

PRESIDENT GREETED BY BIG OVATIONS

His Trip from Canton to Washington Partakes of the Character of a Triumphant Tour.

MANY CONGRATULATIONS

Telegrams from All Quarters Are Showered Upon the President Congratulating Him Upon His Victory—Mr. McKinley and Party Leave Canton for Washington Over the Pennsylvania—Greeted by Expressions of Good Will All Along the Line.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press.

Canton, O., Nov. 7.—President McKinley was up early today and was soon the recipient of congratulatory telegrams by the thousand. The president breakfasted at 8 o'clock with Mrs. McKinley and Secretary Cortelyou and then glanced over the morning papers and listened to the despatches. They came from all quarters, many being cablegrams from ambassadors abroad and all the members of the cabinet had been heard from. The president took early occasion to answer Governor Roosevelt's congratulatory message.

Hundreds of friends called to congratulate the president for which they received his thanks. He looked extremely happy, but avoided any reference to the personal triumph involved.

Mrs. McKinley received many lady callers. She showed no signs of fatigue after the excitement of last night and shared in the general happiness prevailing.

At 1:35 p. m. the presidential train left for Washington, going over the Pennsylvania road by the regular train due in Washington at 7:44 a. m. Thursday. Two private cars were attached to the train for their accommodation. The president and Mrs. McKinley, Dr. Hixey and Secretary Cortelyou occupied the compartment car "Olympia" and some of the president's nearest friends traveled on the "Metropolitan."

President McKinley started away amid the booming of cannon and the cheers of his townsmen. He drove with Mrs. McKinley to the depot, where Judge Day and many other friends were assembled. In deference to Mrs. McKinley's wishes there was an avoidance of any noisy demonstration, but on Duober Heights, a mile away, twenty-one guns, a presidential salute were fired and to this was added a chorus of city bells and steam whistles. The presidential car was literally embowered in flowers.

Columns of Workmen.

Without organization and without formality the people flocked to the station and as the train pulled out sent up a tremendous round of cheers. As the train left the station it passed between columns of workmen from the shops and factories along the tracks in an almost continuous line for more than a mile. The president stood on the rear platform, his hat bowing and waving his hat in acknowledgment of the greetings until the shops and their employes were out of sight.

Reports from along the route ahead indicated that there will be a great outpouring of people at the various stops, and that the trip is likely to partake of the character of a triumphal tour.

Allah, Nov. 7.—President McKinley passed through this afternoon en route to Washington and the population turned out en masse to greet him. Fire bells and shop whistles joined in the welcome. The president said in a brief speech here: "I observe that majorities rise with prosperity and that the American people never fail to support the flag."

Salem, O., Nov. 7.—President McKinley received a tremendous ovation when his train reached here. Steam whistles sounded and a throng of workmen besieged the train. He appeared on the platform, shook many hands and said a few words which were received with great applause.

Speech at Alliance.

President McKinley's trip from Canton toward the national capital today has been one continuous ovation to the elected head of the nation. At every stop there have been great outpourings of the people, business has been suspended and many of the factories along the line have added their thousands of workers, men and women, to those who joined the enthusiastic greetings. The president appeared at each stop, shaking hands from the rear platform and making short speeches at the more important towns. Mrs. McKinley has received her share of the popular tribute, men and women struggling to present her with flowers. Patriotism and the flag and the volunteers' uniform have figured everywhere and the trip has been in the nature of a triumphal journey to the capital.

The president made his first speech of the day when the train arrived at Alliance. The town had turned out en masse to meet with, with bands and banners. When the president appeared there were deafening cheers, to which he bowed and smiled acknowledgment and spoke briefly, during which he said: "I observe that majorities rise with prosperity (great applause) and that the American people never fail to support the flag." (Applause.) Big crowds met the train at the pottery town of Sebring and the factory town of Salem, where bands greeted the president-elect and cheered him to the capital.

EUROPE'S BEST WISHES.

