

WEST SCRANTON

URGENT APPEAL TO THE VOTERS

WEST SIDE CENTRAL REPUBLICAN CLUB'S OPEN LETTER.

Party Loyalty and Republican Principles Must Be Adhered to in Order to Be Successful at the Coming Election—Strong Sentiments of Consistent Party Workers—Young Women's Christian Association Work—Special Revival Services, Meetings Held by Democrats.

At the regular meeting of the West Side Central Republican club held last evening, the following appeal to the voters of West Scranton was unanimously adopted and ordered circulated through the newspapers and the mails:

At a recent meeting of the West Side Central Republican club, following the unanimous adoption of strong resolutions for party loyalty, this committee was appointed to present the matter plainly and fairly to the Republicans of the West Side.

Obedience to the expressed will of the majority is the bed rock upon which rests the security of all our American institutions. From this, in a free government like ours, there can be no appeal except to revolution. Do you realize this?

Suppose you are a member of a society composed of one hundred members and at the election of officers one candidate receives sixty votes, the other fifty. If the one receiving forty votes refuses to recognize the expressed will of the majority, he can appeal only to revolution and thereby will destroy the society.

Would you say this is right? No, you would say it is a rule of ruin and should receive no encouragement. Illustrations of this principle could be multiplied, but with one more we will leave it.

At the federal election in November, 1890, a majority favored Abraham Lincoln and his party principles. The minority refused to accept the expressed will of the majority and did the only other thing possible. The minority rebelled and planned to bring a civil war, the consequences of which can never be forgotten.

At the caucus last June every Republican aspirant in Lackawanna county had a fair chance to obtain a place on this party ticket by obtaining a plurality of votes. It was inevitable that one or more must be disappointed, but no one can question the fairness of a nomination made under the Crawford county system.

Our present ticket may not be just the one each of us would individually wish, but it is the ticket of the fairly expressed will of the Republican party of the county. That is something entitled to more respect than any individual wish or opinion and we submit should, and does, call for the support and loyal allegiance of every voter who is attached to the principles of Republicanism and the institutions of our country.

We are appealing to you for party loyalty and for Republican principles. Do you believe that?

LITERARY CLUB'S FIRST EXERCISES GIVEN LAST NIGHT.

The Members of the St. Aloysius Society Gave an Excellent Programme in Pharmacy Hall—Hallowe'en Party Given at the Home of Miss Kate Myers—Sad Mishap of a Spectre—Social Events Planned for Tonight—Clerical News and Personal Notes.

The St. Aloysius Literary and Debating club, which was organized last Thursday night, conducted their first literary exercises last night in Pharmacy hall, on Pittston avenue. The society, which has for its aim higher mental culture and the development of public speaking, is composed of active and intelligent young men, who desire to improve themselves in study and to prepare themselves for broader walks in life.

Last night's programme evinced deep study and careful preparation, and also proved very interesting.

Thomas Needham gave a clear, concise essay on the "Jesuits in America," and was followed by Hugh Coyne, who spoke of the "Life, Character and Writings of J. Fenimore Cooper" in an interesting manner.

Solos were rendered by Stephen Dugan and Daniel Boyle, after which Thomas Smith, lecturer explained the "Origin of Coal." A splendid essay on "The Life, Character and Writings of General Lafayette," by John A. Ward, closed their first, though highly successful literary exercises.

Hallowe'en Party.

Miss Kate Myers, of Beech street, very pleasantly entertained a throng of guests at a Hallowe'en party at her home on Wednesday evening.

Prior to the mystic midnight hour the time was spent enjoyably in listening to songs and piano solos, including in various games, bobbing for apples, guessing, etc., which was a dainty repast was served. As the hour hand neared 12 o'clock, each miss, with a broom under her arm, took a position on the sidewalk and began sweeping, and the first gentleman who spoke to that particular miss after that evening was supposed to marry her.

Those present were Misses Frances Myer, Hannah Myers, Gertrude Schuman, Amelia Schuman, Kate Fincke, Mary Wirth, Gertrude Lenkenstein, Gertrude Mulherin, and Messrs. David Thomas, P. J. Mulhern, Emil Schmidt, Joseph Stein, William Myers, Owen Myers, George Pfeiffer and Charles Hornbaker.

A Spectre's Sad End.

One member of a festive gang of South Scranton boys, which was giving a second night's celebration of Hallowe'en last night, came to grief in a very funny manner.

This particular imp had a penchant for masquerading in a spectre outfit, and used, as spectres are generally supposed to do, a white sheet wrapped around his body. This flapped in the night wind and was suggestive of a coffin.

The South Side base ball team, one of the leading amateur base ball organizations in the city, after a most successful season, will hold a ball tonight in Wockington's hall, Alder street.

