

WANT GOOD MEN FOR COUNCILS

RESOLUTIONS PASSED BY NORTH SCRANTON MEN'S SOCIETY.

At Last Night's Meeting in Providence Presbyterian Church Resolutions Were Adopted Pledging Society's Efforts in Securing Best Men for Vacancies in Common Council—Very Interesting Speech Was Made on the Subject of Libraries and Public Library Work by Librarian Henry J. Carr.

The resignation from council of the ten members accused of soliciting and accepting bribes by the Municipal League, aroused much comment and discussion at last night's meeting of the North Scranton Men's Society in the Providence Presbyterian church, and after several strong speeches had been made, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, in view of the approaching election in the last ward, to hold under the mayor's proclamation to fill, among others, vacancies existing in the common council of this city for the First, Second and Third wards, that the members of this society use all honorable means to prevent the nomination and election to these offices, of the best men available.

Speeches were made on the subject by ex-Judge W. J. Lewis, President of the North Scranton Men's Society, and by Mr. J. R. Osgood, Mayor of Scranton. The speakers urged the necessity of selecting for the offices good men, regardless of party.

After an excellent violin solo by Professor G. R. Walkinshaw, President of the North Scranton Men's Society, Librarian Henry J. Carr, of the Albright Memorial Library, Mr. Carr is the president of the National Librarians' association, and twenty years' experience has given him a vast store of knowledge regarding libraries and all pertaining to them.

MR. CARR'S ADDRESS.

He began his address by saying that though books and libraries existed thousands and thousands of years ago, nevertheless the library, in its modern sense, is an entirely new institution. "In this country," he said, "the libraries have two or three eras of growth. The first movement along this line was made in 1638, when Harvard university was founded. "Part of the mental equipment of the university was a library, and this is the first library of a public nature that we have any record of. A furtherance of the movement between 1838 and 1878 was the foundation of Yale college. A meeting of eleven or twelve clergymen was held, and the results of the gathering was that each contributed a number of books and this library was part of the nucleus of the great New Haven university.

In 1831 Benjamin Franklin organized the Philadelphia Library company, and within a few months like organizations were started all over the states and twenty more library companies were in full blast. Then came the revolution and another lull in the library work. But in about 1800 there was a renewed activity and the organization began of young men's mercantile libraries, of which we still have several fine instances, among which may be mentioned the New York city and St. Louis Mercantile libraries. In 1830 New York state began organizing school libraries and was followed by Massachusetts and other states.

All throughout the New England states have led in the number of libraries, but of late there has been a wonderful growth in the west and great interest is there manifested in the public libraries. In the south the peculiar mixed population somewhat interferes with the library work, as there is a deep-seated repugnance among the members of old southern families towards anything at the same counter and asking for books side by side with colored men or women.

GEORGIA IN THE LEAD.

"However, there has been no trouble after the libraries were started and the hereditary antipathy was in a way overcome. Georgia takes the lead among southern states in activity in the movement and Carnegie's gift of a library to Atlanta has been productive of many good results.

"Now, regarding the value of a library to the community at large. An institution of this nature is of material value, of social and political value and intellectual and spiritual value. It provides entertainment as well as imparts information and occupies a general field of usefulness."

Librarian Carr then passed into a general description of library buildings. He told of the handsome Peabody Institute, at Baltimore, the gift of the late George Peabody, and also briefly mentioned the Boston Library. The great congressional library at Washington, he said, is a building of which the nation may well be proud. His address was an interesting and instructive one, and at its close a vote of thanks was tendered him by the society.

REFRESHMENTS WERE SERVED BY THE HOUSE COMMITTEE AND A PLEASANT SESSION OF SOCIAL ENJOYMENT CONCLUDED THE MEETING.

Papers were read by Mrs. Robert Christmas, of North Scranton, and Mrs. Charles Acker, of West Scranton, both of which pertained to missionary work.

A pleasing piano solo was played by Mrs. L. Stone, of the Hampton Street church, and Miss Jessie Flory resorted very cleverly. Mrs. Powell, who presided, was very successful in her efforts to secure a large attendance.

