PERSONAL.

Attorney W. D. B. Ainsley, of Montross, was a Sunday visitor yesterday.
Captain T. C. Barber, of Wilkes-Barre, saw the unveiling of the monument here yesterday.
Miss Mai Furlan, of Wellsboro, N. Y., is the guest of the Misses Ainsley, of Montross, in this county.
Miss Anna Hamilton, of Cape Charles, Md., is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. P. E. Duff, of Price street.
Superintendent E. S. Jones, of the Forest Mining company, spent the past few days hunting in this county.
Dr. L. M. Gates has returned from Hillsdale, Mich., where he attended the funeral of his father-in-law, the Rev. Dr. Hanson Dunn.
James Wadkins' shoe party surrounded Warden and Mrs. Simpson at the county jail last evening. They were afterwards entertained by a string number.
Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mott and Mrs. William Abbott, of Pittston, were among those who witnessed the exercises attendant upon the unveiling of the monument.
John A. Barber, of Green Ridge, and Miss Grace Lloyd, of Bellevue, were married at the residence of the Wadkins Street Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening.
Peter J. Lewis, of Pittsburg, formerly a resident of South Main avenue, and Miss Laura Schall, of South Main avenue, will be united in marriage on Thanksgiving evening.

GIBBONS-COHLIN NUPTIALS.

Dr. J. Myles Gibbons Weds a Western Maid in Canada.
Dr. J. Myles Gibbons, of Wyoming avenue, and Miss Kathleen Coghlin, of Toledo, O., were united in marriage yesterday at Montreal, Can.
The ceremony was performed at 10 o'clock in the morning at St. Patrick's church by the pastor, Rev. J. L. Sullivan, of the Order of St. Sulpice. A high mass was celebrated at the conclusion of the nuptials. An account of the recent death of the bride's grandparents in Toledo, the wedding was private. This betrothal and the fact that the bride's next of kin are of Montreal occasioned the selection of the Canadian city as the scene of the wedding.
Miss Clara Curran was bridesmaid, and Walter Wayne Irwin, of Pittsburg, a fellow-student of the groom at the University of Pennsylvania, was best man. Breakfast was served at the residence of the bride's uncle, Hon. J. J. Curran.
Dr. and Mrs. Gibbons will make their home on West Chestnut street, Philadelphia, that Dr. Gibbons may, while continuing practice, avail himself of the advantages of the University of Pennsylvania for a special course of study.
Dr. Gibbons is the younger son of Dr. R. H. Gibbons, Scranton's eminent surgeon and physician, and has been associated with his father since his graduation in 1889. His career in his profession, so far, assure well for a brilliant future. Personally, he is a young man of sterling qualities and pleasant address, and has legions of friends. The bride is a handsome and cultured young woman, and has a large number of friends in this city, where she has occasionally visited. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Coghlin, deceased, of Toledo. She graduated from Villa Marie, of the congregation of Notre Dame, Montreal, in 1895, and was valedictorian of her class.

CHARITY FAIR OPENED.
Conducted by Young Ladies' Society in Board of Trade Building.
The young Ladies' Sewing society opened its charity fair last night in the Board of Trade building, under the largest awning. The brightly illuminated rooms, with the pretty display of wares and still prettier girls, attracted everyone in the vicinity, even the Ninth regiment boys, who had their headquarters next door and were continually making the apparent motions of locating themselves in the fair rooms.
The tables were tastefully arranged with quantities of fancy and useful articles, cakes and home-made candy, pop-corn, lamp shades, dolls, etc. Mrs. Green Sanderson, was chief host during the evening. Mrs. H. C. Barker, Misses Emma and Ruth Hanley, Lillian and Mary Gearhart, Emma Foster, Anna Brock, Gladys Watkins, Grace Kierstead, Elizabeth Sanderson, Albro, Grace Birdsell, Mrs. Willie Kirkpatrick, and the Misses Charlotte and Helen Hand. An orchestra, composed of Messrs. Chance, Stanton, Hanley, Allen and others, will furnish music today.
Through the kindness of J. W. Guernsey, a piano was placed in the room, which was a pleasing addition to the music secured. The sale will be continued all day and this evening.