Tonight a large Republican mass meeting will be held in Curran's hall, Cedar avenue. Address will be made by the Hon. William C. Alder, Mayor Alder, Hon. C. P. O'Malley, R. A. Zimmerman, P. L. Longbrun and Charles E. Oliver.

Miss Kate Scullin, of Irving avenue, employed in the Sausport silk mill, severely cut her left arm yesterday morning by having it caught in a book. The wound bled profusely and the lady was taken to Dr. Walsh's office, where the injury was dressed.

Melvin Rooney, of 67 Alder street, who had his right hand badly mangled by a fall of rock in a cistern last Saturday, is slowly improving.

PERSONALITIES.

J. A. Moore and family, formerly of Wilkes-Barre, have taken up their abode in the vacant house of Keat Jones, corner of Ferry street and Pittston avenue.

Miss Charles Baker, of 1007 Cedar avenue, is severely ill at her home.

George Heenan, of Pittston avenue, who was recently engaged in work at Philadelphia, has returned home.

John Titelberg is ill at her home, 1787 Pittston avenue.

OBITUARY.

Bernard Griffin, an old and well known resident of Old Forge borough, died last night, after several days' illness, in a local hospital. He was 68 years of age. He was a native of Ireland and was engaged in business in Scranton. He is survived by his wife and the following children: Mary A. Sells, Della and Mrs. James Clavin, John, Thomas and James. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. High mass will be sung at St. Lawrence's church and interment will be made in the Minocha cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter O'Connor, of Madison avenue, Dunmore, were called upon late Wednesday night to mourn the death of their youngest daughter. The little one had reached a most interesting age and was the joy of her fond parents. Gloom and sorrow now cover the household.

Mrs. Mary Neal, of Elmhurst, died yesterday after a lingering illness. The deceased was a member of Moses Taylor Street lodge, No. 121, of Scranton. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon. All members are requested to be present.

Mrs. Mary A. O'Connell, aged 27 years, of 800 Richter street, died yesterday afternoon from diphtheria. She is survived by a husband and two children.

T. F. MASON'S PETITION.

Is Circulating One in Favor of the Viaduct.

T. F. Mason, of West Scranton, who is probably the most enthusiastic viaductian to be found in the entire city, when he read on Wednesday about the petitions presented to Mayor Moir, asking him to call a public meeting, that those who are opposed to the viaduct might be heard, decided to start a counter petition.

This petition, instead of requesting the mayor to call a public meeting, requests him to affix his signature to the viaduct ordinance immediately. Mr. Mason stated to a Tribune man that he left it at Davies' drug store for a little while on Wednesday night and secured a whole batch of signatures.

"Look here," said he to a Tribune man yesterday, pulling it out of his pocket. "Here's a petition that I've got up, and the signatures are the result of about a half-hour's work only."

A casual glance at the petition revealed the fact that it was signed by about fifty of the leading citizens of West Scranton.

"We can secure several thousand names if we want to," said he. "We want the viaduct and we're going to get it."

MAN AND WOMAN HELD FOR COURT

John Sheehan and Alice Jacoby Are Charged with Taking $100 and a Watch from T. W. Mansfield.

Matthew Conlin, John Sheehan and Alice Jacoby, all of the central city, were yesterday afternoon arraigned before Mayor Moir on the charge of taking $100 in cash and a silver watch on Wednesday from Thomas W. Mansfield, of 441 Chestnut street, West Scranton. The trio pleaded innocent, but after hearing the testimony of Mr. Mansfield, Patrolman Lona Day and Special Officer John Tierney, his honor discharged Conlin and held the other two in $500 bail for their appearance at court.

Mansfield claimed that Wednesday he met Sheehan and was in his company during the greater part of the afternoon and evening up to about 8 o'clock.

Sheehan introduced him to several friends, and at the end of the day's work, Mansfield found himself minus watch and money. The watch was subsequently recovered, but the money is gone.

Mansfield informed Patrolman McColligan of his mishap, and a small black dog, who was at the Hotel Jenkins, on Penn avenue, while Mansfield, et al, were there, approached Special Officer Tierney early in the evening and gave him the following information: "There's a dead easy mug at de White House, an I jus saw a body with him pick a wad of dough out of his pocket." He gave the officer more information of a similar nature.

When Tierney and Patrolman Day entered the Hotel Jenkins, they immediately arrested the Jacoby woman and Sheehan. Conlin, on their approach, threw a watch to the floor and the officers' suspicions being aroused, he, too, was arrested. It was subsequently developed, however, that the watch was handed to Conlin for inspection by Sheehan, and that on the blue coats' entry, Sheehan would not take it back.

Sheehan and the woman are held in their protestations of innocence.
