CARBONDALE DEPARTMENT.

The Scranton Tribune has opened a Branch Office in Carbondale and prints a daily edition devoted to the interests of the city, supplying Carbondale with a daily morning paper, containing all the news of the Pioneer City. Communications of a news nature, personals and all items for publication may be left at the new offices in the Burke Building, or sent by mail or 'phone. E. L. Hatfield, manager of the Carbondale edition, will be pleased to receive callers seeking information or desirous of imparting it. Telephone numbers: New, 286; old, 0423.

INDIANS VICTORIOUS.

Carbondale Pigskin Pushers Do the Maple City Team Up in Great Style.

The Carbondale Indian foot ball team made an afternoon's journey over to Honesdale and back yesterday afternoon to have a little social time with the foot ball team from that aspiring little borough. The Honesdale team of late have gotten into the habit of pawing the ground, tossing up their heads, snorting and feeling pretty good generally, issuing "defis" without limit, and no wonder. They have gone through the season so far, or up to yesterday afternoon unbeaten. Every team that had confronted them had felt the sting of defeat—up to yesterday. But the Indians dared to invade their grounds in spite of this. When the project of playing a game with Carbondale was first broached to the lads "over the Gravity," they were inclined to be patronizing and said Carbondale was not in their class. Yesterday proved that htey were not—in fact, they were much superior to them. After a session of two twenty-minute halves, this was borne in upon the Honesdale boys with strong corroborative evidence. The Carbondaleans outplayed them to the tune of 11 to 0 in the first part of the programme and then took it quietly for the next third of an hour, contenting themselves not to allow any score from their opponents.

The entire game was replete with brilliant plays and manoeuvres, Hadgins, Hansen, Murphy, Smith, Hope and Gorman, of the Indians, making some "spiels" of a star order, and the Honesdale boys being well represented by Jenkins, Stegner and Murrin. The story of the game is:

First Half—Honesdale kicked off, and Sherholtz of that team got the leather through a fumble of Monahan, but they could not hold it long for the referee awarded it to Carbondale on downs. Then Carbondale bucked their opponents' centre and gained a few yards. A double pass from Hadgins to Hansen brought the ball to within fifteen yards of Hopesdale's goal posts. Then big Hadgins came to the front and bucked the centre for another eight yards. Smith watched his chance and at a signal plunged through right guard for the remainder of the gridiron and made a touchdown. Hadgins kicked the goal amid hurrahs from Carbondale rooters. Score, 6-0. Then Honesdale kicked off again, Hope securing the ball. There was a succession of line plunges by the guards and tackles, Carbondale gaining enough ground each time to hold the ball. This was kept up for about five minutes, and then Hope, with the leather securely tucked under his arm, made a run of ten yards around the right end. Then Hadgins broke through the line like a wild bull at right guard, and started out for the Honesdale goal, with half the team pulling at him. He kept on his way regardless of these hindrances and planted the ball at the foot of the post. Then he prepared to finish the job by kicking it over the centre bar. But he was just a wee mite too sure ,or else was flustered by his recent struggle, for he missed his connections and the goal was not kicked.

Second Half—In this half Honesdale played entirely on the defensive. They attempted several end runs, but gained nothing by them, that is almost nothing, for Stegner and Jenkins did manage to push the sphere a little ways at times, but it came back in great shape and the final result was in the Indians' favor. At no time was Carbondale's goal in danger. Once the ball was in their territory by about eight yards. The Indians fumbled quite badly in the second half, this being due to the fact that they have recently changed their signals and also to the fact that the team had never practiced together before getting on the Honesdale grounds. The winning team was composed of: Left end, McClain; left tackle, Joe Hansen; left guard, Con Sullivan; centre, Coggins; right guard, Gorman; right tackle, Smith; right end, Monahan; quarterback, Murphy; right halfback, Gus Hansen; left halfback, Hope; fullback, Hadgins. The referee was Mr. Atkinson, of Honesdale; the umpire, Bernard Keogh, of Carbondale; timekeeper, Joe Gilhool, of Carbondale.

