

which will be held tonight at the Bicycle club, between Frank Herold, of Fredonia, Pa., and M. J. Dwyer, of this city. A large number of tickets have been sold and it is expected that many spectators will be present when the two men step upon the mat. The match will be at catchweights, two falls out of three, and strange holds barred. A side bet of $100 has been posted by each of the men. Both of the contestants are in magnificent condition and a stubbornly contested bout should be the result of tonight's meeting.

JUNK DEALER ARRESTED—John Burkowitz, Charles Wartzell and Joseph Rich, three South Washington avenue junk dealers, were last night arrested and arraigned before Alderman Miller on the charge of receiving stolen goods. Each of the men were fined. The warrants were issued at the instance of special officers of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad, who charged the trio of junk dealers with receiving into their establishments from scrap, stolen from the company. Rich paid a $25 fine and Wartzell a $10 fine, but up to a late hour last night Burkowitz had not yet paid over the $25 imposed upon him.

NIGHT SCHOOLS OPENED—Last evening witnessed the inauguration of the night school work for young women at the Catholic Young Women's club, Rev. M. J. McManis, who is supervising the club, presided. Over fifty young women enrolled in the studies embraced in the English branches, including stenography and typewriting. The class will meet here on Tuesday and Thursday nights. Thirty new members were admitted to the club. Father McManis has just established an employment bureau for young women. All persons requiring the services of young women are invited to patronize the bureau at the club rooms at the old Faunt house on Washington avenue.

TONIGHT'S WRESTLING MATCH—Great interest is being taken in the wrestling match

COMMITTEE HAS GOT DOWN TO WORK
Is Considering the Manner in Which School Affairs Will Be Affected by Second Class City.

The special committee appointed by the board of control to act for that body, in consultation "or otherwise," regarding the passage of legislation for cities of the second class or for Scranton if she should enter that class has already got down to business. The members appreciate the fact that it will be necessary to secure the passage of some sort of new legislation for cities of the second class inasmuch as the only general act governing school affairs in such cities has been declared unconstitutional and they are accordingly studying the act of 1895 for the purpose of obtaining ideas which might be adopted or incorporated in a new act. Their examination and study of the act of 1895 is, however, not entirely for the purpose of obtaining ideas and suggestions. There is always the possibility that the Supreme court might reverse its decision of 1896 and declare the act constitutional. Such a declaration would have been in line with its ruling in the Gilligan case as noted in these columns a week ago. In order to get another ruling on this act it would, of course, be necessary for a test case to be brought. That is to say it would be necessary to have a board of fifteen school directors, as provided by this act, elected and then to have them fight out their title to their seats in the courts as did the board of six. Whether there are any aspirants for a board of fifteen and whether either party will nominate candidates for such a board is as yet unknown. At any rate, as mentioned before, there is a possibility that Scranton might go under this act, and if she did, in the opinion of the members of the committee, it would prove ruinous to her. They are, therefore, desirous of having the act amended if it will be found impossible to secure the passage of a new act.

The reasons why the system provided for by the act of 1895 would be ruinous to this city are, in the view of the committee, manifold. The principal reason is because of sub-school districts or one district for each ward. It was at first thought and generally believed up to the first meeting of the committee that the creation of these sub-districts was optional with the board and not mandatory. It is understood, however, that the board's solicitor, Attorney D. J. Reedy, has unequivocally stated that under the act of 1895 these boards must be created. Each sub-board in each ward is given power to issue bonds in the sum of $100,000 so that in this way the total indebtedness of this school district could be increased to just exactly $2,000,000 which would mean at 4 per cent, just $80,000 per year interest. With such a system of sub-school districts the general school board like the mayor of a second class city, is shorn of nearly all its powers. Such a system exists in Pittsburg at the present time and is not giving any kind of satisfaction.

The committee will meet again some time this week and the views of the members will be heard and discussed.

