When space will permit, The Tribune is always glad to print short letters from its friends bearing on current topics, but it is its policy that these should be signed, for publication, by the writer's real name; and the condition precedent to acceptance is that all contributions shall be subject to editorial revision.

SCRANTON, DECEMBER 13, 1900.

The Quay machine plot to blacken the character of Senator Drury will prove to be one of the most destructive hoaxes ever concocted by the political office-holders and aspiring politicians have ever come in contact with.

The only plot which has had for its purpose the blackening of Drury's character was the one to which Drury was privy when he was co-opted with the Philadelphia insurgents to unroll a gold brick on the regular Republicans of the Twenty-first district.

A Golden Opportunity.

SCANTON HAS an opportunity which is more favorable for effective representation of the important interests of the city of Scranton and county of Lackawanna in the general assembly than it has for many years.

Not alone in the highly important matter of legislation connected with Scranton's entry into the present limits of a second-class city, but also in respect to our hospitals, our schools, and other public institutions, which, in their allotments of state aid, ought to have consideration in proportion to the community's magnitude and varied contributions to the state revenues.

This opportunity can be forfeited by dissension, and by perverse and futile objection to the regular customs of party management; but it should not be, and the interests of the community require that it shall not be.

General Chaffee's Indiscretion.

THAT General Chaffee had technically no right to protest to Generalissimo the Count von Walderssee concerning the wanton vandalism practiced by some of the foreign troops in China, must be conceded in view of the fact that the American forces in Pekin have been reduced to the position of a legation guard, which removes them as completely according to the letter of international law from any responsibility in conjunction with the forces under Count von Walderssee's command as if they were doing guard duty in Washington.

This, we repeat, is the technical status of the American troops over which General Chaffee has command. Hence his letter of protest to the German field-marshal—currently reported to have been somewhat forceful in tone—was irregular and subject to the treatment which it received in being returned to the sender.

The Life Saving Service.

DURING the last fiscal year $1,555,968.50 was expended by the national government upon the life saving service, which had 194 stations on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts, 58 on the coasts of the great lakes, 1 at the Falls of the Ohio, Louisville, Ky., and 16 on the Pacific coast.
