SOUTH SCRANTON NOTES

Sermon of Rev. Thomas Houston at the Cedar Avenue Church. Notes of the Fair.

The Cedar Avenue Methodist church was well filled last evening to listen to a most thoughtful and forcible sermon by the blind evangelist, Rev. Thomas Houston, Rev. Houston, after reading the fifth chapter of Paul's epistle to the Romans with his fingers with such speed and accuracy that one would hardly believe that he had not the use of his eyes, took for his text the tenth and eleventh verses of the third chapter of Isaiah: "Say ye to the righteous that it shall be well with him, for they shall enjoy the fruit of their doings. Wee unto the wicked, it shall be ill with him, for the reward of his hands shall be given him." He said in part: "The world ivided into classes, those who live on terrace and those who live in courts. Those who dwell among the palaces of Fifth avenue and those who exist amid the squalor of Eleventh avenue. And there are throughout this land the rich, middle and poor classes.

"With God there are only two classes, the righteous and the wicked. To the righteous it shall go well, while to the wicked it shall go ill. All people on this earth belong to one of these classes. Examine yourself, dear friend, and see to which class you belong and right yourself at once, and as soon as you find yourself on the right side go to work. "Hide not your talents under a napkin, for you shall have to explain your stewardship. Be not as negligent as the man Matthew describes, who, while he may be morally good and a church-goer, was yet slothful and indolent, and neglectful of ied's work "

The meetings thus far have borne good fruit and are nightly growing in deep spiritual power over a score thus far having renounced the world ### and accepted the teachings of Christ.

At the Fair. The Ringgold band were the star performers a the Athletic club fair last night, and rendered a very delightful concert, the numbers being accorded much applause. The programme rensaid ward on Saturday, December 15, dered was as follows: March, "Second Battalbetween the hours of 4 and 7 p. m. for ion," Gillis; medley, "War Songs," D. S.