MANY CASES WERE HEARD

MOST OF THEM OF AN UNIMPORTANT NATURE.

Putting Over of the Councilmanic Cases for a Week Robbed the First Day of the Term of the Greater Part of Its Interest—Action Taken in the Various Cases—Rules Granted in the Old Forge Mandamus Case—The Fish License Revoked. Court Matters.

The December term of criminal court opened yesterday morning. It was a very tame day, the putting over of the councilmanic cases for a week robbing the list for the day of its chief element of interest. Judge R. W. Archbald is presiding in the main court room and Judge H. M. Edwards in No. 2. Beginning today there will be three courts. Judge David Cameron, of Tioga county, will be here today and preside in the superior court room. Michael Routschke, of Priebeburg, pleaded guilty to a charge of selling liquor without a license and was sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and costs and spend three months in the county jail.

Frank Backus and Barney McHugh, vagrants, who escaped from the county jail when it was reorganized, were pleaded guilty to the escape and were given ten days each. Their original term of imprisonment was for thirty days for vagrancy and Backus' term was within one day of expiration when he escaped.

A verdict of not guilty was taken in the case of James Granville, a boy of 18 years, who was charged with defrauding Mrs. Mary Muffley, proprietress of a boarding house on Franklin avenue. Granville has been in the county jail awaiting trial since May 18. He admits owing the bona fide bill but said he made no false representations to Mrs. Muffley.

COSTS DIVIDED.
John Liensens and John Monish were charged with breaking into a room at Austin Heights and striking the wife of George Huse, the prosecutor, who denied the right of the men to enter the place. The men denied the assault and said the breaking was done under the power given by a search warrant. The verdict was not guilty and the costs were divided between prosecutor and defendants.

Judge Edwards directed a verdict of not guilty in the case of Olley Platt, charged with the larceny of an overcoat and hat belonging to R. S. Stanger, at Carbondale. The evidence did not warrant the submitting of the case to the jury.

By agreement verdicts of not guilty were taken, defendant to pay the costs, in the case of John Clark, charged with assault and battery on R. S. Stanger, and John Clark, assault and battery, Arnold Switzer, prosecutor.

Julia Woodbridge was tried before Judge Edwards, charged by Julia Anderson with being a common scold. They are both married women and last August were neighbors on the same street. Mrs. Anderson alleges that Mrs. Woodbridge publicly abused her in a most vile manner. Mrs. Lizzie Nolan, who lived in the same neighborhood said she had twice heard Mrs. Woodbridge abuse Mrs. Anderson in a terrible way. "Her manner was that of a mad dog," said Mrs. Nolan, referring to Mrs. Woodbridge.

SHE PLEADED GUILTY.
Mrs. Olympia Phillips, an olive tinted daughter of Sunny Italy, pleaded guilty of adultery. She alleged in defense of her conduct that her husband turned her adrift and said he did not care what became of her. She was sentenced to pay a fine of $1, costs and three months in the county jail.

Alexander Goodwin returned not guilty in the case of Alexander Goodwin, charged with assault and battery by J. H. Morring. Both men live on Phelps street, in this city. Goodwin alleged that he was merely acting as a prosecutor, in revenge for writing a man named Finnigan, who was fighting.

John Swallow was returned not guilty of committing an assault and battery on Reese Jones. Swallow runs a hotel at Olyphant and it is alleged that the assault occurred while he was writing a man named Finnigan, who was fighting.

The committee will meet again some time this week and the views of the members will be heard and discussed.

son that it was made on a legal holiday and that it was not five days before the return of the writ.

Judge Willard also asked to have a rule granted to quash the petition for the writ of mandamus for the reason that the ordinance which it is sought to compel Reese to sign was not adopted by the council of the borough or signed by the president of that body. Both rules were granted.

COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES.

The report of the viewers with reference to a private road in Scott township was yesterday confirmed nisi.

Prothonotary John Copeland was yesterday appointed guardian of Natalie D. Burr, daughter of the late Dr. A. E. Burr.