BISHOP MAKES MORE CHANGES

Announcement is Made of Many Transfers Among the Priests of the Scranton Diocese.
A number of other changes in the stations of priests of the Scranton diocese were announced yesterday by Rt. Rev. Bishop Hoban.
Rev. James Morrison, of Towanda, goes to Avoca. Rev. Michael Loftus, is transferred from West Scranton to Green Ridge. Rev. Patrick Boland, recently ordained, who has been temporarily stationed at Minooka, is assigned to Towanda. Rev. Frank Caravan goes from West Scranton to Minooka.
Rev. Dennis Eustis, of Wilkes-Barre, who it was rumored, would come to Scranton to succeed the late Rev. D. J. McGoldrick at the cathedral, goes to Williamsport, where his knowledge of Italian will make his services particularly valuable there being a large colony of Italian Catholics now at that place.
Rev. John Holmes is transferred from Athens to Hazleton, and Rev. Henry Burke, of Hazleton, takes Father Eustis' place at Wilkes-Barre. Rev. Walter A. Gorman, of Minooka, is to succeed Rev. John Griffin, of Carbondale, who, as announced in yesterday's Tribune, is to come to Scranton to succeed Rev. J. J. Loughran, S. T. L., as chancellor of the diocese and secretary to the bishop.
Rev. Father Novicki is assigned to Nanticoke to establish a new Polish parish.
A number of the priests who are now assigned permanent places were serving temporary stations made vacant by the ten priests who spent the summer in Europe with Bishop Hoban.

WORK PRISONERS HAVE DONE SO FAR

Address by A. B. Dunning Before the Engineers Club on the Utilization of Prison Labor.
At last night's meeting of the Engineers' club in the Board of Trade building, Supervising Engineer of the Prison Board, A. B. Dunning gave an interesting address on the subject of "The Utilization of Prison Labor." He gave a summary of the workings of prison labor in a number of states of the Union and quoted the opinions of prominent authorities on prison work.
He cited the law on the question, telling of the act which passed the legislature April 20, 1899, authorizing the employment of male prisoners at jails and work houses and penalizing all attempts at escape.
In Lackawanna county prison labor was first utilized on the public roads May 1, 1900, and has continued up to the present time. Mr. Dunning then gave the following figures of the work done in this county: In May, June and July, 1,250 feet of telford macadamized road, twenty feet in width, was laid on the Newton turnpike; 200 feet of dirt road was built on Jackson street and for two miles of the Newton turnpike stones were picked up, culverts repaired and gutters opened. Taking it altogether the work of the telford road was 43 cents per square yard.
During August, September, October and November roads were repaired on North Scranton and Dunmore. One and three hundredths miles of an average width of thirty feet were repaired at a cost of about 62 cents per square yard. This road contained ditches from two to four feet deep and was entirely unsafe for traffic. Portion of the work done was on electric avenue, leading to Forest Hill cemetery.
At the conclusion of the address the following resolutions were adopted by the club:
Resolved, That we congratulate the prison board of Lackawanna county upon the success that has been attained by the employment of prisoners upon the roads, and express our wishes to encourage them in the further extension of the system, both for the good of prisoners and communities in which such prisoners are held.

MONUMENT UNVEILED WITH APPROPRIATE EXERCISES

Though the Weather Was Very Disagreeable the Programme Arranged Was Carried Out Almost in Its Entirety.

