A BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Home of Miss Mollie Nolan Filled with a Happy Throng.

A party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Nolan, of Pike street, on Wednesday evening in honor of the anniversary of the birth of their daughter Mollie.

The home of Miss Nolan was very fragrant, as it was decorated with palms and all manner of flowers, with flags and bunting of all descriptions twined among them and covering the walls. The scene was a very pretty one. Games were the order of the evening, interspersed with vocal and instrumental music. There were a number of out-of-town friends of Miss Nolan present to join their congratulations with those of her city friends.

Miss Nolan was the recipient of a number of birthday presents of substantial value, and one, which she prizes most highly, is a portrait of the famous labor leader, President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers. During the musical portion of the evening's entertainment there were a number of vocal solos, and a duet by the young hostess and Miss MacDermott was rendered very delightfully. Besides these there was an instrumental duet by the Misses Sadie Collins and Nellie Gavin, of Jermyn. A bountiful and tastefully served supper was indulged in at about 11 o'clock.

Those present were the Misses Mary McDermott, Lizzie Scanlon, Beatrice Howard, Anna Walsh, Dora Brownell, Effie Frainey, Anna Quinn, Sadie Collins, Lillie McChrone, Nellie Loughlin, Nellie Gavin, of Jermyn; Nora Lynch, Mary Mannion, Lizzie Howard, Mollie Nolan, May Campbell, and Messrs. Claude Oliver, Harry Brownell, Robert Cox, George Alexander, Robert Helms, Boyd Oliver, Herbert Histed, James Malone, James Cannon, Michael Barbour, William Connerton, Michael McChrone, Andrew Nealon, Frank Nealon, Frank Nolan, Michael Monohan, John Gavin, Timothy Gilhool, of Jermyn, and Robert Lamoreaux.

This ballot showed an almost evenly balanced opinion among the voters, with the Republicans slightly in the majority, as follows:

For President—William McKinley, 29; W. J. Bryan, 25; John G. Woolley, 19.

For Congress—William A. Connell, 28; M. F. Conry, 26.

Quite a number of bovines roam the city thoroughfares, and Mr. Udy's official position as "cow-catcher" is no sinecure.

Next week they will produce "The Fatal Card," "The World," "Innocent Sinner," "For Liberty and Love," "Michael Strogoff," "Just Before Dawn" and "The Tornado." Among the scenic outfit they bring will be engines, steamboats, tugboats, patrol wagons, freight trains, horses and dogs. This company has the sole right for these plays in the United States. This will be their third season in this section, and their past reputation is a guarantee of their present performance. J. Brennan and the Misses Katie Butler, B. Kilhullen, Mary Burke, Tillie Murphy, Kathryn Pace, Alida Nealon and Elizabeth Swartz.

Too Late Now to Escape Penalty.

Yesterday was the last day for paying city taxes without a penalty, but there was no rush of property holders at the city treasurer's office. It was very quiet there, as it has been all the week, notwithstanding there will be a penalty of three per cent. added after last night's receipts were compiled. Perhaps the lack of anxiety to escape this added item may be explained by the fact that the majority of the assessments were paid early in the fall.

A Miner Hurt.

He was pushing a loaded car through the mine, with his back to the bumper, when his foot slipped and he fell, striking on his side. Civil Service for the Philippines

(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)

Manila, P. I., Sept. 20.

THE ENACTMENT yesterday by the civil commission of "An Act for the establishment and maintenance of an efficient and honest civil service in the Philippine Islands," as prepared by President Taft, has pleased the Filipino people and has tended to displease the army. The latter is an unfortunate and unintentional result. The provisions of this civil service bill are most comprehensive and complete, comprising all the executive branches of the government of the Philippine Islands, and its perusal tends to show that the qualifications of "honest and efficient" in the title, are real intentions well carried out, and not mere catch words. The bill is founded upon the principles of American civil service, carefully adapted to local requirements. Upon recommendation of the secretary of war it has been decided that, other things being equal, preference shall be given to Filipinos for civil employment under the American Philippine government, and under the provisions of this bill an employe, be he an American or a Filipino, may rise, if he show ability and merit, to a good and well paid position in the service.

The importance of an efficient and honest civil service to these islands can hardly be overestimated, and if this new service be good and effective, its doings will reflect credit upon its organizers and upon the American administration of Philippine affairs. To bring about this desirable end good men are needed, and it is the purpose of the organizers of this bill to make the civil service attractive enough to draw the class of men wanted. It is the intention of the organizers that the Philippine civil service shall not degenerate into a field wherein politicians may find opportunities to settle political obligations. The service will be kept free from the stigma of political patronage or that it will be open to political proteges and favorites. The salaries of the several classes of employes have not yet been determined, but these will be well paid, and it will be possible for a man entering the lower clerkships by efficiency and merit to eventually become heads of bureaus and permanent under secretaries to important departments. A knowledge of Spanish will be an excellent help to an American in this service, although the requirement of this knowledge is left to the discretion of the civil service board.

There will doubtless be established civil service co-operative stores, where members of the service may buy provisions, groceries and other needs of living to the same financial advantage that army officers now buy of the army commissary, and the course of time will probably see the construction of government civil service quarters—a collection of good dwelling houses in some cool suburb convenient to the city, the rentals of which would be reasonable. Such measures will greatly tend to make the service attractive to the class of men the service requires.

