CLOSING DAYS OF CAMPAIGN

Governor Roosevelt Travels Through Five Counties, Making Fifteen Speeches a Day.

BRYAN TALK ANSWERED

The Governor at Jamestown Confines His Remarks Principally to the Unmasking of the Orator on Imperialism—Where Bryan and Jefferson Disagree Upon Application of the Declaration of Independence. The Regular Army Boast Shown in Its True Light—Talk to Railroad Men.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Jamestown, N. Y., Nov. 1.—Governor Roosevelt finished the next to the last day of his New York state tour in this city tonight, after having traveled through five counties, making fifteen speeches during the day.

The two stops where the most time was spent were Dunkirk and Jamestown. His speeches during the day and at both of these cities were flavored with attacks on Richard Croker and National Chairman Jones for their alleged attitude on the counting of the ballots which Governor Roosevelt diagnosed as an incitement to violence. At both Dunkirk and Jamestown, and especially in the latter place, tonight there were immense audiences.

At Dunkirk, where three meetings were held, the governor, in addressing the first, an evening air meeting in front of the Brooks Locomotive works, which suspended work in order to give the employees an opportunity to hear him, replied to Mr. Bryan and said among other things:

"I want to take up one or two statements made last Saturday by Mr. Bryan when he was here. In the first place Mr. Bryan said that the argument of the full dinner pail was bad, because it was not full. Now, I don't know exactly how full it is, but I do know it is not quite as full as it was four years ago. Here are the figures of the present year for these works, as compared with 1896:

The average monthly wages paid are a little over one hundred thousand dollars, as against twenty-five thousand dollars in 1896. The average number of engines turned out is twenty-eight per month. The number of men at work is 2,100, as against 800. Mr. Bryan said if we were prosperous it was not due to us. Well, I tell you one thing, Mr. Bryan is not responsible for it."

"You bet your life he isn't shouted one of the grimy-faced workmen. The governor smiled and continued:

Due to Providence.

He said it was due to Providence, well, Providence helped us because it helped to keep Mr. Bryan out. Mr. Bryan denounced imperialism. One of the things you have got to do is to effort to hold our own in the East, then graduate to any chance of extending our commerce and obtaining a market in the Asiatic hemisphere. We are able to export our locomotives and goods because we are taking up our position in the forefront of the nations of the world.

Colonel Bryan was in excellent voice and this he used to good effect in reeling the storm of cheering that greeted him when he was introduced by Michael Shields, vice-president of the county committee. His speech was applauded incessantly, and at its conclusion he was driven to the Auditorium, where he took dinner, after which he proceeded on his tour of the north side of the city, where he made eight speeches, all of which were made to large crowds.

Just as soon as Mr. Bryan and his supporters themselves cease from aiding and abetting those who are shooting at our flag, Governor Roosevelt, when he had finished his talk this evening, was in the best of condition. His voice is still good, the temporary soreness in his chest has left him and his physical condition is perfect. With the exception of a speech at Oyster Bay on Monday night, he will finish his speechmaking tour at Owego to-morrow night.

THE MANIFESTO OF CHAIRMAN JONES

He Claims That Election Is Already Won and That Democrats Need Only Maintain Their Present Position.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Chicago, Nov. 1.—Chairman James K. Jones of the Democratic national committee, today, issued the following, addressed to "all who favor the republic and oppose the empire":

"The election is already won. We now have only to maintain our present position. I urge that every man interested in preserving the principles of government which have come down to us from the fathers shall consecrate the entire day on Tuesday next to the great cause. Let each go to the polls early, either singly or as a member of a voter's group, and then give the remainder of the day to whatever may be necessary to be done."

Let those who can do so place teams and vehicles at the disposal of the committees to bring old and infirm to the polls. See that everyone is reminded of the urgent urge to vote.

Let those who can afford it take a pull and continue to do so for every instant of time, from the beginning to the end, from the opening of the ballot box in the morning until the returns are signed and sealed at night—and all will be well." (Signed) James K. Jones.