A marriage license was granted yesterday to Howard H. Bailey, of La Plume, and Bertha A. Capwell, of West Abington.

Michael Walters, who is charged with desertion, yesterday entered bail in the sum of $300. Henry F. Zeigler became his bondsman.

The license of the hotel of E. J. Fish, on Penn avenue, was revoked yesterday by the court for selling on Sunday. The rule to revoke the license was obtained by the Municipal league.

Attorney Clarence Ballentine yesterday filed an application for a charter for the society of St. Alex. Nikoleja Culaforewcy, of Old Forge, which was formed for benevolent purposes.

Mrs. Beatrice Abbott, of South Scranton, yesterday applied to the court through Attorney R. J. Bourke for a divorce from Jesse P. Abbott, whom she was married on April 3, 1882. They lived together until July 15, 1892, when Mrs. Abbott declares she was compelled to leave her husband because of his cruel and barbarous treatment of her.

Court directed that the rule to show cause why Joseph Woelkers should not be removed as constable of the Eleventh ward be heard on the Thursday of argument court week. It was the intention to have the matter heard on depositions, but Judge Archbald said that was a very unsatisfactory manner of disposing of such matters and that hereafter they will be heard in open court.

In the case of Miss Jennie F. Dean against the city of Scranton Attorney L. P. Wedeman yesterday filed reasons for a new trial and a rule was granted to show cause why a new trial should not be granted. The application is made on the ground of after discovered evidence to the effect that notice was given to the city officials of the dangerous condition of the sewer on North Washington avenue.

The rule to take off the compulsory non suit in the case of George Cooper against the city of Scranton was made absolute in an order handed down by the court yesterday. Cooper owns a property on Eighth street in this city which he alleges was greatly injured by the construction of a sewer by the city. It was alleged that the sewer was defective and in consequence Cooper's property was badly injured.

CAPIASES FOR THREE VIOLATORS OF LAW
They Will Be Brought in and Court Asked to Impose the Sentences Suspended Some Time Ago.

Court yesterday granted capias against the request of District Attorney Jones for A. L. Danahy, of Cedar avenue; Mrs. Catherine Crane, of Capouse avenue, and Mrs. Catherine Cannon, of Kelly's Patch, all of whom were convicted at the last term of court with having sold liquor without a license. Sentence was suspended in each case on the promise that each was the agent of the Municipal league, and it was at the suggestion of the league's attorneys that the district attorney asked for the capias. A suspension of sentence was agreed to by the league in the case of Mrs. Cannon upon her agreement to discontinue the illegal traffic in liquor.

There was yesterday presented to the court an affidavit signed by Agent Robert Wilson setting forth that Mrs. Cannon has since her trial persisted in selling intoxicants. She was yesterday afternoon taken into custody and was remanded to the county jail in the custody of the sheriff until next Saturday, when she will be sentenced.

The suspension of sentence in the cases of Danahy and Mrs. Crane was granted by Judge Love, of Bellefonte, whom the league believes was ignorant of the real state of affairs. It is contended that the illegal traffic in liquor by these two was especially flagrant and that it would be a serious miscarriage of justice, indeed, if they were allowed to unpunished. Neither has yet been taken into custody.

METHODISTS ON THE MOVE

EXPECT TO ADD TWO MILLION SOULS TO THEIR ROSTER.

Twentieth Century Forward Movement Begun in Earnest by the Followers of John Wesley—Convention Opened Yesterday in Simpson Church—Addresses by Bishop Ninde, Dr. Dresser, Rev. Henry and Others—Evening Lecture by Dr. Hayes, of Binghamton.

The Twentieth Century Forward Movement has been successfully launched in the Methodist Episcopal churches of the Wyoming conference and the opening session of the convention in the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church yesterday afternoon served as a stimulus to the clergy and laymen to enter into the work of winning two million souls to Christ during the next thirteen months. The presence of Bishop Ninde, of Detroit, had a most helpful effect on all who were privileged to listen to his words of counsel and the discussions which followed were fraught with many suggestions of Christian usefulness.

