MISSION DONATION DAY.

Wants of the Institution Set Forth in Appeal.

The following appeal has been issued for the Florence Crittenton Mission:
Friday of this week has been appointed a "Donation Day" for the Florence Crittenton Home. This has not been the custom of the mission since the late Mrs. Florence Crittenton, who was the founder of the institution, died. It is hoped that the public school Thanksgiving day donation has made it necessary. As long ago as the mission work was started its share of the Thanksgiving donation from the public schools has amply provided the home with winter vegetables, but this year the children were asked to bring money instead, and such donation was to be given to one institution, the Lackawanna hospital, and thus the deficit.

The home has especially felt this loss, as also has sister institutions and no small number of private families. It is hoped that the public at large and the children who formerly added their gifts will take this opportunity and respond bountifully to the appeal. Muslin, shoes, underwear, groceries, vegetables and canned goods are most needed, but anything in the line of housekeeping will be put to good use.

Money is necessary at all times and very acceptable just now. Ladies will be at the home, 712 Harrison avenue, during the day to receive such donations and we trust a large amount of supplies may come. The work is the rescue of the fallen and a shelter for the homeless girls and women who may have a desire to reform, but nowhere to go and no one to lead them. May the dear Lord add His blessings.

WORK AMONG THE POOR WHITE FOLKS

Interesting Talk by Miss Redway

About Her Missionary Work in the Mountains of the South.

A most entertaining talk on the life and customs prevailing among the "poor white trash" of the mountainous regions of North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee, and some account of the work being done there by the Home Missionary society of the Presbyterian church, was given last night in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian church by Miss Redway, who is connected with a farm school which has been established at Asheville, N. C.

She gave an account of the schools which exist in that part of the country, and of the woeful ignorance of the school teachers, who teach in their bare feet and chew tobacco all the time. She read a number of answers written by these teachers to questions given them in an examination. One question was "How was the Spanish-American war brought about?" and to this query one of the teachers replied that President McKinley decided to war between Cuba and Spain, and that the United States went in to help the Spanish.

The children attend these schools for years without being able to read a single English sentence at the end of their course. She told of the schools which have been established by the Presbyterian church, and how the influence of the teachers sent there is felt in homes for miles around.

She described the church services with each and every woman in the congregation chewing snuff sticks and expelling all over the floor of the chapel. "These people," said she, "possess a certain emotional religious feeling. They have a reverence for the dead things, but they have not enlightened minds."

She wittily told of the endeavors of some of the ignorant Baptist clergymen in that region to stir up sentiment against the Presbyterian teachers. One of these ministers recently preached a sermon, she said, warning his flock against those "educated people" who were trying to lead them astray with their fool talk about the earth moving and about the stars, which no one doesn't know anything about, "cause they're more than a hundred miles away."

Miss Redway said that, despite the many difficulties met with, the work was being crowned with success and a light was being established which would never go out. As an indication of the prevailing healthy spirit in favor of the educational work being done, she quoted a remark made by one of the old mountaineers, who said to her: "I don't believe in mocking anybody, but if these folks 'round here mocked you folks for about six months, they'd be turned right better off than they are now."

A collection for the benefit of the work was taken up at the conclusion of Miss Redway's talk. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Ladies' Home Missionary society.

GALLAGHER ON TRIAL AGAIN

JURY IN THE CASE DISAGREED
LAST WEEK.

Was Called for Consideration Yesterday Afternoon—Ivory Convicted of Aggravated Assault and Battery—Anthony Carlucci Convicted by a Jury of His Peers. Noile Prospects Were Entered in a Number of Cases That Have Been on the List for a Long Time.

Michael Gallagher, of Clearview avenue, North Scranton, who was last week tried on a charge of keeping a speakeasy, was again put on trial yesterday. The jury could not agree last week, and after being out three days was discharged by Judge H. W. Archbald. The Municipal league is prosecuting the case and they had it put on the special jury for this week. It was given preference yesterday and went to trial in the afternoon before Judge John P. Kelly in the main court room.

The prosecution alleges that Gallagher had beer, ale and port in the basement of his place, on Clearview avenue, and produced three witnesses who said they bought some of these beverages from him. Witnesses were sworn for the defense who testified that the place was run as a grocery store. Kate Gallagher, sister of the defendant, who is now in a Philadelphia hospital and that she also sold beer, etc. They never bought from Gallagher. Witnesses called for the commonwealth at the last trial were put on by the defense yesterday. The defense was not in at adjourning hour.