France and Germany Pleased by the Overthrow of Bryan.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press.

Paris, Nov. 7.—There was no effort in Paris last night to await the American election returns, the difference in time practically eliminating the possibility of obtaining definite information. The morning brought many private despatches to General Horace Porter, the United States ambassador, and Consul General Gowdy, who acted as distributing bureau for the embassies, legations and consulates. The employes of both the embassy and consulates were wreathed in smiles, on account of the result. Mr. Gowdy had a roomful of visitors who called to congratulate him on the result in Indiana.

Official France is pleased with the result of the election. Berlin, Nov. 7.—German government circles are all delighted at President McKinley's re-election. The United States embassy today received a number of expressions of good wishes. Generally speaking, the German public is taking much greater interest in the American election than heretofore. Everybody is discussing the results.

Dr. Barth, the Freisinger leader, said: "I consider Mr. McKinley's election, all things considered, the best result, although I cannot indorse his imperialistic tendencies."

RAY OF LIGHT IN GEORGIA.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 7.—Two counties of Georgia, Coffee and Liberty, went Republican. Bryan's plurality in the state is 40,000. Every Democratic congressman is elected.

Glance at the Results About the State—Complete but Unofficial Returns Give Majorities That Leave No Doubt of the Sentiment of the Silent Vote.

Philadelphia, Nov. 7.—Returns from the senatorial and legislative districts of Pennsylvania indicate that M. S. Quay will not have less than 145 votes on joint ballot for United States senator, or seventeen more than the number necessary to elect. Of the 294 members of the house the Democrats have elected less than fifty, as against seventy-one straight-out Democrats two years ago.

The anti-Quay Republicans will probably not muster over fifty votes of the 254 on joint ballot.

Governor Stone's Opinion.

Harrisburg, Nov. 7.—Governor Stone said tonight that the result of the election in Pennsylvania on the legislative ticket is, as ever should be, a triumph regularity over irregularity. The verdict of the people is that Senator Quay having received a majority of the Republican votes in both houses of the last legislature he should have been elected by that body and that he will be elected by the next.

"Thus is settled in a spirited contest," the governor continued, "the right of the majority to rule, and I hope settled forever. It will result in a harmonious organization of all the Republicans of Pennsylvania. It is not a compromise nor a concession, but a complete victory for those who upheld the will of the majority. It is a great vindication for Senator Quay. He has made his fight openly and manfully. He has met every issue squarely and the people have given them their verdict. Further attempts to defeat his election are not only futile but foolish. When the legislature convenes all who hold office by the Republican party should go into the caucus and abide by the result. The caucus will renominate Senator Quay and he will be triumphantly elected."

"The people have spoken and there is no appeal from their declaration. The house and senate will be organized by those who have upheld the proposition that the majority should rule. The people have given a vote of confidence to what is known in the politics of the state as the Republican party. It remains for the organization by wisdom, discretion and conservatism to justify the confidence of the people. There should be no harsh or vindictive desire for punishment or revenge. The legislature will stand by the principles for which it will confer adjustment promptly and wisdom in legislation and economy in appropriation should prevail."

MARK HANNA ON RESULTS

The Sweeping Majority in Favor of Good Government Exceeds His Expectations.

EFFECTS ON COUNTRY

The Vote a Rebuke to Demagoguery. Good Judgment of the People. Summary of the Ballot—Kentucky Claimed by Both Parties—California Majority Continues to Grow. Results Elsewhere.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press.

Cleveland, Nov. 7.—Senator Hanna this evening gave the Associated Press the following on the result of yesterday's election:

The result is more than satisfactory. It expresses a continued confidence in the administration of the party, which is certainly gratifying to all Republicans and friends of this administration. It assures the continuance of present prosperous conditions. It is a triumph of the principles of good government over the heresies of demagoguery, which are the product of a combination of elements of irresponsibility, instability and incompetency. It strengthens the very foundations of the government. It is a rebuke of the demagoguery of the campaign of the opposition; and a clear, cool diagnosis of a situation which was for a time clouded by their methods of evasion, absolute confidence in the good judgment of the people and their readiness and ability to protect their own interests by deciding aright those great questions which of necessity come up in a government by the people.