The assault is alleged to have been committed December 8, and Mrs. Connolly was yesterday in the state hospital, where she was unable to appear at the hearing. The warrant was issued at the instance of Mrs. B. Mulherin, her daughter. Osgood's wife is dead, and Saturday Mrs. Connolly visited her son-in-law and his children. Osgood was positively intoxicated and while in this condition it is said that he kicked and struck the aged woman. She is badly cut about the head.

WANTED FOR MURDER IN FAR OFF POLAND.

Important Arrest Made Last Night in Plymouth by Deputy Marshal Lowry and Detective Wilson.

An important arrest was made last night in Plymouth by Deputy United States Marshal Clark Lowry and Secret Service Officer Wilson. They succeeded in capturing Stanislas Bartochevitch, who is wanted by the Russian government for the murder of a woman in Poland and a year ago last night when he fled to this country and a short time afterwards his wife and child followed him here. The Russian authorities did not know to what part of this country Bartochevitch had fled, but they learned that the wife and child had gone to Plymouth.

This fact was communicated to the authorities at Washington and Deputy Marshal Lowry and Detective Wilson were put on the case. They went to Plymouth yesterday afternoon their only working clue being a description of the man. Mr. Lowry was standing on one of the street corners early in the evening when he saw a man approaching who closely resembled this description.

He stopped him and asked him if his name was Stanislas Bartochevitch and the man replied that it was. He was immediately placed under arrest and brought to this city where he was lodged in the county jail over night. He will be taken to New York today for arraignment before the extradition commission.

RECEPTION TO THE Y. M. C. A. WORKERS

Large Crowd Gathered at the Rooms Last Night to Attend the Roll Call of "Workers Band."

A five crowd of religious workers gathered at the Young Men's Christian association rooms last night. The occasion was the roll call of the "Workers Band," and a reception to twenty young men who have been converted during the month through their efforts. The roll call showed a full attendance and in the testimony meeting, which followed, a large number of men spoke earnestly of the good which had been received from the "Workers Band." The interesting fact brought out by this feature of the meeting was that most of the seventy or eighty men present had either been converted or led out of indifference and careless living in the Young Men's Christian association rooms during the past two years. Frequent mention was made of the secretary's Bible training class as a great agency for helping the various speakers.

Secretary Mahy closed the first part of the meeting with a short description of the first steps in Christian living, for the benefit of the young converts present. These, he said, were: First, prayer; second, Bible study; third, confession; and by confession, the speaker said, he meant joining some church.

It wouldn't do to simply join the Young Men's Christian association, for it is the church, and not the Young Men's Christian association, that is God's divinely appointed agency for receiving men's vows and confessions and administering the sacraments of baptism and the Lord's supper, which Jesus ordained as the signs and seals of a true confession.

In fact, no man can join the Young Men's Christian association as an active member who does not first join the church, for only church members are received into active membership. "The Young Men's Christian association exists only as an expression of the church's interest in young men, and is an agent of the church for special work among men, as the Sunday school is an agent for special work among children."

The fourth step in Christian living, Mr. Mahy said, was service, or seeking to do other men saved. When a young Christian gets to work seeking to lead other men to Christ, he is safe in saying that he is a social worker. The regular meeting and was made enjoyable by light refreshments, served by Caterer William Hanley.

PROMPT ACTION WAS TAKEN

SCHOOL BOARD ACTS ON VACCINATION QUESTION.

Health Officer Allen Pointed Out the Necessity of a Strict Enforcement of the Vaccination Law and a Special Committee Was Immediately Appointed to Confer with the Board of Health—Board Offers $3,000 for Seelye Property—Bids for Addition to No. 35 Rejected.

The board of control last night took prompt action on the vaccination question, after listening to Health Officer Allen, who appeared as the representative of the board of health, and who impressed upon the members the urgent necessity of taking immediate action to enforce the provisions of the vaccination law.

Dr. Allen stated that, in his opinion, not one-half of the children in the public schools at present are vaccinated, as required by law. He told of the present smallpox epidemic in New York and enlarged upon the fact that Scranton is in closer communication with that city than any other place in this part of the country. He told of the epidemic of the disease some nineteen years ago, when some 23,000 had been expended by the city in stamping it out.

His views were concurred in by Dr. O'Malley, "Smallpox," said he, "comes in cycles. It may strike us one day and find us unprepared. If it does, it will be because councils and boards of health have neglected it in their duty. This is a matter of great moment; a matter of the very greatest importance and prompt action should be taken."