Diene Nature was unkind yesterday and the general atmospheric conditions were unfavorable to the parade and exercises held in celebration of the unveiling of the Soldier's and Sailors' monument on Court House square, but in spite of inclemency of the weather, wind and snow, old soldiers and young ones turned out in great numbers and gaily marched the streets in the presence of thousands of cheering, enthusiastic persons. When the exercises proper were started, Washington avenue was blocked from Lincoln street to the Connell building, and at the windows of every building which commanded a view of the scene eager, expectant faces were massed.
The day was in charge of a committee consisting of the commanders of Grand Army of the Republic posts and captains of Sons of Veterans camps of Lackawanna county. A. B. Stevens, commander of Ezra Griffin post, being chairman, and S. H. Sullivan, of the same post, secretary. Colonel E. H. Ripple was marshal of the parade, in which there participated a number of posts of the old soldiers and Sons of Veterans' camps, the Ninth regiment, of Wilkes-Barre, and the "Patriot" of this city, the Soldiers' Orphans' school, of Harford, and the Spanish-American War Veterans.

Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument, Court House Square, Unveiled Yesterday.

LAVISH DECORATIONS.
The city was in gala attire, all the buildings along the line of march being gay with large flags and lavishly decorated with shields and red, white and blue bunting. The court house presented an especially ornate appearance. Over the main entrance was a large national shield, and banners and streamers of Old Glory were abundantly used in giving the stately building an appearance thoroughly in keeping with the spirit of the day.
Close to the monument was the large stand in which the exercises were conducted, and in the rear of which rose a number of seats on which old soldiers took their place after their march. Here County Solicitor H. Taylor for the board of county commissioners, made the speech of presentation and entrusted the monument to the care of the Grand Army of the Republic, to which Commander A. B. Stevens made a fitting response. In the behalf of the veterans of the Civil war, Hon. Alfred Dart, of Wilkes-Barre, judge of the Orphans' court, gave a stirring speech, and Hon. Thomas Sample, of Allegheny, also gave a talk which aroused the great

A MILITARY PARADE.

The parade started about 2:15 o'clock. It formed on Washington avenue, and the line of march was along the following streets: Out Washington avenue to Pine street, countermarch to Mulberry, to Franklin, to Lackawanna, to Wyoming, to Linden, to Washington (passing in review at monument), to Spruce, to Adams, to Linden, to Washington, to Spruce.
First in the line came Grand Marshal E. H. Ripple and his chief of staff, H. A. Courson, on horseback, and followed by his mounted aides. The latter were Dr. C. H. Fisher, Major J. B. Fish, Captain P. J. McAndrew, commander of Colonel Monks post, Grand Army of the Republic; Major C. E. Mink, Captain Dibble, William McIlvane, and Fred R. Stark, Dr. E. Russell and Harry Jeffries, of the Sons of Veterans.
Following them came Marshal of the First Division S. B. Mott and his mounted staff, consisting of Frank Martin, Wallace G. Moser and Thomas Sullivan, of the Sons of Veterans. D. P. Brown, the colored standard-bearer, rode along with them, proudly carrying the waving folds of Old Glory.
Herring's band, of Wilkes-Barre, was next in line, and with his brisk martial music announced the presence of Conyngham post, No. 97. The Luzerne company was accorded the place of honor in the line of march by their Scranton hosts, and as they marched along, one hundred strong, a hale and hearty band of veterans they proved themselves to be. Commander Adam Zimmer was at their head.
GRIFFIN POST.
The Patriotic Order Sons of America Drum corps was close behind, the heralds of Ezra Griffin post, Grand Army of the Republic, of this city. Major Pearce, of North Scranton, walking proudly at the head. Fifty two hundred members of this branch of the Grand Army of the Republic were in line, and were followed by about fifty veterans, wearing the badge of Colonel Monks post.
Sergeant George Fell post, No. 7, of Waverly, commanded by Major A. L. Ackery, and Nicholson post brought up the rear of the old soldiers' line.
Captain S. C. Hutchison led Camp No. 8, Sons of Veterans, who marched four abreast and swung along with a military martial tread, preceding the Wilkes-Barre camp. This, Colonel

MR. CHITTENDEN'S PLAN.