While in the main our predictions have been fulfilled, I may say that in many cases our expectations have not been exceeded. As yet, final reports cannot, of course, be made, but some of the states which we considered doubtful are surely Republican, and some which we classified as Democratic are doubtful, with a possibility of being Republican.

(Signed) M. A. Hanna.

New Jersey.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 7.—Latest returns from the different counties in the state indicate that McKinley's plurality is 55,000. The official county canvasses will be made on Friday. County returns from Sussex county show the election of Roe, Republican, to the assembly, and the re-election of Martin, Democrat, to the senate, the latter by ninety plurality. The next legislature will stand as follows: Senate, Republicans 17; Democrats 4; assembly, Republicans, 45; Democrats, 15.

Indiana.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 7.—A plurality of from 25,000 to 32,000 for the Republican national ticket, the election state ticket will be made on Friday. County returns from Marion county tickets, nine, and perhaps ten, out of thirteen congressmen and the election of a legislature that will have a Republican majority of forty on joint ballot, is a summary in brief of yesterday's battle at the polls in Indiana.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 7.—Chairman Lindsey, for the Republicans, claims tonight that McKinley carries Nebraska by 7,000 or more, the Republican state ticket will be made on Friday. County returns from Lincoln county tickets, nine, and perhaps ten, out of thirteen congressmen and the election of a legislature that will have a Republican majority of forty on joint ballot, is a summary in brief of yesterday's battle at the polls in Nebraska.

Opening Hours of the New Era of Prosperity Are Celebrated by Tremendous Dealings.

Crowds on the Floor and in the Gallery of the Exchange—Nearly Every Issue Listed Dealt In—More Than a Million Shares Change Hands—Ice the First Stock Out. Business Began Uptown Last Night—Heavy Orders Cabled to London.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press.

New York, Nov. 7.—This was a "big day" for Wall Street. The stock market opened with a crowd on the floor, a crowd in both galleries and a rush for stocks that sent them up from one-half to four and a half points at the very outset. The expected reaction after the "opening up" came, but it was so trifling that the men who waited to catch stock in it missed their chance. Prices held or rose higher. Trading began with a whoop that delighted the packed galleries, continued in tremendous volume; 471,000 shares changed hands in the first hour; 770,000 by noon; and by 2 o'clock the million mark was passed. The number of issues dealt in expanded to that almost unprecedented total of 160. Some brokers said they had refused orders, yet the market became stronger than ever and prices reached the highest point of the day. It was not until after 2:30 o'clock that any material setback occurred, and that was measured by fractions except in stocks like sugar, which went off 1 1/2 from the high.

The first stock out on the tape was American Ice, which was bought at 39. This is an advance of 1 1/2 points. Other opening prices were: Sugar, 2,900 shares; from 127 to 127 1/2; Pennsylvania, 136, up 2 1/2; Manhattan, 100, up 2; Chesapeake and Ohio, 21 1/2, up 1/2; People's Gas, 96, up 1 1/2; American Tobacco, 10 1/2, up 1/2; Federal Steel, 1,900 shares; from 43 1/2 to 44; Southern Railway preferred, 50 1/2, up 1/2; St. Paul, 113 1/2, up 1; Burlington, 103 1/2, up 1/2; National Tube, 60, up 4.

The post-election stock market opened at about 9 o'clock last night. That was the hour when the election returns justifying conclusions the brokers who kept open house uptown all night began to receive orders for execution in London. And from that hour on to daylight this morning the orders, practically all from London, by wire from the west, by telegraph from around town, and by word of mouth from the speculators present in person till over 100,000 shares of stock had been handed in over the counter in the London market. This is 50,000 more than the record of four years ago.
