SOUTH SCRANTON

CLEVER ATHLETIC EXHIBITION GIVEN LAST NIGHT.

Members of Scranton Athletic Club Appeared in Athletic Hall—South Mill Reopened—Swiss Celebration to Be Given Tonight in Music Hall. Pleasant Surprise Party Tendered Miss Grace Connor—Peter Coyne Painfully Injured—Other News and Personal Mention.

One of the cleverest exhibitions of athletic exercises ever seen in the city was given last night in Athletic hall, by the Scranton Athletic club before a large and enthusiastic audience. The club, which is composed of stalwart young men, have undergone a severe and thorough course of training under the direction of three young, though highly efficient trainers, Victor Noth, who has lately completed a gymnasium course in Philadelphia.

Difficult horizontal bar feats were cleverly executed by Victor Noth, John Roth, Chris Rose, and the old war horse, ex-Captain Philip Wirth, who has lost none of his old-time cleverness. Berg and Keiser demonstrated fully their ability to do tumbling and all sorts of fancy twisting and bending, tying themselves in knots and then untying themselves. They were frequently applauded.

Double bar work by Albert Henne, Philip Wirth, Chris Rose, John Roth and Victor Noth brought forth some exceedingly hard feats. Some very fine work was done by Victor Noth on the parallel bars, and it was done with astonishing grace and ease. John Johns also did some clever tumbling.

What proved of the greatest interest in the programme was a four round sparring exhibition between Chris Rose, of Pittsburg, has returned home, and their trainer, Victor Noth. It was a very spirited set-to and the boxers exhibited skill in dodge and parry work.

After the exhibition the hall was cleared and dancing was indulged in until a late hour, music being furnished by Prof. Johnson.

South Mills Again Open.

The South mills of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company, which have been idle for over ten months, resumed work yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The Old Square Piano

takes up lots of room and is awfully hard to move. Of course you are attached to it, and no wonder it has been a good instrument and suggests many pleasant recollections; but then, during twenty years of progress, many advancements have been made in the piano industry, same as in all other, and your child's "ear for music" should be educated by every known means from the start.

have steadily kept up their march, in the front rank of strictly HIGH GRADE PIANOS, always subserving commercialism to idealism, quantity to quality, never allowing the growing demands to swerve them from the paths of highest possible attainment. At the time your square piano was made cheapness was not the important consideration among the greater number of piano makers, but TODAY IT IS, and we are not surprised at people hesitating to part with their old and tried squares.