Would Appropriate Specific Sums for Payment of Judgments.
Select Councilman Charles E. Chittenden, of the Ninth ward, has a new municipal scheme which he intends to put in operation next spring, providing the taxpayers at the special election soon to be held decide against the issue of $100,000 worth of bonds to wipe out existing judgments.
His plan as outlined yesterday in a council session, is to appropriate specific sums to pay certain specific judgments and claims, instead of appropriating a lump sum to be known as the judgments and incidentals appropriation, as in the past.
If councils passed such items in next year's appropriation ordinance it would entirely do away with a great deal of the councilman's juggling of the judgments and incidentals appropriation. Then the money would be appropriated for a certain specific purpose and would have to be expended for that particular purpose and none other.
Under such an arrangement it would be impossible to divert the money to paying extra permanent men; to pay for street paving or to pay for street repairs in ways where the regular appropriation had been exhausted.

THE UNVEILING.

Homer Greene, esp., of Honesdale, the author-lawyer, was another of the afternoon's speakers. The unveiling was done by Roy Fuhrman, an ex-sailor lad, who went up the long rope with the agility of the scullion and promptly at 3:45 o'clock severed the restraining bonds.
As the drapery fell off and the monument in all its beauty appeared to the gaze, the sun peeped out momentarily from a bank of clouds and sent down a warming ray. There was

SAYS HOLLISTER KEPT THE MONEY

Justice of the Peace and Leading Citizen of Hollisterville Held Under Bail for Hearing.
Justice of the Peace Erastus B. Hollister, of Hollisterville, Wayne county, was arrested yesterday on a charge of embezzling $500, while serving as the executor of the estate of the late Catherine Hochrein, of this county.
The information for his arrest was sworn out before Alderman Kason by Caspar Hochrein, of 221 Lafayette street. It sets forth that he is one of the heirs of the late Catherine Hochrein, and states that just prior to her death her will was drawn up by Mr. Hollister and that he was named as her executor.
It further sets forth that on March 1, 1898, while acting as executor of the estate, Mr. Hollister was paid a large sum of money by William Fitzsimmons, $500 of which was to be used in paying certain debts, the balance to revert to the heirs. The information alleges that the $500 was retained and embezzled by Mr. Hollister and that he used it for his own purposes.
Mr. Hollister is one of the leading citizens of Hollisterville, and has been a justice of the peace there for a number of years. The town is named after his family.
He was walking along Washington avenue, when Constable Ira Mitchell stepped up to him and placed him under arrest. The old man was very much surprised, but came willingly up to the alderman's office and demanded an immediate hearing.
The prosecutor, who was represented by Attorney George M. Watson, was not prepared for an immediate hearing, inasmuch as all the witnesses reside in Wayne county. The alderman therefore held the accused in $800 bail for a hearing at 11 p. m. next Wednesday.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

Series of Them Are to Be Held in This County.
The attention of our farmers is called to the list of institutes, to be held in this county this winter, by the State Department of Agriculture, assisted by the local board of institute managers for the county. These meetings are in the interest of all farmers, and open to all. The expenses of conducting them is borne by the state. No collections are allowed or the advertising of any business. The discussions are upon farm topics for the benefit of farmers. Arrange your business so as to attend and take part in the exercises. All classes of citizens are welcome, and interesting programmes have been prepared.
The county chairman is Henry W. Neumann, of Greenbush, who will be glad to send programmes or information to any one who will make the request. The state speakers who will be present are: Hon. R. S. Seeds, Huntington county; Hon. George Campbell, Bradford county; and C. W. Broadhead, Susquehanna county.
The institutes will be held at the following dates and places: Tompkinsville, November 29 and 30; Daleville, November 29 and December 1; Madisonville, December 1 to 3; Clark's Summit, December 3 to 4; Bald Mount, December 4 to 5; Flentville, December 5 and 6. Come out to these meetings and bring your families and friends.