—o—

Considerable detail, and the framing of rules and regulations for the service, are left to the civil service board provided for in sections 1, 2, 3 and 4 of the act. Much depends upon the ability and good judgment of this board, the members of which fill positions similar to the civil service commissioners in the United States, and the selections of the civil commission in this respect are to be commended and give promise of a fulfillment of the high standard set by the act. Mr. W. Leon Pepperman, who has long been connected with the civil service at home and who has made a personal study of the civil service maintained by Great Britain, France and Holland in their Eastern colonies, will be on this board, as will be Mr. F. W. Kiggins, of the Washington civil service commission. The third member thereof will probably be a Filipino. President Taft had selected for this post Dr. Joaquin Gonzalez, a most able man. But, this gentleman's untimely death on the eve of his appointment has forced President Taft to find another native capable of meeting the necessary requirements. Mr. Kiggins, in view of his past experience, will probably act as chief examiner, and it is probable that Mr. Pepperman will be appointed chairman of the board.

The comprehensiveness of this new service is set forth in section 5, which provides that "this act shall apply, except as hereinafter provided, to all appointments of civilians to executive positions under: (a), The Military Governor; (b), the United States Philippine Commission; (c), the Treasurer of the Islands; (d), the Auditor of the Islands; (e), the Collector of Customs for the Islands; (f), the Collector of Inland Revenue for the Islands; (g), the Director of Posts for the Islands; (h), the Civil Service Board; (i), the Bureau of Forestry; (j), the Bureau of Mines; (k), the General Superintendent of Public Instruction; (l), Wardens of Penitentiaries and Prisons; (m), the Provost Marshal General of Manila; (n), the Captain of the Port of Manila."

It is to be noted that school teachers are exempted from the requirements of the civil service.

Section 12 gives the civil service board ample power to discharge any employe whom they find to be holding a position in the service in violation of the provisions of the act, or the rules of the board; and section 15 provides that religious or political affiliations shall in no way influence the examination or appointment of applicants. Section 17 sets forth that no officer or employe of the service shall contribute to any political fund, and Section 18 provides for the punishment of all persons making such solicitation.

Examinations for admittance to the service will be held in Manila, Iloilo and Cebu, in the Philippines, and in the United States under the auspices and control of the federal civil service commission, who already possess the required men and machinery to hold these examinations in all of the larger cities.

—o—

The enactment of this civil service bill takes away from the army officers a considerable degree of their power in Philippine civil administration. It is not pleasant for any body of men to be deprived of powers they have wielded independently, and the army officers do not enjoy their present necessity of asking the civil service commission for the appointment of all their civilian employes. From the standpoint of the army, it is inconsistent that General MacArthur, the Military Governor of eight million Filipinos and the Commander of 65,000 American soldiers, should be forced to ask the commission for the appointment of a custom house checker at fifty dollars a month, and the army does not take to the new conditions with entirely good grace. Such slight symptoms of drawn relations between the military and the civil officials are, it is pointed out, bound to arise when two systems of government, military and civil, are operating at one and the same time, and, it is added, the only way to prevent their occurrence is to defer the assumption of power by the civil element until such time as the army ceases. But, authorities at Washington have decided that the civil commission shall take over a certain part of the insular government, and to this end the administration has given the commission explicit orders and every action taken by the commission is nothing more than the carrying out of the signed instructions given them by Secretary Root.

Speaking of this civil service bill, a prominent Filipino said to-day:

"The bill requires an oath of allegiance from the Filipino to the United States government before the former can enter the civil service, and this is as it should be. But, you will find comparatively few Filipinos ready to take this same oath until your authorities can give them adequate protection against the reprisals of their revolutionary countrymen."

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Nov. 1.—A striking evidence of the constraint upon which speculation was given by the action of the market today on the announcement of the declaration of an extra dividend of 1 per cent. on Pennsylvania railroad stock. Previous to the announcement the stocks had been lifted a point and then reacted. When the news was bulletined there was a spasmodic rise in the stock to 136½ but only one sale was made at that price, after which it fell back. Early in October Pennsylvania sold below 128. It has been actively traded in by energetic bull interests since that time and a great variety of assertions have been made as to the forthcoming benefits to the stock. It was alleged, for instance, that the stock would certainly be placed upon a six per cent. basis. Another story had it that a distribution would be made of a large portion of the great surplus in the Pennsylvania treasury. On the other hand the belief has prevailed generally that these assertions were exclusively for stock jobbing purposes and that the company would persist in the regular dividend rate of 2½ per cent. semi-annually which has prevailed ever since 1894. Reviewing these past conditions, it is fair to assume that today's action was a disappointment to some of the active bulls in the stock, while it was certainly an agreeable surprise to the conservative element of the street. But when it is considered that the net earnings of the Pennsylvania railroad directly operated by it have increased during nine months of the year more than $6,000,000 over the corresponding period of last year, today's rate of distribution seems moderate. The extra dividend will involve the disbursement of a little over $1,500,000. The stock's net gain was ⅝ and the trading was remarkably quiet. There was the considerable show of strength in Sugar. The advance was attended by rumors that a break in prices of refined sugars is imminent. Business in the market at large was too small to have any important effect on prices, though the market closed with the level somewhat above last night after having been at one time a shade lower. A single lot of of Lake Shore sold just before the close at 2.30, after having sold yesterday at 210. The closing bid was quoted at 210¼. Nothing could be learned to account for this small but urgent demand. The repression of speculation is till attributed to the influence of what are called the "controlling interests." The rise in the loan call rate today to 5 per cent. may have some bearing on the extreme dulness of the speculation. Stock market demands during the week have been extremely moderate. Total sales, 245,300 shares. The bond market shared in the dullness and prices moved irregularly. Total sales, par value, $1,240,000. United States bond were unchanged on last call.