A not pros. was allowed by the court in the case of Peter H. Zurell and James P. Mahon, owners of the Sunday Free Press, who were indicted for publishing an alleged libelous article about Mayor James N. C. McKeen, who represented the mayor, and Attorney J. C. Vaughan, who appeared for the defendants, joined in the request for a not pros. on payment of the costs.

Attorney George S. Horn asked Judge Kelly for a rule to show cause why the four indictments against William Mittleman, charging him with trafficking in registered bottles, should not be quashed. A. M. Morse was the prosecutor in each case. It was alleged that the indictment did not specify, as it should, that the bottles were in common. Cases tried were:

JUDGE JOHN P. KELLY.

The trial of Charles Masten, the Taylor saloon keeper, who was put on trial Tuesday, charged with being the father of the child of Miss Gwenne Thomas, now dead, was resumed yesterday morning. He went on the stand after court opened and testified that he was responsible for the condition that was followed by Miss Thomas' death, or that he ever made any statement admitting that his relations with the deceased had been improper. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 to the poor district, and $25 to the father of the girl, John Thomas, and stand committed until sentence is complied with. Masten went to jail. His wife was found dead in the Lackawanna river near Taylor about three years ago.

John Holman, Michael Horah and Annie Horah were returned not guilty of having assaulted George Warko. One-fourth of the costs were placed on each of the defendants and the prosecutor.

William Ivory was tried for hitting Harvey Irving on the head with a chair and afterwards shooting him. Both are colored. Ivory lived in Raymond court on Sept. 4 last. It is alleged that Ivory was jealous of Irving. The story of the commonwealth was that Irving went to Ivory's place to see him, and not finding him at home laid on the stairs. When Ivory came home he struck Irving with a chair over the head, while he slept, and then drew a revolver and shot at him. After the shooting Ivory fled to Dayton, O., where he was arrested about six weeks ago and brought back for trial.

The defense was that Irving was constantly hanging around Ivory's house trying to steal his woman from him and that on the night in question he came home and found Irving in his house. He tried to put him out and Ivory drew a revolver. He then shot in self defense. On cross-examination he admitted that he has a wife living, but has been living with a woman named Sarah, for nine years. They are not married. It was over this woman that the trouble between the two men grew. Ivory and the woman with whom he is living, were arrested some time ago for keeping a bawdy house and convicted. The jury convicted Ivory of aggravated assault and battery.

A verdict of not guilty was taken as to James D. Palmoth, who was charged with aggravated assault and battery, by Edward Kelly. The costs were placed on the county. The assault was committed by the defendant, this city, some two years ago. Palmoth was tried about one year ago and convicted. Immediately afterwards Anthony Petroloni made an affidavit setting forth that he committed the assault on Kelly. He was indicted, tried and acquitted on the ground that the assault was justified. After the filing of the affidavit a new trial was granted to Palmoth, and yesterday the case was practically dismissed.

A not pros. on payment of costs was entered in each of the following cases: Robert Hughes, defrauding boarding house, Charles Kaufman, prosecutor; John Roberts, defrauding boarding house, Charles Kaufman, prosecutor; W. J. McDonnell, embezzlement, Charles West, prosecutor.

JUDGE DAVID CAMERON.

With the opening of court yesterday morning the trial of Tomassi Siriano, of Carbondale, was resumed. He is charged with cheating off part of the car of Michael Golden and committing an assault and battery on John Scott. The case was given to the jury early in the afternoon and it was still out at adjourning hour.

Anthony Carlucci, of Raymond court, who was tried Tuesday for shooting John Caffrey, was found guilty.

William S. Sauray was tried on a charge of larceny by bailee. Anna J. Branda was the prosecutrix. She testified that she employed the defendant to convey her trunk from Olive street, this city, to 632 Washington avenue; that he refused to deliver up the trunk to her. The defendant said that he was engaged to carry the prosecutrix's trunk for her, which he was to be paid 50 cents; that when he delivered the trunk the prosecutrix refused to pay him as agreed upon, thereupon he took the trunk and kept it until she paid him. C. E. Daniel, who was assigned to take care of the defendant, contended that the charge of larceny by bailee as laid in the indictment was not made out. The court sustained this contention and directed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty.

