CIVIL COURT CASES TRIED

BIG CORPORATIONS FIGURE AS DEFENDANTS IN THREE.

Scranton Railway Company Sued for Alleged Violation of Contract with a Junk Dealer—A $5,000 Trespass Suit Settled for $25—Barber Asphalt Company Called Upon to Pay for Dead Horse—Walsh Did Not Shoot the Pigeons the Jury Says. Other Court Matters.

Judge Archbald is engaged in trying the suit of R. L. Glnsburg & Son, of Buffalo, against the Scranton Railway company, in which damages are asked for alleged violation of a contract for the sale of three carloads of scrap iron.

In June, 1888, an agent of the Buffalo firm bargained with General Manager Stillman, of the railway company, for a heap of scrap iron containing seventy-five tons, and after several interchanges closed a deal for the material at $5.50 a ton.

Second ENTERTAINMENT.—The second number of the members' course at the Railroad Young Men's Christian association will be given on Friday evening, Nov. 16. The program is a comedy and impromptu, in song and story. Members may bring their families or a lady friend. Tickets at the association office.

NO TRUTH IN IT.—Superintendent Rose, of the Delaware and Hudson coal department, stated to a Tribune man yesterday that there was absolutely no truth in the report that the Delaware and Hudson company contemplated the purchase of the Clifford breaker of the Hillside Coal and Iron company, at Forest City.

CONTRACT FOR MALONE.—The contract awarded to R. A. Malone, of Lancaster, for the construction of the big nineteenth district sewer has just been drawn up by Assistant City Solicitor Harry A. Bly, and countersigned by Controller Howell. This contract will be sent to him today and if he refuses to sign it the city will then have grounds for retaining the check.

PROVIDENCE LINE SCHEDULE.—Beginning yesterday the Scranton Railway company put a new schedule in effect on the Providence Peckville line, the tracks broken by the paving operations on North Main avenue through the entire summer having been completed. The Peckville cars will run through every twenty minutes, and there will be six cars which will make trips on a ten-minute headway from Lackawanna avenue to Providence Square.

ANTHONY POPOLI CAPTURED.—Deputy United States Marshal Clark Lowry, of this city, on Monday arrested Anthony Popoli, of Yatesville. Popoli had been wanted for some eight months past for selling liquor without a government license and had cleverly eluded capture since then. He was held in $500 bail by United States Commissioner Hahn for his appearance before the Mayor's court of the United States court to be held in this city.

SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR VETERANS.—The members of General Goulet's company, Spanish-American War Veterans, and all soldiers who participated in the recent war with Spain, are requested to meet at 130 o'clock on Thursday morning in the hall of the Wyoming Peckville, to participate in the parade attendant upon the unveiling of the Soldiers' and Sailors' monument. They are requested to wear dark citizens' clothes, campaign hats and white gloves.

INDUENT IN ENGLE CASE.—An indictment was returned Monday by Coroner J. J. Roberts in the case of Frank Engle, who jumped into a well at his home in North Scranton last evening. The jurors were Peter Zang, Joseph Klein, Peter Haggerty, William Tischel, John P. Dunn and George Pomeroy. The verdict of the jury follows: "We, the undersigned jurors, find that Frank Engle came to his death on Nov. 11, 1900, by drowning in a well in the rear of his home, 923 Birch street, in this city.

HAPPILY WEDDED.—Judson D. Wallen and Mrs. Annie B. Smith were married yesterday morning at the parsonage of the Penn avenue Baptist church by Rev. Robert E. Y. Pierce, D. D. Mr. and Mrs. Wallen reside in Binghamton, N. Y., and are noncommittally identified with the First Baptist church of that city, the groom being a member of the young men's society. The happy couple will have the congratulations of many friends, both in this city as well as in their old home in Binghamton, where they will continue to reside.

AN ASSURED SUCCESS.—The operatic performance to be given by the Bristol club, Dec. 3, is an assured success from every point of view. People are everywhere in their demand for seats. The chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Dixie, are progressing finely and the enthusiasm over their affairs is gratifying to all eyes. This is, but reasonably, when the distinction of the performers and the prominence of those interested in the entertainment is considered. Not only will its proceeds help a needy charity, but it will also give a splendid musical organization a permanent place in its home city, but the programme will be of such a pleasing character as is seldom afforded by the most famous professional companies.

