Lynde-Matthews Wedding. Seldom is chronicled a wedding of which so many happy recollections will be treasured as that of yesterday, when Miss Anna H. Matthews was married to Joseph Scranton Lynde. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard handsome residence was attractively decorated by Clark. The front entrance was closed, the vestibute being occupied by Bauer's orchestra, hidden by a screen of Florida smilax. It was a chrysanthemum wedding, the colors being yellow and white, the splendid big flowers of autumn making artistic effects in the beautiful rooms. Costly and wonderfully well chosen gifts filled the billiard room on the third floor. Fronting a mass of tropical plants in the west drawing room the bridal party was grouped. First came the little pages, Richard and George Griffith, nephews of the bride, sons of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Griffith. They were dressed in white and bore the white ribbons which defined the path of the bridal party. The groom, accompanied by the est man, his cousin, Dr. Raymond Wadhams, of Wilkes-Barre, entered and stood at the right. Miss Flora Matthews preceded the bride, who came in with her father. The bride's gown was of white crepe, satin faced, and sheer in its cloud-like delicacy. It was made over white taffeta, with a train, the skirt being a mass of ruffled plaitings at its foot. The bodice was tucked and richly trimmed with point applique, incrusted in pearls. She wore a vell fastened with orange blossoms, and carried bride roses.

The maid of honor were a charming gown of satin striped chiffon, over pink affeta. Her flowers were white chrysanthemums

The brief and impressive ceremony was pronounced by Rev. Dr. James Mc-Leed, and was followed by a delightfully informal breakfast, served by Huntington, when the small company of guests present was composed of relatives and close friends of the two fam-

EVERYTHING IS IN READINESS FOR THE EVENT.

Everything is now in readiness for today's unveiling of the Soldier's and Sailors' monument, and if Old Sol comes out this afternoon, and causes his countenance to shine benignantly there will be nothing to mar the enloyment of the thousands who will throng the streets to watch the old and young soldiers parade and to winess the ceremony attendant upon the unveiling of the shaft.

The work of the winds last Friday, n blowing loose the monument's drapngs, was yesterday remedied, when by the use of the Hook and Ladder company's ladders, the monument was ascended by Mr. Fuhrman, who rearranged and securely fastened the enveloping folds. He performed his rather perilous exploit in the presence of a large number of people, and at its conclusion made his descent by sliding down a rope to the ground. Among those who will be seated on the platform near the monument this afternoon, are Mayor James Moir, the county commissioners and auditors and the judges of the court of common pleas. The children from the Harford Soldiers' Orphans' school will be also afforded prominent seats, and several prominent members of the Scranton dergy have been given invitations to present. ### THEY WANT THE PREFERENCE Employes at Oxford Colliery Have Caused a Strike.

District President Nicholls, of the United Mine Workers, yesterday declared a strike on at the Oxford colliery in West Scranton, which the People's Coal company is opening up. The facts seem to be as follows: Before the recent miners' strike a number of men were employed in the mine as company hands, laying roads, timbering the shaft and in like work. This work is now practically completed and gangways are being driven and chambers opened. The men who worked as company hands claim they are entitled to the first chambers opened, and the owners of the mine will not admit this.

These men, they say, were employed to perform certain work. That work is now done. They are beginning another class of work, namely, the mining of coal, and are giving the chambers to men they engaged months ago, in many instances, to perform this work. The men they employed are unionists, they say, and they are not discriminating against any person because of unionism. The men who worked as company hands they are willing to put to work as opportunity affords, after the number of chambers is increased to an extent that will make that possible. They insist that it is their right to select the men to open up the chambers. The old employes claim this is an injustice to them, and have caused the

MARTIN FLAHERTY FILES A CLAIM

He Wants Pay for the Time He Was off the Police Force Under Suspension.

Attorneys Quinnan and Donahue yesterday filed with City Clerk Lavelle a communication which will be read at tonight's meeting of the select council. It accompanies a claim of ex-Patrolman Martin Flaherty for salary alleged to be due him.

The periods and the amounts for which Flaherty claims salary are as follows: From June 17, 1897, to Sept. 13, 1897, $217.50, with interest from Sept. 13; from Nov. 9, 1899, to Nov. 23, 1899, $52.50. The total amount of these claims, with interest allowed for the first, is $311.27.

Finherty was removed from the police force on June 17, 1897, by Mayor Bailey, for alleged improper actions, and was later rejustated on September 12. He was finally removed by Mayor Moir on Nov. 9, of last year, but this removal was not confirmed until the 23rd of the same month.

