THE SCRANTON TRIBUNE-THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1900.

NEW HOME FOR THE P.O.S. OF A

CONTRACT FOR THE BUILDING HAS BEEN AWARDED.

It Will Be Located on North Main Avenue-Business Men Clamoring for a Late Collection of Mails. Miss Maud Davies, of North Rebecca Avenue, Entertained Friends. Ivorites Are Arranging for a Complimentary Banquet for Members. Officers of Missionary Society.

Allspaugh Brothers have been awarded the contract for the crection of a new three-story building on North Main avenue, which will be the future home of Washington camp, No. 178 Patriotic Order Sons of America. Th structure will be built on the vacant lots opposite Clarke Brothers' general stores, and will be thoroughly up-todate in every detail.

The building and furnishings will cost in the neighborhood of $20,000 and will be constructed to meet the requirements of lodges and other public gatherings. On the first floor there will be two store rooms, with plate glass fronts. The entire second floor will be utilized as a dance hall and theater, with a suitable stage and accoutrements. The third floor will be used as a lodge room for secret society meetings. It is expected that work will be commenced on the building in a few weeks and possibly the camp will be able to celebrate their anniversary in February next therein. The building urer, Mrs. Alex. Widenor; librarian will have a pressed brick front, with Mrs. Joslah Paff. Indiana lime stone trimmings. Albert Hartman is the architect. Camp No. 178 will meet this evening and hear additional reports about the building. A committee has been appointed to arrange for the anniversary entertainment.

Late Collection of Mails.

Business men are still complaining about the early hour at which the evening mail is collected from the Main avenue boxes, and contend that a change should be made so that they can have their letters taken up as latas 11 o'clock at night. The last collection was usually made about 9 o'clock at Main avenue and Jackson street, but of late the carrier arrives about 8.30 o'clock and frequently the morning newspaper correspondents ar: pressed into service as the late mail carrier.

Good Enough Cough Tar is what you need.

The local board of trade still has the matter under consideration, and while Postmaster Ripple has informed them hat it is out of the question at present to keep the stamp window at the post office open later than 7.30 p. m., they ontend that it is possible to have a collection made as late as 11 p. m.

The volume of business at the local branch office is steadily increasing and t is only a question of time until additional carriers will be absolutely nec ssary. As "all things come to those who wait," it is reasonable to expechat the late collection and other faciliies will also come to West Scranton in due time.

Ivorites' Complimentary Banquet. The members of Robert Morris lodge of American True Ivorites will tender complimentary banquet next Wedjesday evening to three of their fellownembers who were recently elected to office, namely, District Attorney William R. Lewis, Clerk of the Courts Thomas P. Daniels and Representative to the Legislature Edward James, jr. The affair will be held at Fairchild's hotel and will be served by Caterer Oldorf, who has already established : reputation for excellent dinners. Impromptu speeches will follow the banquet, which will be an elaborate spread. The programme of addresses has not yet been completed, the committee in charge now being engaged in assigning the toasts. The banquet will be for members only.

Home Missionary Officers.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the Simpson Methodist Episcopat church have selected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Gldeon Moser; first vice president, Mrs. J. B. Sweet; second vice-president Miss Emma Lewis: secretary, Mrs. H. M. Bass; corresponding secretary, Mrs. William Hagen; treas-Secretary of Mothers' Jewels, Mrs

Weldy; secretary of local work, Mrs. R. J. Hughes; secretary of supplies, Miss Sarah Sloeum: assistant, Mrs. Thomas Levshon: collector, Mrs. Friant: collector of special fund, Miss Helen Peck; delegate to Oneonta conference, Mrs Gideon Moser; alternate, Mrs. George Carson.

Son Abused His Parents. John Thillips, of 1312 Hampton street, was arrested yesterday by Patrolman David Davis, on a warrant from Alderman Daniel Moses, charging him with assault and battery and malicious mischief. The complainant was the young man's father, who alleged that John went home and abused his parents shamefully. Not content with that unmanly act. Phillips proceeded to demolish all the doors and windows in the house. He spent last night in the station house and will be given a hearing this morn-St. David's Church Fair.

McHenry, the rector, and his parish-ioners have a surprise in store for their friends and incidentally a revelation in the decorative art. Many booths are being erected, at which fancy articles will be disposed of, and each evening refreshments will be served by the ladles in charge. The object of the enterprise is to secure funds to defray the expenses of the parish and rectory during the coming year. All interested are laboring zealously to make the affair a success. A musical and literary programme will be arranged for each evening.