SHAKESPEARIAN READER.—Marshal Barrach, the well known Shakespearean scholar and reader, will read "The Fourth Night" at St. Luke's parish hall next Tuesday night. It will be the society event of the week and will be attended by the leading people of the city. It will be read by Mr. Barrach, appeared in the same place before a large audience last season. His course of six readings at the Waldorf-Astoria was among the most popular events of the year. Among the patrons for next week's reading are Mrs. Henry Bell, Jr., Mrs. Thomas Dickson, Mrs. Rogers Ince, Mrs. A. M. Decker, Mrs. T. E. Jones, Mrs. A. D. Blackiston, Mrs. Alfred D. Smith, Mrs. G. H. Morris, Mrs. H. W. H. H. Bedy, Jr., Mrs. M. H. Kaye, Mrs. J. L. Lansing, Mrs. George Sanderson, Mrs. E. N. Willard, Mrs. E. B. Sturgis, Mrs. Walter M. Leavelle, and many more, making a list of the hundred of the well known society ladies, whose names will appear later.

LOCAL FOOT BALL.—The Rugby eleven were defeated at the hands of McCawley's Indians by the score of 17 to 6. The features of the game were Walter Clark's end runs and George H. Morris. The features on the side of the Rugby eleven were the tackling of Scamans and Corbin and the great and only rush made by Edgar Troutfield, which saved them from a whitewash during the second half largely-owned Conkin made his appearance on the cold and weary gridiron. During the first half Scamans' Garry Schadt was held into the water by the Indians. The touchdowns were made by Morris, Chandler and Clark. For the other eleven Troutfield made the touchdown, Horton kicked goal. Timekeeper, Mike; referee, James Reynolds; Cummings, linesman.

RIGHTLY FIXED.—So long as this old world continues to turn in space, so long will magnificent opportunities for success continue to exist. No man, nor any set of men, has a monopoly on opportunity's mill; she turns out golden chances for all alike. To be sure, one gaining a chance to change his status must guard it more closely than was the wont. The age is quick, and none will brook delay in getting at the dollar; even though on occasion fleecing be required to fetch it. As all thinking folks are aware, however, most opportunities actually require the right MAN rightly FIXED, to improve them. And as a nucleus for the effort, nothing equals a systematic SAVING from current income; no matter how small that income may be. The way the best fixed-man of today began.

DOCTORS WILL FORM A UNION

WANT TO HAVE CERTAIN GRIEVANCES REDRESSED.

Propose to Have Recourse to the Strong Arm of the Law to Cure Ills Peculiar to Themselves Which Fill, Powders and Edge Tools Can Not Reach—Osteopaths, Faith Curists, Bad Debtors, Lay Obstericians and the Like to Be Given Attention.

Now the doctors are going to organize a union!

Impelled by the success of the miners and others in bettering their condition by uniting, the physicians have concluded it is about time they got together and secured a redress of the many grievances of which they feel they can justly complain.

The matter was discussed at length at last night's regular monthly meeting of the committee which was organized and so favorably was the proposition received that an attorney was selected to draft and present a plan and scope of the most effective society it would be possible for them to organize.

They will have the lawyer tell them the law in connection with their grievances. To compel those long-suffering the evils which they cannot reach with pills, powders or scalpels and just how it would be best to proceed in reaching with the arm of the law these evils which the medical profession is peculiarly heir to.

First and foremost they will demand the drafting of a successful plan for circumventing dead-beats. Every doctor in the city has big outstanding accounts, and when they occasionally come to compare notes they often find that the same names are among the list of debtors on many different sets of books. To compel those long-suffering-never-pay-anything patients to settle up will be a chief aim of the new union.

Another prominent purpose of the organization will be the suppression of quackery. Lay obstetricians who do not fully comply with the requirements of the law will be an especial target for the attacks of the doctors' union. Osteopaths, who are not recognized by the law in this state, and who, it is claimed, subject themselves to arrest if they take a fee for their services will be also selected for attack. Christian Scientists, Dowieites and all others who practice faith curing will be the other objects of particular solicitude.

At the next meeting of the medical society the matter will be again discussed and it is expected definite steps will be taken to perfect the organization before the first of the year. It will be independent of the medical society, it is proposed, but the requirements for membership will be practically the same.

Proceeding the business session of the society last night, the members listened to and discussed an interesting paper by Dr. Morgan J. Williams.

FIRE ON PENN AVENUE. House Occupied by Dr. Sanborn and Others Partially Destroyed.

Shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon fire was discovered in the double house of Dr. Mary Sanborn, in the thirteen hundred block of Penn avenue. An alarm was sent in from box 64 and the General Phinney Hose company was soon on the scene and the flames were by their efforts confined to the back part of the building and were extinguished before any very great damage was done.

The fire caught from an over-heated kitchen stove. The house was a double one and was occupied by Dr. Sanborn and two other families, named Decker and McNulty. The damage done amounts to about $500.

Persons Were Unauthorized. To Whom It May Concern: Having learned that unauthorized persons recently solicited and received sums of money from candidates, or their friends, on behalf of Columbia Hose and Chemical company, No. 5, the said company is desirous of knowing to what extent this practice has been carried on, and requests any and all persons who have made any contributions intended for the company, within the past six weeks, to write the secretary, Robert Dashi, 212 South Hyde park avenue, stating the amount contributed, and to whom.

By order of the committee. Joseph Oliver, Chairman. Scranton, Pa., Nov. 13, 1900.

Marriage Licenses. Michael Ross, Chinchilla Nellie Bindas, 711 Scranton street; James D. Wallin, Binghamton, N. Y.; Annie B. Smith, Binghamton, N. Y.; Stephen Smart, Mayfield Rosa Klechto, Mayfield.

COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES. In an opinion by Judge Archbald, filed yesterday, in the case of the Scranton Savings Bank and Trust company against E. A. Conry, defendant, and Thomas Ford, garnishee, judgment was entered in favor of the plaintiff and against the garnishee, and it was found that the garnishee has in his hands the sum of $200.00, due to E. A. Conry and 10 shares of Bank Road Coal company stock also belonging to Conry.

Stouffens Daquino was yesterday appointed guardian of Nellie Bandolos, a minor and orphan, who wanted to secure a marriage license and had to have somebody duly authorized to give consent to her marriage. In the case of assigned to George M. O'Neil against Morris Scott, a rule was yesterday granted to show cause why the sheriff's sale should not be set aside.

He Was Not Such a Fideleus. Marie Magdalena Krotzinger filed a bill in divorce yesterday against her husband, FID-LUS Krotzinger, against who she alleges cruel treatment and unfaithfulness. They were married Jan. 13, 1895, and separated Aug. 26, 1898.

A verdict in favor of the defendant was returned in the case of William Smith against Thomas McGowan, which the plaintiff sought to recover for five valuable homing pigeons, which he alleged the defendant shot.

In the case of Anthony Mullerky against John Aswell, a verdict of $51.76 was returned for the plaintiff. Mullerky sued for wages to the plaintiff. Aswell claimed that Mullerky was not in his employ, but did the work in question as a sub-contractor, and that the debt had been paid. The jury thought otherwise. Cawley & Shean represented the plaintiff, and J. W. Browning the defendant.

Matthewson & Snoon, of Dickson City, secured a verdict of $36.63 against John and Mary Kosolofski, for a grocery bill which the defendants tried to dodge by an effort to show that the case was controlled by the husband, who has no property. The judgment can be collected from Mrs. Kosolofski. Carpenter & Feltz appeared for the plaintiffs.

CASE SETTLED. The suit of James J. O'Malley against the Scranton Railway company was settled in Judge Kelly's court by the defendant agreeing to a verdict of $25 for the plaintiff, without cost. O'Malley sued for $5,000 for personal injuries and damages to his team and wagon, resulting from a collision on the Bellevue line three years ago. Hon. C. P. O'Malley, of Willard, Warren & Knapp, represented the company.

In the case of Frank Finch against M. E. Worden, a non suit was granted because of the failure of the plaintiff to put in an appearance.

Grim Tragedy Recalled. In the fight over the administration of the estate of James J. O'Boyle, the decision was yesterday given by Deputy Register Koster in favor of the widow, Mrs. Eliza O'Boyle, and against the sister, Margaret O'Boyle.

The decedent, it will be recalled, shot his wife three times, though not fatally, and then killed himself, at their boarding house on Franklin avenue, a year ago. He owned a house on the South Side and died without bequeathing it. Mrs. O'Boyle sought letters of administration but was stopped by a caveat filed by O'Boyle's sister, who alleged that Mrs. O'Boyle was not the legal wife of James J. O'Boyle, because, as she alleged, at the time of the marriage ceremony, Mrs. O'Boyle's former husband, Jim Chester, was alive.

Mrs. O'Boyle denied that she had been married to Jim Chester, and in the opinion of the register, the opposi-
