

NORHEASTERN PENNSYLVANIA

FACTORYVILLE.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Factoryville, Dec. 9.—Mrs. W. W. Fisher, who has been spending a few weeks with relatives in New York, returned last Thursday evening.

Register and Recorder W. U. Shaw returned from Pike county with a new large deer, the result of William's unerring aim, and skill as a marksman.

Mrs. Stanley Reynolds spent a few days last week with friends in Kingsley, Pa.

Mr. A. S. Wadsworth, of Brooklyn, Pa., was a business visitor here one day last week.

Miss Ada Carr spent last week at Lake Carey.

Several members of Red Jacket lodge No. 52, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, assembled at their hall last Friday and gave it a thorough renovating and cleaning.

Just as the time limit was about to expire and after people had begun to conclude that a contest over the election of representatives would probably be abandoned, Hon. H. D. Tiffany filed his petition and Judge Dunham granted an order to proceed with a contest. The hearing in the matter will begin Monday, Dec. 17, and the case will have right of way over all other business in court until it is concluded.

The contest will be a general one, covering every precinct in the county, the petition alleging illegal voting and improper counting in numerous instances. The disputed tally sheet in Monroe township will, of course, come up for inspection among the rest. Mr. Tiffany claims to have the signature of every business man, regardless of politics, in Nicholson borough to his petition, save one, and that individual was indicted. The costs will be borne by the state at large.

Mr. B. J. Crisman has returned from a two weeks' sojourn with friends in New Jersey.

DURVEA.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Durvea, Dec. 9.—Miss Mattie Knowles is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hobbs.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Best have returned home after attending the District of the former's sister, Mrs. J. E. Best, of Ploud Eddy, N. Y.

Mr. Oscar Walther, of Pittston, was a visitor in town Saturday.

The ladies who intend to aid the Lawrence Hose company with their help, February 18-22, held a business meeting Friday evening. The hose company's future looks bright. They have already been presented a house and lot and money has been contributed for the great event that will take place in February. The history of this hose company can be pointed to by its many members with pride. Not only have they protected their own district, but have aided their neighboring hose companies in Old Forge, Moosic, Avoca and Durvea, and for the committee in charge have arranged to have an entertainment every evening.

Mr. Joan Bliss was a caller in town Saturday.

Class No. 7, of the Brick Methodist Episcopal Sunday school contemplate having the church supplied with gas or electric lights. Therefore any person who desires to have the contract for said work will kindly give or mail their bid to Duane H. Dills, secretary, or Mr. Thomas Martin, president, Durvea, Pa.

Mrs. John Johns, of this place, visited friends in Wilkes-Barre on Friday.

Mrs. John Dills visited her sister, Mrs. W. C. Evans, of Scranton, the last few days.

Mr. W. G. Watkins, supervisor of the International Correspondence schools, of Scranton, was a visitor in this place Friday.

Mr. Duane Dills, of this place, visited in Pittston on Friday.

Mrs. Connolly, who was injured in the Traction company wreck, is improving.

Mrs. Baker has returned home after a few weeks' visit with friends at Jermy.

TUNKHANNOCK.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Tunkhannock, Dec. 9.—Rev. Walter Dunnet has closed the series of special meetings which he has been holding at the Methodist church here. He has been here three weeks, and the meetings under his charge have been very successful.

Mrs. Purdon has returned from Carbondale, where she has been visiting for the past week.

Hon. H. D. Tiffany, of Nicholson, was in town on Friday last.

G. W. McKown is home, after a two weeks' trip to Philadelphia and Waukesha.

The impression has arisen, and is being fostered by the Democratic newspapers, that the county is likely to be saddled with a large bill of costs on account of the legislative contest inaugurated by Mr. Tiffany. The fact of the matter is that the cost can in no case come on the county, but will be paid either by the signers of the petition or by the state. If it shall appear in the contest that there is probable cause for starting the contest, then the state must pay the costs, otherwise the petitioners are liable.

AVOCA.

The Ladies' Catholic benevolent association will meet in regular session tomorrow evening. There will be election of officers.

The marriage of Miss Edina Dempsey and James O'Boyle, both residents of this town, is announced to take place on the 7th inst.

T. J. Deole has accepted a position as bookkeeper at the Erie and Wyoming bridge.

J. J. Gibbons, of Dunmore, spent yesterday with his parents, on Main street.

Mrs. W. H. Borge is seriously ill. The marriage of Miss Mary O'Brien and Joseph Davis was announced yesterday in St. Mary's church.

Misses Mary Flannery and Mary Barrett have been added to the corps of instructors at the International Correspondence schools.

Alfred Thomas, of Hecla, Montana, has accepted a position as engineer for the Electric Light company.

Mrs. M. F. Whalen, of Wilkes-Barre, spent yesterday with friends in town. While enroute in the afternoon, a fine set

LAST DAY OF CONVENTION

CLOSING SESSIONS OF THE WHITE RIBBONERS.

Delegates Worn by the Week's Excitement, Seek Repose but the Vigor of the Speakers is Unabated. An Interview with Belva Lockwood—She Never Wore Short Hair. The Colored Women Prominent. Unique Feature from Syria.

Special Correspondence. Washington, Dec. 9.—The last day's meetings, with the exception of the evening session, showed some abatement of the crowd of the week, as many delegates were more or less worn by the week's excitement, sightseeing, shopping, and attending the stirring meetings in the "city of magnificent distances" making a combination calculated to tire any ordinary woman.