Among the rooters who accompanied the team was Joe Walker, Joe Powderly, Garfield Williams, George Alvord and Edward Hope.

The Indians will probably play in Scranton on Saturday with the St. Thomas College team. Hadgins will play fullback for Carbondale.

THREE NIGHTS OF FUN.

Wills Brothers and Their Big Company Coming This Week.

Frank M. and John B. Wills, two of the cleverest comedians on the American stage, together with a company of pretty girls, acrobats, etc., will be at the Grand for three nights and one matinee, beginning tonight.

The show is a good one, and the company is composed of some of the best vaudeville talent on the road. Frank M. Wills, in his monologue; John B. and Estella Wills, in "A Giddish Trick;" Carlton and McShane, in "The Brothers," Emma Siegel Wills, in songs and dances, and the three Sisters Helston, in a pantomimic statue dance, entitled "Jealousy," make up a series of specialties that in themselves should fill the house on each occasion.

The Silk Strike Still On.

The strike at the Klotz Throwing company's silk mill had not been settled up to last evening, and the mill was still running yesterday, sufficient help having stayed in to finish up the stock on hand. Manager Frieder still maintains that he can get enough and more new hands to fill the mill. Yesterday it was said that some of the boys who were foremost in starting the strike have already applied for their old positions. The strikers claim, however, that they are standing fast and they have issued a letter to the public, in which they claim that the girls and boys who remain at work have broken an agreement that all made, that every one of them would quit work when the word was given. They say all they ask is a fair price and a fair weight.

Ford, F. M. Loomis, Ernest Latham and Ellen Bennett, of Green Ridge.

Funeral of Lawrence J. Farrell.

The funeral of the late Lawrence J. Farrell, whose sudden death was recorded in Monday morning's Tribune, took place yesterday morning at St. Rose church. Large delegations from the Ancient Order of Hibernians, Division No. 11, and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, were at the church as well as many personal friends. The Rev. Father J. J. Griffin presided over the services, and delivered a beautiful eulogy, depicting the manly, sterling characteristics of the departed, and consoling the afflicted friends and family with the sweet comfort and faith of the Words of Him who died that all might live. Miss Lizzie Powderly sang a beautiful solo. Among the floral emblems was one from the members of the railroad crew of which Mr. Farrell was so recently a member. The ten bower and pall bearers were divided equally among the societies with which Mr. Farrell was affiliated. They were: Michael Toolan, Thomas Moran, David Thomas, George Mangan, Frank Fitzsimmons, Michael Dugan, James Gorman, P. Purcell, John Barrett and F. Murray.

An Improved Service.

The Carbondale Telephone company, commonly designated as the "new company," expects to have additional facilities for their subscribers on and after Dec. 1. The business of the company has grown so recently and is likely to expand so much in the near future that is officers now contemplate an all-night service as well as a Sunday one. On and after the date mentioned, there will be a continuous service for the twenty-four hours, seven days in the week. A night operator will accordingly be installed at the switchboard on Saturday, Dec. 1.

A Relapse.

The many friends of Mrs. James Honey, of Belmont street, will regret to learn that she has suffered a serious relapse. She has been quite ill for a number of weeks, but the first of the present week she seemed to be growing better. Yesterday her condition was reported as very serious.

Meetings Tonight.

Munn-Carson.

Fred A. Munn, a former resident of this city, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Munn, of Brook avenue, was married in San Francisco lately to Miss Nellie Corson, a native of Honolulu. Mr. Munn resided in Honolulu until last summer, when he went to San Francisco to take up his residence.

For Shattered Nerves.

A remedy that will soothe, build up the wasted tissues and enrich the blood is indispensable. Lichty's Celery Nerve Compound has been wonderfully successful in cases of nervousness, as thousands of grateful people will testify. Sold by Matthews Bros. **

SMITH-REYNOLDS.