Verdicts of not guilty were directed to be returned in the following cases: the commonwealth failing to produce the necessary evidence; M. J. Walsh, embezzlement, Frank Wade, prosecutor; Andrew Philliche and Follie (Chechuck), assault and battery, William Koloski, prosecutor; Philip Kelly, rape, Mamie Finley, prosecutrix; Philip Kelly, rape, Gwenne Thomas, prosecutrix; Peter Mullane, rape, Gwenne Thomas, prosecutrix; Frank P. Wade and Maria V. Wade, defrauding, boarding house, W. H. Whyte, prosecutor; Thomas Crafton, assault and battery, Ellen Crofton, prosecutrix; Adolph Crupnitsky, assault and battery, Albert Crupnitsky, prosecutrix.

John Urban, alias Jack Urban, and Simon Levay, of the borough of Old Forge, were charged with robbery. The prosecutor was Frank Bernoski. He alleges that in September last he was set upon and robbed by the defendants of the sum of $56. The defendants absolutely denied the charge. The defendant testified that the prosecutor was quite drunk and was very quarrelsome. He wanted to wrestle with the defendants. No robbery was perpetrated. The jury returned the defendants not guilty.

When court adjourned Samuel Rich was on trial charged with receiving stolen goods. Chief of Police Robling is the prosecutor.

An Exceptional Case.

A case where husband and wife can be tenants in common was instanced yesterday in an opinion from Judge H. M. Edwards, in the partition proceedings of Maria Katherine Kolb and John Gottlieb Kolb, her husband, against Daniel Brenneman.

The parties to the case were agreeable to the partition, but Judge Edwards was somewhat in doubt as to whether or not the partition could be legally made, and took the matter up for investigation.

Where a husband and wife hold an undivided half interest each in a property, they hold it in entirety, and as was decided in the Whitlock case, from joint township, they could not make partition.

In the present case, however, a peculiar circumstance takes it out of the control of this decision.

The lot in question is on Remington avenue and is 40x100 feet in dimensions. Kolb purchased the lot from the Pawnee Coal company, February 12, 1874, December 4, 1874, Kolb and wife, by deed, conveyed an undivided one-half interest in the lot to John Appert, and on the same day, Appert conveyed the said undivided one-half interest to Mrs. Kolb. Individually, this arrangement an undivided one-half was left to the husband and the same in the wife. The husband's one-half interest was sold at sheriff's sale, June 30, 1892, to H. M. Hannah, and on December 7, 1893, the Hannah interest was sold at sheriff's sale to Brenneman, the defendant in the present case.

Judge Edwards finds that "the estate as vested in the husband and wife, December 12, 1874, was not an estate in entirety, but was an estate held by tenants in common, and therefore subject to partition."

The husband, Kolb and Appert were tenants in common, and when the wife succeeded to Appert's half, she became a tenant in common with her husband.

Re-entered Upon Coal Lands.

I. H. Burns, as attorney for Charles P. Ford, defendant, and acting as the instigator of the Winton Coal company, limited, and the Piler, Dolph and Winton estates, plaintiffs, yesterday entered judgment of ejectment against the defendant for the 300 acre Rebecca Dana coal tract in Winton.

The judgment was entered on November 29, 1899, and agreed to pay royalty on a certain minimum output. The plaintiffs aver that he has done no mining whatever for over a year, and that under the terms of the agreement they have a right to re-enter upon the property. The judgment in ejectment, which they had Mr. Burns file yesterday, was the first step in these proceedings.

Proceedings Stayed.

In the case of Griffin against Smith, an order was made yesterday, by Judge H. M. Edwards, that all proceedings on the Griffin judgment be stayed until further order of court.

This action was taken upon petition of Solomon Goldsmith, who set forth that the defendant is in bankruptcy court, and that while these latter proceedings are pending, the other should be suspended.

NEW COAL ROAD IS DEFEATED

SALE OF PENNSYLVANIA COMPANY VIRTUALLY ADMITTED.

Statement That Amounts Practically to an Admission of the Truth of the Transfer Story Comes from Vice President Thorne, of the Pennsylvania Company—New York Dispatch, Which Bears Evidence of Being Inspired, Attempts to Make E. L. Fuller a Scoundrel.

The independent road to tidewater, projected by the Pennsylvania Coal company and E. L. Fuller for the relief of the individual operator in as good as doomed, and the day of the individual operator in the Lackawanna region is closed.