BRYAN'S ITINERARY OF WINDY CHICAGO

He Is Greeted by Enthusiastic Audiences Everywhere—Eight Speeches Made.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Chicago, Nov. 1.—William Jennings Bryan this afternoon began his third day's itinerary of this city, addressing a vast concourse at Randolph street and Michigan avenue. The speaker's stand was on the side of the public library and so dense was the throng around it that the presidential candidate was literally dragged to the platform by a squad of police, who acted under the personal supervision of Mayor Harrison, who had met Mr. Bryan at the station. Colonel Bryan was escorted from the Dearborn street station by the Cook county Democrat through several streets, which were lined with humanity. The hour was especially auspicious, as thousands of workingmen and office employees had just completed their day's task and awaited the coming of the Democratic champion.

Colonel Bryan was in excellent voice and this he used to good effect in reeling the storm of cheering that greeted him when he was introduced by Michael Shields, vice-president of the county committee. His speech was applauded incessantly, and at its conclusion he was driven to the Auditorium, where he took dinner, after which he proceeded on his tour of the north side of the city, where he made eight speeches, all of which were made to large crowds.

ALIGNMENT OF POWERS IS NOW COMPLETE

Italy, Austria and Japan Give Unconditional Assent to British-German Agreement.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Washington, Nov. 1.—The alignment of the powers on the British-German agreement is now complete. Aside from Italy and Austria, whose adherence to the agreement was expected, owing to their political relations with Germany, Japan is the only one of the powers which has given unconditional assent to the agreement. As the matter stands five of the powers are united in all the terms of the agreement, viz.: Great Britain, Germany, Italy, Austria, and Japan; three of the powers, United States, France and Russia accept the clauses relating to the open door and the territorial integrity of China, but withhold action on the third clause relating to future procedure in case any powers seized territory.

HE SERVED AT SEBASTOPOL.

A Noted Surgeon, Dr. Louis W. Read, Passes Away.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Norristown, Nov. 1.—Dr. Louis W. Read, aged 72 years, died suddenly to-day of heart failure at his home here. He was surgeon general of the Pennsylvania National Guard for 25 years, until last year when Governor Stone made a change. He served as a surgeon during the Crimean war at Sebastopol and was at that place during its siege by the allied forces.

In December, 1863, he successfully removed a bullet from the body of Gen. Hancock, who had been wounded at Gettysburg, where other physicians had failed.

BIG FIRE AT WILKES-BARRE.

The governor then took up the subject of the regular army, and after addressing the same arguments to his audience as he has heretofore used at other places, said:

"There is about one regular soldier to every 1,500 of us, and it is a source of some liberty we have to have. Mr. Bryan knows very well that there is more danger to our liberties from the regular army than there is from the justices of the peace and the constables. It can't be used to foreign enemies. I hope the army can be reduced when the trouble in the Philippines ceases, and the trouble in the Philippines will cease

INCIDENTS OF RICE CASE

Valet Jones Makes a Confession in Jail and Then Attempts Suicide by Cutting His Throat with a Penknife—A Startling Story of the Taking Off of the Bachelor Millionaire—Internal Poisoning Is Followed by the Final Application of Chloroform.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. New York, Nov. 1.—With a general enthusiasm past all precedents the fifth Founder's Day of Carnegie institute was celebrated today. In and around the beautiful building at Schenley park entrance, more than five thousand people thronged in their desire to express to Andrew Carnegie their appreciation, to the distinguished guest of the day, Minister Wu Ting Fang, their homage and of the treasures of arts and science and literature their regard.

The capacity of the music hall was wholly inadequate for the crowd. Long before any could hope to enter the approaches to the building were overrun and when at last the doors were opened there was a crush that almost swept away control. At least two thousand people were turned away.

The exercises opened at 2 o'clock with an organ solo, "Concert Fantasy," by Frederick Archer. After the opening prayer by Rev. Lemuel C. Barnes, Secretary Samuel Hardin Churchill, President William McKinley and other prominent personages.

W. N. Dyer, president of the board of trustees, then introduced Wu Ting Fang, Chinese minister to the United States, in a well turned address. The minister was greeted with prolonged applause. He sold in part:

China has a great deal to learn from this young republic. I hope, however, that she will learn, not the arts of war, which have for sole need and aim the destruction of life, but the arts of peace, which make for the happiness and welfare of all. The Chinese nation has been educated by the best of teachers.

This greatness does not lie in the extent of territory nor in the strength of battalions, but in the character of the people. From personal observation, I am inclined to the belief that the American people possess the element of national greatness in a high degree. The test of leadership is not power, but the use of power without abusing it. Wealth in power.