The scheduled programme was somewhat diverted during the afternoon, owing to the absence of Rev. W. H. Pearce and Rev. E. Moger, of Wilkes-Barre, who were expected to present papers. The session resolved itself into a general discussion of the forward movement, in which many prominent clergyman participated. In the evening Rev. A. W. Hayes, D. D., of Binghamton, delivered a most instructive lecture on "Five Historic Graves, or Lessons for the Twentieth Century." The sessions today promise to be the featured ones of the convention, and large gatherings of church workers are expected to attend. Dinner and tea will be served freely by the ladies of the church to all who attend.

AFTERNOON SESSION.
The afternoon session was opened promptly at 2 o'clock, with Presiding Elder Rev. Austin Griffin, D. D., in the chair. The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. W. A. Wagner, of Luzerne, and consisted of Scripture reading, prayer, singing and recitations of Scriptural passages, in which many participated. At 2:30 o'clock the chairman called the attention of the convention to the fact that the secretary was not present, and Rev. C. B. Henry, of Taylor, was unanimously chosen to act.

Dr. Griffin then stated the object of the convention, which was for the special spiritual consideration of the Twentieth Century Forward Movement, for the purpose of winning souls to Christ. "We are in the most important era that has come to Methodism in a hundred years," he said, "and there must be a conviction in the churches that the commonplace methods will not avail the purpose, and there must be a taking hold, and the signs of the times indicate that the King is at hand to depart from this world." Bishop Ninde, of Detroit, who was in the city yesterday on his way south, was introduced to the convention. He spoke briefly and said he was warmly in sympathy with the movement, but expressed the belief that there was a tendency abroad to depart from the traditional thought of Methodism as far as our duty to society is concerned. The new thought seems to have some acceptance, which is along the line of delving into reforms of society and politics, and people are laboring to rehabilitate society instead of individuals.

THE MORAL SIDE.
Continuing, he said: "Instead of dwelling upon the evangelical side, people seem to be dwelling on the moral side of life, and it is my conviction we should seek the rehabilitation of society through the regeneration of individuals. I believe that when the ministry attacks individual sins, the blessing will flow as a result. We should be in the ways of God, instead of diverting them from the gospel and making them superficial Christians."

"I wish ministers would embrace the underlying principles of the gospel and work out to the feet of Jesus. We want the high-toned military idea of work in winning souls. I have noted the growing antipathy towards the church, and I have discovered that many wage-earners are not in sympathy with the church, but it is not true that the church as a class are unfriendly to the church. I would suggest, however, the advisability of a closer relationship between the working people and the churches.

DESIRE TO COME CLOSER.
"There is in the minds of the more considerate a desire to become closer related to the church, and I believe that the Lord is with every movement for the betterment of mankind. Let us appeal to Him and untold blessings will come."

At the conclusion of the bishop's remarks, the business of the convention was temporarily suspended and the meeting resolved itself into a general handshaking with the venerable clergyman, the pastors, laymen and others present being personally introduced by Rev. J. B. Sweet. When the programme was resumed, there appeared to be a misunderstanding relative to the numbers thereon, and some confusion was apparent on account of the absence of Rev. W. H. Pearce, D. D., who was assigned to lead the discussion on "Why a Twentieth Century Movement?" He was detained at home on account of a funeral.

Dr. Sweet suggested that Dr. Griffin open the discussion, but he declined, saying, "I don't propose to fill up all the gaps in the Wyoming conference." He suggested a prayer meeting, but Rev. Benninger came to the front with the thought that there was enough material present to fill the gap, and Rev. H. H. Dresser, of Ashley, who was assigned to discussing the question of the hour, was called upon to take the floor and open the discussion.

He began by saying that he had comparatively little to say at the