What practically amounts to an admission of the truth of the story that the Erie is to have control of the Pennsylvania Coal company was made yesterday, in New York, by First Vice President W. V. S. Thorne, of the Pennsylvania company. To an interviewer he said:

"The negotiations for the sale of the stock of the Pennsylvania Coal company have not been consummated. There will be nothing to give out on the subject today."

The Daily Philadelphia Stockholder, in its Wall street letter, yesterday, said that an important announcement concerning the anthracite stocks would be forthcoming tomorrow.

The closing quotation in Pennsylvania stock, Monday, was 500 bid. The next day it was 600 bid, while on the curb it was 615 bid, 645 asked. From sources that are considered reliable it is learned that the Erie is not to be the sole beneficiary of the Pennsylvania company's transfer. The output of the Pennsylvania collieries is to be shared in by the Ontario and Western and Delaware and Hudson companies. The allotment of collieries will be governed in a great measure by the matter of convenience. At present all of the eleven breakers are on the line of the Erie and Wyoming, which connects with the Erie, so it is presumed the Erie will have the lion's share. This matter, however, is incidental as compared to the main purpose of the deal, the defeat of the independent road to tidewater.

BLAME FULLER.
New York dispatches which were evidently inspired lay the blame for the defeat of the new road project upon E. L. Fuller. The action of Mr. Fuller in selling to the Ontario and Western the Mt. Pleasant colliery, is the excuse for making him a scapegoat. At a distance this might seem to be a just accusation, but to those acquainted with the facts in the case, it is the veriest bosh. The Mt. Pleasant is so situated that it could not be made a contributor to the traffic of the new road without building a long round-about and consequently expensive railroad to connect it with the Erie and Wyoming.

If the whole truth could be made public it is likely that it would be admitted that no one except the Mt. Pleasant to be a contributor to the independent road. The fact that Mr. Fuller's other collieries, such as were in the territory to be tapped by the new road, were retained by Mr. Fuller to become a part of the tributaries to the new road, removes the foundation from the charge that "Mr. Fuller Backed Out."

Mr. Fuller left for New York yesterday before the allegation that he had "backed out" appeared in the public prints. In regard to the reported Erie-Pennsylvania deal, Mr. Fuller said he had no official information. In manner rather than words he indicated that he did not doubt it. He was about to go to New York, he said, and hoped by tomorrow to know all about the affair.

THROOP COLLIERY SOLD.

The reported sale of the Pancoast colliery at Throop to the Ontario and Western people, announced in The Tribune as likely three weeks ago, and briefly mentioned in an unofficial way yesterday, is confirmed. Superintendent Bryden, of the Scranton company, one of the branches of the Ontario and Western's coal department, will have supervision of the new colliery. The purchase makes five collieries the Ontario and Western now controls. The Pancoast company was capitalized at $200,000.

To Enjoy Spring Under Southern Skies.

It is not necessary to expend a large amount of money to visit the numerous charming resorts reached by the Southern railway. Round-trip tickets are on sale at reduced rates, and this great steel highway of the south leads to wondrous regions of beauty and health, upon trains that glide, as if on the wings of the wind, over the smoothest tracks in an unofficial way yesterday, is confirmed. Superintendent Bryden, of the Scranton company, one of the branches of the Ontario and Western's coal department, will have supervision of the new colliery. The purchase makes five collieries the Ontario and Western now controls. The Pancoast company was capitalized at $200,000.

The resorts of the south are varied in attractions as well as in climatic conditions. Those in robust health who simply seek a warmer climate where they may escape the rigors of a northern winter may choose wholly as fancy dictates, Florida, Thomasville, Ga., Augusta, Ga., Alcen, S. C., Summerville, S. C., Pinehurst, N. C., are delightful places to visit during the winter months. The "Land of the Sky" has an ideal winter climate. Of this section Asheville is the center, but by no means the only desirable place. There are a score of others, such as Saluda, Skyuka, Tyron, Sapphire, Waynesville, Hendersonville, Flat Rock, Skyhook and Hot Springs. The winter temperature is also ideal, with that of southern France and northern Italy. In any of these excellent accommodations are to be had.

The Southern railway operates the most perfect through service between Philadelphia and Florida, the south and southwest. Charles L. Hopkins, district passenger agent, 823 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, will be pleased to furnish a copy of book "Winter Homes in the South" and all information.