Two of Carbondale's Most Popular Residents United Amid Beautiful Floral Settings.

Lyman M. Smith was yesterday married to Miss Minnie Reynolds, daughter of Mrs. George W. Reynolds, at the residence of the bride's mother, on North Main street. The contracting parties are both prominent and popular residents of this city and for that reason unusual interest was taken in the wedding, even though it was the wish of all concerned to have the event pass over as quietly as possible. But this wedding was really one of the most notable that has taken place in the Pioneer City for many months and for that reason, it has excited public interest.

It was just at noon that the wedding party entered the beautiful floral-laden parlors and proceeded to the palm-hidden bay windows in the rear, where the Rev. A. F. Chaffee, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, awaited them. First to come through the aisle made by the assembled guests was little Miss Beth Reynolds, niece of the bride, who sedately walked in unison with the swelling melody of the wedding march from "Lohengrin," played by the Mozart orchestra. Then Miss Josephine Burr, maid of honor, and George Smith, brother of the bridegroom, and his attendant, followed, preceding the happy pair. The bride was given to the bridegroom by her brother, Avery W. Reynolds. Amid the solemn hush and surrounded by beautiful flora, the sacred obligations of marriage were conferred.

The bride's gown was of soft grey crepe de chine. In her hand was a bouquet of bride roses. The maid of honor's dress was of violet liberty silk and her bouquet was of violet chrysanthemums. The flower bearer, Miss Beth Reynolds, had her tiny figure apparelled in a gown of pure white organdie, trimmed with lace, rare and costly. She also bore a bouquet of chrysanthemums, but of snowy white in tint.

The marriage was witnessed by the immediate friends and relatives only, in accordance with the pre-arranged plans to have a quiet home wedding. The house was elaborately decorated, however, and everything possible was done to make the scene impressive and beautiful.

The bride is a member of the Fortnightly circle and the bridegroom has a high standing in the business community of Carbondale, being the auditor and notary public of the Hendrick Manufacturing company, as well as being the district agent of the John Hancock Life Insurance company. There were many handsome and costly presents and tokens of esteem bestowed upon the bride.

The guests were received by the bride's mother, Mrs. George W. Reynolds, assisted by the mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. D. G. Smith, in the handsome parlors. The wedding breakfast, served immediately after the ceremony, was by Huntington, of Scranton, and was in that well-known caterer's best style, and was deftly served by a corps of waiters brought here from Scranton.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith departed at 2.50 for a tour of the sunny South. They will be absent a month, visiting all the points of interest in the Southern states.

The New Italian Church.

The Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel is now well under way, some of the rafters for the roof having just been put in place, and the structure is expected to be under cover very soon. Next the basement will be fitted up for a temporary church, so the congregation may have a place of worship as quickly as possible. It is hoped by Contractor Nolan that this may be done by Christmas. The edifice being erected is on Fall Brook street, and the worshippers will be natives of Italy.

AVOCA.

The trial of Patrick Clifford and Patrick Kane for breaking into the Delaware and Hudson station a few months ago, was heard in Wilkes-Barre on Tuesday. Kane not appearing, his bail was forfeited. Clifford having no attorney to represent him, asked to plead his own case. This request was granted and his opponent, Attorney Mulhall, together with the witnesses and jury, were surprised at the able manner in which he handled his own case. He was asked to define the several law terms he used, which he did with an amazing ease and accuracy. Clifford told of how Kane helped him into the station through a window in the office. The story is credited, since Clifford is a cripple and could not get in the station without assistance. The jury returned a verdict of guilty, but on account of his condition recommended him to the mercy of the judge. Clifford is a diligent reader and he informed the people present that he was writing a history of the Spanish-American war and had already eighty-seven thousand words written.

Mary Ellen Reap, aged 17 years, died at home of her uncle, Patrick Conlon, of Peckville yesterday afternoon after a brief illness caused by heart failure.