COMMITTEE NAMED.

It was decided to appoint a special committee of three, with Dr. O'Malley as chairman, to confer with the board of health and the attorney of the board, for the purpose of devising ways and means of enforcing the law. It was also decided to give the committee full power to act for the board in the matter. Chairman Jayne named as members of the committee, Dr. O'Malley and Messrs. Barker and Scavans.

For a number of years there has been trouble over a lot in the rear of No. 18 school, owned by William H. Seelye. Mr. Seelye contended that the water from the school property ran onto his lot. Then he threatened to put up a building which would shut off the light from the rear of the school, when he found that the board would do nothing.

He finally decided to sell the property for $3,800, but his attorney, H. C. Reynolds, last night stated to the board that he would take $150, if it was unanimously decided to offer him $10,000 for the property, and if he refused to accept that amount to break off all negotiations.

Mr. Shires was on hand last night with a resolution requesting the building committee to recommend the erection of an eight-room building in the First ward, in response to the request of over 200 petitioners living in that part of the city. The resolution was referred to the building committee, as was also one introduced by Mr. Golden, directing Architect Feeney to prepare plans and specifications for a new twelve-room building in the Sixth ward.

The building committee reported that a number of bids had been received for the addition to No. 35, but recommended that all be rejected and that the secretary be directed to re-advertise for new bids. This recommendation was adopted, as was also a recommendation that $50 be paid to each of the owners of the five annexes rented while No. 2 school was being built, the money to defray the expense of putting the buildings back in their original condition.

HOLIDAY VACATION.

The teachers' committee recommended that the schools be closed for the holiday vacation on Friday, Dec. 21 and opened on Wednesday, Jan. 2. The recommendation was adopted.

The secretary's report for the month showed that the following deficiencies had so far been created this year: Text books, $1,146.29; material, etc., $292.95; machinery, $3,091.24. The report was referred to the finance committee.

On motion of Mr. Leonard the secretary was instructed to correspond with the owners of real estate in the Twenty-first ward for the purpose of securing bids for a school site in that part of the city on Friday, Dec. 21.

The teachers' pay-roll for the month ending Dec. 4 was passed, as was also the night school teachers' pay-roll for the month ending today. It was decided that the officers, janitors and all other employees of the board should be paid for the month of December on the Saturday before Christmas.

TRIBUNE WANT ADS. BRING QUICK RETURNS

There is considerable talk among the members of the representative eleven of forming a basket ball team for the coming winter. Much activity is manifested in the latter, which is similar in many respects to foot ball, and as the home aggregation has more than held its own on the gridiron, they should be able to distinguish themselves in the proposed indoor game.

COLD SNAP HAS COME AT LAST

Yesterday Morning the Thermometer Was Down to Thirteen Degrees Above Zero—Warmer Weather in Sight.

Sunday was pretty cold, but yesterday's temperature completely outclassed the coolness of the Sabbath, and all day long the sharp, biting air tinged with red pedestrians' noses and caused frost form in the air every time a man opened his mouth.

At 8 o'clock yesterday morning Observer Donaldson, of the weather bureau, looked at his big thermometer, and his hair gradually arose as he observed that it was twenty-five degrees colder than at the same time Sunday morning. Thirteen degrees above was the registering. During the morning and afternoon there was a gradual rise, but with bulldog-like sticktoitiveness the mercury clung around the nineteen degrees above mark throughout the afternoon and early evening, and then began an ascension act, getting up to twenty-four degrees above zero at 8 o'clock last evening.

Throughout the day a brisk wind blew, moving things along at the rate of from ten to twenty miles an hour. Today, it is prophesied, will see a continuation of the cold snap and tomorrow will be fairly comfortable, as warmer weather is foreseen by the seers.

TAYLOR.

A party of young people visited the interior of the Taylor mine last evening. After visiting the workings, they were hoisted to the surface, well pleased with their journey. Those comprising the party were Misses Gertrude Atin and Bessie Cullum, of Bald Mount; Grace Davenport, of this place, and Messrs. Charles Coombs, C. J. Jones and Mr. Hobart.

The public will be treated to an interesting free lecture at the Methodist Episcopal church on Thursday evening, when Rev. W. G. Simpson, D. D., will deliver one of his famous addresses.