> Successful Initial Supper. Despite the disagreeable heather of last evening, a large patronage was accorded the ladies of the Plymouth Congregational church, who served an excellent supper in the lecture room of the church. The menu was up to the standard and was served at four tables, as follows;

Table No. 1.-Mrs. Daniel F. Harris Mrs. George F. Eynon. Table No. 2. Mrs. John Harwood, Miss Edna D Evans, Table No. 3.-Mrs. Byron Ev-ans, Mrs. Nathan Evans, Table No. 4. -Mrs. A. B. Eynon, Mrs. John S. Evans, Miss Elizabeth A. Evans was secretary-treasurer, and the food preparations were in charge of Mrs. 10 nah Evans, Mrs. David Hughes, Mrs. D. D. Evans, Mrs. D. C. Hugins, Mrs. Stephen Evans, Mrs. Thomas Evans and Mrs. J. A. James. These ladies deserve much credit for the able maaner in which they conducted the subser, and were the recipients of many compliments from their patrons.

Party on Rebecca Avenue. Miss Maud Davies, of 363 North Rebecca avenue, was tendered a pleasant surprise party last evening by a number of young friends. Plano selections were rendered by Misses Colton and Greenwood and Will Diehl sang several solos. Games of all kinds | Recitation were indulged in, and dancing was a feature of the evening. Those who attended were the following:

Misses Alice Williams, Della Evans, Mae Williams, Jennie Thomas, Emma Lewis, Bessie Shaw, Clara May, Laura Pawling, Gwen Davies, Nellie Pavis, Mae Samuels Minnie Rocse, Ida Davis, Rebecca Cotton, Eva S. SARY OF ODD FELLOWS.

Event Was Fittingly Celebrated Last Night-School Board Decided Last Night to Open Eight Night Schools. Teachers Will Be Examined Today. Osterhout-Stevens Wedding-Interest in Union Revival Services Still Continues-Funeral of Thomas Purcell-Other Notes.

Last evening one of the most enjoyable social events of the season was given, when the members of Dunmore lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, conducted their twenty-eighth annual social and supper. The affair was largely attended by the townspeople of all ages, all intent on spending a few hours in social enjoyment. The interior of the hall was handomely decorated for the occasion. The tables were laden with beautiful chysonthemums, while the national olors were much in evidence. The guests began to arrive about 7.30, and by 8 o'clock the hall was filled to the door by members and their friends. After the guests had been seated, Ernest Boyard opened the evening's programme with a very pleasing plane solo. During the evening, the following programme was rendered:

Instrumental Solo .....Ernest Boyard Address of Welcome ......Prof. E. D. Boyard Mandolin Club. Vocal Solo ......Miss Ruby

......Miss Mattie William Instrumental Duet,

Mr. W. Gaugh and Miss Wellner Recitation ......Miss Barbara Eden Recitation ......Miss Labella Okeil

After the entertainment was concluded, the hall was cleared for dancing, which was taken advantage of by many of the younger folks present. Those who did not wish to dance were invited to come to the floor above, where in the spacious lodge rooms tables seating one hundred were spread with the good things of the season, being presided over by a very capable orps of young ladles, working under the ladies' committee. The affair was very successful and reflects great credit upon the two committees in charge and the society as a whole. St. John's church, Fig street, was the scene of a pretty wedding yesterday ifternoon at 3 o'clock, when Miss Anna Barrett, of Prospect avenue and Cherry street, was united in marriage to John Higgins, of Capouse avenue. At 3 o'clock the bridal procession entered the church to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, rendered by Miss Kate Reardon, and was met at the altar by the groom, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Father Melley. The bride was handsomely gowned in blue poplin, trimmed with white satin, and made a charm-ing appearance. She was attended by Miss Winifred Graham, of Philadelphia, who was similarly attired. Mr.

Edward Coney, of Philadelphia, was best man. Immediately following the ceremony. a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's parents, on Prospect avenue, where congratulations were tendered the happy couple. In the evening, in honor of the event, a reception followed in Pharmacy hall. Both young people are popular and well-known, and were the recipients of many valuable presents. They will begin housekeeping at once on Capouse
