunch was served in the cafe.

ROBINSON'S SPEECH.

Ex-Sheriff Robinson, in the course of his presentation speech of the cup, said:

Gentlemen: I don't know why our friend, Mr. Diller, did not let you know all about this. I think he was present when it was planned and knew we had in our midst a gentleman whom he well knew as worthy of an evidence of our regard. I do not introduce him as a brother Elk, but as one who has done good in this city, this valley and this commonwealth—to 75,000,000 of people throughout America. It was on the eve of that famous Scranton strike, when all the eyes of the country were on this city, that I introduced him to you as a brother Elk. We all feel happy in the final consummation of the work for which he then came to our city—to meet the representatives of the miners and to decide the question that was between capital and labor. Every father can now go home feeling happy in what has been accomplished as a result of that conference. We have at last succeeded in getting two great elements together and labor and capital can now shake hands with each other. I have the pleasure of tendering a token of friendship to Mr. Mitchell, and in doing this I have the pleasure of presenting a loving cup to him. It is inscribed:

"Presented to John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, by admiring and enduring friends, Scranton, Pa., Oct. 29, 1900."

MITCHELL'S RESPONSE.

President Mitchell responded to this in a speech in which he declared that the present was not so much a gift to him as a tribute to the great cause he represented. Mr. Diller then made a few remarks after which ex-Sheriff Robinson once more ascended an imaginary rostrum and said:

Gentlemen, I forged something—a little floral piece, I said, it was something pertaining to flowers. I will, therefore, expose the picture, drawing away the covering. It is Mr. Diller's, but we managed to get the best we could. The shield of flowers enclosing your picture, Mr. Mitchell, but slightly breathes the love and great respect we have for you.

President Fahy, of District No. 3, responded to this gift in Mr. Mitchell's behalf. J. L. Connell made a short address, in which he expressed his gratification at the successful ending of the strike and remarks of a similar nature were made by John Gilbons, who said that his sympathies throughout were with the miners.

Major W. S. Millar explained the position of the National Guard throughout the strike, and other addresses were made by C. G. Boland, John T. Dempsey, secretary of District No. 1; Attorney Joseph O'Brien, and others.

POLICE OFFICERS' VACATION.

Lieutenant Davis and Patrolmen Goertitz and Karius Leave City.

Lieutenant of Police John Davis and Patrolmen Louis Goertitz and Fred Karius left the city yesterday on their vacations. Part of their leisure time will be spent by the three bluecoats in a fishing excursion.

During Lieutenant Davis' absence his duties will be looked after by Sergeant Charles Ridgeway. Patrolman John D. Thomas will take care of the desk at the central station.

DEMOCRATIC MASS MEETING.

Ex-Gov. Robert E. Pattison to Speak in the Armory Tonight.

The Democrats will hold a mass meeting tonight in the Armory. The principal speakers will be former Governor Robert E. Pattison, of this state, who has been heard in this city on many previous occasions. Addresses will also be made by Hon. Harry E. Grim, of Perkiome, candidate for congressman-at-large, and M. F. Conry, candidate for congress in this district.

Should they arrive this morning, an effort will be made to have them address a noon day meeting in Carbonate.