In their communication, Mr. Flaherty's attorneys point out that they have already commenced suit in the local court for the salary due their client in 1897, but that inasmuch as the local court has decided that the mayor cannot remove policemen without the consent of select council, and as similar suits have lately been won by other ex-policemen, that they suppose the city is desirous of avoiding suit and will be willing to approve of

Just what action councils will take on the matter it is hard to exactly prophecy, but it is pretty safe to assume that both claims will be ignored. This will be done because if they were ordered paid, it would be establishing a precedent which would mean the aling of claims from a large number of ex-policemen whose removal in years gone by was not confirmed for some time by the select council.

CAN ELECT

THE SUPREME COURT DECISION SETTLES THAT POINT.

It Declares That the Old Councils Existing Under the Third-Class City Should Proceed to Elect the Heads of the Departments of Public Safety and of Public Works When City Goes Into the Second Class-It Promises to Be an Interesting Fight.

of the three big municipal departments, which will be created when Scranton secomes a city of the second class, can be elected by the present councils, or by the augmented councils, was discussed in Tuesday's Tribune. There is no longer any doubt about this matter, for a Supreme court decision, discovered by a Tribune man yesterday, decides that the old councils shall elect. The case was brought up in 1891 in Allegheny, when a citizen applied to court for a mandamus upon Mayor James G. Wyman to compel him issue a proclamation providing for the election of twenty-one new select counilmen to take the place of the twentyone select councilmen in office when Allegheny was a city of the third class. The attorneys for the petitioner contended that the old councilmen should go out of office when the city became a city of the second class. The mayor contended that the old councilmen should hold over until the end of their terms and when the mandamus was granted by the lower court, he prompt-

PAXSON DECISION.

In addition to this question, the question as to which councils should elect the heads of the departments of public safety, of public works and of public charities also came up, and this is what Chief Justice Paxson, who wrote the opinion, had to say regarding the election of these three heads of departments:

We are asked to say whether these respective officers shall be elected by the councils of the new or the old city. Upon this point we are in no doubt. The present councils are the councils of the new city, if I may use a term which does not quite accurately describe the situation. The city remains the same. It merely passes from one condition into another.

It enters the new with all its ordinances; all its officers whose offices have not been abolished; all its contracts in full force and simply conforms for the future to the new regulations which the law declares shall supercede the old. The machinery of the latter, as before observed, must be used to start the city under its new government. We are of the opinion that the present councils should proceed to elect these heads of departments.

This is flat-footed, and cannot be construed to mean anything but what it says. Of course, before the present councils can elect these three heads of departments it will be necessary for the city to have entered the second class; that is to say, it will be necessary for the official proclamation of the governor to be received. FIXING THE SALARIES.

It will also be necessary to pass an ordinance fixing the salary of these three officials, as there are very few men indeed who would consent to be candidates for an office, if the exact amount of the salary accompanying Now, the fact that the Supreme ourt of the state has decided that the old councils should proceed to elect these three officials has a most important bearing upon existing conditions in the councils of this city. In the councils, as at present organized, the Republicans have a majority of one. Select Councilman Edward James, of the Sixth ward, will soon resign, having been elected to the legislature from the Third district. His successor may be a Democrat, inasmuch as he was the first Republican ever elected to councils from that ward and was only elected because there were two Democratio candidates against him. If a Democrat is elected in his place, it will leave each party with twenty-one votes, as follows: COMMON COUNCIL. Republicans-Reese, M. V. Morris, Griffiths Godshall, Paine, Nageli, Harvey, Watkins, Keller, Smith-10. Democrats-Grier, Calpin, Ruane, Roche, Phil-

ps, Galvin, Wenzel, Coleman, T. F. Morris,

Cusick, Norton-11. SELECT COUNCIL. Republicans—Ross, Pinn, Thomas, Williams, Chittenden, Wagner, Schneider, Lidstone, Oliver, Schroeder, Clemons—11. Democrats—Costello, Roche, Melvin, Shea, McCann, O'Boyle, Vanghan, Coyne, McAndrew and, allowing a Democrat for the Sixth ward—10.

AN INTERESTING FIGHT. From this it would appear that the fight will be a mighty interesting one, and that if both sides are determined it may be necessary for each to give in a little, permitting the election of men from both parties. Then again it may be that party lines may not be drawn and that the man, rather than the party, will be looked at. It will be noticed that this opinion of the Supreme court is the one which also decides that all officials of the old city, whose offices are not abolished, shall continue in office until the terms for which they were elected expire. This affects the mayor, the controller, the treasurer, the assessors, the city solicitor, the city engineer and the city clerk. In explaining why these officers should retain office, the judge says:
